> The Wool Trade.-Lots of wool is coming into this city. This shows that the shepherd business is doing pretty well, this season. Wool commands a fair figure and those who want cash for their sales have no difficulty in obtaining it. The factories need wool, and should be supplied with all they can handle. But there are some producers who want to sell in the central market, and they can get the full value of their wares in cash at the establishment of H. B. Clawson, in Fair Division .- There are complaints of insufficient water regula tions in the 6th and 7th Wards. There is water enough for irrigation, and the regulations may be all right, but they are not properly enforced. While some persons manage to get all the water for gardening purposes that they can wish for, others suffer lack of moisture and vexation of spirit. This is dry time and irrigation may be a dry subject, but a fair division of the liquids is calculated to cheer our "lots," horticulturally as well as socially, and it isn't right for any man to play, the hog.
