MEETING OF CITY SCHOOL BOARD.

Arranging for Course of Lectures from Miss Pollock to Primary Teachers of Ogden.

LECTURE BY PRESIDENT SMITH

Specialists Name Municipal Ticket—W. R. Swan Wants to Appeal—Street Railway Improvements.

Ogden, Utah, Oct. 14.—At the meeting of the Ogden board of education held last evening, President Smith was authorized to employ Miss Rosalia Pollock of Salt Lake City to come to Ogden to deliver 12 lectures before the primary teachers of the Ogden City schools during the winter, on the best methods to use in teaching small children.

Sept. Allison's monthly report was submitted, showing a total enrollment for the past month of 4,320, with an average daily attendance of 4,000.2. There were 238 cases of tardiness reported.

The finance committee reported having received $1,400 on bonds of $201.67 in cash.

Salary checks for the past month amounting to $4,681.65 were ordered paid, and that amount was distributed today to the teachers.

Two new cases of diphtheria were reported. The salary of Miss June Jensen was fixed at $75, of W. S. Davidson at $80, and Elizabeth Wynn at $85 per month.

PRES. SMITH WILL LECTURE

In Ogden Tabernacle Sunday on "The Dispensation of Fulness of Times."

President Joseph F. Smith will deliver a lecture tomorrow, Sunday, afternoon, commencing at 2 o'clock, at the Ogden Tabernacle on "The Dispensation of Fulness of Times." This is the second of a series of lectures given under the auspices of the Deseret Academy of the Western States. The tabernacle choir will furnish some special musical selections. The public is cordially invited to attend.

He leaves a wife and six children to mourn his death.

WM. R. SWAN WANTS TO APPEAL.

Attorneys W. L. Macginnis and Geo. McCormick will appear in court Monday morning with their client, Wm. R. Swan, who was convicted a few days ago by a jury of defrauding the county of $2,000, in a fraudulent bounty on a trial on account of errors. It was stated that the jury was not allowed to see a copy of execution staying the case until Monday morning, which is to be the day when the case will be argued in the state supreme court.

Swan's attorneys sought to have the case come up for trial, claiming that the jury was not allowed to see the information under the 1903 statute, which makes the crime of defrauding a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine or imprisonment in the county jail for both. Under the statute, Swan was convicted, that of felony, makes the crime a penitentiary.

COALVILLE.

SAD DEATH OF CHILD. Infant Toddler to Irrigation Ditch and is Drowned.

Coalville, Summit Co., Oct. 12.—The first daughter of Thomas Rishon of Hoytville was drowned yesterday in an irrigation ditch at that place. A large stream of water flows in this ditch, which is only a short distance back of Mr. Rishon's residence. The child was a little over one year old and in some manner escaped the notice of its mother, toddled to the ditch and fell in. The body floated down the stream for about half a mile when it was discovered by Mrs. Rishon and pulled out of the ditch. Life was extinct when the body was recovered. Dr. French was immediately summoned, but of course, the child was beyond medical aid. The mother is nearly distracted.

Don't let the children suffer. If they are fretful, peevish and cross, give them Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. The best baby tonic known. Strength and health follow its use. 35 cents. Ask your druggist.

KAYSVILLE.

DESTRUCTIVE BLAZE.

Deadly Combination of Matches and Children Taken Lives of the Latter.

Kaysville, Davis Co., Oct. 12.—A number of children were playing in the street yard of Charles Odd this morning when one of them struck a match and set fire to the hay. The flames leaped up around the children and all would have been injured or burned to death but for the prompt rescue work of Mrs. Ada Muntz of Eureka, who is here visiting her brother, Mr. Odd. The fire destroyed the hay and sheds, with the contents, consisting of hay, harnesses, etc. The animals were released and saved. The Kaysville Canning company sent its entire force of men to fight the fire and these with 30 men from the town, succeeded in saving adjacent property. The loss was about $250. No insurance.

Cheated Death.

Kidney trouble often ends fatally, but by choosing the right medicine, E. H. Wolfe, of Bear Grove, Iowa, cheated death. He says: "Two years ago I had Kidney Trouble, which caused me great pain, suffering and anxiety, but I took Electric Bitters, which effected a complete cure. I have also found them of great benefit in cases of indigestion and nerve trouble, and keep them constantly on hand, since, as I find they have no equal." Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept. guarantees them at 50c.

LEVAN.

FATAL RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.

Roy Christensen the Victim—Funeral of Mrs. Victoria Olson.

Levan, Juab Co., Oct. 7.—Yesterday, Oct. 6, a fatal accident occurred in the Levan runaway house when the remains of Miss Victoria Olson, who died Tuesday, Oct. 3, of dropsy, Bishop J. E. Taylor presided at the funeral, and the following speakers eulogized the work and worth of the deceased: Erastus W. Peterson, Henry Hendrickson and Bishop J. E. Taylor.

FATAL RUNAWAY.

Yesterday Ray Christensen, the 14-year-old son of Mrs. Sophia Christensen, while working in the field, met with an accident, which resulted in his death this morning. He was riding the wagon from one end of the field to the other and in doing so he thoughtlessly hitched the team to the end of the wagon tongue. He had not gone far when the frightened horses started to run away. He fell off and the wagon passed over his abdomen. Dr. Munter was summoned and did all he could to relieve his sufferings. He lived till this morning, when death came to his relief.

By unanimous consent the following business course in medicine and surgery, and will be absent about six months.

An ordinance was passed placing a bounty of 2 1/2 cents on rabbits to take effect Nov. 1, 1905. Other business of having undergone an operation in the hospital at Cedar City.

Considerable fall wheat is being sown this season as it has been demonstrated that it can be raised successfully and with considerable less irrigation than spring sown crops.

BLOOMINGTON.

BENEFICENT RAIN IN DIXIE.

District School Commences—Excellent Grain Yield for Season.

Bloomington, Washington Co., Oct. 6.—The district school commenced on the 2nd inst., with Miss Edna Cragin of St. George, as principal. At present the school is held on the Price side of the Rio Virgin, until the school house is completed, which will be in the near future.

The rain on the 25th and 26th ult. wet the country very nicely and has caused a nice stream of water to flow down the Santa Clara and into the irrigation canal, which the farmers appreciate very much as there has been little or no water in the canal for between one and two months, and everything was exceedingly dry.

In a fair way of becoming the largest town in southeastern Idaho.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH. While working near a chimney on the roof of the new armory building, Len Jones' feet slipped and he fell upon a live electric wire that had been left exposed. As he fell he grabbed the wire and became immediately unconscious. His partner, A. H. Stephens, started to take the unfortunate man by the hand, but when he saw a few electric sparks and received a severe shock he changed his method. He took him from the coat collar and shook him loose from the wire. Len has a burned hand and hip, where the current passed over his body, but considering his narrow escape he is feeling well.

OBITUARY.

THOMAS C. MARTELL.

The subject of this sketch, Thomas C. Martell, was born in Newcastle, England, South Wales, April 4, 1825, and died at Salt Lake City, Utah, on the 25th of September, 1905. He was married to Mary Ann Martell, nee Jones, on the 25th of September, 1848, by Elder William Beach, and served on a mission in his country before coming to America. Church and press records of the Martell family are preserved in the Martell family papers, which position he resigned upon coming to Utah. He also served on another mission to Wales in 1852, laboring in Carmarthen and Cardigan counties for two years. Mr. Martell was a man of many unusual qualities. He was employed as a clerk in the largest cloth drapery establishments in the world, located in London. He later became manager of a large laundry establishment in New Orleans, from whence he sailed for Kansas City, arriving near Westport, Mo., in 1858. He possessed the pluck and daring of a soldier, and was a member of an ex team in the company under the leadership of Captain John Smith, and during the trip across the plains, he reached Salt Lake City that fall, October 1858, and remained there two years engaged in building salt from the lake and selling it in Utah country. In 1860 Mr. Martell came to Spanish Fork and engaged in farming, which he has followed to the time, although he has been intimately associated with a number of other enterprises in this place. He established the first co-operative store in Utah, Spanish Fork, Utah, county, of which he took the management for one year and is now the largest and most successful establishment of the kind in Utah county. He owns a farm of one hundred and sixty acres, situated near this place and one of the most comfortable homes in Spanish Fork.

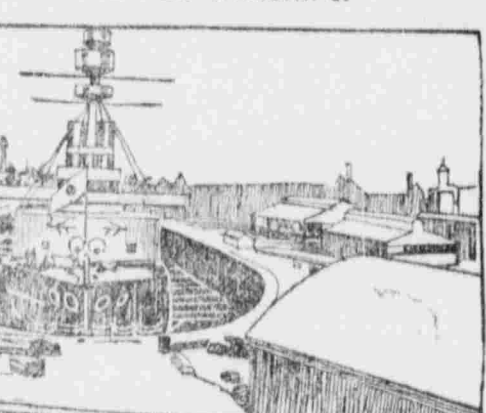

Mr. Martell was married in Spanish Fork, Jan. 1858, to Edna Jenkins, a native of South Wales, where Mrs. Martell was born. They were the parents of four children. The first child, a son, was named Thomas C. Martell, Jr., who died in 1881. The second child, a daughter, was named Margaret, who died in 1881. The third child, a son, was named John, who died in 1881. The fourth child, a daughter, was named Mary, who died in 1881.

Mr. Martell held several positions of honor and trust. He was for a number of years a member of the city council. He was also secretary of the East Bench Can Company, and was also secretary of the West Field Irrigation Society, and secretary of the Building Society of Spanish Fork. He passed away full of years and from his earliest days, up to the time until he became incapacitated by old age and declining health, was active in every good word and work. His work in this world has ended, his earthly toil is over. "Rest in peace."

A JAPANESE HOSPITAL FOR WARSHIPS.

The cut gives a view of the big Japanese shipbuilding yard of Mitsui Bishi at Nagasaki. It is by far the most complete drydock and ship repairing establishment in the far east. The yard is provided with every naval facility devised by European and American shipbuilders, and there are over 7,000 workmen employed. It is different in one respect from any other shipyard in the world—there is absolutely no bustle or noise, all the orders being given in a low tone and plenty of time being taken for everything. Another peculiarity is the large number of female workers. The authorities find them quite as capable as the men of their class.

At the citizens' convention held last night the following candidates were chosen to run on the Citizens' ticket:

Mayor, J. H. Stratton, recorder, W. J. Wareski; treasurer, D. A. McMillan; attorney, Stephen L. Richards; justice, C. M. Durand; marshal, Michael Mauss; constable, Daniel Smith; J. W. Cahoon, Matt Gibbs, James Godfrey, Frank Hartman, A. J. Walquist, A. Short.

A keen interest was taken in the proceedings of the convention both by the delegation and citizens. However, everything pulled off peaceably and with great satisfaction. The first order of business was to nominate a city marshal. The nominees were put before the convention, Michael Mauss, J. M. Wood and William Goldman. Mauss was the choice candidate receiving 26 votes, Wood 15 and Goldman 5.

The next order of business was to nominate a treasurer. Two candidates were put in the field: William Bishop and D. A. McMillan. A hard fight was made for these candidates, several speeches were made to the nominations, followed by a close vote of 26 to 24 in favor of McMillan.
