Board of Control Holds Another Busy Session at Ogden.

TRACK TO FAIR GROUNDS.

Horse Races and Shooting Tournament at Weber County Exposition—Hobos Break Into Car.

(Special to the "News.")

Ogden, July 29.—At the meeting of the board of control of the National Irrigation Congress, held here last night, much important business was transacted. Messrs. Wright and Clark reported making a trip into Cache valley in the interest of the congress, where they found people enthusiastic and anxious to entertain the delegates. The same committee were delegated to visit the southern part of the state.

Mr. Kiesel reported that the finance committee had met with gratifying success in Salt Lake City, receiving financial support and encouragement from leading business men of the city.

It was decided that the fruit exhibit which is to be a feature of the congress will be held at the Weber county fair grounds, and the exhibit, as far as the congress is concerned, will be limited to fruit.

President Shurtliff notified the board that he had appointed Robert McQuarrie, Joseph Barry and Ambrose Shaw as a committee of pioneers to look after pioneer features for the congress.

The board decided to issue an invitation to the manufacturers of irrigation machinery to exhibit some of their machinery in Ogden during the congress.

A letter was received from Richard T. Ely, instructor in public economy at the Wisconsin university and a noted agriculturalist, stating he intended to be present during the sessions of the congress.

At a meeting of the Weber County Fair association with the officers of the Ogden Rapid Transit company it was definitely settled that a track would be laid from the main line of the street railway to the fair grounds on west Seventeenth street, to be completed by Sept. 1. It was also decided to have some of the finest horse races ever witnessed in this part of the country on Sept. 15-18. An interesting feature of the fair will be a shooting tournament on the 17th of September, at which Messrs. Bigelow and Becker, the Ogden marksmen, who tied at Walla Walla, Wash., for the diamond prize, will shoot off the trophy, to decide which will be its owner.

This morning M. Daly was arrested on complaint of Dan Fitzgerald, the Southern Pacific detective, who charges that on July 27, while acting as a brakeman on the said railroad, Daly assisted four men to ride in a box car without paying the regular fare. The car in which the men rode was loaded with fruit, and when it reached Ogden they were arrested on the charge of breaking into the same. At the hearing, which took place today before Judge Howell, it developed that they had paid Daly $5 for the privilege of riding, and his arrest followed. The four were each fined $10 each, and Daly will have his hearing this evening.

HOBOS BREAK INTO CAR.

This morning a report was received in Ogden that seven hobos had broken open a Southern Pacific freight car loaded with oranges between Toama and Salt Lake, and arrived at Salt Lake this morning. The car was found empty, and the train crew reported the matter to Constable Moore, who at once proceeded to place the toughs under arrest. They broke and ran, however, and not until the officer had put a charge of shot from a shotgun into the leg of one of them did they surrender. They are now in jail awaiting trial.

She managed to utter a few screams and Officer Olson was attracted to the place. He captured Young before the latter could make his escape. RED GALLACHER ON THE CANC

Police Department Compel Him to Ignore His Attorney's Advice.

ACCUSE LATTER STRONGLY.

Wild Hackman's Lawyer Says He Gave No Unlawful Counsel to His Client—Officers Say He Did.

Attorney Ashby Snow, who was counsel for "Red" Gallagher, the hackman who ran amuck here several weeks ago and who was given 90 days at hard labor, may find himself locking horns with the police department.

As is well known, the authorities had a great deal of trouble with the hackman when they tried to force him to go out with the chain gang. "Red" refused absolutely to go, and said he would go into the black hole and rot there before he would do a lick of work with the gang. Last evening Sergeant Roberts and other officers, called to see Gallagher at the county jail, and found Snow there with him.

According to the statement of the officers, Snow advised Gallagher not to go with them. It is alleged by Roberts that he said:

"Gallagher, don't you go with these men. They have no right to take you out on the chain gang. You have a right to resist them. Get a gun and if they attempt to take you, kill them. Now, do as I tell you."

Mr. Snow denied making the statement, but Sergeant Roberts and Officer Simpson declare that he did so advise his client. But Roberts was determined to take the prisoner to the station, and said: "I am going to take you and you will have to go out with the gang. Now, you might as well make up your mind to go peacefully for you are going anyway. If you are thinking of attempting any killing we want to know it, but remember one thing, you are surely going with us."

Local guard officers say they fail to see why citizens with means cannot enter into an arrangement with the state whereby the latter will rent for a long term an armory built by the former. The idea is to occupy the entire center of one of the big blocks with a great hall and suite of offices, a ballroom, roof, with officers and company quarters, store and equipment rooms, on one side and with an entrance from the street. The entire open space can go without any flooring, so that artillery, cavalry and infantry may operate in the armory. At present the state is paying $120 annual rent for the present quarters. This is a small sum in interest on $40,000 at 3 per cent. It is claimed that with such an armory as is indicated, there would be a general revival of guard interest.

FOWLS FOR THE FARM.

Professor Gilbert of Ottawa, Canada, in answer to the question, "Why are poultry valuable to the farmer?" gives the following reasons:

Because he ought by their means to convert a great deal of the waste of his farm into money in the shape of eggs and chickens for market.

Because with intelligent management they ought to be all-year revenue producers, with the exception of perhaps two months during the molting season.

Because poultry will yield him quicker return for the capital invested than any of the other departments of agriculture.

Because the measure from the poultry house will make a valuable crop of use in either vegetable garden or orchard. The birds themselves, if allowed to run in plum or apple orchards, will destroy all harmful insect life.

Because while poultry and fowls can only be successfully grown in certain seasons or layers of eggs in all parts of the country.

Because poultry-raising is an employment in which the farmer's wife and daughters can engage and leave him free to attend to other departments.

Because it will bring him the best return in the shape of new laid eggs during the winter season, when the farmer has no other source of income.

Because to start poultry raising on the farm requires little or no capital. Under a good plan, poultry can be made with a valuable adjunct to the farm.

Mrs. Hodge Consents to Come Without Requisition Papers.

WILL REACH HERE SUNDAY

21st Information of Valuable Nature Reached Sheriff's Office This Afternoon.

A telegram was received from Sheriff Emery late this afternoon stating that he would leave Grand Rapids tomorrow with his prisoner and that he would not need the requisition papers. This will bring the sheriff and Mrs. Hodge in Salt Lake next Sunday.

Information was received this afternoon in the sheriff's office which, it obtained several days ago, would have led to Mrs. Hodge's arrest long ago. On the night of July 6 Mrs. Hodge stayed all night at the residence of Mr. Wright at Centerville. In the evening she entered into a conversation with Mr. Wright in the course of which she asked him if he believed that there was any forgiveness for a murderer. He informed her that he did not believe so, whereupon she differed with him on that subject. Laer she learned that Mr. Wright had a son on a mission near Denison, Ia. She gave him a letter of introduction for his son to her brother there, which letter was signed "Alice." It is very evident, therefore, that she had the murder in mind when she conversed with Mr. Wright. This information was given to a deputy sheriff at Farmington and did not reach the local authorities until this evening.

The husband charged his wife with bigamy, marrying Dr. Lance, the family physician. Mr. Constandi obtained a judicial separation from his wife in 1899.

John Lawson Walton, counsel for the petitioner, explained the subsequent proceedings as follows:

"This delicately nurtured lady of Belgravia went to a wild district of the north, emigrated to the half settled state of Dakota, became an American citizen, stayed six months there, fraudulently obtained a so-called divorce and married the co-defendant there, thus using the lax Dakota laws for her own purpose."

"This," continued Mr. Walton, "was fraud on civilized jurisprudence."

The jury found the respondent and respondent guilty of adultery, awarding £12,000 damages against Dr. Lance and also found the petitioner guilty of the counter-charge of adultery. His petition, therefore, was dismissed and the points of law involved was postponed until tomorrow.
