

FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

High Council meeting to-night.
Clear, bright and beautiful to-day.
Last night was much the coldest of the season.
Butte City has a branch of the Land League.
The Millennial Star has completed its forty-third volume.
Andrew Jensen will soon issue a magazine in the Danish language.
The festive sleigh-bell still fills the frosty air with its musical jingle.
The second semester of the present academic year of the Deseret University will open on Monday.

A Philadelphia lady who found a baby in a basket on her doorstep, took the infant to the station house, but saved the basket to carry home her marketing.

Bishop Elder, of Cincinnati, has issued a circular to the members of his diocese, denouncing round dancing. The Bishop is a sensible man on that point.

A certain good man (?) who lately altered his propensity for anti-Mormonism, is now in the Millennial Star in the Moulton Mining floating scene with the Governor. A fellow feeling makes men people wondrous kind.

A very enjoyable party was given at Mr. F. A. Pascoe's residence in the 18th Ward, on the 11th inst., to his 33rd birthday. A great number of invited guests were present who enjoyed themselves in the dance and other pleasant amusements.

The Battle Miner proclaims the annex guarantee at an end. It says: "To-day the City Small-pox Hospital is closed. Otto Abelling, the only remaining patient anywhere in this vicinity, is now discharged, and the quarantine at the pest-house is at an end. The maintenance of the quarantine and various expenses of the pest-house cost the city not much less than $50 per day, and it is consequently, in every respect, a matter of sincere congratulation that the small-pox to-day, with all its alarming and expensive accompaniments, is now at an end."

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Diphtheria Case.—We regret to learn that a little daughter of Bro. B. L. Davis is down with diphtheria. We hope soon to hear of her recovery.

An Old Time Affair.—The party in the Social Hall last night was a very pleasant affair, and carried the participants back to the genuine sociability of the past.

Deep Snow.—Snow is two feet on the level from the Point of the Mountain west through to Tooele, and if there is a further fall, or a high wind soon, the temporary stoppage of the traffic of the Utah & Nevada R.R. will be among the certainties.

Robbery.—Last night a man named George E. Mayton was arrested on suspicion of having stolen $75 from a house of ill repute, while the proprietors were at the Theatre. The money belonged to Emma De Mar. It is asserted that the accused was seen going up and coming down stairs from the room from which the money was taken. His examination was to come off at 3.30 to-day.

Y. M. M. I. A. Conference.—A conference of the Y. M. M. I. A. of Salt Lake Stake will be held in the Salt Lake Assembly Hall, on Sunday, the 22d inst. A full attendance of officers and members is requested. The Young Ladies Association, Sunday Schools and Primary Associations are also expected to be present. Secretaries of Y. M. M. I. A. throughout the Stake, who have not yet sent in their annual reports will please do so at once.

Scandinavian Magazine.—Brother Andrew Jensen, of Mount Pleasant, is about to commence the publication of a monthly magazine in the Danish language. The aim of the page will be the same as that of the Contributor, but only half the number of that periodical. It will be called the Morgenstjernen (Morning Star). The contents will be mostly religious, including history and biography. One of the leading features will be a historical sketch of the Scandinavian mission, from its establishment to date. The first number will probably appear in about two weeks, and will be issued from this office.

Volume Forty-Three.—The Millennial Star, the literary organ of the European Mission has completed its 43d volume. It continues to give its light to the nations. Long may it shine. The last number treats editorially, in clear and intelligent style, upon the past and opening years, accomplished and noteworthy events. The contents of this bright periodical has during the expired year shows the work of God on the eastern hemisphere to be in a healthy and progressive condition under the supervision of President Carington and his efficient aids; their labors having been accompanied by the divine blessing, without which the efforts of the Elders would be unfruitful.

A Laramie Incident.—On Tuesday there was a rough runaway at Laramie, by which Mr. Jones a Colorado stockman had his leg badly fractured, and Mr. C. B. Sprague's face considerably leveled off. We quote a portion of the Boomerang's description:

"Mr. Jones at once sprang from the vehicle, and Mr. Sprague, finding that he could not control the now thoroughly frightened horse, climbed out at the rear end of the wagon and dropped. The speed was so great, however, that he could not maintain his equilibrium, and he fell, literally 'plowing up' the ground, for several yards. His face was badly cut and bruised, through contact with the frozen earth, and one of his ankles severely lacerated. He went back to where Mr. Jones was still lying on the ground, and finding that he could not move his leg as comfortably as he made him, he went on foot for a distance of two miles away."

FIRE AT SOUTH COTTONWOOD.

HARRY HAINES' PLACE BURNED.

Shortly after eight o'clock this evening the store and liquor saloon combined, belonging to Harry Haines, situated on the State Road, about seven miles below the city, took fire. A large number of people gathered to the spot and used every available effort to extinguish the flames, and remove the stock from the interior of the building. As the structure was of wood, it soon disappeared before the ravages of the devouring element.

A bucket brigade was formed between an adjoining well and the fire, but the supply from that source soon gave out, and recourse had to be taken to the creek, which is over 200 yards distant.

The approximate loss is about $3,000, one third of which is in buildings and the remainder in stock. Probably about one-half of the entire stock was saved.

We understand the fire originated from a stovepipe which projected through the roof.

Y. M. M. I. Association Meeting.—At the regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Mutual Improvement Association held in the Council House last night, Counselor George C. Lambert urged the adoption of a uniform evening and hour for meetings. The majority of the Associations meet on Tuesday, and he thought with a little effort the other Associations could arrange to hold their meetings on the same evening.

Supt. Joseph H. Felt said the responsibility of the officers of these associations is not only while at the meetings; they should work privately with the young men whom they think are inclined to be wild, and try to induce them to attend meetings. They should also work with the bishop of the wards in putting down round dancing and other evils.

Brother Joseph A. West, Supt. of the Weber Stake said: I think our greatest desire should be to enlist as many as possible into our associations, and we should not be satisfied with doing good in our meetings; we should work individually, and if we know a young man who is on the wrong road, and reason with him, and show him that he is wronging himself more than any one else, in most cases he will repent.

Assist. Gen. Supt. Julius F. Wells urged the necessity of keeping a complete record of all proceedings, and that we may see which manner of conducting the associations produces the most beneficial results.

Apostle Moses Thatcher said the main object of our associations is to give our young men a knowledge and testimony of the truth of the Gospel of Christ. We should talk upon some religious subjects that will interest them. He made some very interesting remarks on his early experience in the Gospel.

On motion the meeting was adjourned until Thursday, February 9th, 1889.

During the evening the 18th Ward Association choir rendered some very good music, which added to the interest of the occasion.

The Place—Hunting Fever.—Highly eloquent and earnest are in the habit of moralizing upon the distressing phases of modern society and exclaiming—"Whither is the nation drifting?" We might consistently respond that the bulk of the population would apparently like very much to drift into office.

Mr. Blaine is reported to have asserted that there are 1,000,000 applications for official positions on file in Washington. It is estimated that the able-bodied male population bears a proportion of about one-fifth of the whole, consequently about one man in ten of that class is a place-hunter. At this rate it will soon become a question how to save the body-politic from being devoured by the horde of hungry hunters.

Place-hunting assumes its most hideous and detestable phase, when it takes the shape of attempts to steal offices in the gift of the people, as in the case of Allen G. Campbell. His failure to accomplish the theft does not in any manner mitigate his crime, nor that of his abettors and sympathizers. It is not their fault that Congress has given them a kick.

We observe that the office hunters have an organ. A literary genius is publishing a work in which are named all the offices in the gift of the government, in the States and Territories, and the best and most efficient methods of securing them. According to Mr. Blaine's statement he ought to secure at least a million subscribers to get it.

The Jollities.—Atkinson's Jollities are indescribable. They are as far removed from sublimity as anything can well be. They are in fact and essence simply ridiculous. Although not of a nature to feed the intellect, they are calculated to stimulate digestion, by inducing hilarious laughter. Not even the most determined stoic that might chance to go to the Theatre embued with a determination to keep up a perpetual frown could resist occasional outbreaks of mirthfulness, that make the welkin ring. Whether one likes the performance or not, he feels impelled to laugh. The postures, gesticulations, contortions and appearance of the actors are ludicrousness intensified. The singing and dancing are good.

Besides the usual night performance on Saturday there will be an afternoon matinee.

A Crushed Arm.—Yesterday a young man named Chatterton, a brakeman on the Utah & Nevada narrow gauge railroad, was coupling cars loaded with ties at Tooele station. His forearm was caught between the buffers and severely injured. He was brought to town and received the necessary surgical assistance from Dr. Seymour B. Young. Fortuately his bones were broken, but the muscles are very severely bruised, and will take some time to get into a normal condition.

Deseret University.

The first semester of the present academic year of the Deseret University closed today, and the second will open on Monday. The institution is in a very flourishing and satisfactory condition. Sixty-two students have been in attendance during the term just expired, and the number promises to be still larger at the ensuing one. It should be noted by all interested that the studies of the term concluded do not continue into the one to begin on Monday. The studies will commence anew with the next semester, and now, therefore, is an excellent time for intending students to begin their course.

The Neslen Case.—In the dispatch received regarding the decision of the Supreme Court in the Neslen suit, the nature of the case was not properly stated, and some errors also appeared in our article regarding it. Wells, Fargo & Co. did not take a mortgage or note from Smith. Jno. W. Kerr endorsed a note for Smith and Smith executed a mortgage to Kerr as security for such endorsement. Jno. W. Kerr transferred the note to Wells, Fargo & Co. for a valuable consideration, before maturity. Wells, Fargo & Co.'s position in the subsequent litigation was that of assignee of Jno. W. Kerr.

Piece of Road Abandoned.—In Utah County, we are informed, the Denver & Rio Grande R.R. Co. have given up a considerable stretch of road that had been wholly or in part completed, in order to change the route. The alteration involves the abandonment of about $250,000 worth of work done. The cause assigned is heavy grades and sharp curves on the former route. It is supposed, however, that this reason is merely ostensible, the real object being to head off another company whose surveyors were in the field.

A Social Gathering.—The Ogden Herald says that, on Tuesday night, S. W. Sears, Esq., manager of the Ogden branch of Z. C. M. I., invited all the employees and their ladies, of the institution, to a social gathering at his residence, on Third Street, where a sumptuous repast was provided for their entertainment. After supper, the evening was enjoyed in social conversation, the song and the dance. In an advanced stage of the evening's enjoyment, the host and hostess were surprised by the presentation to them of groups of photographs, set into two beautiful gilded frames, containing the portraits of a number of the guests—sixteen in number.

The presentation was accompanied with an address by Winslow Farr, Esq., on behalf of the donors, expressive of the feeling of respect and kindness they entertain for Mr. Sears.

Roughs Along the Railroad.—To-day we met Brother William Howard, of Huntington, Emery County. In consequence of the Denver & Rio Grande R.R. passing through that part of the country, bringing the usual complement of roughs, the locality is frequently the theatre of barbarous and brutal scenes. Several whisky saloons are running, and are regulated by no legal restrictions whatever.

At Lake City lately a boisterous rowdy, named Winder, drew his revolver, pointed it at a knot of men with threats of shooting. A party standing behind him made a casual remark, when he wheeled and fired at him, inflicting a slight wound. The party aimed at whipped out a pistol and shot Winder, who died a day or two afterwards.

Horse thieves are plentiful. Not long since, Major Hurd had a couple of valuable animals stolen. Recently a couple of "cowboys" rode up to the Major's camp during his absence, flourished their guns and said they were the parties who took the horses and dared the men to "come out and take them." Major Hurd's engineer of that part of the road.

In consequence of the troublesome conduct of the rough element, the D. & R. G. Co. purpose removing their principal camp to another locality, where they will be able to have such characters under greater control.

The people are somewhat dissatisfied because of the lack of a proper or thorough civil organization, in precincts and otherwise. The looseness existing in this regard makes it impracticable to control the rougher elements now introduced into that part of the Territory.

Up to last Thursday, when Brother Howard left, there was no snow at or near Huntington, and the weather was mild in other respects.
