

BOARD OF WORKS TO AWARD TODAY

Contracts on Four Public Improvements Will be Let at Special Meeting.

COMPETITION IS VERY KEEN.

New Firm Has the Audacity to Under Bid Pat Moran—Hanley Only Bidder on Sewer.

Tenders on four public improvements were opened by the board of public works last night, which call for an expenditure of approximately $160,000. After the bids were read they were referred to the city engineer to tabulate and report to the board at a special meeting to be held at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, at which time the contracts will be awarded.

Competition was keen between the six bidders. P. J. Moran, the official contractor, was beaten out by a new firm to do work in the city. Doyle Bros. & Swartz, the difference between their bids being $177.44. The bids opened were as follows:

Doyle Bros. & Swartz.....$155,190.96
P. J. Moran.....155,368.40
James Kennedy.....155,368.40
F. D. Hanley.....155,766.00
Davis & Heuser.....170,993.00
V. P. Strange.....171,368.60

J. D. Hanley was the only bidder on sewer extension No. 27 on the west side. His price was $1,979.14 and it was accepted. Bids were also opened on sidewalk extension No. 142, S. Birch & Sons bid $2,417, while J. D. Hanley's bid was $2,550. This contract went over until this afternoon. On curb and gutter extension No. 8, J. D. Hanley bid $23,722, and S. Birch & Sons $24,556. Although the board of public works promised the property owners in sidewalk extension No. 108 to provide drain pipe under the sidewalk, the members refused to take any more orders last night and shut all extra work down. The contractors have only laid about 4,000 feet in the 50 miles extension. The city engineer was ordered to do a small piece of work in connecting the Fifth South street sewer with the intercepting sewer. The work will probably cost about $600.

MARKSMAN LANDS IN JAIL.

The eagerness of N. J. Fadel, a Greek, to test the shooting qualities of a newly acquired revolver, resulted in his arrest this morning on a charge of discharging firearms within the city limits. Fadel had set up a board as a target in the yard in the rear of 821 west Third South, where the Greeks colonize, and began firing into it. His complete aim, his rifle and he was released on $100.

NEW BRICK PLANT FOR SALT LAKE BUILDERS

John C. Sharp President of Corporation Which Will Start Manufacturing Inside of 90 Days.

At a meeting of the directors of the Intermountain Cement and Brick company last evening it was decided to go ahead with the construction of a plant here similar to the one at Idaho Falls, which is capable of turning out 20,000 bricks per day.

The officers of the new company are John C. Sharp, president; Thomas R. Cutler, Jr., vice president; and J. Palmer Sharp, secretary and treasurer. The other members of the board of directors in addition to John C. Sharp and Thomas R. Cutler are John Henry Smith, Edward P. Ashton, Matthew Noel, William Noel and Mark Austin. The capitalization of the company is $250,000, most of which has been paid up.

The purpose of the company is to manufacture what is known as a sand-lime brick, and to prepare hydrated lime in the proper kind of material, also to mix and supply mortar for the trade, and deliver it to any part of the city. In addition to these things the company intends to start to manufacture artificial stone in a small way, in the hope that a demand may be created for this useful building material.

In manufacturing the sand-lime brick, the process of burning is not used. The bricks are made to any size desired, and of almost any color, when they are then steamed for 21 hours, and are then ready to be used.

The plant is to be erected right away in this city, and Messrs. Cutler and Matthew Noel are going east at once to purchase material for the plant. Speaking of the matter today, Mr. Cutler said that he expects that they will be ready for business in about 90 days. There are several places in the valley where the proper kind of material for the new bricks can be got in large quantities, and one or more of these places will be secured and the material will be hauled to the city and manufactured here.

ARBITRARY RATE IS TO BE PROBED

Provo Concern Files Complaint With Interstate Commerce Commission.

NO COMPETITOR IN THE FIELD

Charge Based on a Crate Weighing Eight Pounds More Than The One in Use.

Charging the Wells Fargo Express company with discrimination in enforcing arbitrary rate charges in the transportation of strawberries out of Provo, the William M. Roylance company of the Garden city has filed a complaint against the express company with the interstate commerce commission.

It seems that in seasons past the express company, in handling the strawberry crop of Utah shippers has insisted in charging the shippers a certain rate per crate of berries. This rate appears to have been fixed by the express company on the basis of a particular style of strawberry crate which weighs approximately 23 pounds and the price of this crate, no matter what the style or weight, was charged by the express company on the basis of the Leslie crate. It further appears that the Leslie crate is not used at all in Utah, but a crate known as the "double deck" is used almost entirely, the crate weighing not more than an average of 25 pounds. The shippers therefore were compelled to pay for 8 pounds per crate more than the actual weight of their crates, and the shippers of Provo, not only the William M. Roylance company, being refused redress by the express company concluded to appeal to the interstate commerce commission for relief.

PUBLIC IS INTERESTED.

Referring to the matter, Mr. William M. Roylance, head of the company lodging the complaint, this morning said: "Since the Wells Fargo has been the only express company operating out of this section of the country, it is doing several things arbitrarily that I am sure it would not otherwise do, so much so that we have called upon the interstate commerce commission to make complaint direct to the interstate commerce commission with reference to its actions. Not only fruit shippers, but the public are interested in this matter of express rates, and I feel that it is time some adjustment of the same was had. We have drafted a letter of complaint to the officers of the commission setting forth our grievances, and we hope that a speedy investigation of the matter may be had for the benefit of all concerned."

The letter complaining of the arbitrary actions of the express company, and forwarded to the interstate commerce commission, is as follows: "April 22-09. 'Mr. Edward A. Mosley, secretary, interstate commerce commission, Washington, D. C. 'Dear Sir:—We desire to enter complaint against the Wells Fargo Express Company for overcharging us in the weight per crate on strawberries. To illustrate: The Wells Fargo advertises a rate of $2.00 per crate of 20 boxes of apples which weigh about 1,000 pounds and only charge us $2.00 per crate. In shipping strawberries they will not take them at actual weight. They say they have an estimated weight of 33 pounds per crate on strawberries, which I think is about correct where what is called the 'Leslie' crate is used. This 'Leslie' crate, however, is not used at all in Utah. We have a special crate that we use altogether in Utah called the 'Double-deck' which weighs from 23 pounds to 27 pounds, or an average of about 25 pounds per crate. The Wells Fargo company knows this because their agents at various times have weighed them and verified this weight. We have billed them at actual weight, but they have invariably put the charges upon them on basis of 33 pounds. In other words, they charge us for eight pounds per crate more than they carry. If we ship 40 crates of strawberries to Denver (which weigh 1,000 pounds only) they would charge us for 1,320 pounds, and as a justification therefore they claim they have a published 'estimated weight per crate' of 33 pounds each for strawberries, and that therefore, they could not permit us to ship our strawberries on the actual weight of 25 pounds per crate. 'Seems to me this arbitrary rule is very unreasonable, and is not according to their published tariff rate per cwt. at all. We have tried to settle this matter with the Wells Fargo officials, but they arbitrarily overrule us and say they will not accept these shipments except on their advertised weight per crate, but in stated above. We are therefore, taking this matter up with you and would respectfully urge that you give this matter early consideration so that we can get it properly adjusted before our season commences, which is about June 15th, as we will have a good many thousand crates of berries for shipment. We are very anxious that this matter be settled before the shipping season commences. 'Your early attention will greatly oblige. Yours truly, THE WM. M. ROYLANCE CO. 'Wm. M. Roylance, Pres't."

A. E. WELBY.
The classic features of this well known railroad man will be remembered by most of the residents of Salt Lake. In one of the mails received by S. V. Durrah, assistant general freight agent at the Denver & Rio Grande, this week, was enclosed the above likeness of his old friend and fellow railroad man, A. E. Welby, showing him in his favorite occupation of building railroads. Mr. Welby was formerly general superintendent of the Rio Grande Western railroad with headquarters in this city, after which he went to Peru to take hold of the Cerro de Pasco railroad for A. W. McQuinn. He returned to Denver, where he became general superintendent of the Denver & Northwestern railroad. Mr. Durrah and Mr. Welby worked side by side in the railroad business for years, and the feeling of reciprocal unity is strong between the two men. Mr. Durrah is proud of his souvenir.
