THE General Election comes off on Monday next. The People's Ticket will be found in our columns.

Every man and every woman, above the age of twenty-one years, who is an American citizen by birth or by naturalization, and who has been a constant resident (tax payer) in the Territory during the six months next preceding a general election, may vote thereat, excepting officers and soldiers of the United States army, or other person subject to their military authority.

It is the right and duty of every legal elector to repair faithfully to the polls on the day of election, and deposit his or her vote (as women enjoy the right of suffrage in Utah) for the persons he or she desires to see elected to the various offices to be filled.

The legal time for the polls to be open is from one hour after sunrise until sunset. This gives time for all, whether engaged in regular hours of labor or not, to give in their votes.

Every elector should vote in the precinct in which he or she resides, and no one should vote in any other precinct.

The polling places in the various municipal wards are as follows:

First Municipal Ward, comprising the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 8th, 9th and 10th Bishop's Wards, voting place at 9th Ward Schoolhouse.

Second Municipal Ward, comprising the 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 14th, and 15th Bishop's Wards, at the Court House.

Third Municipal Ward, comprising the 16th, 17th, and 19th Bishop's Wards, at the 16th Ward School House.

Fourth Municipal Ward, comprising the 11th, 12th, 13th, 18th, and 20th Bishop's Wards, at the City Hall.

THERE is much rejoicing in the ranks of the Liberal Republican and Democratic parties over the reported signal victory to them in North Carolina. That State has been a famous battle ground between the two prominent political parties. Each has made great exertions to secure a triumph. Boutwell, of the Treasury, and Wilson, V. P. expectant, on the one side, and Schurz and other prominent stump orators, have expounded their political doctrines through the State, and no stone appears to have been left unturned by either party to insure success.

This first triumph is important, as it is regarded in some degree as a test and indication of the way things are likely to go generally. Many people there are among the class political as well as among other classes who waver, or are undecided which way to go, until they go with the stream, probably thinking that Providence is on the side of the strongest party. The first elections, therefore, have considerable weight in the way of determining the others, and in this light the North Carolina victory is an important event and may be well be reckoned as a good omen by the successful party, and as an indication that there is a great and marked desire in the country for a change in the government, a return to some of the old ways, and a more careful regard to certain old landmarks. The next State election on the list is that of Kentucky, which comes off on Monday next, (Aug. 5). After that, there will be a recess for three or four weeks, when the stump speakers will have it all their own way. After then, the elections will came a little faster. But the greatest day of elections will be the fifth of November, when a score States and Territories will decide their political fate for a time, the very day when the national election for President and Vice President also transpires, and the representatives of the American people decide whether they will have Grant, the man of the sword, or Greeley, the man of the pen, to rule over them. Verily, the struggle political now is whether the sword is mightier than the pen, or the pen mightier than the sword.

Afternoon Dispatches.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

NEW YORK.—The Herald's London dispatch has letters received by Stanley from Viscount Enfield, Earl Granville and a son of Dr. Livingstone. Lord Enfield, in the name of Earl Granville, acknowledges the receipt of letters and documents from Livingstone, delivered by Stanley to Her Majesty's ambassador at Paris for transmission to the foreign department. Granville says in his letter that he has no doubt of the genuineness of the letters purporting to come from Livingstone. Livingstone's son says he has no doubt that the papers and letters brought him by Stanley are from his father.

The Herald's London dispatch also says that Stanley was invited to dine with Lord Stanley, Lady Franklin and other distinguished persons.

WASHINGTON.—A dispatch says that the U. S. revenue cutter Moccasin is still watching the Cuban privateer Pioneer at Newport, her guns shotted, and with orders to sink the Pioneer should she attempt to escape. These orders withdraw the Moccasin from police duty, and it is rumored that Cuban sympathizers are taking advantage thereof to have started another expedition to Cuba under the most favorable auspices.

The Herald's Raleigh special says it may take an official count to give the result of the North Carolina election. The Democrats there claim a majority of two or three thousand.

The Era, a Republican organ, concedes that Merriman is elected by a small majority. The World's special says that Merriman thinks that his majority will be 6,000. The Times is unwilling to give the State to the Democrats, and thinks it may take an official vote to decide it. It argues that the Democratic strength came from the southern white voters, thousands of whom were boys at the close of the rebellion, and have been trained to remember the cause for which their fathers fell. The Tribune rejoices over the victory, claiming 1,000 majority in the State at the lowest, and the 3rd, 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th congressional districts; it does not abandon any others.

The National Pottery, at Trenton, N. J., was burned yesterday; loss $60,000

WASHINGTON.—It is said that Dr. Houard has forwarded a claim for damages for his imprisonment by the Spanish government, to the American consul at Cadiz. His claim will probably come before the Spanish American Commission sitting here.

NEW YORK.—Jasper Van Leck, a well-known banker of this city, late of the firm of Reed & Van Leck, has submitted his affidavit to the grand jury, claiming that he has been wrongfully confined in Bloomingdale asylum for sixteen months, and that he and other inmates were treated with revaulting cruelty, all being at the mercy of brutal keepers. The directors of the asylum are in session investigating the charges of Van Leck, who was released a few days ago.

Col. Jerome B. Fellows will sail for Europe, bearing state dispatches to the Geneva Conference; their tenor is unknown.

Chief Justice Chase has been suffering from chills, at Narragansett.

A dispatch from Saratoga says that "Longfellow is completely disabled; the suspensory ligaments are injured, and there is not the slightest hope that they can ever again perform their functions. John Harper says that "Longfellow" is completely broke down.

Correspondence.

FRANKLIN, Idaho, 30 July, 1872.

Editor Deseret News:

Cache County is beyond all doubt the great grain county of Utah, and, with its boundless resources, promises to become one of the prominent counties in wealth; probably no valley in the Territory can be found where so much tillable land lies within reach of the agriculturist.

Sixty miles in length, and averaging one fourth that number of miles in breadth, watered by the Logan, Bear River, Blacksmith Fork, and various other streams of minor importance, its surrounding mountain sides covered with splendid herd grass, while the valley below teems with broad acres of heavy grain.

LOGAN CITY

Is situate near the centre of the valley north and south, and on the western slope of the mountain, is the county town, and bids fair to make a place of considerable importance, the last census showing a population of 2,033, which is rapidly increasing; hundreds of acres of good arable land can be obtained in the surrounding country, that will eventually furnish homes for thousands of people. A retail co-operative store, one of the largest outside of Salt Lake City, under the management of Moses Thatcher, Esq., supplies the citizens with the necessary importations, and provides a market for butter, eggs and such other produce as a farming community usually carry to market.

The necessary steps have been taken to establish a wholesale department, to supply the numerous settlements with goods at wholesale rates. This house will doubtless supply Cache county, Rich county and Idaho settlements with their entire stock of goods. With the completion of the Utah Northern through the valley, Logan must be the central trading point for Northern Utah, and as such will grow in wealth and numbers very rapidly. Saw mills, steam and water power, situate adjacent to the city, furnish lumber at fair rates. A shingle, lath and picket factory are in successful operation. A large stone grist mill appears to be doing a fair share of business, erected within the past year; among the rest a large and commodious one by Aaron Thatcher and another by Moses Thatcher.

Mayor Preston is slowly recovering from the effects of cold, settling in a severe wound accidentally received almost twelve months ago. He is able to attend to the duties of his office.

While in his office, I noticed that about every third visitor was an Indian, and on asking the cause of these numerous visits, ascertained that they were collecting their "rents." The Indians hold that they have never been paid for their lands, and that the settlers are merely tenants, who are liable to them, in flour, cattle and sheep, a certain rental each year. The settlers have paid the U. S. for their title to the land, and rightfully consider that the Parent Government should protect them from these claimants, by an actual purchase from the original owners, or should provide food for them. At present they are a heavy tax to the people of the county, who invariably yield to the dictates of common humanity, and furnish flour and meat in such quantities as will satisfy their visitors or landlords.

UTAH NORTHERN.

The terminus of the road is at Hampton's on Bear River, some twenty miles from the Junction. The work is progressing as rapidly as circumstances will permit, necessarily slow, owing to the immense harvest the people are blessed with, which requires a great amount of labor to save. As soon as harvest work is through with, all the available force of the county will be engaged in pushing the railroad forward to completion. Judging from present indications the road will reach Franklin sometime during the coming winter. Another summer will doubtless see the terminus at Soda Springs. The road is an important one for various reasons; it runs through the centre of one of the finest valleys in the mountains, with a grain crop this year that would almost or quite supply the entire Territory with bread, while their herds of stock would, in point of numbers, compare favorably with the herds of "Job of Uz," from which they are realizing a heavy profit, and must eventually supply the market of the city. The citizens of Montana and Idaho are deeply interested in the road as it furnishes an outlet to them for exports and imports.

MAILS.

Much has been said during the past winter in relation to the irregularity of the mail system in this part of the country. Judging from appearances, these complaints are to a certain degree well founded. The stock and mail wagons are of an inferior character, and there appears to be a looseness and an indifference about the manner in which the mail is carried that are not at all commendable. The mail carrier informed me that the contractor was getting "small pay," and that it was "impossible" to properly do the service on the pay received. Whether a man is justified in trying to carry the mail, knowing that he cannot do so without financial loss, is a question that appeared not to have reached his comprehension yet. On the other hand, the difficulties to be encountered by mail carriers, especially between this point and Rich Co., were very tersely described by the driver, who told of the fortunes of two or three individuals who undertook the job of crossing the mountains during the winter, and after wandering around three days lost in the snow came into the settlement more dead than alive. Another, with frozen feet, hands and face, is to-day suffering from the effects of his endeavor to carry letters over to our Bear Lake friends. A few cases of this kind had a rather dampening effect on the mail carriers, and as the driver said, were "very discouraging, very." I would judge in the first place that the government fails to pay enough, and in the second place that the contractor is not sufficiently reliable to be entrusted with the contract.

WEATHER.

The weather is cool and bracing, the nights tending slightly toward coldness. Last night the frost cut the potatoes, beans, etc., pretty severely. A pleasant breeze during the day renders open air exercise not at all disagreeable, and certainly is of great benefit to office folks. No sickness that I have met with as yet. If our Salt Lake mothers could only have the benefit of this fresh breeze for their children, instead of soothing syrup, it would be a great saving of life. Very respectfully,

J. M.

Sec 4. On payment to the City Treasurer of the amount herein named and the fulfilment of all other requirements of this ordinance, the Mayor may issue licenses to applicants to carry on the business asked for, for the period of three months in the tenement designated in his application, at the following rates, viz:—

SELF-LOADING EXCAVATOR!

Mr. W. J. Hackney, of Mount Pleasant, Iowa,

HAS IMPORTED INTO THIS TERRITORY, and has now in this city, one of

SLUSSER'S SELF-LOADING

a machine which we think would be very useful in some of our settlements, and which could be purchased and used advantageously on the co-operative plan. The Excavator can be used for excavating water-ditches, grading railroads and any work of a similar kind where the soil does not contain large gravel. The box of the machine contains one cubic yard of earth, which it will dig and load in fifteen seconds, and by simply using a lever the dirt is dumped out in a moment. One fair team of horses and a stout lad fifteen or sixteen years old can work the Excavator, it is so simple in construction and so perfectly self-acting.

The manufacturers are Messrs. Haslup & Bro., Sidney, O. Mr. A. M. Burns, of San Francisco, is the owner of the patent for six western States and Territories. Mr. Hackney sold twelve of the machines in Colorado, and the right for the Territory to Messrs. Gallup & Manning, of Denver city. He has received orders for the same number of the Excavators in this city, to be used for railroad grading and cutting irrigation ditches, and has sold the right for the Territory to Brigham Young's sons. Mr. H. has the right for the remaining States and Territories still to dispose of. He is staying at the "Valley House" and any further information on the subject can be had by applying to him there. d27d1f
