LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY.

FORT HAMBLIN.—Jacob M. Truman, writing from Fort Hamblin, says: "This is the driest summer we have ever had and there has been more sickness here this season than in any previous one. The 'hoppers' have taken more than half our crops."

AN OLDER SETTLER GONE.—The following telegram was received by Deseret Telegraph line, this morning:

Editor Evening News:—Died at 20 minutes past eight, last evening, of chronic dyspepsia, Elder Edward Ockey, aged 55 years. He was one of the first settlers of Utah, and a much respected citizen of Nephi. His funeral takes place at 3 p.m. today. S. P.

WILLIAM DAVIDSON, formerly of Lanarkshire, Scotland, and lately residing at Heber City, Wasatch County, Utah, N. America, having an interest in the succession of his brother, the late John Davidson, Coalmaster, Baljaffray, East Kilpatrick, Lanarkshire, is requested to communicate without delay with Robert McCowan, accountant, 87 Saint Vincent Street, Glasgow.

The above notice was published recently in the Glasgow (Scotland) Weekly Mail, and thinking that the information it imparts may not have reached the party for whom it was intended, we publish it, for his benefit, in the NEWS.

ON THE MARCH.—Our city authorities seem fully imbued with the spirit of public improvement. This morning, one of the most elegant gas-burning chandeliers we have ever seen was put up in the avenue of City Hall. This unique piece of mechanism consists of three lights on a common plane, ornamented with ground glass globes, below and in the centre of which a brilliant "meteor," mellowed with porcelain shade, casts its effulgent light to the floor. The effect of the centre drop-light is to throw the light downwards. The rays are thus brilliantly dispersed in every direction. It is a recent patent, the first of the kind brought west of the Mississippi, and was imported and put up by Messrs. Taylor & Co., Portable Gas dealers.

MORONI.—Brother John Kirkman, of Moroni, Sanpete county, called yesterday. He reports that the crops there are so heavy that great difficulty is being felt in harvesting them, the amount of hired help to be obtained being quite insufficient. The people, however, are far from being disposed to grumble at this inconvenience, a surplus of the earth's bounties being so much more desirable than a surplus of labor.

The co-operative store is doing a better business now than for some time previous. A dividend of ten per cent, for six months, was lately declared.

It is a general time of prosperity throughout the entire County of Sanpete.

The members of the Female Relief Society of Moroni employ their spare time in manufacturing cloth, wearing apparel, &c.

Nothing can prevent a community from living, increasing and prospering whose members, of both sexes, are industrious and preserving, not only for the individual benefits arising from that course, but also for the general good of the whole, and where there are but few if any of the really poor and those few are carefully looked after. This is not only the case at Moroni, but we believe, with every settlement in the Territory.

Election Returns.

WM. T. REID, County Clerk.

CLOVER VALLEY, NEVADA.

August 7th, 1870.

Editor Deseret News:—Dear Brother:—Thinking that perhaps you would like to hear from this place, I take pleasure in penning you a few lines.

This is a small settlement, consisting of some twelve or fifteen families, mostly Saints. We are somewhat isolated, being remote from other settlements and not having the advantage of direct telegraph and mail communication. We have of late, however, had a weekly mail, which brings us your welcome papers, NEWS and JUVENILE INSTRUCTOR.

Our grain crops are a failure on account of the ravages of the grasshoppers, and our hay crop will also be small. Notwithstanding this we are in a thriving condition, and improvements are going ahead spiritedly.

We have a Sabbath school, which is well attended by our juveniles, and a day school which is also well patronized.

The health of the settlement is generally good at present. We have had some sickness during the hot weather, but all is fair at present.

Yours respectfully,

HENRY A. CHAPMAN.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY.

These can be obtained of Mr. C. C. Nichols, in the Octagon House in this city, who is the Bible depositor, at a reasonable advance above New York prices, to cover expense of freight, cartage, &c. The people of the Territory, who wish to purchase Bibles and Testaments at low prices, can now avail themselves of this opportunity.

THE FACTS.—A suit has been entered by a son of Judge Hawley, for $25,000, against Dr. Clinton et al, the grounds of the suit being the summary ejection of the person bringing the suit from the voting room at the City Hall, and his incarceration for a few minutes, in the lockup during the election on the 7th inst. A desire to acquaint the public with the facts in the case prompts us to state the circumstances which led to this issue, if such it can be called.

No objections have ever been offered here to any person exercising the right of challenging parties coming to the polls to deposit their votes at elections; but it will not answer for an ill-mannered puppy to undertake this task and perform it in such a way as to retard the progress of elections; and this is what this bright illustration of the gradation theory undertook. Not content with putting a great many questions to the voters, and having them sworn by the Judge, he continued to argue with the Judge, after the latter had decided that they had, or had not the right to vote, according to his prerogative, in opposition to the decision, thus delaying the progress of the election and making himself an unbearable nuisance. He persisted in this course so often, and for so great a length of time, impeding the process of voting and causing the room to be excessively crowded with people who were waiting to vote, that the Judge thought it necessary, especially as he was becoming still more impertinent and offensive, to have him removed. He therefore, spoke up and asked, "Will someone take this man out of my way?" Whereupon some of the police officers, walked him out of the hall. He flounced around considerably and endeavored to re-enter the room, and, as he would not behave himself, the officers locked him up for a short time. Shortly after this occurrence, a deputy U. S. Marshal made his appearance, and threatened in a very belligerent style, and with much profanity, what he was going to do because of the arrest of Hawley. He was informed that he could come into the room and challenge whom he pleased, provided he would do so in a gentlemanly and decorous manner. He walked up to the polls, brought his clenched fist down on the table and continued to threaten, at the same time using oaths, at which he was taken by the collar and marched out into the street. The above are the facts of the whole affair in brief.

FROM THURSDAY'S DAILY.

There will be a two days' meeting held at Provo City on Saturday and Sunday, August 19th and 20th, commencing at 10 a.m., on the first named day. There will be present some or all of the First Presidency, several of the Twelve and of the First Presidents of Seventies.

EMIGRATING SAINTS.—The company of Latter-day Saints, which left Liverpool, on the steamship Nevada, Captain Forsyth, on July 26th and arrived on the 7th instant at New York, reached this city last evening by the 7:30 train. The company was in excellent health, having had a prosperous voyage across the ocean, and a pleasant journey from New York to this point. Not a death occurred during the entire journey. At 2:40 p.m. yesterday a special car was attached to the train going to Ogden for the accommodation of Presidents Young and Smith and a number of other gentlemen and ladies who had invitations to go up and meet the company. Of the valley Elders there were: Lot Smith, John Jaques, Albert Dewey, A. P. Shumway and Joseph Argyle. The first named was in charge of the company. These Elders looked excellently, all being much heavier than when they left, except Lot Smith. At Farmington, where the latter resides, he received a warm reception, the leading citizens and the people generally having turned out to meet him. At this city hundreds were at the depot to meet the emigrants and to welcome their friends. Elders Geo. W. Groo and H. J. Faust and wife crossed to New York with this company. They remained in the States to visit their friends. Elder David M. Stuart, who has been laboring for some time on a mission in the States, traveled with this company from Omaha to Ogden, at which place he resides.

INDIAN TROUBLES IN THE SOUTH.—The following dispatch was received by Deseret Telegraph to-day:

ST. GEORGE, UT.

Jutesgavit, chief of the Santa Clara Indians, died some three weeks ago. His Indians are now without a chief and feel themselves under no restraint. Since the chief's death, they have stolen quite a number of horses and killed some cattle. Friendly Indians report a combination between the Clara, Beaver Dam and Muddy Indians to raid on the horses and cattle on our ranges and, where practicable, to steal from our settlements. They also report that some stolen horses were driven towards Beaver Dams last night and this morning, passing within two miles of this city. Reports brought in this morning state that all the Santa Clara Indians have left their long-time camping ground, except one very old man, and have taken the line of travel for Beaver Dams and the Muddy. A Shebits Indian states that five head of beavers have been recently killed at the Whitmore and Miller rancho.

Louis XIII., speaking to Bassompierre, his ambassador to the court of Spain, remarked: "You cannot imagine how I laughed when I heard you entered Madrid on a mule—just to think—a jackass on a donkey!" "Very true, sire, but you must remember I represented you at that time!"

The story of a lazy schoolboy, who spelled Andrew Jackson "&ru Jaxn," has been equalled by a student who wished to mark half a dozen of new shirts. He marked the first "John Jones," and the rest "do."
