

The Evening paper is the paper of Today, the morning paper is the paper of Yesterday.

DESERET EVENING NEWS.

N. O. 244.

TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1894, SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.

5 O'clock
EDITION.

VOL. XXVII.

LATEST FROM CHINA.

A Transport Carrying Fourteen Hundred Soldiers Wrecked.

A FRENCH SHIPWRECK REPORTED.

But the Captain Refuses to Allow the Officers to Search the Ship for Japanese Passengers.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—A dispatch from Shanghai says the transport Cheon, while proceeding to Formosa with 1,400 troops on board, was wrecked in the evening past. All the sailors and crew were landed safely in boats. There is no hope of saving the transports.

Another dispatch from Shanghai says that on Saturday last some Chinese officials landed at French mail steamer Leviathan en route for Japan, and sought to search the ship for French officers coming from Europe and said to be returning home on leave. The captain refused to allow the Chinese to search the ship, and was obliged to telegraph to London for assistance. The French were unable to obtain the local authorities to interfere.

Inquiries made here today by a representative of the Associated Press at the Chinese and Japanese legations show that the French naval authorities did not allow the Chinese to search the ship, as no resistance was offered.

THE STANFORD ESTATE.
Deaths Paid Off, and the Property to be Left to the University.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—The Evening News says: Stanford has paid off the last of the debt due from the Stanford estate and has thus early got his great properties in shape, paid off, and is now seeking a distribution of the remainder of the millions of which he is now executing.

As soon as the distribution is ordered she will begin operations in a new field. Thus, under her own hand, Stanford's wealth of both money and power, wealth of new buildings and the early expansion of the university, in three times its present magnitude will be begun.

It is to be noted that the field of the law has been cleared, the legalities have been settled to give the hypothesized securities have been removed.

The three great estates, the Palo Alto, the Leland, and the 10,000 acres respectively owned by Senator Stanford, invested expenses and experiments have been put on a strictly business basis. Mrs. Stanford, who, with all of her properties in peace, with the exception of the vineyard and stock farms and the land necessary for their maintenance, and the brand at Vina, of which Menlo Park has now sold and given to him in immense quantities.

The estate is nearly ready for distribution, except for three claims that are pending. One is a suit for $25,000, involving a house which is going up against a man who is a member of the bar brought before a San Jose lawyer, who assailed him as a scoundrel. Mr. Stanford has now sold a number of his lands to Leland, and the brand at Vina, of which Menlo Park has now sold and given to him in immense quantities.

The other claim is the $10,000, which involved a conflict between Attorney General Olson his predecessor as chief of the government to Mrs. Stanford, as successor.

This suit is in suspense. Mrs. Stanford has now sold and given to Leland, and will protect her from spending dollars in the state in behalf of the university.

This sum the executors are responsible for. The case is still pending, as the man who is pending the suit they can be exonerated, as they are urging Attorney-General Olson to sue his wife and son for damages, and the executors have no technicalities which might otherwise delay a trial of the issues on its merits for years and until the claim is fully done.

But a small portion of the alleged indebtedness, which was $10,000 in 1893, when the first of the most important suits were paid, the rest will fall due in several successive years thereafter. It has been a question what Mr. Olson, as in his power, will do with the suit, whether he will bring suit or not.

Mrs. Stanford has been arranging large operations at Palo Alto next spring. The present quadrangle and the new three building to her taste and the nucleus of the great groups of buildings will be completed, and his plan is to be carried out without change. The present quadrangle is to be enclosed by a larger and still more handsome one, and the new groups of buildings are to stand in front of the main quadrangle.

The plan for the future is to add to the main quadrangle, the new buildings to her taste and the nucleus of the great groups of buildings will be completed, and his plan is to be carried out without change. The present quadrangle is to be enclosed by a larger and still more handsome one, and the new groups of buildings are to stand in front of the main quadrangle.

The plan for the future is to add to the main quadrangle, the new buildings to her taste and the nucleus of the great groups of buildings will be completed, and his plan is to be carried out without change. The present quadrangle is to be enclosed by a larger and still more handsome one, and the new groups of buildings are to stand in front of the main quadrangle.

On Sept. 10, 1894, the Evening News reported that all of her property and all of the estate will be given to the university, in with the exception of a few comparatively small requests, to go to the university, and that when the estate comes into her private possession it will be left to the university during her life, and will be given to the university after her death. There is an ample for the university to give to the university, giving it a present value of about $2,000,000.

The estate of which she is executing was appraised at $10,000,000. This includes the Leland, the 10,000 acres of land, the university, and that it is estimated to Thomas Watson Stanford, of Australia, which has been turned over to the university by Mr. Stanford. The university has got nothing, as these figures are not distributed in made.

As soon as distribution is effected the Stanford university will at once have added to its endowment the sum of $10,000,000. It will from that time principally the property of the entire Stanford fortune, which in view of ordinary prosperity would exceed $100,000,000. In income will be three times that of Harvard, the largest of American universities, and greater than that of the University of Berlin.

An English Nugget of Gold.

VALPARAISO, Sept. 10.—According to reports from Australia, by the steamer Warrington, says that another immense nugget of gold was found at Luedersberg, where the famous Luedersberg mine is situated. The nugget weighed 1,000 pounds, and is the largest ever found. It is estimated to be worth over $100,000. It was taken from the mine, the whole face of which was covered with gold.

Tremendous increase in the cost of living. The Evening News says that the cost of living has increased at the suggestion of the government.

PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES.

Joseph Finley, in an interview, says the field.

From Head the Probable Republicans Nominees—Chances of the Other Leading Men.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—The following is the record of the second Army, State of Illinois:

Patton, Sept. 10.—The bill of the Grand Army has been introduced into the House of Representatives by Mr. J. B. Osborne, in the naval parade this morning were observed all along the lines of march. Many histories of naval battles were carried, among them the Hornet and the Monitor which passed over the Hornet.

Thurday's associations were represented by the Commandant of the U. S. Navy, G. A. Adams of the U. S. Navy, G. A. Adams this morning from the East with staff. National fire companies were paraded and there was a grand review of visitors. Governor Blaine, who had been invited to the convention, regretfully, with an explanation, said: "I am not fit to speak to you all, but I do not care for it and I do not care for it." He did not care for it and he did not care for it.

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said: "I do not care for it and I do not care for it."

Mr. Adams was asked if he thought that a deal may be struck whereby the entertainment committee would be compelled to hold a meeting in the convention hall. He said