

RUSTON, March 12.—Two more of the leaders in the recent insurrection have been sentenced to death, and 125 other participants in the revolt have been sentenced to prison.

PARIS, March 12.—A sharp shock of earthquake was felt throughout the city yesterday. For a time there was a general panic and the hotels and the houses were emptied of their occupants in a very few seconds. The people were reassured. It is found that many walls of buildings in various parts of the city were cracked.

MONTÉ CARLO, March 12.—The recurrence of the earthquakes at different points in the Riviera has induced a fresh rush of frightened tourists here from Nice, Cannes and San Remo.

LONDON, March 12.—Directors Barber and Marsden, of the Great Eastern Steamship Co., have been sentenced to six months' imprisonment, and Brown, the ship broker, has been sentenced to three months' imprisonment for defrauding the company.

BOSTON, March 12.—Patrolman O'Neill attempted to arrest a man on Dorchester avenue this morning suspected of having been concerned in a burglary last night. He touched the man on the arm, when the latter drew a revolver and fired three shots, all taking effect in O'Neill's body. He cannot recover. His assailant escaped.

CHICAGO, March 12.—Sheriff Mattson said to-day it had been decided to not permit Oscar Neebe to attend the funeral of his wife to-morrow. It has been decided by the authorities that the presence of Neebe would only tend to incite disorder on the part of the anarchists. The advice of the police department are to effect that fully ten thousand people who sympathize with the red flag will parade to-morrow, and these people once excited might commit some overt act which might result in an outbreak, and under the circumstances they have decided not to complicate matters by having one of the condemned anarchists in their midst.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The President has appointed Frank W. Bean, of Utah, to be register of the land office at Blackfoot (formerly Oxford), Idaho, vice August Duddenhouse, resigned.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The Transatlantic keel schooner yacht race from "Owl's Head," New York harbor, to Roche's Point, Queenstown harbor, will be started, the weather permitting, at one o'clock to-day. Every stay rope, halyard, line, brace, sheet, bolt and tackle on the Dauntless were carefully inspected for the last time by Captain Samuels yesterday afternoon and Captain Crosby did the same service aboard the Coronet. Both pronounced the yachts in perfect order and fully ready to encounter the gales which are expected and perhaps hoped for on the passage. The time of crossing the line of each yacht will be taken, but it will have no effect in deciding the result, as after the signal has been given both boats will be considered as having started, the one that reaches Roche's Point first will be the winner. The race grew out of a discussion among several yachtsmen late last fall regarding the relative merits of various American yachts in heavy weather.

The Coronet has two distinct advantages over the Dauntless, her rival; she is larger and newer. She was built at South Brooklyn, in 1885, while the Dauntless was constructed twenty-one years ago at Mystic Bridge, Conn. The betting is even. The narrows are filled with numerous yachts and other craft to witness the departure of the Yankee schooner. The last signal was given from Fort Hamilton at ten minutes after one o'clock, and within a few minutes both of the ocean racers had crossed the imaginary line and started on their way to Cork harbor, the Coronet leading. The wind was twenty-four miles an hour and increasing.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The remains of the late Rev. Henry Ward Beecher were taken from Plymouth church at 8:30 this morning and conveyed to Greenwood cemetery, where they were deposited in the large receiving vault where they will remain until the family select a lot for final interment. All night long the church was guarded by Plymouth Company G, and at 7 this morning the remains were turned over to the Plymouth church committee, who had charge of the burial. Only the family and close personal friends of the deceased went out to the cemetery. The funeral cortege proceeded from the church to Greenwood cemetery by the shortest route.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 12.—The Czar will send Grand Duke Vladimir and Grand Duke Michael, together with a large suite, to Berlin on the occasion of Emperor William's birthday, as a mark of his cordiality.

BERLIN, March 12.—Bismarck gave a dinner last night to the leaders of the various parties which voted for the septennate bill.

SOFIA, March 12.—A Russian named Beloff recently brought hands of Montenegrin desperadoes, numbering fifty men each, into Sofia with a view of creating an insurrection. The plot was discovered and Beloff and a portion of his followers decamped; the others were arrested and have confessed they were paid to come and do whatever they were instructed to do.

A list of members of the government party was found in Beloff's lodgings; some of the names on the list were marked and it is presumed that the conspirators intended to assassinate the persons so designated.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The will of the late Henry Ward Beecher was filed for probate to-day. It is as follows:

In the name of God, amen! I, Henry Ward Beecher, of the City of Brooklyn and State of New York, hereby revoking all other and former wills by me heretofore made, do make, publish and declare this to be my last will and testament.

First—I hereby authorize and direct my executors, or such of them as shall qualify at my death, to collect and receive the amount of my life insurance, to invest the same and to pay the proceeds of such investment to my wife during her life in equal quarterly yearly payments.

Two—I hereby give, bequeath and devise unto my executors, or such of them as shall qualify, the net residue and remainder of my estate, both personal and real of every kind, in trust for the benefit of my children, and I hereby direct that my said executors distribute and apportion my said estate among my said children in such manner and form, and at such time or times as shall, in their judgment, be for the best interests of my said children, giving unto my said executors full power to sell and mortgage such and so much of my real and personal property as they shall deem best, and to invest or distribute the proceeds of such sale or sales as herein provided.

Third—It is my will that if any of my said children should die before the complete distribution of my estate, as above provided, their children shall stand and take in place and stead of the said parents, taking per stirpes and not per capita.

Fourth—I hereby nominate, constitute and appoint my sons, Henry B. Beecher, William C. Beecher and Herbert A. Beecher, all of Brooklyn, New York, and my son-in-law, Rev. Samuel Scoville, of Norwich, New York, executors and trustees of this my will, and it is my will that no bond shall be required of them or either of them.

July 11th, 1878.

(Signed) HENRY WARD BEECHER.

The witnesses are A. S. Barnes and G. D. Blake of Brooklyn.

NEW YORK, March 12.—One of the evening newspapers has the following: Mrs. Mary P. Pelton, sister of ex-Governor Tilden, died this morning at 9:30 o'clock at her home at 33 West Twenty-eight Street, of pneumonia. Mrs. Pelton was seventy-eight years of age and had been enjoying fairly good health until within the last few days. None of the money or other property left her by her brother, the late Governor Tilden, had been received up to the time of her death. A special request to the executor to hurry up the execution of the trust so that she might enjoy it during her lifetime, was made some time ago, and met with no response.

Andrew H. Green called upon Mrs. Pelton a short time ago and offered to loan her some money to meet pressing necessities, but she replied she did not any money, but would like to have what her brother left to her.

Samuel J. Tilden, Jr., called upon the executors a short time ago and asked them to arrange the trusts of his Aunt Mary, Aunt Lucy and his mother, all of whom were old and somewhat feeble, in order that they might enjoy their brother's bequest during their lifetime. He said: "Never mind about the younger folks, we can snuff for ourselves."

The old ladies were very much disappointed to think they have been treated so shabbily by the executors. The death of Mrs. Pelton may possibly bring them to their senses. The friends of the family say the heirs have been treated by the executors more like mendicants than as sisters, nieces and relatives of the dead statesman and millionaire.

ST. LOUIS, March 13.—A special from Coleman, Texas, says: About 3:50 o'clock this morning the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe Railway office here was the scene of a "hold-up," resulting in a loss to the express, railroad and employees of over $3,000. Jas. Muse, express messenger, Henry Brien, night operator, and two men were in the depot; Muse had occasion to go out about 3:40 o'clock and came running back and said: "Some one is robbing the cars." The party started to the cars, when Brien told Muse to run back and get something to shoot with. Muse went back towards the depot to get a sixshooter, when three men jumped from the door of the depot, placed a sixshooter in his face and told him to open the depot. With a revolver under his ear, Muse opened the safe, and the robbers got two express packages, one of $2,500, another $300 and another of $50, of the railroad money, and the pocketbook of Muse worth $125. While this was going on Brien and the yardmen were up the road a few hundred yards at the car which Muse saw the men get out of, which they found had been broken open and set on fire. After some trouble they succeeded in putting the fire out.

NEW YORK, March 13.—On March 12th, at 3 p.m. when off Fire Island, the pilot boat David Carl saw the yachts Coronet and Dauntless going east under reefed sails with the Dauntless about half a mile ahead.

The German steamer Marsala, from Hamburg, which arrived here this forenoon, reports that on March 12th, at 11 p.m., in longitude 72 deg. 10 w., she passed a small schooner with red and green night signals, bound to the eastward; she passed another small schooner about an hour before, but it did not show any signals. The wind was light and northerly. The New York Yacht Club night signals are red, green and white.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., March 13.—It is said on good authority that Rev. Matthew C. Jullen, pastor of Trinity Church of this city, will receive a call from Plymouth Church, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Rev. Henry Ward Beecher.

DETROIT, March 13.—A Howell special to the Free Press says: A little before midnight last night, a fire was discovered in F. F. Monroe's hardware store by a couple of young men who were passing at the time. An explosion occurred at that time, the store being badly torn and the men knocked down. In a short time the entire row of business blocks on Grand River Street, between Winan's Avenue and East Street, three blocks on Winan's Avenue and a row of frame buildings on East Street, were in flames, caving inward instead of outward. Greenaway block was all that saved the remainder of the business part of town. Mr. Monroe is chairman of the county prohibition party committee and had worked for the prohibitory amendment, and the first of the month received the following letter:

"DETROIT.

To F. N. Monroe: I wish to inform you that you must stop your work in the prohibition cause or we will burn you out root and branch. You may prepare for the worst, as we are on your track.

(Signed) MANY SALOON KEEPERS."

NEW YORK, March 13.—The evening service in Plymouth Church was remarkable from the fact that clergymen of almost every denomination were present and spoke in eulogy of the late Beecher. The building was crowded to excess and the vestibules were utterly impassable, and during the service many people fainted and more than one remained where they swooned or could not be carried out. Rev. Halliday conducted the services and read the following letter from Dr. McGlynn, the deposed priest of St. Stephen's Church:

"New York: Rev. and Dear Mr. Halliday.—I regret very much that I cannot be present this evening at the meeting at Plymouth Church to honor the memory of the great pastor and to console for the irreparable loss. I must, therefore, content myself with saying briefly in writing what I should be glad to say more fully in speech. It is a sign of the dawning of

for which the world has so long yearned, that such a meeting should be possible, and that you and yours should so earnestly desire the presence of a clergyman of the church which seems so remote and, too many would say, antagonistic to yours. Foremost in the work of hastening the coming of a better day was the great man whose death we mourn, and for whose work we give thanks. None so well as he taught the men and the land of his time to exalt the essential of religion pure and undefiled, in which we all agree, and to minimize the differences that seem to separate us. To him was given to see with clearer vision, to reveal unequalled genius and with tireless energy to make common among men the meaning of Him who taught of old on the mount and by the sea shore, the core of all religion, the

BROTHERHOOD OF MAN.

I cheerfully confess that from Beecher I learned from the first days of my ministry a new tenderness and a fullness of meaning in 'our Father,' and I am glad to be able here to state that the theology of the old church agrees with his in this, that the essence of religion is in communion with God through love of Him, for 'His own sake, and in loving all men with zest, with which we love ourselves, and that while sacrifice and sacrament, creed and ritual, prayer and sermon and song may be and are powerful helps and necessary manifestations of this religion which is love, without it they are but mockery and blasphemy. I thankfully count him among the masters from whom I have learned fuller the meaning of the prayer, 'Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven.' We must with Beecher, that the condition and duties and strifes of our temporal life are but the signs and symbols of spiritual things, and that in the yearning of this whole world for 'liberty, equality and fraternity,' have made a reign of justice and love. If we pluck out the religious heart of it, the burthen is not worth bearing nor the battle worth fighting. He and other giants of the time have cleared the field and illuminated the way for brighter progress and helped to give more perfect assurance of victory in the strife that is now beginning against a wider slavery than that against which he dealt his sturdy blows—the by classes—and to cement a union not merely of the American States, but of peoples of the world. Stimulated and encouraged by his success, let us take up the burden of the people's wrongs, where his tired shoulders have laid it down, and fight a new battle, if need be, till the right shall come and we see the burden fall from our shoulders and the weapons from our hands: then shall we have a nearer vision than was given in the reign of the Prince of Peace.

Affectionately and paternally, EDWARD MCGLYNN."

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Public Printer Benedict last night discharged forty-three employees of the government printing office, including thirty-three compositors, proof readers, copy holders, five bookbinders and five girl assistants. The reason assigned for the dismissals was that a reduction of expenses was necessary.

TORONTO, March 13.—A judgment was given in the high court yesterday, ordering the extradition of Dr. Weir, on the ground that there was some evidence of a felony. Weir will be handed over to the Michigan authorities. He is charged with criminally assaulting a young girl while she was lying ill with typhoid fever in a hospital at Oscoda, Michigan, thereby causing her death.

PARIS, March 13.—The marriage of Mme. Nilsson and Count Casa Miranda was private. The witnesses were Marquis Casa Fuerte, the Swedish minister and Ambrose Thomas. Luncheon to a few intimate friends followed and the couple then started for Madrid. Mme. Nilsson wore a splendid parure of diamonds, a present from Baron Rothschild. Numerous presents were received from friends in London.

BOSTON, March 14.—It is reported that a heavily loaded passenger train on the Boston & Providence Railroad met with a terrible accident about 7 o'clock this morning between Roslindale and Forestville. Four cars are said to have gone through a bridge and many persons were killed. Wrecking trains have left here for the scene of the accident. Advice just received from the scene of the wreck state that nineteen bodies have already been taken from the ruins.

TERRIBLE DESTRUCTION.

The latest advices from the scene of the accident on the Boston & Providence indicate that 33 persons were killed and 40 injured. Among these are many women. Conductor Tilden was among the killed.

THE DETAILS.

The accident this morning occurred on the Dedham branch of the Boston & Providence Railroad between Forest Hill & Roslindale, at what is known as Bussey Park bridge. The 7 o'clock train from Dedham, consisting of seven cars and a baggage car under charge of Conductor Tilden, broke through the bridge; the engine and three cars went over safely, but five others fell through the bridge to the road beneath, a distance of thirty feet. The last car, which was a smoker, turned completely over and struck on top of the others, all being crushed almost out of shape. The cause of the accident is said to be the breaking of the bridge.

THE CAUSE.

It is stated that the bridge where the accident occurred this morning is a comparatively new one, and that the accident was caused by the truck of one of the cars giving way, causing the car to strike against an abutment of the bridge. The smoking car, after it fell, caught fire, but the fire department was promptly on hand and prevented any spread of the flames.

The bodies of the dead have all been removed and of the wounded some are at the hospital and some have been taken home. Among the killed are Conductor Tilden, Sergeant Naylor, of the Boston police, W. E. Snow, Alice Burnett, of Roslindale, Mabel Adams and Frank Norris, of Dedham. Harry Gay is mortally injured and dying. Many of the injured were brought to the hospital in this city and some of the killed have not been identified.

The train was crowded with working people and the most intense excitement prevails among their friends anxious to learn the names of the killed and wounded.

The police say twenty-three were killed outright and nearly as will die. A. Webster Clapp died in Forest Hill station, where he had been taken.

The engineer, when the engine broke from the train, kept right on to Forest Hill and gave the alarm, instead of stopping to ascertain the extent of the accident. On that account it was impossible to get assistance at once. The officers of the road are present and are doing all they can.

Many doctors are there, doing everything in their power.

Superintendent Folsom says he does not know how many were killed or injured. The bodies of the killed were horribly mangled, some of their heads being entirely severed from their bodies and many of the bodies are crushed.

BEYOND RECOGNITION.

The scene of this morning's accident is about a mile from Jamaica Plains, where the main line of the Boston & Providence Railway branches off to the left to Readville and Providence, while to the right runs a sweeping curve. The Dedham branch of this arm is built through the valley and the embankment for a long distance is a high one. South Street runs diagonally under the track of the branch, and it was into this cut that the cars of the train plunged from the bridge which crossed it.

The last computation shows 23 killed and 50 injured.

THE WRECKED TRAIN

was the one which leaves Dedham at 7:05 and arrives at Boston at 7:40 and is one of the largest and heaviest on the morning list. This morning as usual the train was heavily loaded and the last three cars, the ones that left the track, were filled with passengers, who had taken the train at Dedham and stations between there and Forest Hill. The accident was due to the giving away of the bridge under the weight of the train owing, doubtless, to some hidden fault in its construction.

An inspection of the wreck reveals the fact that the eight cars comprising the train were jumbled into a not one of the coaches escaping almost perfect demolition.

From the location of the wrecked cars, it would seem that the first three cars passed over the bridge safely. The structure evidently gave way when the fourth car was passing over it. Five cars went through to the roadway, landing in a mass of splinters in the street. The inmates of the smoker were all either killed or injured, not one escaping without injury of some kind.

The Vice-President of the City Brewery, Mr. J. Helms, of Louisville, Ky., was entirely cured in one week of a severe attack of rheumatism by St. Jacobs Oil.

The true secret of success is merit. This is so with Red Star Cough Cure, a purely-vegetable compound, entirely free from opiates, poisons and narcotics, and which has received the public endorsement of physicians and chemists everywhere. Twenty-five cents.
