LOCAL BRIEFS.

The ornamental stone pillars for the entrance of the Y. M. C. A, building are being set up in position.

Diphtheria, smallpox and scarlet fe-ver are held responsible for a failing off during the past week of public school attendance in this county.

The difficulties between the Newman Shoe company and the insurance com-panies have been amicably settled, in the payment by the companies of $5,439,89.

Landlord Fred Wey of the Wilson begins next week the remodeling of the loased premises to the east of the hotel. annex, which will afford much needed room.

Local florists are making a specialty now of darysanthemums, which they remark are in the height of fashion during the football season, and in fit keeping with the style of hair prevailing at that time.

Balt Lake relatives of Mrs. L. J. Wright of Lockport, N. Y., received in-telligence yesterday of her death, after a year's illsness. Mrs. Wright was the last of 18 children of Abraham Jessup of Colchester, N. Y.

The funeral of William Timms will be held Thursday at 1 p. m. from the Twenty-seventh ward chapel, corner of P and Fourth streets. Friends desiring to view the remains may do so at the late residence, 133 T street, from 11 a. m. to 12 m., the day of the funeral,

The White Star Chemical company has been intending to build an $8,000 factory south of the city for the manu-fucture of belt dressing and a water purifier. But the management finds that the smelter fumes are so objection-able that it is doubtful now if anything of this kind is done.

State Supt. of Schools Nelson will address the teachers in the schools at Mergan on Friday and at Goshen on Sunday night. On Saturday, Richard R. Lyman of the state board of education, will address the teachers at Park City and on Sunday night he will deliver an address at Mapleton.

Local architects complain of there being liftle stirring in the building trades. There is considerable building going on, but mostly in the line of cottage and amail residence work in which builders and contractors are able to do without the services of an architect and thus save that much

The Davis and Weber county canner. les are reported as having finished their 90h # run and closed down with ful stocks. The season has been profitable it is said, notwithstanding the occasional fronts, and both the acreage and the quality of the products to be can-ned have increased and improved.

Held on the Eighty-third Birthday of the Bishop Whose Likeness Appears Above With That of His Wife.

It is written in the lives of those who first encountered her sage brush wastes, could hardly be better symbolized than it was last night in the gathering around the hearth fire of Bishop Robert T. Burton of the descendants of the stalwart old man upon the occasion of his eighty-third birthday,

The one hundred and thirty persons representing the fandly who gathered In the reunion, completely filled the spacious rooms of the comfortable home which Bishop Burton has erected on the spot where he ended his long journey across the pialns 50 eurs dgo.

Standing in front of a glowing hearth fire, with his sons and daugh-ters, already passed the prime of life, sented about the room, while his grandchildren and great grandchildren played upon the floor in the glow o the fire. Bishop Burton said lass night, when asked about the reuhion Mrs. Burton and I moved onto this lo n 1849, and started to make our home here. Since then we have never re-moved or changed our home. It was the 16th day of August 1849 we camped here and on the 18th day of December of that year, we moved into our first home, a splendid struct-ure we then thought, of two adobie rooms and a good cellar. > Mrs, Burton is only a few years younger than her husband, and yet she still enjoys the wonderful health that was "bred in the bone" of the plains people, who spent their young years overcoming the western des-ert. She sat in perfect comfort last night, beside her husband, and met the grandchildren and great grandthe grandenitizen and great grand-children that came to enjoy their first family reanion. "It eaems good," she said "to fbink back over our long lives in the light of the comforts around us now, We were just married a few weeks in Nanvoo, when the great driving out of the Saints occured, and the Decise and I bet with the reat Burton and I left with the rest r two and three days at a stretch I our wagon hubs drag in the mud ad there was many a day we could at make over two miles for the whole day's journey. We came west cross the plains together with the Saints, and arrived in this valley Sept. 23, 1848. We moved on this lot the next spring, and I guess we are now the only family who still live on the original holdings taken by all of those who came in the first year of the em-Igration

Rishop Burton's descendants are represented by twenty-two children, seventy-three grandchildren, and seven great grandchildren. One of his grand children, Willard G. Burton, now on a mission in Germany, sent his grandfather greetingy from across the water, wishing him every happy re-turn of his eighty-third birthday af-

County Attorney J. J. Whitaker has issued a complaint against Mrs. Eliza-beth Woolfly of Murray, charging her with assaulting her 9-year-old son John on Oct. 16. It is alleged that the wo-man beat the boy with a board, and that on numerous occasions she has cruelly beaten him. The officials last week took the boy away from her and put him in the Orphan's home. Mrs. Woolfly will be tried before Justice Holm of Murray.
