Every electrician obtainable was put to work of the lines, and succeeded in get-ing the 'phones in working order again on a few of the lines, but it will be several days before the 'phones in all parts of the city will be in use again. The street cars were running yesterday on the Washington avenue line north to Twelfth street, and a large force of men was put to work clearing the street of the poles and wires laid low by the wind, and the setting of new poles will be commenced within a few days, but until that work is done the street car service will be badly crip-pied. Repairs have been started on many of the buildings damaged. The loss sustained throughout the towns in the county, especially to the towns in the county, especially to the haystacks, is heavier than at first re-ported. Much of the hay that was outside in stacks was scattered in all direc-tions so that it will be impossible for the farmers to gather the greater part of it up again, and a shortage of feed for horses and cattle may be suffered should the winter be long and heavy. The late apple crop is greatly injured. The fullroad companies are running most of their trains behind scheduled time, excepting on the Union Pacific. Last evening all trains coming west over that system were annulled owing the severe snowstorm in Wyoming. General Manager Bancroft with Supt. Manson looked over the depot building and other parts of their property in-jured by the wind, including the large dept clock which was demolished, and decided to put men to work at once making the necessary repairs before the wet weather begins. Should a rain or movstorm come up before the many costs are repaired the damage would e than double what it is now.

His brother left Ogden on a special train this evening for Elko to take charge of the body, which will be brought here for burial.

STATE SCHOOLS DAMAGED.

Gov. Cutler accompanied by Trustee Harry Joseph of Salt Lake, came to Ogden yesterday afternoon for the purpose of inspecting the two state institutions located here, the Deal and Dumb school and the Industrial school. They found the latter inscholl, interview suffered the greatest loss through the wind storm, both the main building, of which parts of the walls were blown down and the smaller buildings were more or less damaged. The repairs to that school alone will cost about $2,000, according to estimates made by Supt. H. H. Thomas. The damage dond to the other state school is not so great but will cost about $1,000. 53 Cottage St. Melrose, Mass. Dear Str:

"Ever since I was in the Army, I had more or less kidney trouble, and within the past year it becomes so severe and complicated that I suffered everything and was much alarmed-my strength and power was fast leaving me. I saw on advertisement of Susame Beat and an advertisement of Swamp-Root and wrote asking for advice. I began the use of the medicine and noted a decided improvement after taking Swamp-Root only a short time.

I continued its use and am thankful to say that I am entirely cured and strong. In order to be very sure about this, I had a doctor examine some of my water today and he pronounced it all right and in spiendid condition. CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION.
