DEFENDANT ON THE WITNESS STAND.

F. W. Chambers Tells of Councilmen's Heavy Extra Labors to Warrant Extra Pay.

OTHER CASES COMMENCED.

Two Funerals in Ogden Sunday—McGriff Fruit Company Incorporates—Hostler Kicked by a Horse.

Ogden, Feb. 18.—Although nearly a whole week has been consumed in the hearing of the action brought against City Councilman F. W. Chambers, the indications are that at least one or two more days will be required to complete the evidence and make the arguments before the jury.

The defendant, Mr. Chambers, was placed on the witness stand Saturday afternoon in his own behalf. He testified in response to questions put to him by counsel on direct and cross-examination, that he had been a member of the city council since 1902, and is now president of the council; that the first time that extra compensation was considered by the council was in 1903, when extensive improvements throughout the city were being made, requiring a great deal of time on the various committees to see that the work was properly performed, and they found it necessary in order to be able to perform their duties as city fathers they must neglect their private positions and businesses; the councilmen discussed the matter and were unanimous in the sentiment that they should not perform the extra work without extra compensation; the matter was referred to the council to allow each member $50 extra pay for these services during 1902 and 1903, which amount was paid each member. During 1904 the work increased, and for that year they received an extra $100. In 1905 extensive improvements were continued, and each councilman was allowed $100.50. Mr. Chambers felt that he was entitled to the extra compensation, as he had put in a great deal of time for the city. In 1902 defendant had served on one special committee, in 1903 on five boards, 1904 on 14 boards. During the last year he served on a committee for the inspection of public improvements; also on a committee for the revision of the city ordinances, which had taken a great deal of time for weeks. At no time, Mr. Chambers stated, did he intend doing anything wrong or to misappropriate any of the city's funds, but had acted honestly in accepting the extra compensation, which he considered was justly due.

After Chambers had completed his testimony, Judge H. H. H. called the cases against William Craig and A. H. Moyes, who are charged with similar offenses, as Mr. Chambers. A jury was called and sworn but not accepted. The defendant pleaded not guilty to the charges, and the further hearing of the cases was continued until the Chambers case is completed.

RILEY HARROP LAID TO REST.

Impressive Obsequies in Lynn Meeting-house Sunday.

Ogden, Feb. 18.—Great respect was shown yesterday afternoon to the memory of C. Riley Harrop, the 21-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Harrop, who died Wednesday evening. His remains lay in state yesterday morning at the family residence and were viewed by hundreds of his relatives and acquaintances. A wealth of floral tributes covered his casket. The funeral services were held at the Lynn ward meeting-house, which was entirely inadequate to accommodate the large number of friends who gathered to pay a tribute to his memory. Bishop George Smith presided at the services, and the ward choir sang choice selections. Bishop Smith was the first speaker, and paid a high tribute to the beautiful character of the deceased, whom he had known from the cradle to the grave. "I know that my Redeemer lives," was sung by Hagbert Anderson. A beautiful sermon on the love of God and the resurrection was preached by Bishop James Taylor. "Sometimes, someday, we'll understand," was rendered by Orson Griffin. Concluding remarks were made by Counselor Crane. "Flee as a Bird" was sung by Peter Nordquist. The closing hymn, "Unveil thy bosom, faithful tomb," was sung by the choir. Elder E. A. Larkin offered the benediction. A funeral cortege followed.

WILLIAM FARRER.

ANOTHER PIONEER SUMMONED

William Farrer Closes Honored and Eventful Career at 85.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, Utah Co., Feb. 18.—William Farrer, a Utah pioneer of 1847, died at his home in the First ward, Saturday, at 12:30 o'clock, after a week's illness from congestive chills.

The deceased was born in Brigsteer, Westmorland, England, Jan. 26, 1821, and was the son of Roger and Catherine Farrer. His mother died while he was a small boy, his father again marrying, and in 1842 the family left for America, having become members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. They sailed in the ship "The Enterprise" in 1842, and remained there (the ship) until 1846. In 1847 William left Winter Quarters for Utah, traveling in Bishop Hunter's company, and arriving in Salt Lake in October of that year.

Mr. Farrer engaged in building and other pioneer work in Salt Lake City, and in 1849 went to California, being attracted there by the gold mines. While in California he was called by President Young to go on a mission to the Sandwich Islands, being one of the first company of missionaries who were sent to that island.

When he returned to Utah, he remained for about a year, working in the mines, and came back to Utah in 1850. His parents had in the meantime come to Utah and settled in Provo, and he returned to California to work in the mines, and came back to Utah in 1850. His parents had in the meantime come to Utah and settled in Provo, and he returned to California to work in the mines, and came back to Utah in 1850.

He had been nine years since he saw them, having left them at Winter Quarters when he started for the valleys in 1847. In 1850 he married Miss Elizabeth Kerry, who, with six children and seven grandchildren, survive him. He also leaves two brothers, Roger and Thomas Farrer of this city, and numerous other relatives.

The deceased was an honorable, industrious man of kindly and unassuming nature; his life has been devoted to the development of the country, to his family and to his religion, and no one can be found who will speak aught but good of him. It can in truth be said he leaves the heritage of a good name and a worthy example to his children.

The company has some of the finest fruit orchards in Utah, which produce some of the very best fruits in the state. The company is now shipping large quantities of fruit to other markets.

NEW COUNTY SCHOOL HOUSES.

It was decided by the Weber county board of education at its regular meeting Saturday afternoon to erect two new brick schoolhouses, one at Hooper and one at Plain City, providing the people of those districts will donate properly located sites for the new structures. In case the buildings are erected, as now seems probable, a tax levy of 1 1/2 mill will be made to cover the cost of the structures, which will be in the neighborhood of $3,000 each.

Principals of the different schools were instructed to furnish the board with a list of pupils out of school, in order that he might take necessary action. In the case of the schools for religious purposes it was stated that some injury had been done to the property in this way and the clerk was instructed to call the attention of those concerned to the requirements laid down by the board.
