THEATRE.—For this evening the Grand Variety Combination Company have a very attractive bill for the benefit of Mr. Edward Montague and Eugenie Gerretta, two very clever members of the company, although, from the injury to Mr. Montague's hand in seizing the trapeze the other night, the programme will be changed somewhat from that which was intended. In the performance will be a grand parlor entertainment, Mlle. Josephine in songs and dances, artistic evolutions by Mlle. Gerretta, Dutch specialities by Mr. Larkin and Carrie Armstrong, the Perry Brothers in a clog hornpipe, gymnastic feats by Mr. Montague, Mlle. Josephine in her challenge jig, "Intelligence Office" and "Gid Osd."

A matinee to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

HORSES FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—Mr. W. Showell, of this city, shipped eighteen fine horses this afternoon, per Utah Central, for San Francisco, where the epizootic is now so general that nearly all traffic in that city has ceased. The horses were in charge of Mr. S. W. Johnson, of San Francisco.

INDIAN TROUBLES.—Indian affairs begin to look rather squally. The Modoc difficulty seems to be a long way from solution, and now comes a despatch from eastward, stating that the Cheyennes are on the war path. Yesterday they made a raid on a Union Pacific Railroad station called Sydney, about eighty miles east of the City of Cheyenne. Full particulars of the affair are not given.

UNAVOIDABLE.—To-night, on account of the still painful condition of Mr. Montague's hand, the laughable farce of the "Siamese Twins" will be substituted for "Pongo" and a grand double act will be performed by Mr. Montague and Mlle. Gerretta, instead of the Ogre feat. The occasion is for the benefit of the two artistes named.

NEARLY A FIRE.—At a little before 12 o'clock last night a cry of fire was raised on Main street, and had it not been for the prompt action of the night watchman, Mr. E. Clark, assisted by Messrs. Horspool, Pritchett, Badger and Wilson, it is not at all improbable that to-day the west side of Main street would be a heap of ashes. The proprietor of a small store left a little fire in the stove, and the wind arising in the night to a tremendous pitch, sucked up the burning embers on to the roof, which is considerably lower than the roofs of the buildings on either side. The above named gentlemen burst open the back door of the store and extinguished the fire in the stove, and also took care of that portion of the roof before any damage was done. Great caution should be exercised over these store fires, or we may wake up some windy morning and find the business portion of Ogden gone up like a balloon.—Ogden Junction, April 24.

CONFERENCE AT WILLIAMSBURGH.—We have received from Elder J. Elkington, secretary of the New York Conference, the minutes of a conference of the branches of the church in the Eastern States, held at Americus Hall, 176 Grand Street, Williamsburg, New York, April 6th, 1873. Quite a large number of Saints were present and also some strangers.

Three meetings were held during the day, each of which was, of course, opened and closed in the usual way, by singing and prayer. The first meeting was occupied in the giving of some general instructions by Elder H. G. Bywater, President of the New York Conference, and in some of the other Elders present expressing their views and feelings relative to the latter-day work.

At the afternoon meeting Elder Bywater again briefly addressed the congregation and then called for the reports as to the condition of the various branches. Elder George Bunn reported the Williamsburg and William Dover the Patterson, N. J., branch, and the following branches were represented by letter, the statements being that they were all in a generally satisfactory condition: Hyde Park, Brooklyn, Fayette, Providence, Blossburgh and Freeport.

The statistical report showed that the Conference numbered 286 members.

The authorities of the Church in Utah, and also the local authorities, were presented to the Conference and sustained by unanimous vote.

The Conference was then addressed by Elders Thomas, Hutchinson, George Bunn and H. G. Bywater.

In the evening the meeting was addressed by Elders Isaac J. Elkington and H. G. Bywater, the former speaking on the first principles of the gospel and the latter on the nature and power of true religion, when the Conference was brought to a close, Elder Bywater pronouncing the benediction.

On the evening following the Conference the Saints had a time of social enjoyment in the shape of a concert, which passed off with the strictest harmony.

Elder Bywater informs us that, since his appointment as President of the New York Conference, in 1871, three branches of the Church have been organized in the East, one at Patterson, N. J., another at Fayette, Penn., and the third at Providence, Rhode Island.

It is expected that quite a number of the Saints will emigrate from the States to Utah the coming season.

"THE UNWRITTEN WORD."—This is the title of an elegantly illustrated work, by Rev. Daniel March, D. D., published by Ziegler & McCurdy, of Philadelphia. The works of a deeply religious cast, but is thoroughly unsectarian in character, its author in "The Unwritten Word" endeavoring to lead himself and his readers to an acquaintance with God through recognizing and contemplating his works in nature, as displayed among the starry worlds, in the rocks, the ocean, the snow-capped mountains, the plains, the trees, shrubs and flowers, the rain drop, iceberg, &c., with extracts from Scripture illustrating the lessons and precepts inculcated. The work is of a most pleasing and instructive character; its illustrations are on steel, and are executed in the highest style of art, and it is strongly bound in morocco. Mr. Pursar, agent for the sale of the book, will solicit subscriptions among the people of this City.

RAILROAD.—The grading of the Salt Lake, Sevier Valley and Pioche Railroad is still proceeding from the terminal point in this city westward, the work being done nearly to the east bank of the Jordan. A large quantity of rolling stock for the road is expected to arrive within twenty days from now. The grading at this end of the line is being prosecuted under the direction of Col. H. P. Kimball, who has a number of men and teams at work upon it.

ANOTHER EXTENSION.—The Salt Lake Street Railroad company are manifesting considerable enterprise and energy in extending their line. As soon as the snow has sufficiently disappeared from the kanyons to admit of the obtaining of ties it is their intention to extend the line along First South Street, from East Temple street, three quarters of a mile. The switch will be near the Eagle Emporium building, which will be the point where the cars from three directions will connect, every twenty minutes. The iron for the last named extension has been on hand since last fall, the only thing lacking now being the ties.

Quite a number of people have been surprised that the company do not publish a time schedule, but the reason for their not doing so is because the trains do not always arrive on time, and when they do not it throws the street cars out of their regular time.

When the switch is constructed and the first South Street extension completed passengers will be able to travel, from the switch, either towards the Depot, or south or eastwards every twenty minutes.

SALT LAKE CITY, April 25th.

Editor Deseret News:

Will you be kind enough to notice that a number of posts on the side walk, on the State road, are a great inconvenience to pedestrians travelling that way on dar; moonless nights? They should certainly be removed. R.

COUPLETS.—Early this morning Mrs. Elizabeth, wife of Mr. John Bain, of the Twentieth Ward, had twins born to her, two big boys.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—P. M. Lyman writes from Fillmore City, April 22—

"A sad and fatal accident happened in this city on Sunday morning, the 20th inst. While a number of little boys were playing and running races in the street, most of them on foot, but one boy on a horse, Thomas Webb, the only son of Thomas J. Webb, of Chicken Creek, whose age was three years and nine months old, got in the way of the horse and was run over, and so severely injured that he died early on Monday morning."

Brigham Young.

"Brigham Young recounts with pardonable pride the results of his life's labor. There can be no difference of opinion as to the wonders he has worked, moral as well as physical. Nothing more remarkable is recorded in the history of the world than his career."

This is the intelligent language of the St. Joseph Gazette. It was the language of William Henry Seward himself. * * * Small minds may carp at the man who redeemed the desert from sterility and made it hum with the best organized industrial energies and economies the world ever saw. But his works will live after him, and when the odium that attaches to polygamy shall have passed away, even those who now hate and deride Brigham Young will do him honor.—Omaha Herald.

The Savannah (Ga.) Advertiser says:

"On Friday morning last we had an interview with a gentleman—late an officer of one of the United States volunteer corps—who had just arrived from New Orleans. Before leaving that city he had been approached and offered a command in an expedition then being organized to move on Mexico. He was told that the advanced guard was to be composed of five thousand men, composed of Texans and others, and was to be commanded by Longstreet, late of the Confederate army, now of the Kellogg militia. He was further informed that the United States government knew of and sympathized with the movement, and would aid it in every way possible. He was also told that enlistments for the purpose were being made in Mobile and other points in the Southwest, and expressed some surprise that nothing had been done in Savannah. Our informant is a gentleman of intelligence and reliability, and his statement is doubtless correct in every particular."
