CONGRESSIONAL.

Last Night's Dispatches.

SENATE.

Amended and Passed.

WASHINGTON, 22.—The amendment striking out the section fixing the duty on hops at ten cents a pound was, after discussion, concurred in, leaving the duty as at present. The committee recommended the striking out of the section allowing the producer to sell, at the place of production, tobacco at retail, directly to consumers, to any amount not exceeding one hundred dollars annually; agreed to, 23 to 10; the recommendation of the committee to strike out the tax of one twentieth of one per cent on sales of gold, bonds, etc., was agreed to without division; the Senate refused to concur in the committee's recommendation to strike out the proviso allowing the return, duty free, of empty grain bags which had been used in the exportation of grain; also nonconcurred in the amendment putting quicksilver on the free list; the recommendation striking out the section allowing a drawback, on manufactured tobacco exported, of the duties paid on the licorice used therein was concurred in. The bill was then reported to the Senate and the amendments of the committee concurred in and the bill passed.

Government for District of Columbia—Post Route Bill, etc.

Ramsey called up the post route bill.

The Chair announced Morrill, of Me., and Hamilton, of Md., members on the part of the Senate of the joint committee to frame a bill for the permanent government of the District of Columbia.

The post route bill was informally laid aside, and the Senate proceeded to the consideration of the conference report on the post office appropriation bill, which was presented by West.

Sherman expressed regret at the committee having reduced the rate of postage on newspapers. He said he thought it very unwise legislation when Congress was looking around for every source of revenue; he had no quarrel with the newspapers, they had always treated him kindly, but his whole effort was to have a uniform rate of postage and to provide revenue for the country. After further debate the report was rejected, yeas 19, nays 21, and a new conference was ordered.

The House message announcing non-concurrence with the Senate amendments to the tariff bill was received and, on motion of Sherman, the Senate decided to adhere to its amendments and grant a new conference.

Frelinghuysen presented the report of the conference committee on the Geneva award bill, which was read and, pending the question as to whether the Senate could proceed to a discussion of the same, the Chair appointed, as the new conference committee on the post office appropriation bill, Windom, Allison and Davis.

The Senate took a recess till 7.30.

The House message was received, announcing non-concurrence with the various Senate amendments to the sundry civil appropriation bill, and asking a committee of conference, which was granted. Morrill, of Maine, Sargent and Stevenson were appointed on the part of the Senate.

Carpenter, from the committee on contingent expenses, reported adversely on the resolution directing the committee to inquire into the expediency of excluding from the stationery room of the Senate, all articles except paper, envelopes, ink and pens, and the committee were discharged from its further consideration.

Frelinghuysen called up the conference report on the Geneva award bill, and explained the same.

Thurman opposed the report on the ground of the ambiguity of its language, and because the proviso that claims should be adjusted and paid on the basis of U. S. gold coin at the time of the loss, was stricken out. He argued that the government had received the amount of the award in gold, and a failure to pay the claimants in the same medium would be an act of injustice and dishonesty.

The Utah Bill Called Up, &c.

The House resolution, extending the session till four p. m. on Tuesday was agreed to.

Chandler, from the conference committee on the river and harbor appropriation bill, made a report. A discussion ensued as to the advisability of dismissing the civil engineers, as recommended in the report, and retaining only army engineers. The spirit of the debate seemed to be that army engineers, though competent, were not exclusively so, and that they, having hitherto falled in improving the Mississippi, the committee were not justified in appointing them alone for the work. The report was finally recommitted.

Morrill, of Vt., said he was not present at the vote on the Geneva award conference report, if he had been he would have voted for it. He desired to have the record corrected; granted.

Windom made a report from the conference committee on the postal bill. He said it was the same as that reported by the former committee, except that it made postage on newspapers two instead of one and a half cents per pound. The report was agreed to without discussion.

The House bill to protect persons of foreign birth against forcible restraint and involuntary servitude was passed.

Mr. Chandler, from the conference committee on the river and harbor appropriation bill, made a report fixing the number of engineers to make a survey for the improvement of the mouth of the Mississippi river seven, three of whom shall be from the army, three from civil life and one from the coast survey, and reducing the appropriation for the survey from $50,000 to $25,000; passed without discussion.

Mr. Frelinghuysen called up the bill in relation to the courts and judicial officers in the Territory of Utah. Pending the discussion, Mr. Sherman moved to adjourn; agreed to, and the Senate at 1.40 on Tuesday morning, adjourned until ten o'clock a.m.

HOUSE.

The Geneva Award Bill.

WASHINGTON, 22.—Butler presented the conference report on the Geneva award bill, and the House agreed to the Senate bill, with certain modifications.

Appropriation for Woman's Christian Association, and "Little Sisters of the Poor."

An amendment appropriating twenty-five thousand for the Woman's Christian Association of the District of Columbia was concurred in. A similar appropriation for the "Little Sisters of the Poor," of the District of Columbia, the committee recommended non-concurrence. A long discussion followed, in which E. R. Hoar, Butler, of Mass., Parker, of Mo., and others favored the amendment, and protested against the recommendation for non-concurrence as a sectarian discrimination.

Garfield defended the action of the committee, on the grouud that they were opposed to Congress committing itself to aid any exclusively sectarian institution; the amendment was concurred in, 104 to 43.

B. F. Hoar moved to suspend the rules to make in order an amendment appropriating seven thousand to reimburse Gen. O. O. Howard, for the expenses of his defence before the late court of inquiry; lost, yeas 121, nays 95, not two-thirds affirmative.

When the eighteenth amendment was reached the House, on motion of Garfield, non-concurred in the remaining forty amendments, and the bill was sent to a conference committee.

Dawes moved to suspend the rules to non-concur in all the Senate's amendments to the bill to amend the tariff and revenue laws, and refer them to a committee of conference. He avowed himself in favor of the Senate amendments but, at the suggestion of a number of members, moved non-concurrence; the motion was agreed to, and Dawes, Kelly and Beck were appointed a committee on the part of the House.

The House took a recess till eight thirty.

Orth, from the committee on foreign affairs, submitted a report on Cox' resolution tendering the thanks of Congress to Sir Lambton Lorraine for his interposition on behalf of the survivors of the Virginius expedition. The report shows that Lorraine expressly confined his interposition to British subjects and one French subject, not at all on behalf of any American citizen, except to beg of his excellency Burriel the exercise of clemency to all; the committee gave great credit to Captain Cushing, of the U. S. Navy, and asked to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject. The report was ordered printed.

The House then went to the business on the speaker's table, and disposed of a number of Senate bills.

The bill to prevent hazing in the naval academy was passed.

The bill setting apart a portion of Mackindo Island as a national park was laid on the table; the bill to exempt military bounty land warrants, and lands obtained thereby from sale or execution, was referred.

On motion of Kasson a concurrent resolution was adopted, extending the session till four p.m. on Tuesday.

The House then took a recess till 11:30.

At 12:10 Dawes made a conference report amendatory to the tariff and revenue bill, and he proceeded to explain it.

Eldredge suggested that it was useless circumlocution.

The Speaker called him to order.

Eldredge replied angrily, that Dawes had resumed his explanation.

In the ensuing debate, there appeared to be a general feeling against the bill, and it was rejected, 123 to 50. Maynard and Starkweather were appointed a new conference committee.

The House then, at 1:15, adjourned.
