Is Something Absolutely Unique in World So Far as the President Knows

Gardiner, Mont., April 24 .- President Roosevelt this afternoon resumed his tour of the west. Before going, however, he participated in the laying of the corner-stone of the new gate at the northern entrance to Yellowstone park. The ceremony was performed according to the Masonic ritual, and was in charge of the grand officers of the state of Montana. Special trains brought hundreds of people here, including a large body of Masons, and as the weather was perfect the scene was a very pretty one. There was placed in the stone a picture of President Roosevelt, a number of coins, copies of newspapers and | Secy. Root and Chaplin Vattmann Masonic emblems.

The president rode down from the post accompanied by Maj. Pitcher, and was escorted to a gaily-decorated stand, where he delivered an address. Troops B and C of the Third cavalry, from Fort Yellowstone, were drawn up in front of the stand as a guard of honor. Frank E. Smith, grand master, conducted the services. The president, on behalf of the Masons of the state, was presented with a Masonic charm mount ed on a nugget of Montana gold. PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

The president began his address by thanking the people and the soldiers for his enjoyable two weeks' holiday, and then spoke of the natural wonders of the park. "The Yellowstone park," he said, 'is something absolutely unique in this world', as far as I know. Japan Counsels China to be Firm In the Matter.

U. S. INTERESTS INVOLVED.

British Press Divided in Its Views -France is for Russia-Germany Hather Indifferent.

Pekin, April 25,-According to the Chinese story when Prince Ching, the grand secretary, received the Russian demands he returned the document setting them forth to M. Plancon, Russian charge d'affaires, and refused to consider them. W. B. Townley, first secretary of the British legation and Ouchida Yusuya, the Japanese minister, counseled Prince Ching to remain firm, and to insist upon the restoration of Manchuria according to agreement, which stipulates that the Chinese government shall be replaced in Manchuria in all respects as it was before the war.

The United States has not yet taken formal action in the premises. Japan is more strongly opposed than any other power to Russia's aggression, but it is not believed here that she will go to the length of war. The policy of Russian ambassadors abroad and of St. Petersburg, of fostering reports that China was on the eve of insurrection, has been watched here for some time past with much interest as attempts to create the impression that Russla was justified in holding

United States Minister Conger has been annoyed by the repeated news-paper reports that he has represented to Washington that he expected an uprising and an attack upon the legations. All his reports have been of a directly opposit e tenor; he has sent nothing that could possibly be construed in an alarmist tone.

AS VIEWED IN ENGLAND.

London, April 25.-The daily papers this morning while protesting at the cynical and almost brutal methods of the Russian move in Manchuria, take different views as to how this ac-tion should be met. No surprise is ex-pressed at the tenacity displayed by Russia in holding on to Manchuria, Lit-tle else has been expected since Russia built the railroad, and no one has thought for a moment that China would be able to make an effective resistance. It is recognized that the United States, Great Britain and Japan are the only powers likely to protest; France is expected to agree to anything that Russia does and Germany is considered as indifferent.

The opposition papers attack the government for its "weak kneed policy in China" and contend that it ought to have secured some equivalent if Russia is to have Manchuria.

The Daily News, referring to the claim of the United States for treaty ports in Manchuria, which Russia is opposing, says:

posing, says:
"It is their quarrel, and not ours. It is to our interests to come to terms with Russia in Asia and let her have Man-churia if she will leave us alone in The Standard thinks that this virtual seizure of Manchuria cannot be allowed to pass without the strongest protests and something more. This paper says:

HOW REGARDED IN FRANCE. Paris, April 24.-Owing to the absence of Foreign Minister Delcasse foreign office officials maintein reserve in the matter of the Russian terms for the evacuation of Manchuria, but the belief appears to be generally accepted that strong ties existing between France and Russia assure at least sympathetic support of Russia's position, or else si-acquiescence. It is pointed out that France and Russia have been in accord throughout it the matter of policy toward China; furthermore, the view prevails in well in-formed circles that the continuance of the bonds of amity between Russia and France is of far greater importance than any question relating to China. French travelers under the patronage of the government have made extensive tours in Manchuria, and their reports have emphasized the extent of Russian military and industrial predominance and the beneficial results which have ollowed the introduction into Manchuria by Russia of railroads and other modern appliances in place of the antiquated Chinese methods of communication, etc. There is reason to believe that the government will at least share the conclusions of these passively the confirmation of the passively the confirmation of the passively the passively the passively the confirmation of the passively the passively the confirmation of the passively the pa

It is also pointed out that French interests in Southern China are identical with those of Russia in northern China, as the Chinese territory abutting on French Tonquin bears the same relation to France that Manchuria does to Russia. Advices recently received at the foreign office indicated disturbances along the French-Chinese border fellowing the removal of Viceroy Lu, and it was then semi officially an-nounced that French troops would be moved across the border if French interests were further menaced. This corresponds to the Russian course in the north, where Russian troops orig-inally occupied Manchuria on the ground that this step was necessary for the protection of Russian interests. ### A Happy Assertion After Using PAPERS TAKEN BY MRS. TYNER

Postoffice Department Has Not Yet Decided on What Course it Will Pursue In the Matter.

Washington, April 24.-Ross Perry, the attorney for Mrs. James H. Tyner, whose husband yesterday was summarily removed from his position as assistant attorney-general for the postoffice department under rather sensational circumstances, called upon Atty.-Gen. Knox today and talked over the case with him. He made to the attorney general substantially the same statement given out by him last night, namely, that the papers taken by Mrs. Tyner from the safe in her husband's office on Tuesday were altogether personal, but they would be returned when called for. Atty.-Gen. Knox today expressed the opinion to Postmaster-Gen. Payne that unless there is something to show whether the documents taken from the safe are government property or private papers no case would lie. This statement was made after Mr. Knox had gone over the papers forwarded to him by the postoffice department.

Mr. Payne replied by stating the circumstances attending the taking of the papers and the fact that most of the papers filed in such government safes are of a confidential nature and therefore are not of record. There will be a conference tomorrow between Mr. Payne and Mr. Knox. The position taken by the postoffice lepartment now is that it has done all that it is possible to do to establish the facts in the case; that the impropriety of the act is of equal importance to the nature of what was taken and that

Mr. Payne talked with Mr. Perry at some length and pointed out to him that the Tyners were given an opportunity immediately after the papers were taken to open them in the presence of the officers of the department, and had re fused to show them or to indicate to the government representatives ever the nature of the papers.

Mr. Payne was asked subsequently if he declined Mr. Perry's proposition, but Great Britain, was questioned tonight on the situation. He said there was every reason to believe the correctness said he could not discuss that phase of the question. It may be stated as the department's attitude, however, that it will not give much weight to any papers which he characterized as count. He the provisions of the agreement. Payne said tonight: "If there was any motive to take the papers, or any intention of doing away with them, there has been ample time to do it. Whether the papers were private or not, the impropriety of the act is apparent, to say the least. I regard it as quite as improper to take from a safe in a government office private papers of Gen. Tyner or Mrs. Tyner, or of anybody else in the manner that those papers were taken as to take any other papers. The imprepriety of the act it-self is sufficient to remove any officer of the government."
