

DEPOSITIONS IN HAYWOOD CASE

Palo, Ida., July 8.—Part of the San Francisco depositions dealing with the Bradley exposition were read today to the jury that is trying William D. Haywood for his life on the charge that he murdered Frank Steuenberg and the rest of them will be presented tomorrow. The reading began directly after the court sat with Clarence Darrow and Senator Borah alternating for their respective sides, and although they pressed ahead as fast as they could a careful calculation made as they went through the evidence showed that much of tomorrow will be consumed by the unread affidavits. The depositions have an important bearing on the case, but they contained no interest for the crowd and the attendance was the lightest since the trial began.

AFTERNOON SESSION.
When the trial was continued after noon Clarence Darrow proceeded with the reading of the depositions taken in San Francisco. This evidence is contained in some 400 sheets of typewritten matter, of which about 70 were read at the morning session.

Fred Miller, the attorney for the defense who has been engaged in the taking of depositions in San Francisco for the last month, appeared in court this afternoon and joined the attorneys surrounding Haywood.

Senator Borah objected to the introduction of the re-cross-examination of Walter H. Linforth, the owner of the Linforth building in San Francisco when the explosion occurred in the evening of the 17th. The re-cross-examination contained in the depositions was offered by the defense. The question of the admissibility of this portion of the deposition was argued by Richardson for the defense and Senator Borah for the state.

Judge Wood ruled the re-cross-examination out. This brought the Linforth deposition to an end. Mr. Darrow then began on the testimony of Mr. Bradley himself.

In his testimony Bradley states that on the morning of the explosion, November 17, 1904, he started to leave his apartment at 7:30 a. m. He had a lighted cigar in his mouth as he walked down stairs.

"Immediately after placing my hand on the knob and starting to open the outside door of the vestibule," said Bradley, "there was a flash of light at the end of my cigar, I thought some one had been joking me; that I had been given a trick cigar. Next there was a deafening explosion. My first impression was that I had been shot in the head. My next impression was that I was being asphyxiated and would die if I did not get out. I was in a tremendous pressure holding me down. Then there came a lifting force and I was thrown out into the street on the car track. I knew I was on the car track for I remember feeling I must get out of the way or a car would be along."

The attorney who took Bradley's testimony asked how long a space of time there was between the flash at the end of the cigar and the explosion. "I had time to think I had been given a trick cigar," was the reply. Bradley said he saw nothing of a newspaper, string or screw eye in the vestibule or on the door.

Asked if he smelt the gas at the time of the explosion, Bradley said he did after being "smashed to the floor." He smelted gas for some time previous to the explosion and Mrs. Bradley had complained to the gas company about the matter. Bradley declared he was never president of the Mine Owners' association of California and had never been.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, proved catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutionally internal in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Senator Borah relieved Mr. Darrow of reading the cross-examination of Mr. Bradley. In this portion of his testimony Bradley said he was not sure whether he had stepped across the threshold when the explosion occurred. The outer door contained long panels of plate glass. Particles of glass and bits of rock and vestibule tiles were found in eyes and face, and there were bristles blown into his face. These bristles were supposed to be from the door mat.

Asked if he had smelled gas the morning of the explosion, Mr. Bradley said he did not.

A week or so prior to the explosion Mrs. Bradley had complained of smelling gas on the stairs when the witness himself could smell nothing. There has been general complaint in the house about the escaping gas.

Further cross-examination, Bradley said he felt two distinct forces, the first crushing him down and the second lifting him up. The interval between gave him time to think he was shot in the head, to feel if his ears had been blown off and to think that he was in danger of asphyxiation. The latter feeling he was sure came from illuminating gas.

Toward the conclusion of his deposition Mr. Bradley said that his first belief that the explosion was caused by gas had been considerably modified by Orchard's confession and the other testimony offered on the subject.

After the Bradley deposition that of the Linforth flats in San Francisco was read. Cummings left the house just before the explosion and denied that he saw no bomb at Bradley's door. Cummings testified that had the bomb been there he would undoubtedly have seen it.

On cross-examination Cummings said he did not remember seeing the door mat at Bradley's door and that he was not paying particular attention to Bradley's door and the vestibule.

The next deposition to be read was that of J. B. Reilly, who resided near the Linforth flats in San Francisco. He passed the Linforth building 10 minutes before the explosion, and testified that he saw a Japanese servant washing the marble stairs.

The trial adjourned at 4 o'clock. The reading of depositions taken in San Francisco in connection with the explosion at the residence of Mr. Bradley will be continued tomorrow morning at 9:30 a. m.

CONSPIRACY CHARGED.

Against Various Railroads by Blue Valley Creamery Co.

Washington, July 8.—Conspiracy and discrimination, in addition to the exacting of excessive rates, are the charges preferred in a complaint filed today with the Interstate Commerce commission by the Blue Valley Creamery company of Iowa, the Blue Valley Creamery company of Missouri and the Blue Valley Creamery company of Iowa against the Illinois Central railroad, the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, the Chicago Great Western, the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, the Chicago & Northwestern and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul.

The complainants assert that they purchase cream throughout the western part of the United States and ship it to central plants located in various cities of the middle west, where it is manufactured into butter. In the aggregate they do a business amounting to nearly $20,000,000 a year, involving the manufacture of almost 30,000,000 pounds of butter. They allege that the rates charged them by the railroads on shipments of cream are excessive and unreasonable, and that they are prevented from obtaining a reduction in the rates by the attitude of several of the defendants, who have conspired to keep the rates at their present high figures. The commission is asked to fix just and reasonable rates.

VICE PRESIDENT SAVES WOMAN FROM DROWNING

Chicago, July 8.—A special to the Herald from Yellowstone National park says:

Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks yesterday risked his life to save Miss Lena Waters, a waitress at the Park hotel.

While sitting on the hotel veranda the vice president heard screams from the lake from the young lady, who was struggling to keep herself afloat. Mr. Fairbanks ran toward the lake, throwing off his coat as he ran.

He leaped into the water and made for the girl, another man following. The two men then dragged the unconscious girl to shore, where she was restored to consciousness.

RATE ON GRAIN.

Traffic Officials Will Ask Interstate Commerce Commission to Decide It.

Chicago, July 8.—At a conference today of the leading traffic officials of the western railroads, it was agreed to ask the interstate commerce commission to decide what is the legal rate on more than 6,000,000 bushels of grain now stored in elevators at various points on the Missouri river. The commission will decide with the railroads or the grain dealers will lose $90,000. Most of the railroads are confident that all grain stored in elevators at Missouri river points and elsewhere is subject to an advance of 1 1/2 cents per bushel, according to the tariffs on all bins made effective July 1. Last March the western railroads agreed to make an advance on May 1 of 1 1/2 cents per bushel on grain from Missouri river points to Chicago. A protest by grain dealers through the railroads was unavailing, so the grain dealers appealed to the interstate commerce commission. The dealers declared they purchased grain and contracted for its delivery on the basis of rates in effect in March, and that an increase in rates in May would cause them a heavy loss.

He is now on leave in the country pending a settlement of the arrangements to get him a pension, and it is not likely that he will resume military duties.

PROPOSITIONS BEFORE PEACE CONFERENCE

The Hague, July 8.—A score of new propositions were introduced today for the consideration of the conference and almost every country represented, including Hayti, had one. Many of them will be grouped together and this will shorten the work of the conference, which is expected to come to a close by the end of August.

One of the most important proposals made today was that brought forward by the American delegation regarding the permanent court of arbitration. The Hague. This outlines the organization and procedure of the court on a basis resembling that of the supreme court of the United States. Prince Yi Tjing Chi, head of the Korean deputation that was refused recognition, delivered a lecture tonight in the hall of the United States club, W. T. Stead presiding.

He strongly stigmatized the horrors and cruelties practiced by the Japanese in the conquest of Korea, and the club unanimously voted a resolution of profound sympathy with Korea. The club also expressed the hope that a permanent court would be established for the hearing of such cases as that of Korea.

Baroness Bertha von Suttner, the Austrian peace worker, advised the Koreans not to go to the United States at the present time, saying their presence there would add to the anti-Japanese chauvinism and do nothing for the cause of justice and peace. It was reported today that M. Nelidoff, president of the peace conference, is desirous of leaving The Hague July 20, to take a vacation at home.

The Italian proposition regarding blockades, submitted today to the subcommittee dealing with the question, comprised seven articles. It gives the judicial definition of a blockade and establishes that to make it effective a blockade must be officially declared and the neutral powers must be notified. Vessels attempting to run a blockade can be seized and the cargoes confiscated.

Concord, N. H., July 8.—A bill in equity seeking, pending the present litigation, to place under the jurisdiction of the superior court a trust fund of $15,000 created by Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy last February (subsequent to which time a cure for an accounting of her property was begun) was filed today. George W. Glover of Lead, S. D., son of the Christian Science leader, and his wife and four children are the complainants. The bill is one of the many entered in the already complicated litigation involving the property of Mrs. Eddy.

AN EARL'S SON

Gives Up an Easy Life to Earn His Own Living.

New York, July 8.—Advice from London, published here today, states that Arthur Conan Doyle, the novelist, is the son of an English earl, whose name is not divulged, is living in New York and working for a living, having of his own choice given up a life of ease because of a desire to work and make his own way.

The Shipping Gazette first gave the news, saying that the young man worked his way across the Atlantic in the stoke-hole of a liner. Inquiry at Southampton is said to have confirmed this and developed the additional fact that he made a good record and was offered permanent employment on the steamer, but declined, as he preferred to take first chances in New York.
