TO THE BISHOPS AND PRESIDING ELDERS IN ALL THE SETTLEMENTS OF THE LATTER-DAY SAINTS.

DEAR BRETHREN: It is our desire to commence again to assist the scattered poor of God's people in gathering to Zion. To aid in the accomplishment of this purpose we request the Bishops and Presiding Elders in the various settlements to give especial attention to the collection of the debts due to the Perpetual Emigration Fund from those who have been assisted in past years. In view of the near approach of the season of the year when our emigration leaves the shores of Europe, we desire that our brethren give this matter their immediate attention, that we may be enabled to do as much good as possible this present year.

It is the duty of all the Saints who have the means to assist in the gathering of these of their brethren and sisters who are still scattered in Babylon, and we should be pleased to have the local authorities solicit donations from those who are not in debt to the P. E. Fund, and who are able and willing to do their part for the gathering of scattered Israel.

Your Brethren,

Depreciated Poultry.—This morning John Stockfish, an experienced jailbird, was before Justice Pyper, charged with stealing a rooster and hen, the property of James Hoggie. It appears there was a great disparity of the value of this poultry on the part of the owner and thief, the former valuing them at $200, while Stockfish, after stealing them, sold them for the insignificant sum of sixty cents. The rooster being a game cook and the hen also being of a rare kind, cost Mr. Hoggie over $100 to bring them here.

The case was clearly sustained against the unregenerate Stockfish, and he was committed in default of $400 bonds, to await the action of the grand jury.

NEW BOOKS.

How to Teach, Manual of Methods for a graded course of instruction, embracing the subjects usually pursued in primary, intermediate, grammar and high schools; also suggestions relating to discipline, and school management.

This is a work intended expressly to aid teachers in discharging their highly important functions in training and developing the mental faculties of their pupils. Its authors are Messrs. Kiddle, Harrison and Calkins, prominent educators of New York, and in its pages is developed the system which is pursued in the schools of that city.

The method here set forth contains a course for ten grades of classes, and such a work, we should think, can not be otherwise than useful to intelligent school teachers, among whom it is almost sure to have an extensive circulation. It is on sale at Dwyer's book store, Salt Lake City, and will be mailed to any address for $1.25.

We have also received No's. 10, 11 and 12, of a work now being issued in Philadelphia, each number of which contains one hundred choice selections, poetry and prose, sacred and secular, comic and sentimental, from the best writers in the English language, including Bryant, Hemans, Campbell, Pope, Carleton, Dickens, Shakespeare, Eliza Cook, Charles Sumner, More, Mulloch, Shillabe, Longfellow, Kingsley, Bailey, Harte, Whittier, Lover, Talmage, and many others. The selections are of the choicest character, and sufficiently varied to suit all tastes but the corrupt and vitiated. They are just the books from which to select pieces for recitations for schools and other celebrations, and will be found very useful and entertaining by members of mutual improvement associations.

Correspondence.

Condition of the World—Men Wanted—Privileges of the Saints.

BRIGHTON, Jan. 18, 1876.

To the Members of the Y. M. M. I. Association, Provo, U. T.

DEAR BRETHREN—I have heard with much joy from time to time of your progress and success, and the spirit with which you have taken hold of so good an opportunity of improving yourselves individually and reforming our young brethren in general.

Since I came to this land, I have, through the tender mercies of God, been prospered in my labors as a minister of the gospel. I have received blessings even more than I am worthy of. I have gained already an experience that will ever be with me for good, and I hope will benefit not only me but those also with whom I may in the future be associated. The first thing that attracted my attention particularly was the frightful condition of mankind with regard to every species of wickedness that Satan has in store for those that will receive it. We read and hear the Priesthood talk about the judgments that are to come upon the earth. If they are not here now, I don't know what they will be when they come. They are no longer in the future, but they are being poured out upon the world this day. When I behold the terrible condition of the human family, I lift my heart in thanks to God for our condition in the mountains, and I would urge you, my brethren, to improve the golden opportunity you have of acquainting yourselves with the principles of life and salvation, so that you may be able to do your part in extricating your fellow-man from the cells of darkness and the strong chains of the enemy of truth. Store your minds with principle while yet you have a chance, and learn the ways of righteousness, for surely the harvest is great and the laborers are but few, and there is a work for every son of God who loves his fellow-man. Brethren, men are wanted in the world. The world is perishing for MEN. We have in the church more true hearted men than all the world besides contains. There are millions of masculines in the world, but the men are very, very few. MEN are wanted, not masculine personifications of empty-headed corruption, not brainless, street-walking, loung ing idiots, and boasting egotists, but noble-souled, high-minded, pure-hearted men. The present condition of society has every tendency for furthering the purposes of the devil in the future. The corruption of every generation makes the following one weaker, and, consequently, diminishes the already very, very few true men.

The gospel of Jesus Christ teaches us what God intended for a man to be, and by obeying its principles and acting according to the dictates of its spirit, it will make just such men of us as God will use to bring about his righteous purposes upon the earth. We have within our grasp those diamond principles which, if we will obey, will lead us in the paths of knowledge, wisdom, virtue, righteousness and true manhood, and will prepare us to be instrumental in the hands of God in building up his kingdom upon the earth, and make of us brilliant lights in the midst of the society of the saints of the Most High.

I would exhort you, brethren, to never grow weary in your researches after the principles of the gospel of heaven, but ever bear in mind we have truth on our side, and by continued well doing, eternal life. It is the only way the human family can regain the presence of the Father, whether they believe it or not. The wisdom of man cannot change the will of God. It was hard to handle a blind world in the days of our blessed Savior, and notwithstanding the miraculous signs that accompanied his coming into the world, and the many supernatural works he performed, the world denied and crucified him.

The powers of darkness are ever at work trying to overthrow the work of God, and they are strong.

Jesus said that strong delusions should come, even, if it were possible, to deceive the very elect. Hence, brethren, the necessity of being continually on the watch-tower, and never neglecting our prayers, that we give Satan no chance to take hold of us, that he throws no vail over our minds and poisons them. Study the prophecies of holy men of God in other ages, when the priesthood has been upon the earth, even to whom the heavens have been unveiled, and they have been made to see through the mist of future ages and declare what should take place upon the earth. Compare those prophecies with the present condition of the world, and behold them fulfilled.

My experience has taught me to begin with small things first. If the members of the Association will not grow weary in studying the first principles of the Gospel, but will confine themselves closely to them until the priesthood see they are prepared for something else, they will never regret it. Upon the first principles is everything built. They must be compiled with before the believer can derive any benefit or blessing from the Gospel. It is more necessary to fully understand them than anything else to one who holds the position of a minister of the Gospel. There is enough to be learned about them to keep the Association busy this winter and next, and another winter too. There is something new ever to be found in them.

I am ever anxious to hear of your improvement, and feel that the Lord has set his hand to reform the youth of Zion and prepare them for the things that await them; and I hope that the Association of Provo will lead out and set an example worthy of other cities to follow, and be in very deed an association of mutual improvement. The material is in the church for the noblest men of the earth. The children of the Latter-day Saints are truly diamonds in the rough, and the Gospel is the legitimate polish.

I would exhort you also, brethren, to study yourselves, and see how near right your daily walk, talk and conversation are. Let improvement ever be foremost with you. Seek to become men of courage, men of fortitude, men of superior intelligence, men who can resist temptation, who aspire to nobleness of intellect and purity of character, rather than to be lovers of frivolities. Be men whose influence tends to lead all about you in the paths of wisdom, truth, virtue, and purity. Be men who can resist evil, and battle with the stern realities of life nobly. Let these be your aspirations, and God will bless you to that end. As a member of the Association and a friend to all, I am ever praying for your success in the gospel.

My epistle has partaken of the nature of exhortation, but I have written as the spirit has led me. I would be happy, indeed, to have the privilege of meeting with you and talking upon the first principles of the gospel. I could appreciate it now, I assure you.

In conclusion, now, I will exhort you to hold to the old ship Zion, for God is at the helm, and he will steer her safely through, and she will withstand all the fiery darts of Satan, and stem the mighty tide of opposition, and finally reach the harbor of eternal rest, where the Saints will be able to rejoice together, without having Satan to oppose and fight against, and the Lord wants all on board to do their share in furthering his designs. Lastly, honor and obey the priesthood of God upon the earth.

Your brother and friend,
A. O. SMOOT, Jr.

THE MORNING COURIER.

Recent political events strongly indicate a speedy return of the Democratic party to supreme power in the nation. The House of Representatives is now Democratic by a large majority; the government of more than one half of the States is administered by Democrats; the party enters upon the Presidential contest with the brightest hopes, and under the most substantial encouragement.

The wonderful revelations of rascality and corruption on the part of Republican leaders, which have burdened the press and horrified the people during the past three years, make it clearly the duty of every man to take an active part in the great contest of the present year. More than at any previous time in the history of the country, a trustworthy daily newspaper is now necessary to every citizen, in order that he may intelligently discharge his political duties. THE CHICAGO MORNING COURIER is a consistent Democratic newspaper. It will be devoted to the work of aiding in rescuing the nation from the party that has debauched its service, squandered its treasure and enslaved its liberties. It will advocate a speedy return to specie payments, but believes that this result should be brought about by economical management of the Government, and not by arbitrary enactment. It believes in greenbacks at par, and the same currency for the rich and the poor. It will advocate Home Rule, Free Trade and Public Economy, the old cardinal principles of the Democratic party.

The Courier has established a wide-spread reputation as a first class newspaper. The aim of its management is to make it all that the public in these hurrying days can desire, namely—a complete newspaper. Every facility known to modern journalism will be utilized to insure the prompt presentation of all important intelligence from all parts of the world, while the utmost care will be exercised to glean only such as is worth printing. In short, The Courier will give all the news as promptly as any other paper, and condensed into a more attractive and readable form than the blanket sheets.

TERMS—Mail subscriptions, postage free, six dollars per annum, or fifty cents per month, in advance.

THE WEEKLY COURIER

Has a large circulation in every western State and Territory. It is our aim to make the Weekly Courier the best family paper in the West, and we shall continue to give in its columns a large amount of miscellaneous reading matter, such as stories, tales, poems, scientific intelligence and agricultural information for which we are not able to make room in our daily edition. The agricultural department is especially one of its prominent features. The fashions are also regularly reported in its columns, and so are the markets of every kind.

Terms—$1.20 per year, postpaid.
Address THE COURIER,
d71 123 Fifth Avenue, Chicago.
