

GOV. ROOSEVELT THE CITY'S GUEST TODAY.

promptly called the attention of the audience to the fact that the purpose of the meeting, and his reference to Gov. Roosevelt was greeted with great applause. He said that Theodore Roosevelt was nominated because of his thorough Americanism and his distinguished services in times of peace as well as in time of war. He is the greatest governor of the greatest State in the greatest Republic the world ever saw. Mr. Allison recounted briefly Gov. Roosevelt's public career, and introduced him as the next Vice President of the United States.

Then the vast audience rose to their feet and the cheers and applause were prolonged and enthusiastic.

ROOSEVELT'S ADDRESS.

Gov. Roosevelt said he was pleased to speak to Americans in what he regarded as more than a mere party contest. He felt justified in asking Americans to stand with the Republicans in the coming election because they stood for the interests and honor of America. He had viewed on his journey some of the things the people of Utah had done in redeeming the wilderness. He was a great good westerner, and the West had taught him a great deal. He therefore felt that he could ask Westerners not to let the West go wrong in November, but to see that it was on the right side.

PROMISE AND PERFORMANCE.

One thing he wanted the audience to do was to compare carefully the promises and the performances of the Republican party, and to consider the promises of their enemies. The Republican party had kept its promises, and the country had enjoyed greater prosperity than it ever knew before, while the dire prophecies of the Democratic foe had utterly failed.

THE DEMOCRATS.

The Democrats had predicted that harder times would come if the Republicans were elected in 1896, but their predictions had all failed. There were more work and better wages than ever before. The farmer had a better market. There have been better prices for wool and lead; there has been an increase in money and its circulation, because of prosperity resulting from Republican policy and administration. The Democrats, knowing this, could not fight on the old issues and have striven to make a new one.

THE PHILIPPINES.

Mr. Roosevelt called attention to the high standing of the present Philippine commission, composed of men of both great political parties, and to the commissioner's report published in the daily papers on Thursday, in which it was stated that the Tagal inscription was pronounced by present political issues in the United States, which gave the rebels a hope of change of policy. The war has been kept up by the encouragement of politicians in this country, and Filipinos are thus left slaughter American soldiers. These same insurgents oppress the peaceful Filipinos by awful acts of barbarity—this barbarity is by the followers of Aguinaldo, whom some foolish people call a second George Washington. Their tortures were unnamable in character, and were particularly heavy on those who had accepted American protection. If the American policy were changed the prospects of the Philippines would be bright.

CONSENT OF THE GOVERNED.

"Consent of the governed." "The Constitution following the flag." These were expressions next considered. The people who used these words thought Americans could not govern Tagal bandits, but must govern the negro without the latter's consent. These people who make this claim are not sincere—no sincere man could take one position for the Philippines and another for colored people in the United States. The Republican doctrine was to treat all men alike, not that the colored man in the Philippines fighting against Americans was entitled to a favorable consideration not given to the colored man in the South who fought for Bryan (Voice in audience: "Hurrah for Bryan!") Governor Roosevelt: "Don't forget Aguinaldo, too!" (Cheers.)

GOVERNMENT FOR PHILIPPINES.

Governor Roosevelt took up the subject of government for the Philippines, and pointed out that Americans knew how to run a free government while in South America, for instance, with similar rules to those which govern the people sixty years of dictatorship to reach freedom. So an Indian tribe could not be controlled like a New England town meeting. Savages and semi-savages must be dealt with practically, and not by education, the standard of freemen. Mr. Roosevelt cited several incidents of civilized Indians in his regiment in Cuba who earned promotion and got it, the same as white men. This rule could not be followed with Tagal Indians, and it was not imperialism to treat the Filipino the same way—according to his merits. To turn over the government of the Philippines to the Tagalags would mean turning them over to bandits, and would mark the American people as cowards. Americans could not do that, and would not do it.

LIBERTY FOR PHILIPPINES.

"The Philippine" said Gov. Roosevelt, "shall have such liberty as they never knew, as they could not know under Spain or their own native chiefs, for they shall have it under the American flag." (Cheers.) "Either we have a right to be in the Philippines or we have not. If we have not then we have no right to give them government, stable or unstable. If we have a right to be there, then we have a right to give to them such a government as we know is stable and orderly."

FORMER TERRITORIAL ACQUISITIONS.

The purchase of Louisiana by Thomas Jefferson was then considered where no "consent of the governed" was asked, just as in the case of the Philippines purchase. At that time it was said Mr. Jefferson's purchase that it was a poor bargain; the same was said of Alaska, and now of the Philippines. But the first named were not bad bargains, neither was the last.

BOGIE OF MILITARISM.

Gov. Roosevelt next pointed out that in the time of Jefferson the population of the United States was 1,144 to each thousand inhabitants, and now it was 38 to each one thousand. This was called a menace to the country, but there never was a more baseless statement. The real issue of this campaign was not militarism; it was, will the American people do their duty in the face of the world?

MAINTAINING THE FLAG.

The task of the civil war was referred to, and the lesser task of giving a good government to the Philippines was pointed out as one the Americans would accomplish. Would the people of the United States shrink? Will they halt as weaklings? No. Our great nation must do a great work if it would remain a great nation. If this nation is true to its past, it cannot turn from its destiny. It must, to be true, declare that where the American flag has once been hoisted in honor, it shall never be torn down in disgrace. (Prolonged cheers followed Governor Roosevelt's address.)

SENATOR CARTER SPEAKS.

Senator Thos. H. Carter, of Montana, was introduced after a song by the glee club, and referred to his former visits, one of which was during the coming election because they stood for the interests and honor of America. He had viewed on his journey some of the things the people of Utah had done in redeeming the wilderness. He was a great good westerner, and the West had taught him a great deal. He therefore felt that he could ask Westerners not to let the West go wrong in November, but to see that it was on the right side.

REPUBLICANS OF JUAB.

Result of Their Convention Held at Eureka Yesterday Afternoon. The Republicans of Juab county met at Eureka yesterday afternoon and elected a delegate to the Republican State convention. Joseph E. Wright, of Eureka, was permanent chairman and E. R. Booth, of the same place, permanent secretary. All of the nominations except those of county commissioners were made by acclamation. The result of the meeting was as follows:

SILVER REPUBLICAN ALLEN.

Ex-Congressman C. E. Allen followed, giving reasons why the Silver Republicans had returned to the Republican fold. They still believed in protection and could not go to the party of free trade. He said that the money had increased, and the people say that the silver question is settled. In consequence, the Silver Republicans cannot consistently go to any party except that which supports a protective tariff and upholds the national honor in the country's expansion.

COL. GUILD ON MILITARISM.

Col. Curtis Guild, Jr., of Boston, Mass., spoke briefly on militarism, pointing out that there was no such danger as was claimed, and told a sympathetic story of the American army at Havana, Christmas morning, 1898, showing how impossible it was for the American army to be in contact with the Republic. He was listened to with almost breathless attention as he related the incident, and then declared that the American army that would go to the Philippines must be a foreign country by standing Christian bylaws never could be a menace to the American Republic.

At Brigham City.

[SPECIAL TO THE "NEWS."] Brigham City, Sept. 21.—The opera house here was too small for the assemblage gathered to meet Col. Roosevelt, and an adjournment was taken to where the band and has been erected. There the large crowd of nearly the whole town and visitors from neighboring places gathered in an outdoor meeting. The air was perfectly calm and all was favorable.

After music by the Brigham City band, Gov. Roosevelt addressed the audience, referring to trusts, the country's finances, and imperialism. His remarks were cheered frequently.

Hon. John H. Smith then spoke briefly, pointing out the duty of Americans to maintain the honor of America and its progressive destiny to carry freedom to the mankind. He also called attention to the fact that Gov. Roosevelt had in his special message to the New York legislature, recommended the granting of the elective franchise to the women of the Empire State.

Col. Curtis Guild was the last speaker, and made a happy speech dealing with protective tariff, American commercial progress, and the threat of militarism. His presentation of these topics was well received.

The party then departed on the train for Ogden, arriving there at 5:35 p. m.

Leaving for Salt Lake.

Ogden, Sept. 21.—Bright and early this morning Governor Roosevelt and party were awake and up. They took marked interest in noticing the material prosperity visible in Ogden, and in talking and quipping and expending their pleasure at the progressive strides made in Utah.

ROOSEVELT'S LONG TALK.

Reached from the Alta Club to Cheyenne—Mr. Wallace's Statement. Governor Roosevelt today used the long lines of the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company, from the Alta Club to Cheyenne, where he was the first use of the line not connected with the telephone company or newspaper offices. Governor Wells of Utah, and Senator Warren of Wyoming, also used the line, and expressed themselves as entirely satisfied with their conversation. It was with great regret that Governor Richards of Wyoming was not present. Mr. Wallace made the following statement to Governor Roosevelt in relation to the line today, and tendered the services of the line to Governor Roosevelt and party as they travel through Wyoming.

By the completion of this line, the four great States which constitute our territory are united. Montana, Idaho, Utah and Wyoming are now one. From Colorado to Washington by way of Cheyenne, Wyo., Salt Lake City, Utah, Butte, Montana, the Coast d'Alene mining districts of Idaho—nearly 2,000 miles of copper metallic circuit, probably the longest toll line ever operated by one telephone company in the world, is now completed.

"Thirty-two years ago I rode by stage over most of our territory. Weary days and weary nights from Laramie, Wyo., to Salt Lake City, Utah, and thence to Helena, Montana—twelve to thirteen days of travel. Now in half as many minutes as then were required days, you can talk over all this great inland territory."

The Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company is in fact an inter-mountain company, incorporated in Utah, we have stockholders in each of the other States of our territory.

"There is another feature of the building of this line I wish especially to call to your attention. Most all of the crude material used comes from our own territory, and if we include our neighbors, Oregon on the northwest and Colorado on the southeast, through which states you can now talk all the material, everything used, comes from home production. The poles from Idaho, the copper for the wires from Montana, the asphalt used on each pole from Utah, the iron bolts, braces and lags from the iron ores of Wyoming; these materials with the crossarms from Oregon, and the glass insulators from Colorado, composed all the material used. So I am right, when I say this is really a home line, built of home material for home people. The workmen whose brawn and muscle built the line, are from such of the four States. While I think the company deserves credit for the enterprise, I feel sure our efforts will be appreciated by the people, Wyoming, and congratulations are due us all."

At Salt Lake.

Governor Roosevelt, accompanied by many of the leading Republicans of the State, went out to Salt Lake at 2:30 this afternoon in accordance with the program and delivered a speech upon the political topics of the day.

Tonight's Meeting.

The Theater is being brilliantly decorated this afternoon, for the big Roosevelt meeting tonight. It is certain that the building will be taxed to its utmost and that many will be unable to gain admission.

REPUBLICANS OF JUAB.

Result of Their Convention Held at Eureka Yesterday Afternoon. The Republicans of Juab county met at Eureka yesterday afternoon and elected a delegate to the Republican State convention. Joseph E. Wright, of Eureka, was permanent chairman and E. R. Booth, of the same place, permanent secretary. All of the nominations except those of county commissioners were made by acclamation. The result of the meeting was as follows:

For sheriff—E. H. Sparks, of Nephi.

For recorder—Mrs. Sarah E. Cole, of Nephi.

For attorney—Henry Adams, of Nephi.

For assessor—William Starr, of Mona.

For surveyor—Frank E. McElroy, of Eureka.

For commissioners—E. M. Peterson, of Levan; John T. Cowan, of Nephi; and George Hales, of Mammoth.

For county chairman—Joseph E. Wright, of Nephi.

DR. GEO. L. MILLER INSANE.

Was Well and Widely Known in Utah Many Years Ago.

Was Also One of the Founders of Omaha and Owner and Editor of the Herald of That City.

Many people in Utah will learn with profound interest that Dr. Geo. L. Miller, at one time very well and favorably known in this city and State, has been overtaken with the great affliction of insanity. Dr. Miller was a resident of Omaha and one of the founders of that city. He was at one time the owner and editor of the Omaha Herald for many years, and as such frequently championed with signal success the cause of the people of Utah. In politics he was a Democrat, and recently came before the public again by endorsing the New Omaha through the Chicago Record. Dr. Miller, one of Omaha's founders and most prominent citizens, is a victim of mental derangement, and it became necessary today to send him to St. Bernard's hospital at Council Bluffs. At the Paxton hotel he insisted that he had come into the possession of $4,000,000, and he wanted to celebrate his good fortune by hiring brass bands and carriages. When his statements were contradicted by a friend he became violent. He is 73 years of age, Lyman Richardson, his old partner, has been appointed his guardian.

Judgment for Plaintiff.

In the case of the Mountain Electric company vs John R. Foulkes et al, judgment for plaintiff by default was given by Judge Cherry today for $426.80 and costs.

Wife Sues for Divorce.

Maud M. Davis is suing Lewis S. Davis in the Third district court for divorce on the ground of failure to support. The marriage took place in this city on March 18, 1892, and for the last six months, it is alleged, the defendant has failed to contribute anything towards plaintiff's support. The defendant is a traveling man in the employ of the Western Mattress company, Lincoln, Neb., earning $20 a month and his expenses. In addition to a decree of divorce plaintiff prays for alimony, and that she may be restored to her maiden name of Maud Longfellow. There are no children.

Frank J. Gustin is plaintiff's attorney.

LIST NOT READY.

Mr. Dooley Has Not Yet Named the Committee of Citizens.

Owing to the fact that J. E. Dooley has today been busily engaged in affairs pertaining to the bank, and that, this afternoon, accompanied by Governor Roosevelt out to Salt Lake, he has been unable to nominate the hundred names of leading citizens to memorialize the City Council to donate Pioneer Square to the proposed national observatory to be built to Los Angeles. Despite his promise to have the list completed this morning a pressure of business has reluctantly compelled him to temporarily detract the important duty imposed upon him at the hands of the citizens last night.

WHAT WAS OVERLOOKED.

Something Effective That Acting Governor Nebecker Might Have Done.

In the anxiety of the moment it appears that Acting Governor Nebecker overlooked a brilliant stroke—one that would have been effective in every particular—that is the issuing of a proclamation summoning the Legislature together to name a senator. The best lawyers say it would not have been necessary for the members to have actually assembled during the absence of Gov. Wells and Secretary Hammond. All that was necessary was the issuing of the call at that time. Then the Legislature could have convened in ten days or a month, or any other date stipulated in the proclamation, and have named a Senator and no power on earth could have annulled it.

CITY PAY DAY TOMORROW.

Mayor Thompson today signed the payrolls of the various city departments, and tomorrow morning Treasurer Morris will discharge them.

LATE LOCAL NEWS.

Charles W. Leak of Spanish Fork sends the "News" $1 for the Galveston sufferers.

The celebrated carpenter, Frank G. Carpenter, has gone from the Philippines to China, and his first letter to his family will be printed in the Saturday "News" tomorrow, and followed in the Semi-Weekly News.

The committee appointed by the Council of Women's clubs to devise means for obtaining money to establish the free kindergarten, have made a successful beginning to that end, and the plan is to open the school on Monday morning in the Thirteenth ward school house, the board of education having donated the room for that purpose. A canvass of the district was made, and children to the number of twenty were enrolled for the opening day and it is thought many more will apply during the week. The committee estimated that $500 will be needed for the year's expenses, and two hundred have already been donated, the ladies have no fear that the amount cannot be met. It is hoped that the public will respond generously to the needs of the worthy institution.

DISORDERS AT SUN TAI.

Several Villages are Destroyed and Others Besieged.

Paris, Sept. 21.—The French consul at Canton telegraphs under date of Thursday, September 20, that disorders have broken out at Sun Tai, near Canton. Several villages have been destroyed and others are besieged. The missionaries succeeded in escaping. The first batch of troops sent by the victory proved powerless to subdue the disorder and the foreign consuls made a most urgent request for the dispatch of a larger body of soldiers. The chancellor of the French consulate and the French gunboat Avallanche will accompany the force.

National Municipal League.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 21.—The National Municipal league is holding its final meetings today. Charles J. Bonaparte, of Baltimore, was the principal speaker of the forenoon session. His paper was entitled "The Essential Elements in Good City Government." George Hooker, of Hull House, Chicago, read a paper on "Local Transportation and Its Relation to the Municipality."

A paper on "Municipal Political Parties" by J. M. Miller, of New York City, was read by the secretary. The principal topic of the afternoon was a paper by Bird S. Coler, controller of Greater New York, which was read by the secretary.

Rise in Trinity River.

Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 21.—Trinity river at this point has risen twenty feet since last night on account of a twelve-hour rain, inundating the river bottom in a portion of the city. Hundreds of families have been driven out. Three persons are reported drowned. The water is spreading over half a mile of country. A relief corps is at work in the bottoms carrying the people to places of safety.

NOT TOBACCO

But Coffee Was the Cause of the Trouble.

An old veteran from Springfield, Mo., made a curious experiment in the use of tobacco and coffee. He says: "I have been an incessant smoker for forty years, using at times twenty cigars a day, besides several pipes. I was also very fond of coffee. In 1897 I noticed my stomach was becoming weak, and that I could not retain my breakfast. Within six months afterwards I had arrived at that stage where I vomited up at least five breakfasts each week. The doctor claimed that the sickness was caused by smoking, so I went under the care of Dr. Barbauld of Spencer, Mass., who cured me of the tobacco habit. For eight months I refrained from its use, but the vomiting still continued. My physician then attributed it to coffee, so I carefully dosed myself with the catarrh cures, but the vomiting became more severe, though not more frequent. I therefore concluded to resume my smoking and get as much comfort as possible in that direction. I noticed that the smoking did not increase the vomiting."

Quite a time after that I met a friend who in one minute put me on the right track, by telling me that I was satisfied that it was coffee that caused my trouble. I stopped drinking coffee, and within a week the vomiting ceased entirely.

"Shortly after that I took to using Postum Food Coffee and found it filled all the requirements of coffee. My family are using it regularly, and like it as well as the best Java coffee, after becoming accustomed to its use. We know from practical experience of the beneficial effects of Postum Food Coffee. Please omit my name." Name and address can be given by Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.
