LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY JULY 13.

Jack Frost.—Sundays' cold spell brought down the frost in several parts of the city. Some of the corn and potatoes were badly nipped by the frigid gentleman above; during his midnight rambles.

Coming to "the Village."—The Junction says:

It is expected that not less than 1,000 people from Weber County will visit Salt Lake on the twenty-fourth.

Very Ill.—We regret much to learn of the serious illness of Bishop Edwin D. Woolley, of this city. His ailment is erysipelas, and for several days he has been quite low. There was an improvement in his condition at last accounts.

Died from his Wound.—The night-watchman, Pascoe Bruce, or Bruce Paschall as the name is given by some, whom we noticed last evening as having accidentally shot himself at Milford a few evenings ago died from his wound, and has been brought to this city and buried.

Mysterious Disappearance.—Last evening, Mr. J. E. Murphy, of Mill Creek, drove up to the Co-op, and leaving his horse and buggy outside, went in to do some trading. He remained inside about 20 minutes, but on returning his horse and vehicle were missing. Not seeing them anywhere in the vicinity he commenced a search, but was not successful in obtaining any information of them. Borrowing a buggy from a friend, he proceeded homeward. At the residence of his sister, in the 10th Ward, he learned that a team answering the description of his own had been driven past her house by a couple of boys which she supposed were his own sons. He drove on, but heard or saw nothing more of his lost team. This morning his horse, minus the harness and buggy, came home with nothing on but a halter. Mr. Murphy had not learned anything more of the matter at the time of his visit to this office this morning.

The Celebration.—The committee on the 24th of July celebration met again last evening. Sixty sub-committees, heretofore appointed, reported themselves ready to take part in the procession, and it was also learned that about ten brass and martial bands would be on hand to supply the music of the day. The following additions to committees were made:

Nationalities.—B. H. Schettler, H. G. Park, George Manwaring, R. G. Lambert and William L. Binder.

Educational.—Frank Armstrong. Merchants and Bankers.—W. H. Hooper.

Hon. Wm. Jennings was appointed a committee of one for the board of regents of the University of Deseret.

A communication was received from seven New Englanders, asking the privilege of representing, by tableau, the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers at Plymouth Rock. It was passed upon favorably.

Other communications were read and acted upon and the secretary instructed to reply, giving the decision of the committee.

The route of the procession was determined upon as follows: The head of the column will rest on the corner of First South and Second West Streets; and will counter-march to Seventh East Street, on the south side of First South, and will continue the countermarch back on the north side to Third East, thence north to South Temple, thence to Temple Block.

Those in carriages and on horseback who intend to participate in the proceedings in the Tabernacle will proceed to the west gate of the Temple Block and there dismount, while those on foot will enter by the south gate.

The order of procession was pretty thoroughly discussed, but the committee is not yet prepared to report. Adjourned till Wednesday evening at the same place and hour.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY, JULY 14.

Correction.—We are requested by Sister Ellen S. Clawson to correct the impression that prevails, that during the 24th celebration the Sunday Schools and Primary Associations will be separated. The announcement to that effect, in the Sunday School Union Meeting, was a mistake. The Sunday Schools and Primaries will amalgamate on that occasion, form at the same place to view the procession, and occupy the same seats in the Tabernacle.

For Sale Here.—Arrangements have been made by the author, with this office, to sell here the pamphlets containing the poems, "Women of the Everlasting Covenant" and the "Land of Shimehah." The price is 15 cents. The pamphlet may also be obtained at the Exposition office, as before.

More Celebrations.—Wallsburgh, Wasatch County, celebrated Independence Day as follows: At sunrise the militia fired a salute; at 9 o'clock a procession of Sunday School children and citizens paraded the streets, after which the public gathered in the school house, where an interesting programme was carried out under the direction of Daniel Bigelow, Marshal of the day. Various amusements in the afternoon and an enjoyable dance at night wound up the proceedings.

At Price Ward, Washington County, the exercises were similar in character. A salute at sunrise and the unfurling of the Stars and Stripes; a meeting in the bowery, where the usual programme was gone through, superintended by William Atkin; a juvenile dance in the afternoon and a ball for the grown folks in the evening. We are indebted to correspondents for the above items.

Another Vicious Action.—Last evening, we recorded the stealing of a horse and buggy on Monday afternoon, from the Co-op, hitching rail, the team being the property of a Mr. Murphy, of Mill Creek. Last evening about 4 o'clock a similar circumstance occurred, at the same place. Mr. J. B. Nobles, of Sessions settlement, tied his horses, attached to a wagon, near the Co-op, and while he was inside, the team was taken possession of and driven off. The owner immediately instituted a search, telegraphed in every direction after the missing team, and had his son out hunting for it all night. This morning he came across the wreck of the wagon in a gulch in the neighborhood of the Salt Lake City Brewery, 10th Ward. The horses were standing near by, hitched to a fence. From a couple of boys, Mr. Nobles learned that yesterday afternoon, while a number of boys were bathing in the gulch, which forms a pool of water near there, the horses and wagon came down from the Brewery at a break-neck speed and went over the embankment, smashing the wagon badly and injuring one of the animals. The boys caught the horses and hitched them at the place where they were found this morning. From all ascertained, it appears that a party of drunken rascals must have taken the team from the Co-op, driven out to the Brewery and then left the horses to run away. The matter should be and will be investigated. Captain Burt is informed of the circumstance, and is now looking the matter up. It would be a good idea to visit the Brewery, and learn, if possible, if the parties who took the wagon in that direction stopped there, and if they can be identified. We hope the scoundrels will be caught and severely punished.

FROM THURSDAY'S DAILY, JULY 15.

Home on Sunday.—A private telegram from President A. O. Smoot states that he arrived in San Francisco, from the Sandwich Islands, yesterday. He will reach Ogden Sunday morning.

Descendants of the Pilgrims, Attention!—All descendants of the Pilgrims of Plymouth Rock, are cordially invited to join in following the Pilgrim tableau car in the procession on the 24th, and are requested to report by letter or otherwise, to Nathaniel H. Felt, Chairman of the organization of the natives of New England, or to George Hamlin, or Phoebe Woodruff, of the committee of arrangements.

Two Engines Collide.—Ogden had a railroad collision yesterday morning, between the Central Pacific switch engine and the engine of the Utah Central accommodation train. The Junction says the former was endeavoring to pass over the track where the two lines cross, just as the latter was moving into the station. The U. C. engine tore off the rear truck of the other's tender, did other damage, and was somewhat battered itself. No further harm.

Railroad Talk.—Under this caption, yesterday's Enquirer has the following:

"There has been considerable said of late about a project said to be in contemplation for the building of a road from Echo, on the U. P. railroad, through to this city, to join the Utah Southern at this point. There appears now to be good foundation for the rumor from what we have been able to ascertain from railroad men. The contemplated road will run from Echo to Park City, thence to Heber City, Wasatch County, and from there down Provo Canyon to Provo City. This road will take away from the Utah Central all the traffic coming over the Union Pacific that is designed for the Utah Southern and Southern Pacific, thus avoiding Ogden and Salt Lake.

Shot and Killed.—The Silver Reef Miner of the 10th inst., says:

"On Sunday evening last, about six o'clock, news was brought into town that a man named William Hillburn had been shot and killed at or near Grapevine Springs, about two miles east of Silver Reef. Officers immediately started for the scene of the tragedy, where they found the dead body of Hillburn, and also placed under arrest James Pollard and J. B. Stephens, both residents of the Reef, as the alleged perpetrators of the deed.

As near as we can learn, without having sworn testimony before us, the circumstances leading to the unfortunate affair, are about as follows: Deceased was a miner, and for two or three months past had been working in the Buckeye mine. Some time last week he ordered Stephens to make him a pair of boots, promising to pay for them as soon as he drew his money at the mine. In the meantime, it is said that Pollard went Hillburn's security to Stephens for $15, the price of the boots. Soon afterward Hillburn drew his money from the Stormont Company and left town without settling the bill. Hearing that the delinquent was at Grapevine Springs, Pollard and Stephens went out there on Sunday evening and found him. A quarrel ensued, and Hillburn was shot through the head, being killed almost instantaneously. The body was brought to town, and an inquest held on the following day, the verdict rendered being to the effect that deceased came to his death from a gunshot wound, said shot being fired out of a weapon in the hands of J. B. Stephens.

Robbed and Nearly Murdered.—Last Tuesday night, between 9 and 10 o'clock, a German peddler was set upon by two ruffians, near the depot in Ogden, shot and badly bruised, and robbed of $150 in greenbacks. From his account, it appears that he first met the fellows at Green River, where they asked him for some money. He refused to give them any, but offered to pay for their meals at a hotel, if they were hungry. They accepted the invitation and soon afterward disappeared. On Tuesday morning the peddler reached Ogden, and among the first persons he encountered were the two recipients of his generosity at Green River. They renewed his acquaintance and were in his company all day, drinking beer and having a sociable time generally. About half-past 8 in the evening, the two comrades invited their pedler acquaintance to take a walk along the railroad track, a short distance from the depot, under pretense of showing him the town. Suspecting nothing, he consented and accompanied them. When in the vicinity of the Round House, northwest of the depot, one of the roughs went inside a fence near by and bringing out a bundle asked the German to carry it. The latter now having an inkling of distrust, refused to accede, whereupon both his companions set upon him. He resisted their attempts to throw him until he was shot, when he fell and while one of the villains beat him, and sat upon him with a drawn pistol to his head, the other went through his clothing and robbed him of his money. In one of his boots was $150, which they took, boots and all, leaving him instead a pair of old shoes. They then decamped and the injured man, who had retained consciousness all the time, staggered to his feet and made his way to where he was assisted to a surgeon, who dressed his wounds. He says that six shots were fired at him, two of which struck him. He had two wounds on the face and lost much blood.

Officer William Brown and Alma Keyes went immediately in search of the robbers, and yesterday captured one of them near town. At last accounts, the other highwayman was still at large. We are indebted to the Junction for the above.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR PIONEER DAY.

A cordial invitation is extended to the young men of Utah to join the Young Men's Mutual Improvement Associations in the celebration of Pioneer Day, Saturday, July 24th, 1880.

The Associations will rally on the morning of the 24th at 8 a. m. on First West Street, between South Temple and First South Streets, opposite President Taylor's residence.

The several counties participating will raise their respective banners half an hour earlier at places on the street, to be designated by the officers in charge.

The President of each association will muster as many members as possible, and with banner, motto or flag, report to his County Superintendent.

The Superintendents and their Assistants will please organize all their members in close marching order, four abreast, the officers of Associations on the left; and instruct them to walk in line, and to preserve the column with military precision as nearly as possible.

A badge, to distinguish our organization, will be worn by each member. The Superintendents will supply them on the morning of the celebration.

We designate as officers in charge First Assistant, Junius F. Wells; Treasurer, William S. Burton and Secretary Heber J. Grant, who will select such assistants as may be required and direct the forming of the column in marching order.

We trust all the officers will be energetic in mustering the members and organizing them as directed; in preparing banners and flags and appropriate mottoes, and that they will preserve good order, regularity and uniform respect and goodfeeling, that our ranks may present the cheerful appearance of a host of young men devoted to the cause of self culture and mutual improvement.

In consequence of other duties requiring our attention on the day of celebration, we will be obliged to leave all details in the hands of the officers in charge.
