The victorious Elks have left Chicago and Exalted Ruler Fred wired Captain Etoh that they would reach Salt Lake Sunday evening. Captain Stoll wired back telling them to put in a day somewhere along the road in order to bring them in here on Monday. They were doing so, so that the victors can be given a reception at a Elks without marring the Sabbath.

A young man and young lady from the country left the city last morning in a very great hurry. They started down State street in a buggy, when their horse became frightened and broke into a mad run. When last seen the young man was pling the whip vigorously to the animal and the young lady was sitting back quietly with a complacent smile on her face.

Last evening Land and Water Commissioner Westerfield turned all of the water in the system with the exception of the one-fifth which the farmers use for irrigating. Up to this time the water not needed in the system has been thrown over the city's land at the head of the creek, instead of letting it run into the Jordan, so that the spring may not dry up in the dog days. The increased volume of water in the pipes today is about 40 per cent.

William Rogie, an inmate of the county infirmary, aged 64 years, was nearly killed yesterday in a runaway.

Rogie has managed to earn a dollar from time to time by peddling, and having some friends at Colorado Springs who offered to take care of him, he decided to go there and was on his way to the depot when the accident happened. He was walking in the road when a farmer in a wagon passed and he asked for a ride. After traveling a little further a camel from the Midway passed and the horses began to run. Rogie, who was on the road, was thrown out of the wagon. Three of his ribs were fractured and he was hurt in other parts of the body. The driver was not hurt, and helped to put the injured man on a car, which took him back to the infirmary. On arriving there County Physician Mayo attended him. His ticket to Colorado Springs had been provided by the county commissioners.

PACIFIC ISLANDERS ARE ARRIVING

One of the most popular gatherings of the year will be Pacific Islanders' day at Saltair on Wednesday, July 31. Excursions will be run from Weber and Davis counties on the north and from Juab and Utah counties on the south. From distant points some old Pacific Island veterans have already arrived, including the pioneer missionary, Elder John S. Woodbury from St. George, who was one of the first company of ten elders sent to the Sandwich Islands. Elder Woodbury has served about ten years among the Hawaiians and he is now eagerly looking forward to his duty.

Elder William Gardner, ex-president of the Australasian branch, has come in from Pine Valley, Washington county, and he expects some real nose salutes and "honors" from his old associates and native friends from New Zealand.

The general committee has received encouraging reports from the outside Pacific counties and it is expected that it will be a gala day for Salt Lake county.

Numerous Wednesday gatherings have been arranged to permit the people to visit Saltair on Wednesday next. Special arrangements are being made to furnish seats for everybody during the afternoon. The train leaving the city at 2:30 p. m. will arrive in time for the program commencing at 3 p. m. as follows:

Opening selection by double quartet by returned missionaries.

Invocation by a veteran Polynesian. Quartet by returned elders. Address by the General Polynesian, by President Joseph P. Smith, who has spent many years among the Hawaiians.

The Hawaiians will present a Hawaiian Lullaby, a song in honor of a missionary family returning home. This will consist of preparing the Hawaiian food, which will subsequently be served, and the Polynesian method of cooking vegetables, fish, etc. Between the scenes native Sandwich Islanders will give a double quartet. The second scene will show the Hawaiians and missionaries feasting and their peculiar method of singing and chanting for the guests of honor. The Society Islanders have, heretofore, rendered attractive numbers and this Polynesian will present a "Washday at Tahiti," showing how the natives perform their laundry work. Washing and ironing in true Polynesian style will be shown in native costume.

Samoan customs are also very peculiar.

Under the name of a returned missionary, a group of elders, sailors at conference, Tahitian Chiefs, Tahitian Market Place, Tahitian Tahitians, a Tahitian Street in Papeete, a Tahitian Scene, etc.

Australian pictures will show a Typical Native Girl, Up. An Australian, Arrival of "One," a Baptism, a Tangi-hanga, Australian Scenes, Views from Tasmania, etc. This will undoubtedly present the most attractive group given at Saltair and a most entertaining time as assured.

Visitors from the various islands will be shown the respective colors. Sandwich Islanders will wear yellow, Samoans red, Australians, New Zealanders and Tasmanians blue, and Society Islanders, lavender.

Exhibitors from the various islands will be arranged on the west side of the dancing pavilion.

WISER WORDS FROM WISE MINDS

The family paper is pre-eminently the evening paper. Only a small percentage of any family has leisure to do more than to scan the morning paper, which comes into the household when the head of the family is rushing to prepare for work, the children are bustling off to school, and the housewife has her hands full of the usual morning duties. At night the day is over, calm broods over the household and the evening paper is taken up when all its contents can be heard, weighed and discussed. The evening paper is decidedly the paper for advertisers.—Common Sense.
