

SOCIETY

On Monday afternoon Miss Carrie Keate was guest of honor at a delightful luncheon given by the Misses Ethel and Lizzie McDonald at their home. The room was prettily decorated, and delicious refreshments were served. A pleasant feature of the affair was a spelling contest in which Miss Myrtle Kelly won the prize for making the most words out of the letters in "handkerchief". The guest of honor was presented with many dainty handkerchiefs.

Miss Mary Teasdale entertained at a pleasant affair last night in honor of a number of young artists of the city who are to leave shortly for various places in the east and abroad to continue their studies.

One of the charming affairs of the week was the luncheon given by Mrs. George R. Hancock on Tuesday for her daughter Miss Hollister Hancock. The decorations were most artistic, consisting of pale pink asters and plumosa. These were used as a centerpiece, and in loose clusters forming an oval around the table, the clusters being tied with pink ribbons. The guests were: Miss June Blatz, Miss Beth Critchlow, Miss Marguerite Donnellan, Miss Florence Jennings, Miss Mildred McMillan, Miss Jane McMillan, Miss Vera Lane, Miss Alverda Martin, Miss Iona Morrison, Miss Susie Sawyer, Miss Grace Swanson, Miss Nora Sheekell, Miss Irma Walker.

On Wednesday afternoon Miss Laura Bird entertained at a card party in honor of Miss Sayre, about 30 guests enjoying the pleasant affair. The rooms were prettily adorned with flowers and vines, and prizes were won by Miss Billings and Miss Bea McDonald. In the evening Miss Bird entertained at a Dutch supper for Miss Sayre.

Miss Sayre of New Jersey was guest of honor at an exceedingly pretty luncheon on Thursday, given by the members of the Tuesday Afternoon Sewing club. The affair took place at the Commercial club, the decorations being in pink asters, and the place cards designs of French figures. Covers were laid for 14, the following guests being present: Miss Jennie Lynn, Miss Laura Bird, Miss Pearl Weiler, Miss Marjorie Ellerbeck, Miss Mary Sharp, Miss Evelyn Thomas, Miss Annie Adams, Mrs. Ray Romney, Miss Daisy Raybould, Miss Ella Nantor, Miss Emma Young, Miss May Billings, Miss Leta Rawlin.

Mrs. Henry P. Henderson was among the week's hostesses, her entertainment being a delightful luncheon given in honor of Miss Irene Dickson. The decorations were artistic, and the entire affair a most enjoyable one.

Miss Marguerite Donnellan entertained informally last night at a dancing party, a number of her friends being present to enjoy the pleasant affair. The rooms were decorated and light refreshments were served.

Mrs. Mary A. Sears entertained at a most enjoyable afternoon party on Tuesday in honor of Miss Irene Squires. The affair was in the nature of a kitchen shower and the guests of honor received many useful presents. A large number enjoyed the pleasant afternoon.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Sears entertained at a china shower party in honor of Miss Minnie James, another of next week's prospective brides. This afternoon was pleasantly spent in the dining room, and received many dainty pieces of china in the shape of cups and saucers, bowls and plates.

The L. D. S. U. "granary" was the scene of a pretty affair on Wednesday night when eight little girls under the chaperonage of their respective mothers gave a dancing party lasting from 6 to 10 o'clock. The hostesses were Cornelia James, Lynna Knowlton, Rebekah Morris, Rehan Spencer, Juliet Knowlton, Burdette Cleveland, Nan Clawson, Helen Ellerbeck. The party was successful in every way and much enjoyed by all.

Miss Helen Gillespie entertained informally at her home on Thursday night in honor of Miss Dickson and Mrs. Schuller, the affair being most enjoyable.

Mrs. C. L. Whitney was hostess at a delightful afternoon party yesterday given in honor of Miss Minnie James. It was in the nature of a kitchen shower, and the prospective bride was presented with many useful articles. The rooms were prettily decorated in white asters and carnations with asparagus fern backing the mantels, and an unique and amusing feature was a poetical contest, each guest writing a verse of poetry on the picture of a bride which was on view for the purpose. About 25 were present.

Mrs. Will Lynch and Mrs. Fred Slade entertained at a delightful party this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Slade. The rooms were tastefully decorated in vines and flowers, and a large number of their friends enjoyed the pleasant affair.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Stephens entertained informally at dinner last night.

Judge and Mrs. Miner entertained at dinner on Wednesday in honor of Mrs. Henkle of Chicago.

Miss Henry La Motte entertained at a delightful luncheon yesterday in honor of her sister, Miss Stimson. The rooms were artistically decorated and the affair an exceedingly pretty one.

Mrs. William Parkinson and daughter Elva are down from Hyrum, Utah, and are the guests of Mrs. J. H. Poulton.

A birthday party given in honor of little Miss Vera Schoenfeld on Thursday afternoon at her home, was one of the pretty events of the week. Her little friends, numbering about 35, gathered at her home at 2 o'clock and spent the remainder of the afternoon in playing games and singing school songs. Refreshments were served on the lawn after which each received a souvenir bag of candy and departed for their homes.

Next week Senator and Mrs. Kearns will have a number of distinguished guests in the persons of the Earl and Countess of Shaftesbury of Ireland, and Gen. and Mrs. Henry C. Corbin of Washington, who will be entertained by them during their stay here. They are expected to arrive next Tuesday and will spend several days here.

WEDDING BELLS

On Monday night Miss Lillie Tuckett of this city and Mr. Seth Hurlburt of Ophir were united in marriage, the event taking place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Tuckett, on East Third South street. The rooms were beautifully decorated with palms and flowers, and a large reception was held after the ceremony. The bride was attended by the Dale as matron of honor, and Mr. M. H. Kreibel, manager of the Franklin insurance company of Utah and Wyoming was best man. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. M. Paden. At midnight the bride and groom left for Oregon, where they will spend a month.

Among the weddings to take place next week are those of Miss Minnie James and Lafayette Whitney, Miss Irene Squires and Royal Williams, Miss Jones and Mr. Read and Miss Varley and Mr. Austin.

The notable wedding of the week was that of Miss Carrie Keate, one of Salt Lake's most popular young women, and Mr. John McLennan of Des Moines, Ia., the event taking place at the home of the bride on Thursday night with Rev. Charles E. Perkins performing the ceremony. The rooms were beautifully decorated, pink and white asters predominating and vines and palms adding in the line effect. The bridal party stood in the library, before a background of palms with a curtain of smilax studded with asters, overhead. In the dining room the table made a pretty picture with its streamers of broad pink satin ribbon stretching from the four corners to the chandelier, its pink light-shades, and pink asters. An orchestra screened by palms was stationed in the dining room, and rendered delightful music during the evening. The bride wore an exquisite gown of white crepe de chine with trimmings of applique and embroidered chiffon, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaids and maid of honor were beautifully gowned in beautiful evening tissues, and carried large bouquets of La France roses. At 8 o'clock, the bride entered, preceded by the maid of honor, Miss Edith Keate, and the bridesmaids, Miss Margaret Ligan, Miss Jennie Sands, Miss Myrtle Kelly, Miss Pearl Durnell and Miss Ethel Mc-

We Are Now Ready For Fall Trade

OUR preparations for the fall millinery season are now complete. This means that more has been done to make our place attractive to the lovers of correct headress than was ever before accomplished in any western city.

The alterations in our store and the new furniture for displaying goods add to the convenience of the place. The increase of working force in the designing room is of the highest order. Artists with years of experience in the most exclusive establishments in New York have been employed to assist in our work room for designing hats that were never equalled before in this city. These acquisitions to the established reputation of the retail department give double assurance that we can please all consistent people with work turned out. Our facilities for selecting correct materials at lowest prices are greatly enlarged through our wholesale department.

When our business assumed proportions that enabled us to sell at wholesale from Salt Lake City in half of the territory of the United States, we cut out the profits formerly paid the jobbing houses in Chicago and St. Louis. We now go direct to the best manufacturers and importers of millinery materials in Europe and America for our supplies. We could very confidently locate our establishment on the principal thoroughfare of any American city without fear of being outdone in any essential detail of our line of business. We do not carry the volume of stock that the largest dealers in America do, but we carry the largest assortment of millinery goods carried by any house outside of New York City.

Through our agencies Salt Lake City has been made the Western Headquarters of some of the largest establishments in their lines in the world. By combining these stocks we can sell goods direct to the importer, from the bonded warehouses in New York, or from an adequate stock carried in Salt Lake City. We believe we have struck upon the most practical method of supplying all classes of trade in the intermountain section with millinery goods. Our retail department is essential in so far as it enables us to have on sale in Salt Lake City a greater variety of novelties than any exclusively wholesale establishment would be justified in offering in any sparsely settled section of the United States. We can supply trade in the vicinity of Salt Lake City in a day. In four days' time, through special telegraphic facilities, we can draw from the New York Warehouses in sufficient quantities to meet the requirements of any house in this section. By having all our New York connections send us samples of their productions as fast as they are brought out, we are never behind any other city in introducing any desirable article that is placed on the market in any other city. To these advantages we offer the greater attraction of lower prices.
