

JOHN MITCHELL'S METHODS SCORED

Dolan Accuses Him of Playing to the Galleries by Threatening a National Strike.

CHARGED WITH COWARDICE.

Needs Something Besides a Prince Albert and a Carnation to Make a Real Labor Leader.

Pittsburg, Feb. 18.—In a statement he made public tonight, President Dolan of the local district United Mine Workers of America, scores the methods of John Mitchell, national president of the Mine Workers, and charges him with trying to shirk the responsibility for the position in which the mine workers are at present. Dolan also accuses Mitchell with "playing to the galleries," by threatening the operators with a national strike, but that the "operators called the bluff."

Mitchell is further charged with sending organizers into the local field to defeat Dolan and that money belonging to the organization was used. "President Mitchell is trying to shirk the responsibility of the mess he has gotten into by saying that I am evidently trying to divide the miners' forces. I am not. I am trying to save the miners from the dangers which threaten them because of Mitchell's lack of courage and common sense to make a temporary retreat when he saw he was worsted and should take up the fight along other lines."

"He led the argument for the miners by demanding an advance in wages on the claim that prices of coal were higher at that time than they were two years ago."

"The operators immediately took him at his word and offered to bring in the books of all the companies in the country, large and small, and have them examined by the miners' world-wide to take a reduction if the price were shown to be lower; the operators to pay an advance if the price was shown to be higher."

"P. L. Robbins asked Mitchell to accept that offer. Mitchell never let on he heard the question. Robbins repeated the question a half dozen times and Mitchell sat staring into space. Robbins appealed to the chair and the chair ruled that Mitchell ought to answer the question. Mitchell then arose and said: 'I decline to answer.'"

"From that time on our cake was dough. Mitchell may say I am not smart enough to write an intelligent statement, but a man does not have to be whipped and the operators had whipped him from that moment."

"When Mitchell saw what a mess he was in he tried to score the operators from following up their advantage by making radical statements and by playing to the galleries. He thought he would scare the operators by the threat of a national strike, but the operators called out his bluff. After this he tried to call the public to allow us to shut off their coal, shut down the railroads and stop the mills and factories and then save the operators by telling everybody how just our cause is."

"From the time Mitchell made that first blunder, he went from bad to worse until the Byrd resolution made our situation hopeless and we came out without an agreement. Mitchell has always lacked courage. He is more careful of his own reputation as a successful leader than he is of the interests of his people."

"Never in his career has he fought against the popular tide, no matter whether it was right or wrong. He has always followed the operators, and when the operators whipped him into line for a reduction, he disappeared from the convention with an attack of what he called 'nervous prostration' and after he got out of the Turkish bath he made all the miners' leaders fight to have the delegates accept the reduction before he would do so."

"Mitchell says I have always been unfriendly to his administration. I have not, although he has always fought me. I had the 'gall' to be a candidate for national vice president against him in 1898 and he never forgave me. I have letters in my desk to prove that he sent organizers into this field and issued orders to spare no expense to have me defeated for district president in my own field and it was the union's money and not his own that he was willing to be so lavish with to vent a personal spite."

"It has been evident for years past to everybody connected with the labor movement that Mitchell is suffering from a common ordinary dose of 'big head.' He is working all the time toward one-man power, and the truth of the matter is that he is not in touch with his own people or with the miners."

GRAVE DISEASES, DUE TO STANDING Facts About Miss Merkle's Dangerous Illness and Complete Cure

Have you ever thought why so many women or girls rather walk an hour than stand still for ten minutes?

It is because most women suffer from some derangement of their delicate organism, the discomfort of which is less trying when they are in motion than when standing.

In some states laws compel employers to provide resting places for their female employees.

But no amount of law can regulate the hard tasks of the women. They must get the strength which this work demands and the surgeon's knife.

Read the experience of Miss Margaret Merkle, 275 3d Street, Milwaukee, Wis.: Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

"I had long length, nervousness, bearing-down pains and extreme irritation, compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor said I had diseased organs and ulceration and advised an operation if I wanted to get well. I objected to this and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. I soon found that all the good things which this great medicine were true. The ulceration soon healed, headache and nervousness disappeared, and in a short time I was strong, vigorous and perfectly well. I wish every young girl who suffers would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a vegetable tonic which invigorates and strengthens the entire female organism, and will produce the same beneficial results in the cases of other sick women as with Miss Merkle.

ing situation. Circumstances have made him. The tide has always been in his favor until lately, and now he does not measure up to his job."

"It takes something besides a Prince Albert coat and a carnation in the buttonhole to make a real labor leader. It takes common sense and courage, and the man who lacks the courage to hire somebody to tell him of his shortcomings and retire from his job."

FRAUD AND CORRUPTION IN INDIAN TERRITORY.

Washington, Feb. 18.—President Roosevelt has taken a personal interest in the charges of fraud and corruption in the Indian Territory. He has ordered an investigation into the matter.

When it became known to the president that the district attorney for Indian Territory had been instructed to quash some indictments already found, he immediately sent orders countermanding this resolution.

He has also instructed the district attorney to bring to trial a number of persons guilty of gross frauds perpetrated against the Indians.

It is known that Secy. Hitchcock has submitted to the president and Atty. Gen. Moody a special report dealing with the whole situation which gives such details as to make it impossible for the government to act. For obvious reasons the report for the present at least will not be made public, but Secy. Hitchcock characterizes the disclosures it makes as "startling."

PRESIDENT'S VIEWS ON RAILROAD RATE PROBLEM.

Washington, Feb. 18.—President Roosevelt, in recent talks with senators and representatives, has stated that while he is not attempting to dictate the terminology of the railroad rate bill, his preference is that the substance of the Hepburn bill should be kept.

He has taken occasion to say that he cares very little for the form of the bill if the "essence" is kept. There are two or three minor points as to which he thinks amendments may possibly be made with advantage, as for instance instead of making a 30-day limit for the time when a regulation is to take effect, to make it go into effect at any time set by the interstate commerce commission.

The president has felt that there are arguments both for and against the proposal that if a stay is granted the railroad shall be required, pending the decision, to pay into the court the difference between the rates as they exist and as they would exist if the commission's ruling is sustained.

The president has emphasized that the main point is appeal to the courts. The Hepburn bill itself, the president says, allows such an appeal, and in so doing gives every other bill proposed in both houses.

The proposal coming from Senators Aldrich, Foraker and others, who hold similar views to those, looking to a complete repeal of the case in the courts, both as to the law and the facts, the president does not believe in. He believes, as outlined in his speech before the troops club last May, that the appeal shall be required, pending the decision, in whole or in part, and also to test the legality of this order.

JOHN A. McCALL OBEYS LAST CALL

Ex-President of New York Life Ins. Co. Dies After Three Months' Illness.

CAUSED BY INVESTIGATION.

His Examination Before the Committee Brought About His Physical Breakdown.

New York, Feb. 18.—John A. McCall, until recently president of the New York Life Insurance company, died at 5:33 o'clock this afternoon at the Laurel house in Lakewood, N. J., where he had been taken three weeks ago in the hope that the change might benefit his health, which had suffered a breakdown two months ago. The news of his death was not given out by the family until some time after the end. Then Mr. McCall's son, John C. McCall, briefly announced:

"The end has come. My father has passed away."

Mr. McCall had been unconscious since about 1 o'clock this morning except possibly for one brief minute this afternoon, when his eyes opened and he looked into the face of his wife, who was bending over him. He smiled and as he did so his eyes closed again and he remained in the coma until the end.

One of the last persons Mr. McCall talked to was his old friend and pastor, Rev. Father Matthew Taylor of the church of the Blessed Sacrament in this city. He went to Lakewood yesterday to see Mr. McCall at the latter's request. Bishop James A. McFarland of the diocese of Trenton arrived in Lakewood last evening, but did not see Mr. McCall, who had long been his friend. This morning at 7 o'clock the bishop said mass in the church of Our Lady of the Lake at Lakewood, offering prayers for the recovery of the stricken man.

The attending physicians notified the family at 1 o'clock this afternoon that the end was close at hand. Mrs. McCall had been at the bedside constantly since last evening. All five children were summoned.

It was announced that Mr. McCall's death was due to enlargement of the liver and that he had been peaceful and without pain.

Mrs. McCall is now under medical care. She had become worn out by the long vigil at the bedside of her husband and when he died she practically collapsed, although it is thought her condition will not develop seriously.

The body will be brought to New York tomorrow morning and will be sent to the McCall residence on West Seventy-second street. The funeral, the date of which has not been fixed, will be at the church of the Blessed Sacrament.

Mr. McCall's physical breakdown occurred about the close of the investigation of life insurance affairs in this state by the legislative committee December last. The report of the committee is expected to be submitted to the legislature at Albany early this week.

Mr. McCall's examination before the committee was a severe one and the ordeal he underwent in rehearsing in detail the affairs of the company and in divulging transactions about which the general public was ignorant, worried him greatly.

Mr. McCall was ill in bed at his home in this city when he affixed his signature to his letter of resignation from the presidency of the New York Life Insurance company.

About three weeks ago his condition became such that his physicians and his family deemed it advisable to remove him to Lakewood. During all this time Mr. McCall worried constantly about his business affairs. He was compelled first to mortgage and then to sell his handsome country place at Long Branch, N. J., in order, it was stated, to repay to the New York Life Insurance $250,000 on the Andrew Hamilton account.

Mr. McCall had promised when the Hamilton disclosures first were made, to repay the amount named by a certain date a satisfactory statement was not forthcoming from Hamilton, who is now sojourning in Paris. The directors of the New York Life at the time set called upon Mr. McCall for the payment of the money.

He acceded to the demands, paying $50,000 in cash and giving his notes for $150,000, the latter being secured by a mortgage on his country place, which he sold subject to the mortgage. Mr. McCall realized in all something over $200,000 for the property, which was said to have cost him just double that amount.

Ten days ago Mr. McCall suffered the

GAMBLING WITH DEATH.

What Many of Us Are Doing Three Times A Day.

For everything we get something is taken away. Every act pulls two ways. Some men in power dole out the souls for life. They can't have soul and power at the same time.

And so, in this quick-living age, most of us can't have energy and health at the same time. One or the other must be lost, and it is usually health.

We know we are doing wrong and would like to reform, but we have a morbid fear of being laughed at if we aim to live and eat according to conscience and good sense.

Some of us break away for awhile and enslave ourselves to a diet. We read about the hardy Scotsman being fed on porridge and cat-o'-fish, making soldiers of muscle and dash, and how Caesar's army was fed on corn. But the diet doesn't last long. We quickly swing back into the great line, eating and drinking to fulness like the rest, eating anything and everything, at any time, and any way we find it. We say "what is stomach for if it isn't to obey the palate."

But there is really no one rule applicable to everybody's stomach. What one man may eat another may not. But the dyspeptic should remember that the death list has dark shadows hanging over it with a long bony finger pointing to "died of heart disease."

Physicians will tell us that there are few cases of heart disease that do not come from a stomach derangement. At every meal we may be brewing for ourselves a terrible case of dyspepsia. It may come upon us after breakfast tomorrow morning or after that oyster supper tomorrow night.

Acute indigestion means that you have even chances for death or life. That's the gamble you are taking. That precious gastric juice, as a rule, whether you continue to live or not, therefore if you feel your food lies like a "lump of lead" on your stomach, beware! Your gastric juice is weak. It can't digest the food in time to prevent fermentation. Take something that will do it effectively, and at once. Take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the most powerful tablet for the stomach.

One grain of an ingredient of these tablets will digest 8,000 grains of food. Your stomach needs a rest at once. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will relieve your stomach and take two thirds of the work it has to do, digesting perfectly whatever food there is in your stomach.

You can't do your work well, or be cheerful, or be steady or virile or ambitious, when your stomach is bad. Make yourself feel good after a hearty meal, feel good all over, clear your mind and make you enjoy life, by taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Give your stomach a rest, so it can right itself, then you need fear nothing. You can get these tablets anywhere for 50 cents a package.

first sinking spell of his illness and was very low for several days. Then he improved slightly. One week ago today, however, he suffered a second sinking spell and grew much worse. His condition became so low that his life was despaired of. A priest of the Roman Catholic church, of which faith Mr. McCall was an adherent, was summoned, and the last sacraments of the church were administered to the stricken man.

When all hope had been lost, Mr. McCall suddenly rallied. It was an effort of the mind and will, however, and not a physical improvement. The attending physicians foresaw his approaching end and so warned his family, who remained with the sick man from that time to the period of dissolution.

Mr. McCall's mental effort to shake off his ailments was the result of the report of the Fowler investigating committee, composed of directors of the New York Life, who made public their findings 10 days ago. They censured Mr. McCall severely for certain acts of his in connection with the report demanding of him a fuller accounting of the legislative work than he had made, and are said to have been a crushing blow to the company's former president. He detested to his family and to the intimate friends who saw him that he was determined to get well; that he wanted to live to set himself right before the American people. The strain was too much, however, and from that time Mr. McCall's decline was rapid.

John A. McCall was born in Albany, N. Y., March 2, 1845. He entered the insurance business early in life and in 1885 was appointed state insurance commissioner by Grover Cleveland, who was the governor. He relinquished that position to become controller of the Equitable Life Assurance society, which position he held until he became president of the New York Life Insurance company in 1892.

The funeral will take place on Wednesday.

ITCH—RINGWORM. Dr. T. Lucas, Wicks, Ky., writes, April 25th, 1902: "For 10 to 12 years I had been afflicted with a malady known as the 'itch.' The itching was most unbearable. I had tried for years to find relief, having tried all remedies I could hear of, but to no avail. Since then I have used the liniment on two separate occasions for ring worm and it cured completely. 25c. and $1.00 bottle. Sold by Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept., 112-114 South Main Street, St. Louis."

Soothes itching skin. Heals cuts or burns without a scar. Cures piles, eczema, salt rheum, and itching. Doan's Ointment. Your druggist sells it.

Cataract. Called an American disease, is cured by an American medicine, originated and prepared in the most catarrhal of American countries.

That medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cures radically and permanently. It that it removes the cause, cleansing the blood of scrofulous and all other impurities. It overcomes all the effects of catarrh, too, and builds up the whole system.
