EDITORIAL NOTES.

Most people would not know they had a parrot if it were not for the President's trouble.

England has had too much rain, the United States too little. There is not much compensation, in this, for the crops have suffered in both instances.

A jewelry salesman in New York has been arrested for falsely representing his goods "eighteen carats fine." If this policy is carried out generally, there will not be prisons enough to hold the warranters.

The Louisville Post, commenting on the recent find of Egyptian relics, says: "If Ptolemy's wife and a few other curiosities of antiquities could be placed on exhibition, the Khedive of Egypt could open one of the most profitable museums in the world." Quite right. Anything suggestive of impurity, or any person living or dead connected with a scandal, will attract the present generation quicker than a magnet draws a needle.

The latest news from Long Branch is to the effect that the morning was very stormy. A drenching southeasterly storm set in during last night, and bids fair to continue throughout the day. The ocean is hazy and weather sultry. The President did not rest as well during the night as he might have done. There has been a slight rise in pulse and temperature, but they remain generally considered favorable. The patient is slowly gaining.

The Charleston, S. C., Courier's exposition of the willingness of southern young women to work in factories and elsewhere is interesting, as showing, in a marked degree, a revolution in feeling. The Columbus and Augusta factories in Georgia, and the Greenburgh and Spartanburgh factories in South Carolina, in addition to numerous Virginia tobacco factories, are largely worked by young women, who are declared to be "as industrious as any set of girls in New England or elsewhere."

The civil rights law is to be tested in Georgia in a case of some importance. A colored man named Wesley Redding was forcibly ejected from City Park in Atlanta for no other reason than that he was a colored man. He persisted in going into the park, and was arrested therefor by order of Police Commissioner James Fox. Redding was discharged by the City Recorder, but the former did not propose to let the matter rest here, and consequently sued the city of Atlanta in the United States Circuit Court, laying his damages at $20,000. This suit may prove to be quite as interesting to the municipality of Atlanta as the big cotton show.

The Desert Agricultural & Manufacturing Society's list of premiums for the Fair, to take place on the third of October, is published in pamphlet form, and being distributed among the people. All who intend to compete ought to get one and read it. The coming Fair should, and we believe will be, the best ever held in the Territory. The Society is doing its best to make the Fair a success; the public should second the effort. Among the special premiums offered, it has been remarked by several persons, that only certain breeds of cows were named, nothing being said about native or mixed strains. But we find in this pamphlet under the head of Class G—Cattle—"Cross Grades or Natives. Best milk cow, diploma." And also under Sweepstakes—"Milk Cow of any age or breed, with a certified statement of the greatest number of pounds of butter produced in seven consecutive days, etc.—Gold Medal." Now come on with your cows and butter, and let us see how much you can beat the Durhams and Davons and Jerseys.

The annexed particulars of the death of Dr. Tanner, rumors of which have been circulated, are taken from a Frankfurt dispatch to English papers: "Dr. Tanner has departed this life with an unaccountable suddenness, strongly contrasting with the sensational manner in which he last year contrived to live through his battle against hunger. About a month ago he arrived in Amsterdam and alighted at the Hotel Cornelia. For a week, Dr. Tanner confined himself to his room. During this time he used to eat five or six meals a day with a ravenous appetite, his sides consuming a large quantity of spirits. At length he informed the hotel-keeper who he was, and stated that he had come to see Dr. Croff, who had in several Dutch papers expressed disbelief in the genuineness of Dr. Tanner's well-known fast. The object of Dr. Tanner in going to Amsterdam was to perform in Dr. Croff's house a fast similar to that which he had gone through in America last autumn. The wager was to be fifty thousand francs, or two thousand pounds. Doctor Croff returned home on the 19th ult., and sent a message to the American, who had begun to grow impatient. Refused to hear that Dr. Croff had at last called, Dr. Tanner ran out of his room to receive him, but in doing so missed his footing at the top of the stairs, and fell to the bottom. The fall caused concussion of the brain and other injuries, and the unfortunate faster breathed his last the very next day. The body weighed only one hundred and eight pounds. At the end of his fast Dr. Tanner only weighed ninety-six pounds." The whole statement, however, is said by some to be a canard.

DISCOVERY OF EGYPTIAN ANTIQUITIES.

LONDON papers report an important discovery of ancient Egyptian relics, which are expected to make quite a revolution in Egyptology. It appears that the Bedouins were offering for sale last June, in the province of Keneh, in Upper Egypt, a large quantity of antiquities at such small prices as indicated a plentiful supply from some unknown source. Inquiries were instituted by the Governor of the province, and it was ascertained that the treasures came from a hiding place in a gorge in the mountains to the east of Thebes. Further investigations disclosed a pit about thirty-five feet deep, cut in the solid rock, and a secret opening led from this into a gallery about two hundred feet long, and this was filled with relics. It is supposed that they were removed from Thebes for concealment when Egypt was invaded by Cambyses. Nearly six thousand important and interesting objects were conveyed from this depository to the Boulak Museum. Among them were nearly three thousand mummy statues bearing royal cartouches and inscriptions, and thirty-six royal sarcophagi containing the mummies of kings, queens, princes, princesses, high priests, etc., of the nineteenth to the twentieth dynasties. Among them the remains of Amenhotep I. (Amehotep), second king of 18th dynasty, reigned B. C. 1689 (about); Thothmes I., third king of 18th dynasty, reigned B. C. 1633 (about); Thothmes II., fourth king of 18th dynasty, reigned B. C. 1600 (about); Thothmes III., (the Great), fifth king of 18th dynasty, reigned B. C. 1500 (about); Ramses I., first king of 19th dynasty, reigned B. C. 1400 (about); Seti I., second king of 19th dynasty, reigned B. C. 1380 (about); Ramses II., (the Great), third king of 19th dynasty, reigned B. C. 1333 (about); Pharaoh, third king of the 21st dynasty, reigned B. C. 1033 (about); Raskhenen, (dynasty and date of reign unknown); Queen Ram-ma-ka (Hatsheut); Queen Aahmes Nofert Ari.

The most valuable of the antiquities, however, are four large papyrus-baskets illuminated, containing the ritual for the dead and the cartouches of royal persons. A royal tent of blue leather was also found in splendid preservation after the lapse of three thousand years, the inside being covered with hieroglyphs, beautifully executed in brilliant colors which are still fresh and bright.

It is expected that new light will be shed upon Egyptian history and mysteries when the papyrus are unfolded and deciphered. Dr. Henry Bruch, who has charge of the archaeological excavations in Egypt, has identified the mummies above described and anticipates that much information will be derived from this extensive discovery.

It will be remembered that the Book of Abraham was translated by the Prophet Joseph Smith, from papyrus found in a mummy brought from Egypt. It contains some very valuable history and the declaration of many important facts and principles, and can be found in that excellent little work called "The Pearl of Great Price."

We are living in "the dispensation of the fulness of times," and the period of "the restoration of all things," when the secrets of the past will be unfolded and the dealings of God with all nations will be disclosed. And every fresh discovery in the ancient kingdoms of the world will aid in the work of revelation, and in each will be found something to add to the testimonies of scriptures concerning the purposes of the Almighty, and aid in the manifestation of eternal truth. The Latter-day Saints will watch with much interest as any people the further development of Egyptian as well as all other antiquities, for in them will be found corroborations of the revelations of God to His servants in these latter days.

RELIGIOUS TEACHING CAN NOT BE INTERFERED.

"It is hardly to be expected that the anti-polygamy law passed by the Georgia Senate, last week, will accomplish much. The Mormons, who, during the last two or three years have sent many missionaries into the South and West, do not, of course, advise their converts to contract polygamous marriages in the States. There is much in the Mormon religion besides the revelation allowing plural marriages, and it is not competent for the legislature of Georgia or any other State to interfere with religious teachings."

The above is from the Providence (R. I.) Star, and shows that the nature of the anti-Mormon law in Georgia is as we have intimated in this paper—not to prevent "Mormon" preaching in the State, but to interfere with the practice of polygamy or plural marriage. This, as suggested by the Star, and as we have shown in this paper, will not affect our missionary labors in Georgia, because our Elders are not sent anywhere to induce people to practice any particular mode or system of marriage. Their duty is to preach the fundamental principles of the gospel and bear testimony of the opening up of the latter-day dispensation.

No doubt, should the bill be signed by the Governor, some difficulties will arise in consequence, and bigoted preachers of so-called "Christian" sects will seek to take advantage of it in preventing free speech on the part of "Mormon" advocates, but the true tenor of the law will soon become known; and it will be found that the enemies of the work of God can do nothing against it, but only for it.

The Latter-day Saints have as much right to preach and defend the doctrines that form their creed as any other religious body in the United States, and as the Star declares, it is not competent for any State to interfere with religious teaching. It is amusing yet and to see the impotent attempts of professing "Christians" to stop the preaching of principles which Christ himself enunciated, and to put down by force arguments and testimonies that cannot be conquered by reason or Scripture.

LAST FROM LONG BRANCH.

One of the Best Days.

LONG BRANCH, 10.—To-day was conceded by the attending physicians as one of the best days in his long illness. During the forenoon he was able to sit up in bed, and the President's attendants were able to raise his right leg, which is near the supposed location of the ball, as easily as he does the left. Enquiry elicited the statement that this was found to be a noticeable flatness or indications of irregularity of one lung some weeks ago, but the cause of it was then said now attributed to other causes than blood. No great anxiety exists at present regarding the probability that the lungs may eventually become affected.

Corbin says: The President passed an exceedingly favorable afternoon. He ate a very good dinner. Mrs. Garfield said to the Colonel that she felt sure the President was better to-day. The favorable symptoms are expected to continue from two to four weeks before the President can be pronounced convalescent.

Much Hope.

LONG BRANCH, 9.10 p. m.

Bladder Trouble.

The medical reports are all favorable to-day, morning, noon and night. The President has not been able to sleep so well for many consecutive hours. He has had very little fever, his respiration has been normal and his pulse has not exceeded 100. He slept without opiates and gained strength without stimulants. His nights are not as restless as could be desired, but in 24 hours he gets sufficient sleep. The weather, though not excessively warm, continues sultry and oppressive. Much is expected from the clear, bracing air which may be expected here at this season.

Official Bulletin.

Long Branch, 10, 9.10 a. m.—At the examination of the President at 8.30 this morning his temperature was 99.4, pulse 101, respiration 10. He slept well during the night, awakening only at intervals of one hour. There is a perceptible increase of strength with an improved condition of the digestive apparatus. The tumor of the prostate gland has entirely disappeared, and suppuration has greatly diminished. The wound continues to improve, and presents a good healthy appearance.

Improved Considerably.

WASHINGTON, 10.—A dispatch from Long Branch of the 9th inst. states that the President is doing better to-day for the President's use. Ag new arrived tonight, and upon entering the President's room he said, "President, you have improved considerably since I last saw you." The President said, "Do you think so?" Hamilton was here this evening, he returns on Tuesday next. The President arrived at the White House on Wednesday.

From Washington to-day. Bliss said to-night, "Everything is going on splendidly; there will be no further trouble from the gland." The President mentioned this morning that he had been isolated from the cabinet officers for a long time, and expressed a desire to see them. I told him, now that he was convalescent, I did not think it would injure him to see the members quietly, and at intervals, if their visits be very brief and they will be very cordial and cheerful. For breakfast he ate a woodcock and a piece of toast and bread with the exception of the crust, and some gruel; in the middle of the day he had another bird and some beef extract, and this evening he will probably confine himself to gruel. There is no foundation for the rumor that he was nauseated last night. He was merely a little overcast and uncomfortable. Dr. Bliss insisted there is nothing of a serious character about the lungs; if there had been, it would have developed itself.

The fitness which was found in the lungs was explained as being what is termed by physicians as being caused by the passage of the ball through the system of the lungs. If there was trouble there caused by septicemia it would be pronounced in the temperature. There would be a higher fever at once and the capable condition could not last.

"Has the President given any special evidence of clairvoyance or interest in matters generally, to-day?"

"Yes; he expressed himself in looking upon the ocean, and exhibits considerable interest in matters generally. The catheter penetrated to an inch when I used it last. I have selected a small catheter now which I intend using. Dr. Agnew called my attention to-day to what he thought was a flap up to the chest side near the hip, and I don't know but it is so. I see very plain by the lines and expression of his face which are more firm and each has more and a better expression than he had."

"Is there any evidence of the wounds granulating?"

"His wounds are granulating and are in a healthy condition. He is now, while a week ago it would not. Mrs. Garfield feels great confidence in her husband's ultimate recovery."

At midnight the President's condition continued favorable. He rested better to-night than in the early part of any night for a week past. His pulse was somewhat higher, owing to the evening fever; but Dr. Bliss says his general condition continues favorable.

Water.

The Hot Springs Sentinel claims that the President's stomach was relieved and toned up by water sent from the Springs. The recommendation of Secretary Blaine, who had used it.

Fatal Railroad Accident.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., 10.—It is reported here late last night that a railroad accident occurred at Eonora on the Louisville and Nashville R. R., and that several lives were lost. A wrecking train has gone to the scene of the accident.

The President and Vice-President Question.

CHICAGO, 10.—A Times special from Long Branch says: Senator Jones, of Nevada, settled the question about inability to-day by the bold declaration that in case President Garfield should at any time call upon Arthur to act as President, the latter would refuse, saying that the President's request in itself would disprove the inability required by the Constitution. In refusing, he would suggest that the President call Congress together so that it might decide means for relieving the public business of all embarrassment while the President continues ill.

More Bandits Captured.

KANSAS CITY, 9.—Seven arrests of train robbers, Matt and Charles Chapman, J. Briggley, John Land (supposed to be a leader), and others, were made to-day, and the bandits are being held for trial.

some of the swag was found on his person), Andy Ryan, John Wilkinson and Wm. Murray, all respectable, young and reckless, but who have never before been arrested. The detectives concluded that the thieves were all from the neighborhood, as they found no trace of horses. When arrested, none of the men resisted. It is reported from Independence that Chapman has confessed, and that the officers will have the whole gang by Sunday. A later dispatch says two heavily armed men have been arrested, named Charles Walsh and Wm. Stillwell. Both violently resisted arrest.

The Dance of Death.

LITTLE ROCK, 10.—Five murderers were hanged at Ft. Smith, Brown, McGowan, Padgett and two Greenhorns, Al and Amos Mayberry. Only 40 or 50 spectators were admitted. Padgett admitted the crime but justified it on the plea of self-defense. McGowan made a similar speech and said he was ready to die but hated to leave his wife and children. Brown said his only regret was that he accidentally killed the young man; he did not have a fair trial. Manley brothers, through an interpreter admitted the crime and said they were ready to die. The trap was sprung and all died last night of 15 minutes.

FOREIGN.

THE TWO EMPERORS.

Imperial Conference of Germany and Russia.

DANZIG, 9.—The Emperor William has arrived. He was enthusiastically received. Emperor William of Germany, Crown Prince Frederick William and Grand Duke Mecklenburg wearing the Russian uniform, left here at noon to-day, for Nijni-Novgorod to meet the Emperor of Russia. Bismarck, who had an hour's visit with Emperor William during the morning, followed immediately. The route to the railway station was lined by students and numbers of the Imperial guard, who cheered enthusiastically. The Emperors will dine together on board the Hohenzollern. The Russian ship came in sight at 11.30 this morning. It was said in the presence of Bismarck and the Russian foreign minister, Giers, that the meeting of the two emperors can but confirm the favorable impression caused by the proposed meeting, as it is considered a guarantee that even the few hours which the two emperors pass together will be spent in the interests of peace and contribute to the consolidation of the political situation.

AFRICAN WAR.

Battle of Hammanet.—The Town Destroyed.

TUNIS, 9.—It is reported that a severe engagement took place on Wednesday between French troops occupying Hammanet and Arabs, during which the town of Hammanet was entirely destroyed. No details have been received. All communication with the Capital has been severed.

4,000 Hostile Egyptians.

CAIRO, 9.—Four thousand soldiers with 30 pieces of artillery, have surrounded the Khedive's residence. They ask for the assembling of nobles and the dismissal of all the Khedive's ministers. No hostile intentions are entertained against Europeans.

Eviction.

LONDON, 9.—A telegram from Moscow to-day says that the British consul at Moscow returned there with a hundred police who arrested the eviction of 120 persons, inhabitants of Innesturk.

Russians Will Protect the Jews.

The Jewish World states that Russia is at last taking active steps to suppress vigorously and further outrage on the Jews.

Swiss Village Destroyed.

GENEVA, 9.—The village of Vevey, in the canton of Vaud, is almost destroyed by a fall of stone.

Relieving Famine.

PARIS, 9.—Five hundred thousand francs will be distributed among the Algerians, threatened with famine during the drought.

King Cotton.

MANCHESTER, 9.—At a meeting, to-day, of master spinners of Lancashire, Yorkshire and Derbyshire, there were present several speakers who strongly condemned the action of the Liverpool ring. A resolution was adopted condemning the action of the brokers who had undertaken to assist the syndicate in cotton speculation, and strongly urged the cotton trade to stop operations a week, and refrain from buying cotton at Liverpool during that time. The meeting adjourned until the 13th to await the decision of the various districts represented upon the question of stopping of operations, which will take place if two-thirds of the spinners consent. A committee was appointed to consider and report concerning the present system of sales of futures on cotton.
