LAHORE, 17. — The viceroy has arrived here. High authorities here say the natives of India will not believe in the British success unless the troops advance on Cabul. Gen. Brown's division is concentrating at Jellalabad to be in readiness to advance if necessary. It is asserted that the manner of Yakoob Khan's envoy, when communicating with Major Cavagnari, was almost defiant. Definite terms have been sent to Yakoob Khan, who has not had time yet to reply.

Obituary.

Editors Deseret News:

Owing to the closing remarks of Brother Lorenzo Hatch in your columns of the 25th of February referring to Brother Liston's family in St. George for further particulars of his labors, and by the request of Sister Reeves Liston, now living in St. George, I give you a few items as taken from his genealogy on the High Priests' Quorum records.

Commodore Perry Liston was the eldest son of George and Elizabeth Liston, maiden name Nottingham. He was born March 31st, 1821, near Portsmouth, in Sciota County, Ohio. His father moved to Muncie, Delaware County, Indiana, in 1832. He first heard the gospel while living with his father, who was a Methodist minister, and opposed him much. In the Spring of 1841, he left his father and traveled westward through Illinois, Missouri and Iowa, up to Big and Little Sioux Rivers, in company with the Pottawatomie Indian agent; returned home May 22nd, 1844. He married Elizabeth Reeves, July 21, 1844, by whom he had eight children, viz. six boys and two girls; moved by way of Pisgah and Garden Grove and settled at Keg Creek; afterwards gathered to Utah and was baptized Dec. 17th 1850, his wife was baptized at the same time. He was ordained a priest, was first counselor to John M. Higbee, who was captain of 92 wagons, arrived in Utah on the 22nd of August, 1852, settled at Pleasant Grove. In 1853 was called on a mission to Cedar City. He was ordained a High Priest by President Brigham Young in May, 1854. He was a member of the High Council of Cedar City, and in the same year was United States deputy marshal under Marshal Heywood. He moved to Beaver City in 1859, while there he labored hard cradling wheat, cutting from four to five acres per day; he cut 82½ acres in 22 days, only resting on Sundays. In the spring of 1860 he helped to settle Minersville, and in 1861 helped to open up the Dixie mission, where he labored hard to support his family, and travelled considerably among the natives of that country on the Rio Virginia and also on the Muddy. In April 7, 1866, was called on a mission to Europe, and traveled in Kent conference, and also in the London and Essex conferences until June 1868, where he had much success. He was then released and returned home to St. George. He helped to haul lumber for the St. George Temple, and was generally ready and willing to do anything he was asked to do and was very spirited in doing it. About two years ago he had a wife and daughter killed by the mules running away and upsetting the wagon on the Black Ridge dugway between Washington and St. George. He then went on his mission to Arizona as related by Brother Hatch, and returned to St. George last fall and was taken down by a spell of sickness and came pretty near dying then, and must have done if it had not been for the unceasing attention and care paid to him by Sister Liston and family for about three months, and from which I think he never recovered. Your brother in the gospel.

Acting Bishop, 1st Ward.

A Beautiful Story.

Coleridge relates a story to this effect: Alexander, during his march into Africa, came to a people dwelling in peaceful huts, who knew neither war nor conquest. Gold being offered him, he refused it, saying that his sole object was to learn the manners and customs of the inhabitants. "Stay with us," said the chief, "as long as it pleases thee."

During this interview with the African chief, two of his subjects brought a case before him for judgment. The dispute was this: The one had bought a piece of ground which, after the purchase, was found to contain a treasure, for which he felt himself bound to pay. The other refused to accept anything, stating that he had sold the ground with what it might be found to contain, apparent or concealed.

Said the chief, looking at the one: "You have a son," and to the other, "You have a daughter; let them be married, and the treasure given them as a dowry."

Alexander was astonished. "And what," said the chief, "would have been the decision in your country?"

"We should have dismissed the parties and seized the treasure for the king's use."

"And does the sun shine in your country?" said the chief; "does the rain fall there? Are there any cattle there which feed upon herbs and green grass?"

"Certainly," said Alexander.

"Ah!" said the chief, "it is for the sake of those innocent cattle that the Great Being permits the sun to shine, the rain to fall, and the grass to grow in your country."

How MEN GET AHEAD.—A son of Maine, who went west in early youth, and has there obtained wealth and honorable position, returned last summer to visit his old home. At the village store he saw an old man whom he had known in his younger days. He accosted him, but was not recognized. "So you don't remember me," he said; "I'm John R—." "You?" exclaimed the old man; "you don't mean to tell me that you are John R—?" "I certainly am," said the visitor, shaking him by the hand, "and I'm very glad to see you again." "Well," persisted the old man, "I never did. To think that this is you. They tell me you've grown awful rich, John." John admitted that he had "saved something." "And they say you're president of a railroad, and get a big salary." Again John had to admit that rumor spoke truth. I'm glad on it, John! I'm glad on it, my boy! It beats all, what circumstances and cheek will do for a man."—Boston Transcript.

What Might Have Been Heard.

Almost any day during the Centennial, a knot of physicians might have been seen gathered around the elegant glass case, standing in the Main Building in which Benson's Caprine Porous Plaster was exhibited, discussing its merits and superiority over other porous plasters, and the listener might have heard words of warm praise fall from their lips as they spoke of the revolution it would likely effect in remedies for diseases treated externally, such as rheumatism, lame and weak back, spinal and kidney disease, sciatica, lumbago, sprain, and bruises, and all aches and pains of a local nature. With these opinions the Centennial jurors, who were also learned physicians, were in perfect accord, and awarded the manufacturers of Benson's Caprine Plaster the only medal given to porous plasters. To avoid fraud see that the word Caprine is cut through each plaster. Sold every where. Price 25 cents.

BENSON'S CAPRINE POROUS PLASTER

was invented to overcome the great objection ever found to the old style of porous plasters, that of slow action in bringing relief. Benson's Caprine Porous Plaster relieves pain at once and cures quickly. It imparts a sensation of gentle and stimulating warmth and brings rest and comfort to the sufferer.

THE scarcity of Diamonds, Gold and Silver, and the difficulties met with in securing them, is a sure indication of their value.

Thus it is with a valuable medicine: Dr. Aug. Kaiser's Celebrated German Pulmonic Elixir, through the jealousy of rivals, has met with the most bitter opposition, and apparently almost insurmountable obstacles have been thrown in its way; but its opponents might as well try to change the course of the sun, sweep back the ocean with a broom or put out a prairie fire with a tear.

For the cure of Throat and Lung diseases, such as Coughs, Colds, Consumption and Bronchial Affections, it is unequalled. Its cures are truly magical. Ask your Druggist for it. The genuine bears the Prussian Coat of Arms, the facsimile signature of Dr. Aug. Kaiser, and has his name blown on every 75 cent bottle. Trial bottle, 25 cents.

"Oh, if I had only received it before, I am confident it would have cured me." These impressive words were spoken by a gentleman in the last stages of consumption, who, on his death-bed had received one bottle of HALE'S HONEY OF HOREHOUND and TAR, and had taken only a part of it, when he found he could breathe with almost perfect ease; his cough had left him, but not having commenced the article in time, his constitution was broken, and he had not sufficient strength left to overcome the disease. Therefore, the public will see the necessity of keeping this article constantly in the house, ready for immediate use, as it is a certain cure for all Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, and all Affections of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and lungs, leading to consumption. DIPHTHERIA.

MARSHALL'S HUMBUG OIL, when used freely internally and externally, will positively cure Diphtheria, even in its worst form; thousands can vouch for the truth of this assertion. The raw Oil may be used freely on the tenderest infant, leaving the parts exposed to the air to dry and blistering. For internal use, the Oil must be diluted with water. Four table-spoonsful of water to one teaspoonful of the Oil—sweeten to taste; bathing the throat and chest freely and often. Dose, one teaspoonful, repeating frequently. The Humbug Oil may be found prepared for internal use, under the name of Marshall's Canker Cure.
