

ch can be cross; and if we only ow them from their cross moments, should form a very different opinof them from what those would no know them only from their pleas-side. Yet they are the same per-as. When we rise from the dead ere is going to be a restoration, so at every part shall again be restored. en those who are righteous shall be sions still, and those who are ay shall be filthy still. If we ve sought, for righteousness and odness those shall be restored to us, d those who sought the opposite all have their reward. Only those ho are resurrected can no longer act other's part; but everybody shall be at what he is. We believe in restation. We left the courts of aven to perform a mission, and it is ot unlikely that the hand of our ther was placed upon our heads, and at we were set apart for a on. This we have when we leave for rthly missions, because we love our thers. Methinks that the wis-of our Heavenly Father when we left ould be to strive to return with the me innocent face with which we left. t here sometimes we come in cont with sin, and lose our innocence. en the Gospel comes and bids repent in order that the rates of eaven may not be shut before us. In rder that he might encourage us as to e character of our heavenly Father, e Savior told us several parables, mongst others that of the fig tree. ur Savior pictures to us a man who ough leaving his father's house ally found himself an outcast in the orld, not even daring to return home. ee how the father received this outcast! On the strength of the verlasting love the poor out-ast was received with joy; r this son was lost and found again; ere we see the true character of od, who does not wish the death of sinner. This is the Gospel of Jesus rist. It tells us that there is a plan salvation laid out, by which a siner can be cleansed of his sins, and come "whiter than snow." The priesthood, held by the ostles, Seventies, and Elders, has been restored; and those who hear the inspired words His holy servants shall be born in by water and the Spirit, and become pure. You can get rid of all your s through the precious blood of us. We have to repent and worship God through His Son, and believed for the redemption of our s follows the blood and the Spirit. spirit of revelation through h you can enjoy the richest blessess of heaven. Do you want it? If God will not force it upon you. ust study the sayings of Jesus ve them, just as in the same way ou become a disciple of Christ. That is the way.
ish you could understand aying that "God is love." Why an say that? Because he was so and loving himself. He says that who hates his brother is a murderer." The e spirit of murder, he who kills will have it rel when he is in his grave. nt to have faith, hope, charity, these principles may be reed as in the morning of the urrection. And from God alone we get it. Do you pray? We must in order that we may be able to ake a good record and be saved from that is wrong. The speaker here ated a remarkable incident of God's ower to prayer, when his son had on miraculously restored after he had en and severely bruised his head. e latter-day Saints are "the salt of the earth," and the world shall be rd to glorify God when seeing their od works. Every sentence uttered our Savior is pregnant with mean-g. To follow Jesus and carry out s words is what makes people "gen-men" and "gentlewomen." The aker next dwelt upon the resurrec-n, showing who should come forth the first resurrection. I am very ious, he said, to come forth on that I have an interest in that resur-ction. I have buried little children. rist says they shall be suffered to me to the Kingdom of God, and I nt to be there so that I may have re-red to me what God has given me on the earth.

It is only fair to state that the above act gives only a faint idea of the excellent discourse of the Apos-le. Your correspondent does not hesiate to say that it was the best sermon to which he has had the pleasure listening for years.

The conference was a most enjoyable one. The Spirit of God was present in the exercises, and every one of the s present felt somewhat like Peter the Mount of Transfiguration: Lord, it is good to be here."

NEWS NOTES.
Items Gathered from Various Sources.

Chief Justice Charles E. Boyle died Dec. 15, at Occidental Hotel, Seattle. W. T. from tonsillitis, the result of a severe cold.

Timothy O'Meara, a G. A. R. man, died suddenly at Phoenix, Arizona, last Thursday. He served during the war in the Ninth Massachusetts Volun- teers.

Reno, Nev., Dec. 14.—W. H. Rex- ford, the man who cut his throat and was found wandering about in a field, died at the county hospital late this afternoon.

Last week two Chinawomen at- tempted to get into the United States at Tacoma. They were disguised as Indian squaws, but their peculiar gait caused an officer to suspect them, and investigation led to their arrest.

At Humboldt, Neb., last Sunday, Sherman Davis and J. W. Harper got into a quarrel as the result of an old feud. Harper drew a revolver, when Davis snatched it away from him and struck him on the head with it, crushing his skull. The wounded man is completely paralyzed and cannot live. Harper is in jail.

Grass Valley, Dec. 15.—Alvin S. Kellogg was found dead in his bed, six miles south of here, yesterday. He lived alone. The coroner's investiga- tion shows that the deceased was an habitual user of morphine, and had a complete outfit for taking hypodermic injections of the drug. It is believed to be a case of suicide or accidental dose. He was 63 years of age and a native of New York.

Georgetown, Colo., Dec. 15.—Joseph Giovanni, an Italian, while engaged in working in one of the Everett tunnel workings, situated on Republican Mountain, between this place and Silver Plume, was crushed to death by a rock, several tons in weight, falling upon him from the roof of the tunnel last evening. His body was taken to Silver Plume. The deceased had only been in America eighteen months. He was 35 years of age and unmarried.

Leadville, Colo., Dec. 13.—A safe in the room of W. R. Chadbourne, man- ager of the Mikado Mining Company, was opened by some person who knew the combination on Monday morning, and $2,700 in money extracted, also $250,000 worth of mining stock, the latter being of value to Mr. Chad- bourne, as it was made out in his name. The matter was placed in the hands of the police, but the theft could not be traced.

Phoenix, (A. T.), December 15.—While the McKanlass troops were per- forming at Tempe last evening and during the first act, the audience was startled by hearing two shots fired in rapid succession, with the cry of a man that he had been shot. The troupe continued with the perform- ance, holding the attention of the au- dience so that all undue excitement or commotion was avoided, and those who left the hall did so quietly. The shooting occurred between two mem- bers of the troupe. They had a slight quarrel in the hall and went out into the street to settle the difference—a fight. After a few blows one drew a pistol and shot the other in the back, the ball striking just under the left shoulder blade and ranging upward, injuring the man only slightly. The man that did the shooting is now un- der arrest.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 14.—Justice of the Peace Vansyke, of Norwalk, a little town about 12 miles south of here, after hiding his pet skeleton for two years, has had the doors of its closet broken open by the law and its ugly tenant exposed to the full view of the public. Thirteen years ago he lived in New York and was apparently happy in his home life and fairly prosperous in worldly mat- ters. One day he left home and never returned. He came to Cal- ifornia and never more saw his wife. He engaged in journalism for a time and then turned ranchman and pros- pered. Two years ago he met a Miss Quick, and the dead past in his life he did not tell her, but wooed, won and married her. He was happier and more prosperous than ever until a few days ago, when he went to Ontario, near Pomona, on business. He met a man, the brother of the wife he had left thirteen years ago. A complaint charging him with bigamy was sworn to and he was arrested by Constable Atkinson and taken to Pomona.

On Wednesday, Dec. 12, James Mc- Bride, 27 years of age, and employed as a brakeman on the Union Pacific, met with a terrible accident at Wyoming station, near Laramie. A water car was to be sent out, and McBride was assisting in the work. He was on the car in question, and was in the act of setting the brake, when it gave way and he fell to the track. Almost in- stantly the cruel wheels were upon him, and both legs were crushed into a pulp, the right limb being cut in two in three places and the left limb twice. His comrades on the train ran to his assistance at once and he was carried into the caboose, when it was discov- ered that his head had also sustained an ugly wound, and the brains were oozing out. A surgeon was called, but only a glance was sufficient to con- vince the doctor that young McBride's hours on earth were numbered, and all that could be done was to administeropiate with a view to relieving him of the intense pain. The sight was a heartrending one, and tears came to the eyes of men who have wit- nessed many such accidents. The victim bore up heroically, but at inter- vals would call upon his brother trainmen to kill him and put him out of his misery. He lived two hours after the accident.

Joseph H. Jones and Miss Rose Belle Neill, of Merced County, Cal., eloped and were married in a sailboat at sea off Santa Cruz on Sunday.

Phoenix (A. T.), December 11.—Major Spaulding, of the Fourth Cavalry, commanding at Fort McDowell, met his death yesterday evening by the ac- cidental discharge of his gun while out hunting. His wife will take the re- mains to Kalamazoo, Mich., for inter- ment.

Albuquerque, (N. M.), Dec. 15.—Diphtheria is raking among the chil- dren of small towns in the county and any are dying. The disease seems to be more virulent among the Mexi- cans than any others. This is attrib- uted to the careless attention the na- tives pay to their offspring. Physicians are positive that since the disease broke out, several weeks ago, no less than 200 Mexican children have died. It is also stated that smallpox rages in two or three Mexican settlements.

San Jose, Dec. 12.—Mrs. Kathrine Lepesh, a native of Austria, aged 35 years, about 11 o'clock this morning sent a young servant girl to procure arsenic to kill mice. Three hours later she was found in agony in her bedroom and confessed that she had taken a tablespoonful of the poison. All antidotes were ineffectual and she died about 6 o'clock. Her husband died last February from the effects of vaccination and since then she has been inconsolable and frequently ex- pressed a desire to die and be with him. Notes written by her this morn- ing to relatives were to the same ef- fect. She was in good circumstances and has wealthy relatives in San Francisco and Stockton.

Seattle, W. T., Dec. 14.—D. H. Gil- man, vice-president of the Seattle, Lake Shore and Eastern Railroad, states that definite arrangements have been made for the extension of the railroad north from Seattle to the British boundary, to there meet a branch from the Canadian Pacific, built across Fraser River from Mis- sion, forty-two miles east of Van- couver. Construction will begin early in the spring and be finished during the summer. The Lake Shore has de- cidedly decided to utilize Cody Pass in the Cascades in the construction of the line to Spokane. The road will be finished to the base of the moun- tains from the east and west sides dur- ing the coming season. The total dis- tance is about 170 miles, and in 1890 the road will be entirely finished. In Cody Pass several tunnels will be con- structed, one of which will be 2,500 feet in length.

In Prison In Idaho.

BOISE PENITENTIARY,
December 16, 1888.

Editor Deseret News:
There are six of the brethren in the territorial prison serving terms of im- prisonment, viz: A. S. Anderson, of Rexburg, convicted of "perjury for registering, being a "Mormon," and sentenced to one year's imprisonment; Martin Jacobson, of St. Charles, con- victed of unlawful cohabitation, and sentenced to four months' imprison- ment and $100 fine; Joshua Hawks, (not John Hawks as reported in the News) of Franklin, unlawful cohabitation, four months and $100 fine; Ed- mund Buckley, (not Edward Buckley as reported in the News) of Franklin, four months; Jonathan Smith, of Wes- ton, unlawful cohabitation; four months and $200 fine, and Bishop Dal- rymple, of Preston, Oseola County; unlawful cohabitation; five months and $250 fine.

Jacobson, Hawks, Buckley and Smith were sentenced on the 19th of October, at Blackfoot, and started for Boise the same evening, in custody of Marshal Baird, and arrived at the penitentiary the next morning. Dal- rymple and Anderson were sentenced October 30, and arrived at the peniten- tiary November 2nd and 11th respec- tively.

This is a large hotel; but it isn't run according to the style we have been ac- customed to. John Halley, Jr., the warden, has been very kind and gen- tlemanly to us since our arrival at this place. This popular establishment is well patronized, having 82 guests of various nationalities, some of whom spend their time in making fancy brid- les and many notions of horse hair, others in making beautiful picture frames and small boxes inlaid with wood, ivory, etc. Here, as elsewhere, considerable interest was manifested in the presidential election.

A Horrible Crime.

An individual at P. V. Junction, by the name of Thomas Dergin, was ar- rested and examined before the justice of the peace at that place last week for criminally outraging a fourteen-year old semi-demented girl. The facts de- veloped in the examination were of a disgusting nature, and showed the utter depravity of Dergin. He was bound over in $1,000 bonds on a charge of rape.

The papers in the case were brought to Provo Friday by Constable Hoover, of that place, and submitted to County Attorney Thurman, who immediately pronounced them invalid, being im- properly drawn up, at the same time suggesting that Dergin be brought be- fore the commissioner, and have an examination on another charge.

Constable Hoover left, but either be- fore or as soon as he got to P. V. the witnesses in the case had been "spir- ited away," and Dergin getting scent of the whole proceeding, immediately came to Provo and "demanded" an examination. As the officers were un- able to gain the whereabouts of the witnesses and especially the girl her- self, the examination had to be post- poned. It is expected, however, that the examination will be held tomorrow before Commissioner Hills. — Provo Enquirer, Dec. 11.

We see that some of our republican temporaries are still harping on statehood question, as though they think Wyoming stands ready to be admitted as a state. This is absurdity the most pronounced order, and it is a bit strange that our brethren are slow in getting the campaign folly of their systems. As long as we less than 20,000 voters to bear the able burden of an already heavy territorial tax, where is the luxury of additional expenses with no compensa-
