LOCAL NEWS.

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY, OCT. 27.

Appointed.—Elder John W. Saunders, of this city, who left on a mission to the Southern States recently, has been appointed to labor in the Tennessee Conference.

Earthquake.—We learn that at about a quarter past eleven o'clock last night before last an earthquake took place at Milford, Beaver County. The shock lasted about eight seconds, and thoroughly alarmed the residents of that burg, shaking houses, rattling dishes, shifting furniture, etc. A second and lighter vibration occurred at 11:45 a.m. yesterday, continuing about three seconds.

Returned Missionaries.—Elder Erastus G. Farmer, of Herriman, who returned from a mission to the Southern States on Thursday evening, called upon us on Friday and reported his labors during his absence. He left here a Utah-raised boy, with but little experience in worldly matters and none at all in the line of preaching, on the 15th of May, 1883, and on reaching the South was assigned to the North Carolina Conference, where he labored during the whole of his absence, principally in the western part of the State, with varying success. He had five different Elders for companions during his two-and-a-half years' stay in that land and greatly enjoyed their society and his labors in general, and highly prizes the experience which he gained while absent. He met with kind treatment generally and made many friends, to whom he feels deeply grateful for kindness received; but he also found not a few in his travels whose feelings toward him and the cause he represented were the reverse of friendly. Mobs assailed him and his companion with stones for missiles on two different occasions, and in one instance were armed with clubs, and many times he was threatened with violence, all because he was a "Mormon" Elder, laboring in his humble way to make known the principles of the Gospel and invite men to search the Scriptures and prove for themselves the truth of the doctrines he was sent forth to teach. Fortunately, he was not injured by any of the violent onslaughts of the rabble, nor did he allow them to prevent him from doing his duty.

He expresses regret that the Elders who have labored in the Southern Mission in the past have so generally neglected to write to their friends in that region after their return home, and feels sure that a little more attention to this common courtesy would not only make those neglected friends feel better, but render it much more pleasant for the Elders who are now in the mission.

On Saturday we had a call from Elder Oscar Rose, of Inverary, Sevier County, who returned by last evening's U. C. train from a mission to the State of Illinois, upon which he has been absent since the 7th of April, 1884. His labors were confined to the central and southern part of the State, much of the time to parts in which the Gospel had not been preached since the Saints as a body were expelled from Nauvoo. He found in his travels quite a number of persons who were connected with the Church in an early day, but they were as a rule "Josephites," and when questioned in regard to their present belief would paradoxically claim that the martyred Joseph Smith was originally a true Prophet, but that the Almighty cast him off for transgression, and yet that his son Joseph is now his successor.

He held 135 meetings during his absence, and labored assiduously in spreading a knowledge of the Gospel privately, with what success time only will determine, as the result of one's labors in this cause are not always, in fact but seldom, apparent to himself.

"Paul plants and Apollos waters, but God giveth the increase." Whether his labors prove fruitful of good to others or not, Brother Rose feels that they have been of benefit to him. He gained a good experience and found much joy in his labors, although he met with much opposition. On one occasion he and his companion were taken from their bed near midnight, by an armed and drunken mob, and marched off a distance of a mile and a half with the apparent intention of taking their lives, but were finally let go with a warning to leave the State immediately, which, by the way, they failed to obey. It is a significant fact that the leader of that gang of ruffians was killed during last winter in a drunken row.

On another occasion, while holding meeting in a school house in Logan Co., by permission of the school directors of the district, those functionaries, who had evidently rued their action in granting them the use of the building, or done so to entrap them, marched into their meeting followed by a noisy rabble carrying drums and supplied with eggs with which to pelt the Elders, and demanded that the meeting be immediately dismissed. The Elders were not disposed to resist orders coming from such a source, and dismissed the meeting and escaped the eggings, to the evident disappointment of the rabble.

HENRY GROW ARRESTED.

THE CHARGE IS UNLAWFUL COHABITATION WITH HIS WIVES.

At a few minutes past 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Deputy Collin went to the Temple Block and served a warrant of arrest on Mr. Henry Grow, of the Nineteenth Ward. Shortly afterward he was around subpoenaing such witnesses as were supposed to know something of the case, and six of these were summoned to appear and testify last evening.

Mr. Grow was taken before Commissioner Gilchrist, who set the examination for 10 o'clock this morning, and fixed the bail of the accused at $1,500, T. V. Williams and George Bourne being sureties.

At the appointed hour to-day Mr. Grow appeared at Mr. Gilchrist's office, and asked that he be allowed to waive the preliminary examination. The request was granted, and the bond for Mr. Grow's appearance to await the grand jury's action was being made out, when Deputy Vandercreek arrived with the intelligence that the witnesses had been subpoenaed to go before Commissioner McKay, that the assistant prosecuting attorney, E. B. Critchlow was there in waiting, and that the complaint had been made out before McKay, who was ready to proceed with the examination.

Judge Gilchrist explained that the warrant of arrest had been returned to him by the officer, and he had taken steps in consequence thereof. A consultation with Judge Harkness then took place, and finally Mr. Critchlow was sent for, who insisted that McKay should hear the case.

The misunderstanding having been bridged over, the parties repaired to McKay's office, with the exception of Mr. Critchlow, who had some other business to attend to. Commissioner McKay (who, by the way, is an assistant to the District Attorney, and unites with the office of committing magistrate that of a prosecutor of prosecuting proclivities, in laboring with the grand jury), was himself prepared to listen to the testimony, but as all the parties were not ready, the case was set for to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

The complaint charges the accused with unlawful cohabitation with Mrs. Henry Grow and Sarah Rawlings, as his wives, from Sept. 1, 1882, to Aug. 26th, 1885, in the County of Salt Lake, contrary to the provisions of the United States statutes.

After Mr. Grow had left the room, it was discovered that the witnesses were not present. They had been subpoenaed to appear last evening before the Commissioner, and on Nov. 4th before the grand jury. They came yesterday, and as nothing was done, went away. This morning some of them, having understood that the preliminary examination was waived, departed to attend to other matters. Deputy Collin chased up the street after Mr. Grow, whom he overtook and requested to instruct the witnesses subpoenaed to be present for examination to-morrow morning, when further developments may be expected.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY, OCT. 28

Fatal Accident.—A shocking occurrence took place at Willard, Box Elder County, on Monday. Cyrus J. Call, a boy fifteen years of age, was oiling the rollers of Wood's molasses mill, when his jumper caught and he was drawn into the machine. A large wound, reaching nearly half through the body, was made in the side, causing death in a few moments.

Earthquake Shocks.—Brother W. Wood, writing to us from Minersville,

October 26th, says: "Last night at 10 minutes past 11 o'clock this place experienced a pretty severe shock of earthquake, lasting some eight or ten seconds, two more in the latter part of the night and one at 9 o'clock this morning. The rumbling was heard in the mountains northeast of us after it had passed here. Old Californians say the first was nearly as hard as the one in San Bernardino in 1857."

Death From an Unusual Cause.—A letter from a St. George correspondent we learn of the death of a twelve-year old boy at that place, named Thomas John Hall, under peculiar circumstances: He was riding on a bare-backed horse, which, in jumping, is supposed to have dislocated the boy's spinal column, for in a few minutes after he lowered himself from the animal's back, he died.

He was a grandson of Thomas Hall, of this city, the old-time Salt Lake policeman.

Examination Waived.—At 10 o'clock this morning, the time set for the preliminary examination in the case of Henry Grow, before Commissioner McKay, the accused and a number of witnesses were present. The prosecution, however, had changed their plan, and the case was sent to the grand jury, Mr. Grow being placed under $1,500 bonds, which were furnished by T. V. Williams and George Bourne. Those of the witnesses who were present, with the exception of Mrs. Julia Grow, were placed under $200 bonds, to appear before the grand jury on Wednesday, Nov. 4th.

"Mormon" Arrivals and Departures.—The Daily Commercial, of Chattanooga, Tennessee, announces in its issue of the 19th, "Fifteen more Mormon Elders arrived yesterday. They will be sent to their fields of labor in different parts of the South." Again, on the 21st, the same paper says, "Seven Mormon Elders arrived in the city yesterday from Salt Lake City, to engage in missionary labors. After taking needful rest they will disperse to different points to engage in their work. Six Mormon converts also arrived in the city last night from North Alabama, en route to the City of the Saints. This is the beginning of the exodus, and it is said that a number will leave this locality for the Mormon settlements this year."

Bishop Follett Dead.—The Provo Enquirer has the following:

"By letter received by Mrs. John W. Turner, of this city, from Smithville, Graham Co., Arizona, we learn of the death of W. A. Follett, which occurred on the 19th inst. The deceased was a former resident of this city and well known and highly respected. He was at one time Bishop of the Fourth Ward. He was taken sick last August with malarial fever and confined to his bed. About a month ago he was stricken with paralysis, which affected the whole of his left side and partly deprived him of speech, which continued until death relieved him from his sufferings. The deceased was about 65 years of age and leaves a wife, 7 children, 15 grandchildren and a numerous circle of relatives and friends to mourn his loss. The mother of Bishop Follett, over 90 years of age, is still living in the State of Iowa. The relatives and friends of the deceased residing in this city unite with us in sympathy to the family in their great bereavement."

Snake River Products.—Brother Henry T. Cowburn, of the 19th Ward, who has recently been on a visit to the Snake River Valley, and who is interested in that region, having some time since made a start towards securing a home there by entering a tract of land in the neighborhood of Lewisville, under the Timber Act, called upon us this morning and exhibited some of the products of that part. They consisted of potatoes of very good quality, white turnips, one of which measured twenty-four inches in circumference, and rutabagas, also very large. These were raised by Brothers Heywood and Parks formerly of the 15th Ward of this city, who are now residents of Lewisville, a fine settlement located on the south shore of the south fork of Snake River, 18 miles from Rexburg, the capital of the State, and about 17 miles from Eagle Rock.

That country is quite as well adapted for the raising of small grain as vegetables, but some of the grain crops were a partial failure this year through the farmers having sown spring wheat in the fall for want of any other kind, and it having been winter-killed. With the ordinary winter varieties they would have succeeded well; comparatively speaking, they did well as it was, and are not by any means discouraged. Brother Park, already mentioned, harvested about 300 bushels of wheat of a very good quality.

The settlers in that locality are nearly all poor, and are obliged to move slowly, but they are a good people, full of faith and united in their undertakings, and they will soon transform that country which was so recently a wilderness into a veritable garden of loveliness.

The people of Lewisville already have one canal, but it is insufficient for their wants, and before winter sets in they expect to have another about five miles in length completed, ready for use next year, which will irrigate some thousands of acres of new land.

Between Lewisville and Eagle Rock there is a considerable quantity of good land not yet claimed, that people in this region who desire to locate in the country will do well to secure, for it is really one of the most desirable places for agricultural purposes in Idaho.

Off for the Sandwich Islands.—A little party of missionaries leave this city this evening for the Sandwich Islands, each of the brethren, called to preach the Gospel to the natives of that land and lead them from their present degraded condition to a higher life, being accompanied by his wife, who will help to swell the little colony located on the Church plantation at Lale and beside encouraging her husband in his labors by her presence, will also aid by example and precept in reclaiming the Hawaiians.

The party consists of Jacob F. Gates, wife and four children, from Provo; Elihu Barrell and wife, Mathew Noall and wife, and Fred Beesley and wife, of this city; and Enoch Farr, Jr., of Ogden, whose father is now on the Islands presiding over the mission.

The last three couples mentioned are newly married, Elders Barrell and Noall having been united to their spouses only in June last, while the wedding of Brother Beesley only occurred since he received his appointment for a mission; in fact, only on Friday last, the brave young lady who assumed at once the responsibility of wedlock and a protracted residence in a distant mission being Miss Nelhe Solomon, of the 19th Ward.

The party will be joined on reaching San Francisco by Mrs. Lucy B. Young and her daughter Mabel, they having proceeded that far on their way to the Sandwich Islands on a visit before learning of Brother Gates, whose wife is also a daughter of Sister Young's, being called to go to the Islands upon a mission. On receiving that news they immediately decided to remain there until the party arrived, and sail in company on the Pacific.

Elder Gates filled a lengthy mission to the Islands some years ago, and is familiar with the Hawaiian language and customs, and his wife is partially so from having been there on a visit; but to the others of this party everything they see after leaving Utah to proceed westward will appear new and strange, and when they arrive at their destination they will have to commence the study of a language, of which at present they know almost nothing.

The readers of the News will be favored, during the absence of the party, with occasional letters from the prolific and talented pen of Sister Susie Y. Gates.

We wish our friends a prosperous journey, a successful mission and a safe return.

FROM THURSDAY'S DAILY, OCT. 22

Departure of Missionaries.—The D. & R. G. W. train from the south was almost an hour late last evening, and it was six o'clock instead of 5:10 when it steamed out for the north. A large number of the friends of the departing missionaries were there to see them off and the leave-taking was quite affecting.

The little missionary party included considerable musical talent, and when they get fairly over the pangs of leaving home and friends, especially when they get on shipboard and after arriving at their destination, they will doubtless find real enjoyment, and afford it also to others, in engaging unitedly in musical exercises.

Court Proceedings.—In the Third District Court, to-day, in the case of U. J. Wenner vs. Elias Smith, the court finds for plaintiff, and awards judgment for the fees for eight months, $1,400, and interest and costs.

Augusta Hagan vs. Alex. Burt; continued for the term.

J. W. Farrell vs. Rudolph Hagan; defendant withdraws answer, and judgment is given for amount as prayed.

Chas. F. Blandin vs. Mason M. Hill; court refers case to E. B. Critchlow to take testimony and report findings.

The People, etc., vs. John Taylor; grand larceny; order for commission to take testimony of witnesses outside of Territory to issue to W. Van-Cott.

The London Bank of Utah vs. Flagstaff District Silver Mining Co.; Mr. Sheeks appointed referee to take testimony and report findings.

The Hop Industry.—A friend from Provo who recently paid a visit to the hop farm of Major Berry, upon Provo Bench, gives us some account of that gentleman's efforts at this new industry—new at least for this Territory. The major has had an extended experience in the raising of hops before coming here, and located on Provo Bench with a special view to its adaptability for hop culture, the hops raised on dry gravelly land such as that is never being affected with mildew as they are sometimes when grown on low, damp ground.

He has quite a large farm but only about thirteen acres of it planted to hops. They are of three varieties—the native variety which flourishes in our canons, the variety principally grown in New York State and the "English cluster"—the last mentioned of which has proved to be the most profitable to raise.

It was not expected that any profit would be realized from the business for the first year or two after planting, and especially since the decline in prices of this product set in. Whereas hops used to sell here at from 80 cts. to $1 per pound, they can now be purchased for 15 cts., but Mr. Berry feels encouraged with his success, and was gratified to learn on taking a bale of his hops to one of the local breweries, where quantities of the product from California and New York State were on hand, that it was acknowledged after a close comparison that his were much better than either of the imported kinds.

A curious feature about the raising of hops is that it is necessary to have an occasional male or non-bearing vine in the patch; otherwise the hops produced will neither be as heavy nor as fragrant.

It is said that after the vines are well started one acre will produce from $200 to $300 worth of hops per season, and as they are not difficult to cultivate and after once getting a start, will grow for an indefinite period, hardly ever needing to be replanted, there is no good reason why they should not be cultivated more extensively—sufficiently so at least to supply the home demand, which amounts to not less than 100,000 pounds per annum.

Let it be clearly understood that Compound Oxygen is only made and dispensed by Drs. Starkey & Palen, 1529 Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa. Any substance made elsewhere, and called Compound Oxygen, is spurious and worthless, and those who buy it simply throw away their money, as they will in the end discover. Send for their Treatise on Compound Oxygen. It will be mailed free.

Orders for the Compound Oxygen Home Treatment will be filled by H. E. Mathews, 621 Powell Street, between Bush and Pine Streets, San Francisco.

LONDON, 2.—The Archbishops of Canterbury and York have issued an address to English electors. They say the men chosen in the coming election will be likely to govern the empire for a number of years. The Archbishops consider the church question of the highest importance. The address, though compulsory in tone, avoids direct party discussions. It is regarded as a thrust at the radicals.
