

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT

STRAINS OF MUSIC PALPITATING AIR

Melodious Efforts of Visiting and Local Bands, Drum Corps, Etc.

N.A.C.W.M.A. NOTABLE FEATURE

These Veterans Range in Age from Sixty to Eighty-five—Other Crack Organizations.

The streets were kept lively with band music yesterday, local and visiting organizations serenading the newspaper offices and the hotels, and playing in front of the Commercial club building. A special feature in the martial music display was the turnout of the National Association of Civil War Musicians, under the direction of E. J. Freeman of Audubon, Iowa, president of the national body; A. C. Harter of Dayton, O., leader; A. J. Phillip of Wareham, Mass., was the color bearer, and N. D. Wilson of Coon Rapids, Ia., carried the second standard of colors. The veterans presented an impressive appearance as they marched and played. Everybody seemed interested in them. They gave the "News" a pleasant serenade.

TWENTY-FIVE BANDS PRESENT.
The Provo band of 30 members arrived in town last evening, with S. Jepperson, leader, and Ralph Archbold, manager. The music committee say that there must be 25 bands in town today; and as they are being kept circulating, there is martial music on the streets almost continuously.

MODOC SINGING CLUB.
The Modoc Singing club of Topeka, Kan., is here with 22 enthusiastic and thorough vocalists and they are serenading at many of the G. A. R. headquarters as well as at other public points today. Their music is greatly enjoyed. This club was organized about 35 years ago and has been kept intact since that time, it being classed as the largest singing club west of the Mississippi river.

T. J. Anderson is their president, and last April his seventieth birthday was celebrated. He is an enthusiastic music lover and is still very active in the work. Mr. A. Holman is musical director, and George M. Johnson is manager. These singers have attended every encampment for the last 18 years and have always met with great success as they are doing here. During the encampment at St. Paul two years ago the club sang at 48 places in one day. Three members came from Los Angeles especially for this engagement. Their uniforms consist of white hat, vest and trousers and blue serge coats.

SPRINGVILLE DRUM CORPS.

The martial music being played by the Springville Drum corps is thrilling the host of people who hear them. The band is composed of 12 men. Thomas A. Brown is leader and bass drummer, and Alfred Waite, five-major. The ranks of this band are honored by three members of the G. A. R., in the persons of Frederick Lewis, William Lewis and Israel Clegg.

UNION PACIFIC MUSICIANS.

The Union Pacific band of Ellis, Kansas, under the direction of E. G. Pearson, is here neatly uniformed and is giving the people some enlivening music; they arrived Monday evening with the Kansas delegation. The band is composed of employees of the U. P. railway, and all are much taken up in their work. This band has played at many important functions in different parts of the United States with marked success. This band serenaded each newspaper office. Following is the instrumentation of the organization:

Solo E flat clarinet, C. Pleiser; 1 E flat clarinet, P. Richardson; 2 B flat clarinet, E. Overstreet; solo B flat clarinet, P. M. Richardson; solo B flat clarinet, A. Richardson; solo B flat clarinet, C. Richardson; first B flat cornet, J. Merrill; second B flat cornet, H. M. Zeigler; solo alto, B. Golliday; first alto, H. Adair; second alto, W. Vose; third alto, B. Rich; trombone, C. Odell; trombone, W. B. Hall; trombone, W. Ramsey; baritone, A. Monroe; tuba, J. M. Lower; tuba, F. Miller; snare drum, W. Vose; bass drum, C. C. Stott; drum major, D. L. Hamilton.

VERMONT BAND.

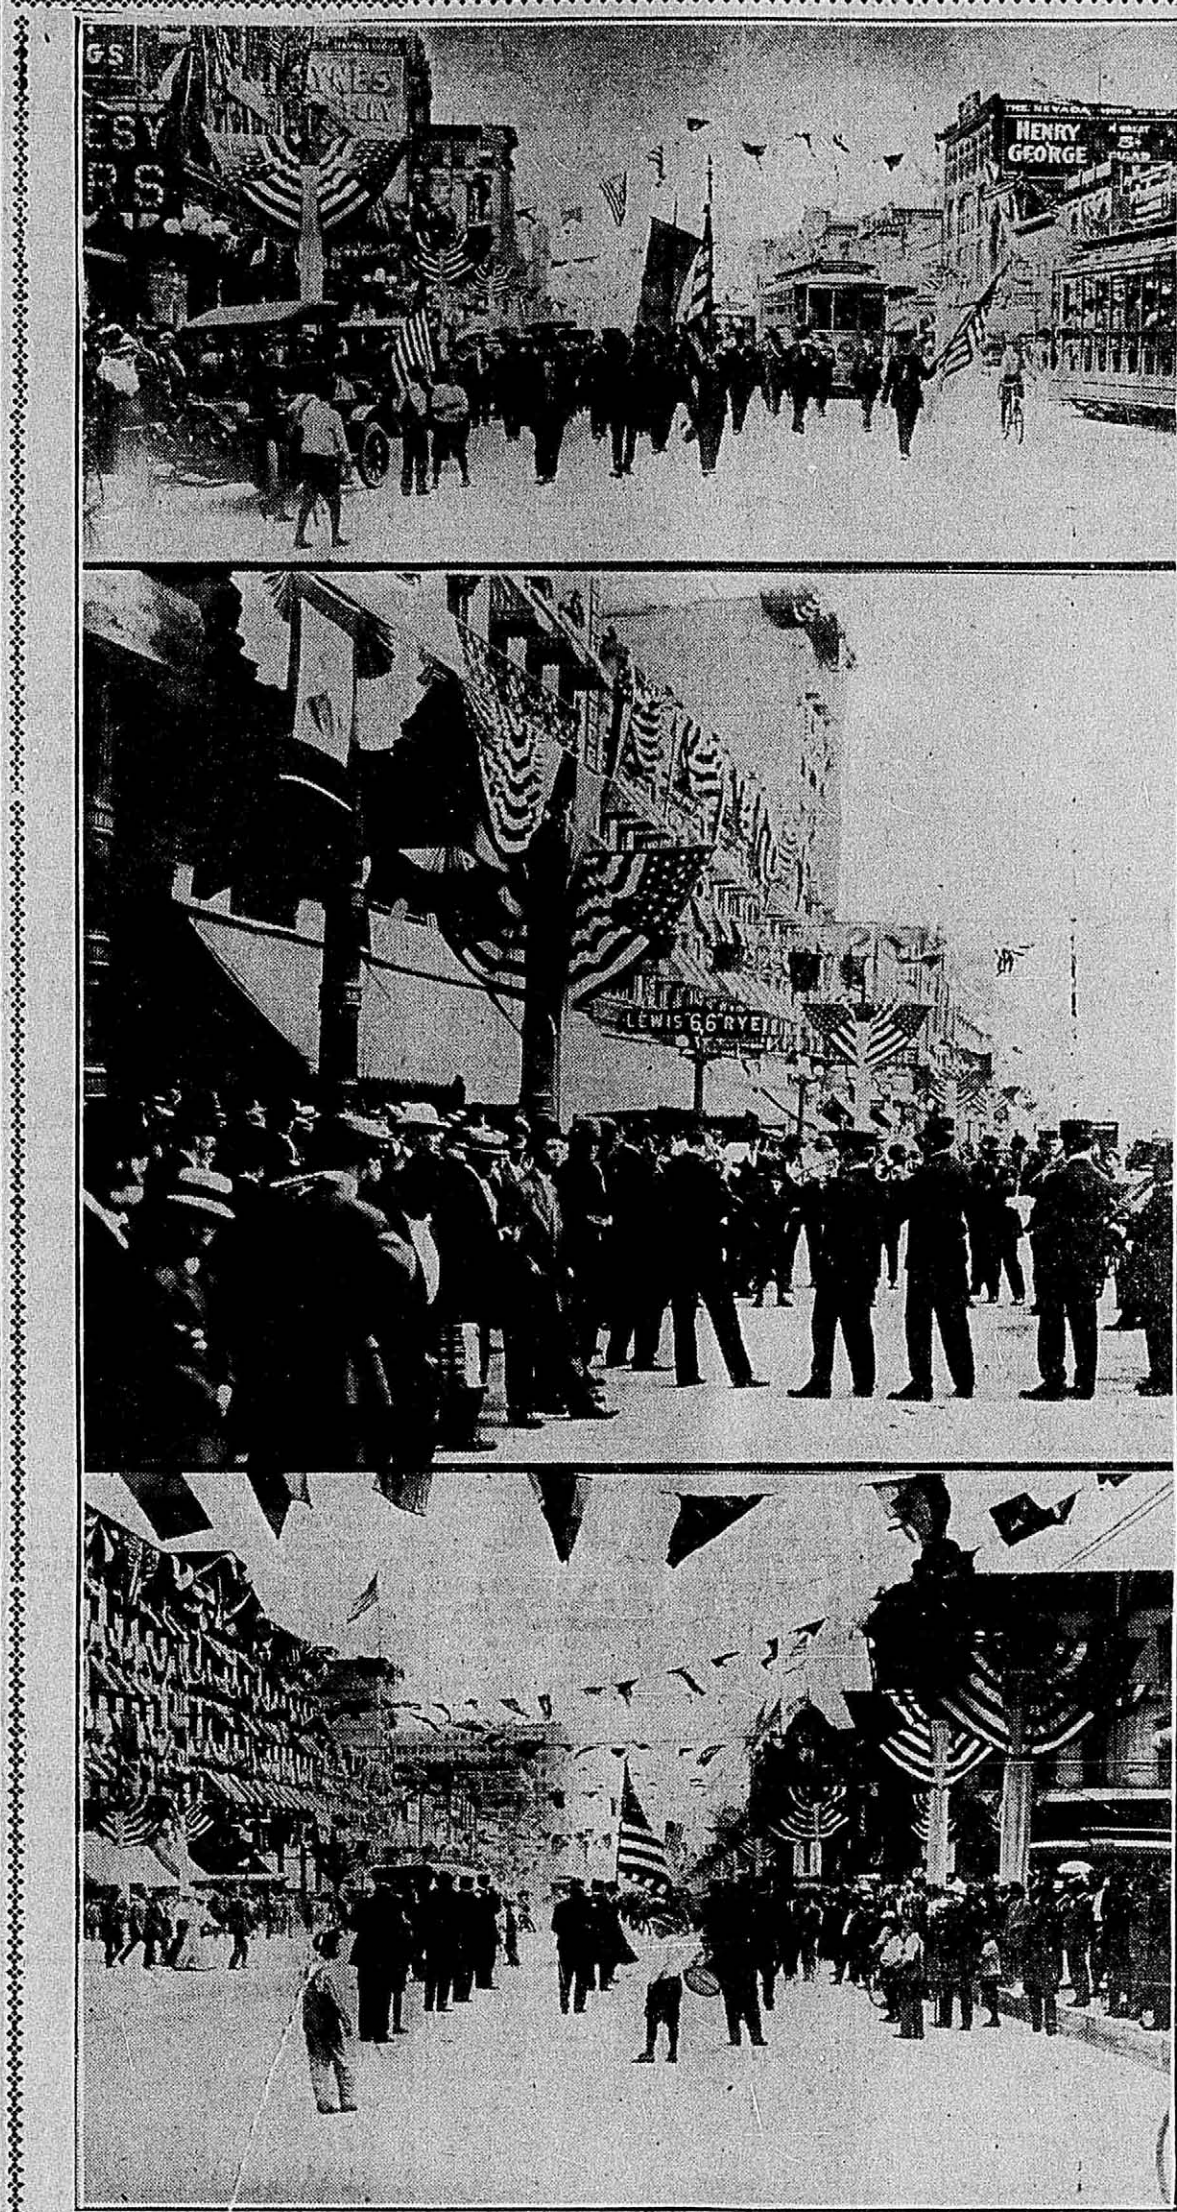

The Lyndonville, Vt., military band of thirty members is here helping very materially in enlivening the G. A. R. program. This band is composed of musical men mostly engaged in business, who have crossed the continent, paying their own expenses, and practically giving their services to the G. A. R. cause. This band has played in Cincinnati, Montreal, Boston, Denver, Minneapolis, Saratoga Springs, Chicago and Buffalo. It has several times been the official band at the encampments and has played many times for the celebrated W. B. May's band of Franklin, Pa. W. S. Harris is the manager, and H. C. Wilson is director. This organization is making a very marked impression.

AFTER MANY YEARS.

Encampment Brings About Numerous Affecting Reunions.

There was a happy reunion yesterday of four "boys" of the Chittin family, Marion, Lyon county, Ia., who enlisted after Sumpter was fired on in April, 1861. They are H. C. Chittin, aged 76 years, who resides in Missouri; Mont. J. F. Chittin, aged 72, of Anthon, Iowa; W. R. Chittin, aged 70, of Somerville, Or.; and C. F. Chittin, aged 68, of Ellettsville, Ind. They were members of Company A, Twentieth Iowa Infantry; W. R. of Company A, Sixth Iowa Infantry; C. F. of Company E, Forty-sixth Iowa Infantry; and H. C. on the gunboat Benton, which was attached to the lower Mississippi squadron. These brothers went through the war unscathed by either wound or sickness, but were separated after the conflict, two of them going to Oregon via this city, one to California and one to Iowa. The four had not met again until yesterday, and hence the four happiest men living. They are quartered at the Lafayette school.

TEN THOUSAND GOOD SANDWICHES FOR G.A.R.

Several Hundred Women and Girls Work Until Late Hour Preparing Refreshments.

The veterans did not go hungry in the parade. They had food and drink and all they wanted of it. Yesterday and until late last evening several hundred girls and women worked hard putting up 10,000 sandwiches under the direction of Miss Lucy Van Cott of the domestic science department of the University of Utah.

Coffee was prepared by Mrs. Edwin Kimball and everything was in readiness this morning. The refreshments were distributed from the following booths:

Booth No. 3, in State street near the Salt Lake theater, Mrs. Wilson Holm in charge.

INDIAN WAR VETERANS.

Association Which Seeks for Its Members Recognition of Government.

C. R. Hauser, secretary and treasurer of the National Indian War Veterans association, asks the publication of the following as a favor to many old frontiersmen:

The National Indian War Veterans, an organization formed in Denver, Colo., has for its object to obtain pensions for all those who, while serving the government, contributed their share to open for peaceful settlement this great western country.

These men as a rule are old and feeble, by reason of endured hardships and privations, unable to perform manual labor and on account of age barred from obtaining suitable employment.

A government which through its liberality to its veterans of other wars, to its educational institutions and its farmers, ranks as the very first in the civilized world, should surely not hesitate to give to this limited number of surviving Indian War Veterans enough to allow them at least a living for their few remaining days.

These men spent some of the best years of their lives in their country's service, opening up this great western empire, fighting under such noted leaders as Custer, Merritt, Crook, Miles, Forsyth, McKenzie and others, and should in their last days receive government recognition.

We request all those eligible to membership in this organization to at once send in their application to the national secretary and treasurer, C. R. Hauser, 1613 Market street, Denver, Colo., when they will receive further information.

BOMBARDMENT OF THE HEAVENS

Bursting Bombs and Blazing Meteors Make Bright the Silent Sky.

ENSIGN PEAK IN ERUPTION.

Last Night's Pyrotechnic Display Appropriate in Conception and Perfect in Execution.

In a fountain of flame which burst from Ensign peak, the night-sky was swept of its stars last night and supplanted with dazzling myriads of shooting, darting rockets, exploding bombs and delicate tinted flashes of fire, to the delight of gray hairs as well as golden. The pyrotechnic display entertained fully 40,000 people and added a new warmth and color to the already brilliant encampment. It was spectacular in its execution and no doubt awakened in the memory of the old soldiers the dreadful nights of war waged on hills and about forts which so long ran red with blood. In the last scene Ensign peak might have been compared to a burning fort or a miniature volcano pouring red-hot lava from its crater, it was so realistic.

Under the glittering lights on Main street the crowd gathered to watch the fireworks. The street was jammed from North Temple street to Third South street. The reviewing stands were packed and everyone unable to find a place in the street was in an office window, on top of a building or hanging to the arm of a telephone pole.

The night spectacle was ingeniously conceived for effect and executed in an excellent manner. At the beginning a few red fires burned along the line of low hills like camp fires spread across a battlefield. Then there was the booming of bombs, dull, heavy and solid. Suddenly a red flame swept the foot hills like a prairie fire. When the smoke had raised sufficiently, there stood out in bold and dazzling relief the word "Welcome," which was applauded by the crowds.

From various points there were scores of rockets with brilliant tails, and meteors bursting in the air in showers of sparks which gradually fell to nothing in the darkness. Huge bombs were hurled high, exploding into spreading myriads of sparkling balls of delicate tinted fire. The closing scene was on the crown of Ensign peak which spouted showers of flame resembling a volcano in action. The display lasted for an hour and a half, beginning at 10 o'clock, and the crowd remained until the last.

WHERE ARE THE ZOUAVES?

There has been disappointment expressed that there is practically no showing of the old Zouave regiments. There were the Ellsworth Fire Zouaves, the Billy Wilson Zouaves, the Duryea Zouaves, and the Hawkins Zouaves. Only three individual members of these four regiments have appeared on from the Fifth New York—the Duryea Zouaves, and two from the Ninth New York—Hawkins' regiment. The New York Zouaves were so badly cut up by the horse cavalry at the first battle of Bull Run that they were very little heard of afterward; but then the Virginia cavalry was also done up, and afterward became more or less of a myth. There are no doubt people in town who will remember seeing in Harper's Weekly stirring pictures of these two commands carrying each other into mince with very little ceremony. The remnant of the New York Zouave regiments were organized after the war? into the Fourth New York militia, uniformed like the Ellsworth command. But even that command has disappeared.

The Confederates had one command somewhat analogous to the New York Zouaves, in the Louisiana Tigers—battalion commanded by Maj. Wheat. They were a very hard lot, as hard to control as the Billy Wilson regiment of the Federals. It is stated that a chaplain was appointed to the Tigers; but he was robbed of $1,500 by the choice spirits in his command within a short time after joining them, whereupon he resigned in disgust.
