

STRONG MEDICINE FOR HOODLUMS.

Two Members of Peace-Breaking
Gang Get Wholesome Doses
In Police Court.

OTHERS WILL BE ARRESTED.

Started a Disturbance and Then Threw a Policeman Who Stuck to Them Until Jail Was Reached.

Officer C. Brown quelled an insurrection last night that for a time threatened to break out in the streets of Salt Lake. The trouble began on South State street last night when a crowd of 15 boys got into the time of their lives. They went to the various saloons in the neighborhood of Fourth South and State streets, and at the last one visited they were told money that the proprietor refused them admittance. They became angry and started to roll empty barrels down the street, and onto the car tracks for the car to bump against. Officer Brown ordered them to desist, and met with abuse and forceful resistance at their hands. The young hoodlums defied the officer and he had to fight his way out of the mob with his club. This weapon was recovered from the mob after awhile and was thrown away by one of the gang.

While Chas. and Thomas Burton Shaw were the only ones that were arrested, and on the stand they were forced to divulge several of the names of the other members. They are: Clarence Shaw, John Smith, Geo. Thompson, Carl Evans, John Jeffs and Ralph Hansen. Officer Brown had to call upon Sheriff Johnson to help him lead the young rascals to jail.

Judge Whitaker held Shaw $75 and Chas. $15 with privilege of serving their sentences in jail. The other members of the gang will be arrested. This sum of money is one that is given to the officers, money, however, public places are infested with hoodlums who continually think it their duty to cause a disturbance. Judge Whitaker will show them that it is not and any such conduct brought before him will receive good and sufficient punishment.

BURGARS TOOLS MAN.

The case against A. Traylor, charged with having burglarized the tools of Judge Whitaker, will be heard before Judge Whitaker tomorrow morning in police court.

ASSAULT CASE.

Pat Donohue, charged with assault and battery committed upon the person of Alvin McFarland, entered a plea of not guilty in police court this morning. His case will be heard before Judge Whitaker tomorrow morning.

STIFF DOSE FOR RAUCY.

Dan Raucy, who pays his true name is Samuel Raucy, was tried in police court this morning for hitting Albert Kelly with a shovel on an outdoor car at the short line yards last night. According to the story told by a witness, Kelly was maltreated shamefully. The trackmen in the outfit are enraged at the cook because of his conduct. Judge Whitaker gave the defendant a choice of paying $50 or serving 60 days on the rock pile.

WHAT DID HE DO?

Fred Ellis, charged with grand larceny, was arraigned in police court this morning. He pleaded not guilty and trial was proceeded with. According to the story told by J. R. Allen of Fremont, Ellis passed up his hand in a pocket as they were walking out of the Bon Ton theater on the 10th of this month. Allen said that he grabbed the man's hand and could not get his hand taken in his man. The defendant put up a story to the effect that it was his hat that struck the man and that he made no such attempt. Judge Whitaker is considering the matter from a technical point. The charge is grand larceny, which includes the taking of an article from a person. With robbery it is required that fear or force enter into the act. The question is upon whether the charge should be one or the other. The decision will be announced tomorrow.

VAGS ORDERED AWAY.

A baker's dozen of vags were ordered to change their residences this morning by Judge Whitaker. The majority of these men were found asleep in a Commercial street saloon by Officer Leaver a few nights ago.

HAD "SLEEPY TOOTHACHE."

William Bird chipped forth a story to Judge Whitaker that adds one more to his usual line of excuses for drunkenness. He said that an attack of neuralgia came upon him a few days ago and that he decided to have his tooth pulled. In working up his courage to stand the ordeal he took enough of the potent remedy to render him drowsy. He was asleep when arrested. Bird will work for the day 10 days according to the ruling of Judge Whitaker.

PRESIDENT BAER IN TOWN.

George F. Baer, president of the Reading railroad, arrived in Salt Lake this morning. On his arrival he was taken in charge by Col. L. A. Benton of the Denver & Rio Grande, who, with S. V. Derrah, accompanied the railroad manager to the Tabernacle, where he was treated to a special organ recital, with which he was much pleased.

BECAUSE HE HAD RED HAIR

How That Fact Caused a Bad Mistake,
A Fight and an Arrest at Saltair.

Because of the fact that Thomas Owens has a young son with red hair and happened to be at Saltair with the lad last Sunday, he is now in trouble and will have to stand trial for assault. It happened in this way. Mr. Owens and son were at the beach and were ignorant of the fact that the officers were looking for a red-headed boy whom they suspected of being implicated in the robbery of several bath houses there on Saturday and Sunday. Deputy Sheriff Russell had collected the aid of Raymond Sundberg, an employee, to help him find the red-headed lad and as Mr. Owens and his son passed, Sundberg concluded that he was the boy wanted and accordingly took him in charge and undertook to detain him until the deputy sheriff arrived. He made a miscalculation on that point, however, as he did not know that Owens in on the proposition. The lad, at once upon the release of his boy by means of force and gave Sundberg a severe beating. Sundberg appeared before Justice Dana T. Smith and swore to a complaint against Mr. Owens, charging him with assault.

TO KEEP THE PEACE.

Put in Jail to Do So and Now Wants to Get Out on Habeas Corpus Writ.

A petition for a writ of habeas corpus was filed in the district court today by Alfred Lockett, who was bound over to keep the peace on July 20 by Justice of the Peace Bishop of Farmers ward in the sum of $1000. Lockett has been in the county jail ever since his arrest. He was unable to give the required bond.

He now claims that his detention is illegal for the reason that the complaint against him does not charge the commission of any offense nor justify the issuance of a warrant of arrest. He was arrested for disturbing the peace, but the complaint charges that he has been in jail 18 days. The writ was issued by Judge Armstrong and is returnable this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

CAUGHT AT MILFORD.

P. K. Quigley Being Held at That Place
On Embezzlement Case.

Sheriff Emery today received a telegram from Marshall J. H. Hedges of Milford, stating that P. K. Quigley had been arrested at that place and held for the Salt Lake county officers. Quigley some time ago swore to a complaint against Alvin McFarland, charged with having burglarized the tools of Judge Whitaker, but when the preliminary hearing was held in Justice Dana T. Smith's court, he failed to show up and the court issued a bench warrant for his arrest. Sheriff Emery will send a deputy after Quigley tonight.

LUCK HIT YOUNG UTAH SOLDIERS.

Lieut. Ray C. Naylor and Frank
C. Moyle Come in Among First.

EXCITEMENT IN SALT LAKE.

Everybody Wanted to Draw a Homestead, but Many Were Disappointed—Interest Widespread.

"I am going to be a farmer," declared Raymond C. Naylor, of Philippine fame, this morning. He was the center of attraction at First South and East Temple when it became known that he was number 22 in the drawings for Utah land, and with Frank C. Moyle, who took number five, would get a really first place finish in the race for homesteads. Moyle is a brother of James H. Moyle, and was a volunteer in the war with Spain, going to Honolulu with Col. Young's Engineers.

"Yes, it was not (I do) record I made of my name," said Naylor with a big smile, pointing his finger finger off towards the Indian land. "There's where my home will be, and if I get the right kind of a farm I'll go out and farm it."

The excitement in Salt Lake was keen this morning when the first names began to come in. As soon as it was known that Moyle was first, and Naylor was second, the crowd was out. Everybody wanted to know who was first, and who the first three were. The crowd was so large that the bulletin board became the center of attraction, and the throng began to swell as it has not since the crowds of Spanish-American war days crowded around them. As soon as the sheet was pinned up running the numbers up into the hundreds interest became less, and the crowd scanned the numbers to see if they were in the list, or if they had any money on the chances. Those who had numbers to be ranked as first chances were immediately sought by men who had charged them to look up the list.

He would be told by one man that any chance up to 500 was a winner, by another that not an acre of the reservation was worth the time it takes to get to it, by another that he had just returned from a camping trip in that locality, and couldn't be lifted back with a derick, and light at top of that would bear from a man who surveyed all over it that the man who made a home there had a fortune coming pretty quick.

Old friends tried to pass the time of day. "Say, Jack, said the first, 'what do you think of the peace conference?' 'Cut it Hank, out of it,' said the second. 'What do you think of the man who draws a decent chance at it?' was the way in which the conversation drifted to the item of real interest.

Raymond Naylor told a good story of how he found out he was a winner. He was on duty for the Utah Light and Power company, dispatched to work from First South and East Temple street, and was on the lookout for car to take him to his work. He was due in about three minutes, and as the crowd began to appear down the street where the bulletin were, he decided to run down the street and get back to his work. When he was just putting up a bulletin sheet, and 22 was among the first numbers on the list, he saw the crowd, and he said to himself, that is my number." Then as the sheet was pinned in place, his name loomed up after it, and he was the first to see it. He reached First South again he could distinctly hear his future calling to him, far away on a Utah farm, where the numbers of war are never heard, and where the street cars run only in one's dreams.

RAILROAD APPOINTMENTS.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—S. P. Spelling, joint representative of the Chesapeake and Ohio and the Four railroads in Chicago, has been appointed general northern agent for the Big Four passenger business in Chicago and the west.

Five diving horses Saltair today.

LATE LOCALS.

There will be no Salt Lake Stake Sunday school excursion to Saltair tomorrow, as heretofore expected and advertised.

Justice W. M. McCarty of the superior court has returned from his vacation, which was spent at Marysville, Utah. The judge spent some time fishing down there, and states that there was many fish left in the stream now after the hot weather.

Judge M. L. Little of the district court, accompanied by his wife and children, will leave tonight for Kansas City, Mo., on a visit to the judge's father. After a visit to Mrs. Little and the children will go to New York and thence to Europe to be gone a year.

There was a meeting last evening between Moses Taylor, representing the Utah Mill Creek irrigation company, relative to a division of the local waters; but the proposition made by Mr. Taylor was not accepted, as it was claimed that it would leave the lands above the canal without sufficient water, and so the matter went over.

On the 22nd inst., the state board of equalization will meet at Milford, where they expect to meet with the assessors of Beaver, Rich, Garfield and Millard counties. On the 24th inst., the board will be at for the Big Four passenger business from Juab, Wayne, Sevier, Sanpete and Piute counties; and on the 25th inst., at Price to confer with the assessors of Carbon, Emery and Grand counties.
