

EVENING NEWS.

PUBLISHED DAILY, SUNDAYS EXCEPTED AT EIGHT O'CLOCK.

DAVID O. CALDER,
EDITOR AND PUBLISHER.

Friday, July 9, 1875.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

A daring attempt was made last night to rob the Adams Express car, on the Vandale railroad; for full particulars see telegrams of to-day's date.

There was a fatal quarrel between two pilots at Cincinnati last night.

Gold hunters are daily leaving Sioux City for the Black Hills.

A Washington special is responsible for the assertion that the republican congressional committee is receiving secret contributions a sum total of one per cent of their salaries for electioneering purposes in the Fall.

Engagements have recently taken place between government and insurgent troops in Cuba.

The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, of Milford, Pa., has filed a bill in equity against the Erie Railroad, upon thirty millions of their consolidated mortgages.

The American life companies have been to see the Giant's Causeway.

The London Canada Club, last night, gave a banquet to Lord Dufferin, Governor General of the Dominion of Canada.

Present prospects promise a good hop crop in England.

The heir apparent to the British throne will start on a visit to India in October next.

Several people were killed by hailstones during a recent storm in the Canton of Geneva, Switzerland.

A commercial crash is imminent in Norway.

The headquarters of the National Grange has been removed from Washington, D. C., to Louisville, Ky.

Montgomery, Georgia, is to be brought to trial on the indictment for perjury, found against him about a year ago in connection with the Beecher-Tilton case.

Many of the clergy and leading citizens of Brooklyn will shortly give a public social reception to Mr. Beecher, as an expression of their confidence and esteem; the managing committee is already appointed.

An illicit rum distillery has been seized at New Orleans.

Money-lenders have taken place in France, and floods are feared in several of the principal valleys.

General F. P. Blair, Jun., is dead.

The people of Ireland are still honoring their conquerors, the American riflemen.

D. G. Lobdell, special supervising agent of the U. S. Treasury Department, is dead.

The Western Union Telegraph Company announces that they will pay cash and interest for their bonds maturing November first.

Thirty-five thousand dollars damage by fire St. Stephen, Me.

NEWS NOTES.

At Carson, June 20th, the thermometer showed 100 degrees in the shade at noon.

Among the wedding presents given to an Iowa bride, was a lead minnie.

There were two suicides accomplished and one attempted at San Francisco on the 5th of July.

Death from lightning is said to be absolutely certain in its victim is killed before he knows it.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamb, of Kentucky, have been married twenty-four years and have had twenty-three children.

What the sensationalists call the "great murder" has been abolished in Iowa. But illegal murder seems to have taken its place. The benefit of the change is not appreciated.

Some Savannah ladies have pledged their word of honor, each to the other, that they will not, for one moment, let any material or writing apparel which costs an exceed in cost 25 cents per yard.

Kentucky counsel for the defense are discussing whether worthless $5 notes on the First National Bank of Canton, Ill., can be legally called "counterfeits" when "there is no such bank in existence."

Mr. Bough is needed in Paris, if the statement be true that certain owners of such ponies buy up horses there and send them to work to feed their leashes. The horses are staked in the pond up to their bellies, when the jockeys immediately attach themselves to them and suck the blood out of them, which takes one or two days to do.

In Spain a poor musician hanged himself at night with a cord made by rolling together a number of fiddle strings, but a favorite monkey hanged himself by playing with his master's bow on this new sort of fiddle, and made such a row as to wake every one in the house, and the fiddler was cut down in time to save his life.

A northern female philanthropist, according to a Pittsburgh paper, the other day, inquired: "Isn't it pleasant to be your own master?" "I reckon it is," he replied. "And how do the colored people generally get along?" "Well, I don't know about that," I guess now our feel pretty hungry," was the answer.—Pittsburgh Herald.

In an action before the Marine Court, lately, it seems that all the witnesses had been married and were now divorced. We think it would be well for Moody and Sankey to go home and begin a series of service interviews, as well as Brooklyn.—N. Y. Herald.

The consumption of snails in the South Tyrol is constantly growing; but the Italians and Tyrolese are not the only people who appreciate the merits of these clean-eating molluscs. In Paris Burgundian snails cost one cent apiece, and 25,000 weight of snails are disposed of in the markets in the course of a year.

The notorious incapacity of the New York and Brooklyn detective police has of late been a constant topic with the press of the two cities. Some of the papers, however, attribute the inefficiency of the police to corruption rather than lack of skill. The testimony of detective William A. Martin to the Legislative Investigating Committee tends to confirm this view.

The Turners have taken up a new form of industry, which will follow with unopposed enterprise. They have become adepts in founding textile mills; and English sewing cotton, hardware, Cognac, also Jamaica rum, pickles and quinine are among the commodities on which they exercise their ingenuity. According to an English correspondent, French Indians are extensively manufactured in Connecticut. A native wine is the foundation, and various deleterious substances are mixed with it, the compound being made to pass for Medoc or Chateau-Margaux.

A WORLD OF FALSEHOOD.

THAT we live in a world where falsehood, straight out, down-right, abounds, cannot be denied. The consolation remains that, in the world is false, it is also honest. The dramatist writes, "How the world is given to lying." The Faustus, it is agreed, "I said in my haste, All men are liars, and the Scotch poet thought he might have said it at his leisure too.

One of the most notorious instances of the extent to which men and women will depart from the truth was afforded in the celebrated Tichborne Trial in England.

By more demonstrative instances of human mendacity is furnished the disgusting Brooklyn scandal case in this country. In this long drawn-out case men and women, moving in respectable and religious circles, most solemnly testified to diametrically opposite things, and in such a way that some of those individuals could not be other than unmitigated liars of the first water.

Old as is the notion of human falsehood, these later flagrant exhibitions of it, and especially in this Brooklyn affair, are enough to shock a conscientious man or woman, and almost to destroy one's faith in human truthfulness and credibility.

The damage done to the morals of the community by the revelations of human weakness and wickedness in this famous trial must be immense, and far-reaching in their effects in the future.

One of the worst things pertaining to the trial is that the grand jury go unpunished to mingle in society much as before. The defendant in the case, who has been legally neither convicted nor acquitted, has even had his church salary quintupled, notwithstanding the inconclusiveness of the trial and the misty atmosphere which still pervades the whole affair. If the case had been less foggy, if the parson, whatever it actually may be, had been clearly proved against the perfurers, and they had been held up to public reprobation, while the innocent had been vindicated with equal conciseness, then the public might have been greatly benefitted, albeit it there can hardly be such a thing as handling such a mass of falsehood and filth which this trial has brought to the surface without somebody or other becoming tainted by the contact. One cannot handle pitch without being defiled, and those who wish to be clean will therefore keep themselves at a respectful distance from it, so long as they can.

There does indeed seem to be a likelihood that the alleged Loeser-Price conspirators will be punished for perjury, but the circumstance that these non-wealthy and comparatively characterless and friendless individuals are fiercely pounced upon as the scapegoats of this Brooklyn scandal, while the high prominent parties escape scot-free, is one of the most puerile endings of such a notorious and widely absorbing case that could possibly be imagined.

We have not admitted into the pages of the News the column after a volume of testimony which this slobbering trial has called up. We have considered it no part of our duty, as conductors of a religious and family newspaper, to do so. Nor can we approve of the prevalent practice of publishing for general reading such repulsive details of lives which every one should strive not to live.

NEW INTERNATIONAL POSTAL RATES.

The public should remember that the new international postal rates, resulting from the International Postal Convention are now in effect. The single rate for prepaid letters, not exceeding half an ounce in weight, is five cents from the United States to the following countries—

Germany, Austria, Hungary, Poland and Paro Islands; Egypt, Spain (including the Canary Islands), the Spanish possessions on the northern coast of Africa, and the postal establishments of Morocco; Great Britain (including the Island of Malta), Italy, France, Portugal, Germany, the Netherlands, Poland, (including the Islands of Madeira and the Azores), Roumania, Russia (including the Grand Duchy of Finland), Sweden, Switzerland, and Turkey.

Here are the tariff rates—

On letters of one-half ounce, weight, or fraction thereof, five cents, prepayment optional. But letters forwarded unpaid or insufficient will be charged double rate or twice the postage on one cent in addition to the stamp when bought. Two cents for each newspaper not over four ounces; books and other printed matter and merchandise patterns weighing one-half ounce or fraction of two, one cent postage. Registration fee on all correspondence eight cents. On all other postal matter prepayment is compulsory. The maximum weight of merchandise to be sent by mail is three quarters ounce and of all other matter except letters two pounds three ounces. Postage will not come under these rates until January 1, 1876.

OPPIUM RATING.

The New York Sun in an article upon opium-eating states that there are upwards of a hundred thousand victims of this insidious, debilitating, and debasing habit in the United States, and the number is rapidly increasing, the increase during the last few years being from fifty to seventy-five per cent, and that most of the victims of this habit are females.

Two hundred thousand of this drug are imported annually at New York and other ports, under the large amounts of native opium made from the juice of poppies, grown in various parts of the country. The use of preparations of opium in the country trade are out of proportion to those of other drugs. It is sold in the same as smoking opium, snuff, powder, tincture, essence, and various antidotes, pills, and many other nostrums, as well as alcoholic liquors.

Morewood, regarded as a trustworthy authority, says: "The general use of opium and other stimulants, so far as may be known from the mandate of the law, forbids the taking of opium."

The recent increased use of opium in this country is ascribed to three causes—

1st. The greater frequency of the prescription of it by medical men. 2nd. The prohibition and unpopularity of alcoholic stimulants. 3rd. The excitement, suffering and mental disquietude resulting from the late war.

To this may be added a fourth for any very recent increase in the use, which is, the privation, depression of spirit, dejection, and hope deferred arising out of the financial panic and general business of business throughout the country the last year or two.

It is stated that among the most solemnly testified to diametrically opposite things, and in such a way that some of those individuals could not be other than unmitigated liars of the first water.

Old as is the notion of human falsehood, these later flagrant exhibitions of it, and especially in this Brooklyn affair, are enough to shock a conscientious man or woman, and almost to destroy one's faith in human truthfulness and credibility.

The damage done to the morals of the community by the revelations of human weakness and wickedness in this famous trial must be immense, and far-reaching in their effects in the future.

One of the worst things pertaining to the trial is that the grand jury go unpunished to mingle in society much as before. The defendant in the case, who has been legally neither convicted nor acquitted, has even had his church salary quintupled, notwithstanding the inconclusiveness of the trial and the misty atmosphere which still pervades the whole affair. If the case had been less foggy, if the parson, whatever it actually may be, had been clearly proved against the perfurers, and they had been held up to public reprobation, while the innocent had been vindicated with equal conciseness, then the public might have been greatly benefitted, albeit it there can hardly be such a thing as handling such a mass of falsehood and filth which this trial has brought to the surface without somebody or other becoming tainted by the contact. One cannot handle pitch without being defiled, and those who wish to be clean will therefore keep themselves at a respectful distance from it, so long as they can.

There does indeed seem to be a likelihood that the alleged Loeser-Price conspirators will be punished for perjury, but the circumstance that these non-wealthy and comparatively characterless and friendless individuals are fiercely pounced upon as the scapegoats of this Brooklyn scandal, while the high prominent parties escape scot-free, is one of the most puerile endings of such a notorious and widely absorbing case that could possibly be imagined.

We have not admitted into the pages of the News the column after a volume of testimony which this slobbering trial has called up. We have considered it no part of our duty, as conductors of a religious and family newspaper, to do so. Nor can we approve of the prevalent practice of publishing for general reading such repulsive details of lives which every one should strive not to live.

GENERAL ELECTION.

1875.

The QUALIFIED ELECTORS of SALT LAKE COUNTY will take notice that the General Election for the year 1875 will be held on the 2nd day of August next, for the purpose of electing the following officers of the State.

Three Commissioners to locate University.

Four Councilors to the Legislative Assembly for Salt Lake, Summit, and Tooele Counties.

One Selectman in place of Isaac M. Smith, to be chosen on the 2nd day of August next, and one Justice of the Peace.

One Coroner for Salt Lake County.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Sandy Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Granite Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Little Cottonwood Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Alpine Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Ogden Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Layton Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pleasant Grove Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Magna Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Coal Creek Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Bear River Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.

One Justice of the Peace and one Constable for Pine Valley Precinct.