

Guide Her! and other bits of that play. "Man's Broken Promise" tells of life in New York city with plenty of sensation and humor. Interimmed Manager Eckhardt has given the play a thoroughly adequate production and he is confident that the patrons of the Grand will fully appreciate it.

"Sis in New York" tells the story of a series of comic adventures that befall a funny girl from Indiana. The comic girl, Sis, is surrounded by her "Sephend friends" and they all get into a good amount of trouble. The play commences at the Grand Thursday and runs three nights with a Saturday matinee.

Miss Beatrice Moreland and Stanley Johns are the big type stars of the play, but a host of young girls at the Lyric theater are appearing at the opening matinee this afternoon in a clever sketch entitled "Taking A Husband." It is said to be one continuous laugh from start to finish.

Miss Moreland's press notices say she is a "funny girl from Indiana." The comic girl, Sis, is surrounded by her "Sephend friends" and they all get into a good amount of trouble. The play commences at the Grand Thursday and runs three nights with a Saturday matinee.

Miss Beatrice Moreland and Stanley Johns are the big type stars of the play, but a host of young girls at the Lyric theater are appearing at the opening matinee this afternoon in a clever sketch entitled "Taking A Husband." It is said to be one continuous laugh from start to finish.

Miss Moreland's press notices say she is a "funny girl from Indiana." The comic girl, Sis, is surrounded by her "Sephend friends" and they all get into a good amount of trouble. The play commences at the Grand Thursday and runs three nights with a Saturday matinee.

Another interesting bit of comedy will be given by Burns, Morris and Company, new comers on the Sullivan Comedians circuit and with Dan Roby, a black face strip which he claims is entirely original.

A act which will astound and amaze a bit with this week's audiences is that of the Tanagata Japanese top spinners and jugglers.

Beeves and Kenney have a dancing turn and these with Little Miss Dorothy in a beautifully illustrated song and the Lyricscope's motion pictures conclude a strong program.

the Teutonic to prepare for the rehearsals of her new play, "The Coming of Mrs. Patrick," soon to be produced by Walter N. Lawrence.

Maxine Elliott is now in London, where she brought out Esmond's new play "Under the Greenwood Tree," on the 11th inst. The play is said to be very successful, but critics state that it will undoubtedly prove more so on this side of the water than in its English capital.

Notwithstanding the fact that it took two flying trips to London and a great bidding in opposition to other permanent theatrical managers, John Corr finally secured for the use of his star, Maude Fealy, the great English comedy "The Stranger."

Miss Roselle Knott, who for several seasons has appeared on the road in "Whoo-Ka-Ka-Ka" and in "Paw-Paw" and other plays, has announced that she will retire permanently from the stage after the season and will live at her country home on Long Island with her family.

Ernest Lamson, at a dinner was attacking Christian Science in his whimsical way.

"I only know of one convert to Christian Science," he said, "with whom I Ernest Lamson, at a dinner, was at spise this man, but at the same time I can understand him."

"He came to me one day, and told me that he had become a Christian Scientist."

"What? No more doctors?" said I.

"No more doctors. No more medicine," he said firmly.

do so. Mr. Fliske's original opinion upon opening negotiations was to cast himself for a leading role in one of his productions, but the young actor is not sufficiently sure of his command of English to attempt a solo appearance in any but his native tongue. His idea is to play over the head of his own company, the performance being given entirely in Italian. The negotiations are still in progress, and are likely to reach a final point. Gustavo Melville seems destined to enter the ranks of his father's fame. He has won many triumphs in Italy in the repertoire which the actor intends to play, and has just concluded a tour of South America, where he duplicates his Italian success.

In estimating the property left by Richard Mansfield, no mention has been made of the stock rights to the plays in the great actor's repertoire. These rights are very valuable, and will bring into the exchequer a large income of many thousands of dollars. Arrangements have been made with Savoy & Company to lease the following plays among the stock companies: "Ivan the Terrible," "Don Carlos," "The Scarlet Letter," "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," "The Misanthrope," "A Parisian Romance," "The Merchant of Venice," "Friend Fritz," "Julius Caesar," "King Henry VI," "Julius III," "Peter Grunt," "Tynne Karl," "Capricorn," "Nero," and "Don Juan." "Boris Prummel" will not be leased to the stock companies during the present year.

It was in this play that Mr. Mansfield was appearing when he married Mrs. Mansfield, and, as a matter of sentiment, it will not be included among the other plays for the present.

New York theatergoers are not to see either Mr. Forbes Robertson or his wife, Miss Gertrude Elliott, this season. The tour of the English actress has been canceled owing to the ill health of Mr. Robertson, who it is said, may not be able to appear even in England until next season. Mr. Robertson and Miss Elliott were to have returned to this country late this autumn under the management of Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, but the English actor has sent them word that his illness will prevent him coming to America, provided that his tour was canceled some time ago, but it was thought he might recover and change his mind about coming to the

various eastern circuits.

New York theatergoers are not to see either Mr. Forbes Robertson or his wife, Miss Gertrude Elliott, this season.

The tour of the English actress has been canceled owing to the ill health of Mr. Robertson, who it is said, may not be able to appear even in England until next season. Mr. Robertson and Miss Elliott were to have returned to this country late this autumn under the management of Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, but the English actor has sent them word that his illness will prevent him coming to America, provided that his tour was canceled some time ago, but it was thought he might recover and change his mind about coming to the

various eastern circuits.

New York theatergoers are not to see either Mr. Forbes Robertson or his wife, Miss Gertrude Elliott, this season.

The tour of the English actress has been canceled owing to the ill health of Mr. Robertson, who it is said, may not be able to appear even in England until next season. Mr. Robertson and Miss Elliott were to have returned to this country late this autumn under the management of Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, but the English actor has sent them word that his illness will prevent him coming to America, provided that his tour was canceled some time ago, but it was thought he might recover and change his mind about coming to the

various eastern circuits.

New York theatergoers are not to see either Mr. Forbes Robertson or his wife, Miss Gertrude Elliott, this season.

The tour of the English actress has been canceled owing to the ill health of Mr. Robertson, who it is said, may not be able to appear even in England until next season. Mr. Robertson and Miss Elliott were to have returned to this country late this autumn under the management of Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, but the English actor has sent them word that his illness will prevent him coming to America, provided that his tour was canceled some time ago, but it was thought he might recover and change his mind about coming to the

various eastern circuits.

New York theatergoers are not to see either Mr. Forbes Robertson or his wife, Miss Gertrude Elliott, this season.

The tour of the English actress has been canceled owing to the ill health of Mr. Robertson, who it is said, may not be able to appear even in England until next season. Mr. Robertson and Miss Elliott were to have returned to this country late this autumn under the management of Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, but the English actor has sent them word that his illness will prevent him coming to America, provided that his tour was canceled some time ago, but it was thought he might recover and change his mind about coming to the

various eastern circuits.

New York theatergoers are not to see either Mr. Forbes Robertson or his wife, Miss Gertrude Elliott, this season.

The tour of the English actress has been canceled owing to the ill health of Mr. Robertson, who it is said, may not be able to appear even in England until next season. Mr. Robertson and Miss Elliott were to have returned to this country late this autumn under the management of Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, but the English actor has sent them word that his illness will prevent him coming to America, provided that his tour was canceled some time ago, but it was thought he might recover and change his mind about coming to the

various eastern circuits.

New York theatergoers are not to see either Mr. Forbes Robertson or his wife, Miss Gertrude Elliott, this season.

The tour of the English actress has been canceled owing to the ill health of Mr. Robertson, who it is said, may not be able to appear even in England until next season. Mr. Robertson and Miss Elliott were to have returned to this country late this autumn under the management of Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, but the English actor has sent them word that his illness will prevent him coming to America, provided that his tour was canceled some time ago, but it was thought he might recover and change his mind about coming to the

various eastern circuits.

New York theatergoers are not to see either Mr. Forbes Robertson or his wife, Miss Gertrude Elliott, this season.

The tour of the English actress has been canceled owing to the ill health of Mr. Robertson, who it is said, may not be able to appear even in England until next season. Mr. Robertson and Miss Elliott were to have returned to this country late this autumn under the management of Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, but the English actor has sent them word that his illness will prevent him coming to America, provided that his tour was canceled some time ago, but it was thought he might recover and change his mind about coming to the

various eastern circuits.

New York theatergoers are not to see either Mr. Forbes Robertson or his wife, Miss Gertrude Elliott, this season.

The tour of the English actress has been canceled owing to the ill health of Mr. Robertson, who it is said, may not be able to appear even in England until next season. Mr. Robertson and Miss Elliott were to have returned to this country late this autumn under the management of Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, but the English actor has sent them word that his illness will prevent him coming to America, provided that his tour was canceled some time ago, but it was thought he might recover and change his mind about coming to the

various eastern circuits.

New York theatergoers are not to see either Mr. Forbes Robertson or his wife, Miss Gertrude Elliott, this season.

The tour of the English actress has been canceled owing to the ill health of Mr. Robertson, who it is said, may not be able to appear even in England until next season. Mr. Robertson and Miss Elliott were to have returned to this country late this autumn under the management of Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, but the English actor has sent them word that his illness will prevent him coming to America, provided that his tour was canceled some time ago, but it was thought he might recover and change his mind about coming to the

various eastern circuits.

New York theatergoers are not to see either Mr. Forbes Robertson or his wife, Miss Gertrude Elliott, this season.

The tour of the English actress has been canceled owing to the ill health of Mr. Robertson, who it is said, may not be able to appear even in England until next season. Mr. Robertson and Miss Elliott were to have returned to this country late this autumn under the management of Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, but the English actor has sent them word that his illness will prevent him coming to America, provided that his tour was canceled some time ago, but it was thought he might recover and change his mind about coming to the

various eastern circuits.

New York theatergoers are not to see either Mr. Forbes Robertson or his wife, Miss Gertrude Elliott, this season.

The tour of the English actress has been canceled owing to the ill health of Mr. Robertson, who it is said, may not be able to appear even in England until next season. Mr. Robertson and Miss Elliott were to have returned to this country late this autumn under the management of Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, but the English actor has sent them word that his illness will prevent him coming to America, provided that his tour was canceled some time ago, but it was thought he might recover and change his mind about coming to the

various eastern circuits.

New York theatergoers are not to see either Mr. Forbes Robertson or his wife, Miss Gertrude Elliott, this season.

The tour of the English actress has been canceled owing to the ill health of Mr. Robertson, who it is said, may not be able to appear even in England until next season. Mr. Robertson and Miss Elliott were to have returned to this country late this autumn under the management of Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, but the English actor has sent them word that his illness will prevent him coming to America, provided that his tour was canceled some time ago, but it was thought he might recover and change his mind about coming to the

various eastern circuits.

New York theatergoers are not to see either Mr. Forbes Robertson or his wife, Miss Gertrude Elliott, this season.

The tour of the English actress has been canceled owing to the ill health of Mr. Robertson, who it is said, may not be able to appear even in England until next season. Mr. Robertson and Miss Elliott were to have returned to this country late this autumn under the management of Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, but the English actor has sent them word that his illness will prevent him coming to America, provided that his tour was canceled some time ago, but it was thought he might recover and change his mind about coming to the

various eastern circuits.

New York theatergoers are not to see either Mr. Forbes Robertson or his wife, Miss Gertrude Elliott, this season.

The tour of the English actress has been canceled owing to the ill health of Mr. Robertson, who it is said, may not be able to appear even in England until next season. Mr. Robertson and Miss Elliott were to have returned to this country late this autumn under the management of Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, but the English actor has sent them word that his illness will prevent him coming to America, provided that his tour was canceled some time ago, but it was thought he might recover and change his mind about coming to the

various eastern circuits.

New York theatergoers are not to see either Mr. Forbes Robertson or his wife, Miss Gertrude Elliott, this season.

The tour of the English actress has been canceled owing to the ill health of Mr. Robertson, who it is said, may not be able to appear even in England until next season. Mr. Robertson and Miss Elliott were to have returned to this country late this autumn under the management of Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, but the English actor has sent them word that his illness will prevent him coming to America, provided that his tour was canceled some time ago, but it was thought he might recover and change his mind about coming to the

various eastern circuits.

New York theatergoers are not to see either Mr. Forbes Robertson or his wife, Miss Gertrude Elliott, this season.

The tour of the English actress has been canceled owing to the ill health of Mr. Robertson, who it is said, may not be able to appear even in England until next season. Mr. Robertson and Miss Elliott were to have returned to this country late this autumn under the management of Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, but the English actor has sent them word that his illness will prevent him coming to America, provided that his tour was canceled some time ago, but it was thought he might recover and change his mind about coming to the

various eastern circuits.

New York theatergoers are not to see either Mr. Forbes Robertson or his wife, Miss Gertrude Elliott, this season.

The tour of the English actress has been canceled owing to the ill health of Mr. Robertson, who it is said, may not be able to appear even in England until next season. Mr. Robertson and Miss Elliott were to have returned to this country late this autumn under the management of Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, but the English actor has sent them word that his illness will prevent him coming to America, provided that his tour was canceled some time ago, but it was thought he might recover and change his mind about coming to the

various eastern circuits.

New York theatergoers are not to see either Mr. Forbes Robertson or his wife, Miss Gertrude Elliott, this season.

The tour of the English actress has been canceled owing to the ill health of Mr. Robertson, who it is said, may not be able to appear even in England until next season. Mr. Robertson and Miss Elliott were to have returned to this country late this autumn under the management of Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, but the English actor has sent them word that his illness will prevent him coming to America, provided that his tour was canceled some time ago, but it was thought he might recover and change his mind about coming to the

various eastern circuits.

New York theatergoers are not to see either Mr. Forbes Robertson or his wife, Miss Gertrude Elliott, this season.

The tour of the English actress has been canceled owing to the ill health of Mr. Robertson, who it is said, may not be able to appear even in England until next season. Mr. Robertson and Miss Elliott were to have returned to this country late this autumn under the management of Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, but the English actor has sent them word that his illness will prevent him coming to America, provided that his tour was canceled some time ago, but it was thought he might recover and change his mind about coming to the

various eastern circuits.

New York theatergoers are not to see either Mr. Forbes Robertson or his wife, Miss Gertrude Elliott, this season.

The tour of the English actress has been canceled owing to the ill health of Mr. Robertson, who it is said, may not be able to appear even in England until next season. Mr. Robertson and Miss Elliott were to have returned to this country late this autumn under the management of Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, but the English actor has sent them word that his illness will prevent him coming to America, provided that his tour was canceled some time ago, but it was thought he might recover and change his mind about coming to the

various eastern circuits.

New York theatergoers are not to see either Mr. Forbes Robertson or his wife, Miss Gertrude Elliott, this season.

The tour of the English actress has been canceled owing to the ill health of Mr. Robertson, who it is said, may not be able to appear even in England until next season. Mr. Robertson and Miss Elliott were to have returned to this country late this autumn under the management of Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, but the English actor has sent them word that his illness will prevent him coming to America, provided that his tour was canceled some time ago, but it was thought he might recover and change his mind about coming to the

various eastern circuits.

New York theatergoers are not to see either Mr. Forbes Robertson or his wife, Miss Gertrude Elliott, this season.

The tour of the English actress has been canceled owing to the ill health of Mr. Robertson, who it is said, may not be able to appear even in England until next season. Mr. Robertson and Miss Elliott were to have returned to this country late this autumn under the management of Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, but the English actor has sent them word that his illness will prevent him coming to America, provided that his tour was canceled some time ago, but it was thought he might recover and change his mind about coming to the

various eastern circuits.

New York theatergoers are not to see either Mr. Forbes Robertson or his wife, Miss Gertrude Elliott, this season.

The tour of the English actress has been canceled owing to the ill health of Mr. Robertson, who it is said, may not be able to appear even in England until next season. Mr. Robertson and Miss Elliott were to have returned to this country late this autumn under the management of Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, but the English actor has sent them word that his illness will prevent him coming to America, provided that his tour was canceled some time ago, but it was thought he might recover and change his mind about coming to the various eastern circuits.