SALT LAKE CITY, March 21, 1871.

[illegible] at $1.08. Selling at $1.11.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

RIP VAN WINKLE.—This fine play was presented to a very good house last night. Mr. Rankin, in the title role, giving a highly creditable representation of the lighthearted, jovial old Dutchman.

The scene, de la creme of the piece—a third act, at the commencement of which the curtain rises on Rip just awaking from his twenty years nap, Mr. Rankin was excellent, and did good justice to the part.

The part of Katchen was well played by Miss Clawson and Blanchard; as was also the role sustained by Mr. Power.

The piece will be repeated to-night for positively the last time.

DROWNED.—Abdusk on the evening of the 23d ult., as two men, named William Cooper and Thomas K. Taylor, were crossing the Jordan in a small boat, just above the dam of the West Jordan mill, the boat upset, and Taylor, not being able to swim, was drowned. Cooper swam to shore in safety. Since the occurrence several efforts have been made to recover the body of Taylor, but they have as yet, been unsuccessful. Deceased was a native of England; and since his arrival in this Territory he has followed the business of a herder; had neither wife nor child, and was forty-one years old on the day he was drowned.

REMOVAL.—We notice that Mr. Geo. W. Hayes, grocer and provision merchant, having rented his new store, opposite Salt Lake house, is busily engaged moving his stock of goods from that place of business to his old stand, next door to Dwyer's News Depot. Mr. George Goddard, the well known grocer, provision and general produce dealer, has lately removed to the large store next door to Hooper, Eldredge & Co.'s, bank.

DESERET LIBRARY AND READING ROOMS ASSOCIATION.—The lectures at this institution are likely to become an interesting feature in society. On the 16th inst. Professor Albert Carrington delivered an interesting lecture, being the second of the series, in which a vivid contrast was drawn between school education and street education, and many excellent instructions were given to young and old. Last evening the third lecture was delivered by Hon. Joseph F. Smith. It was an able effort, and gave great satisfaction to his hearers.

MR. BENJAMIN WINCHESTER, who is well known by many of the residents of the Territory either by name or person, is in the city, having arrived here last week on a visit to his parents. His residence is at Council Bluffs, at which place he has lived for a number of years. We understand that he intends to remain here for two or three weeks.

REMAINS RECOVERED.—About three years last Fall, Christian Hanson, a native of Denmark, a tailor by trade, and residing at that time on the farm of Bro. Burr Frost, over Jordan, was drowned while trying to drive a cow across the Jordan river. His remains were sought for, but in vain, and were not recovered until last Thursday. On that day, as Bro. Joseph Harker was burning rushes on a field of his near the river, he saw a pair of men's shoes in the water, the toes of which were sticking in the mud. Upon lifting the shoes up he found that they contained the bones of the feet of what he supposed was their former owner; and very near where they lay were the leg bones. This led to further investigation, when the remainder of the skeleton of a man was found in the water, grown over with rushes. The shoes have been recognized as those belonging to Bro. Hanson, who, some imagined, on account of his sudden disappearance, had gone off and left the Territory; others, however, who remember seeing him try to cross the river at the time, believed that he was drowned, and this discovery confirms that supposition.

The remains were collected together, placed in a box, and interred in the burying ground at Taylorsville, West Jordan Ward; they were followed to the grave by Bros. Harker and S. Bennion and their families, and several of the residents of West Jordan.

The deceased, at the time of his death, was about thirty years of age. If he have friends or relations in the Territory, and they wish to gain further information, they can write to Bro. Joseph Harker, West Jordan Ward, who will answer any inquiries as far he is able to do so.

THE CITY.—One of the marked features of East Temple Street on these days is the presence of numerous strangers. They are flocking here in large numbers. The consequence is the hotels, boarding and lodging houses are full to overflowing. Rents have risen, and there is a manifest disposition to push unfinished buildings to completion. It is probable that many buildings will be erected this spring and summer to supply the increasing demand for residences. At the present time hundreds are awaiting the opening of the canyons, so that they can resume work or enter upon the business of prospecting. It is probable that all such will require patience. Men, not accustomed to mountains, have but little idea of the length of time it takes for the snow to melt in the canyons. Where men are waiting, the time will drag wearily along, and many who have but limited means will have to turn their attention to other pursuits, or move off in other directions. Salt Lake City is almost universally admitted to be a very beautiful city, especially when its age is taken into consideration; but among men who have nothing to do but wait, and their chief employment is to kill time, there will doubtless be many who will think it anything but an agreeable place. Already we notice this feeling cropping out of extracts from letters written from this point, which are published in the papers where the writers formerly resided. The authors fail to see anything beautiful or attractive in the city, and they are disgusted with it, and think the favorable descriptions of it have been greatly overrated. Place such men in heaven, with the feelings, ambitions and hopes they have here, and it is likely they would speak disparagingly about it. No man can be happy who is idle, and especially if his idleness is enforced; and when men are in a discontented mood surrounding objects and circumstances receive their color from the tone of their minds.

MURDER IN LITTLE WIND RIVER VALLEY.—Last Wednesday's South Pass News says Mr. William Williams, known to the old settlers of Little Wind River Valley as "Bill Williams," was shot and killed by one David Greaves. The cause of the trouble was: Williams had obtained from Greaves seed vegetables, for his garden operations last spring, promising to pay for them when he had disposed of his Summers's crop. He did not keep his word; and Greaves, having applied several times for, but failed to obtain, his pay, became exasperated, and killed him. Greaves was arrested, had a preliminary examination, and was bound over for trial, but made his escape from confinement and the country.

THAT VIGILANCE COMMITTEE IN NEVADA.—From to-day's dispatches it will be seen that the vigilance committee recently formed in the State of Nevada, means business. "Eight banished from Virginia and six from Gold Hill." So says the dispatch. A happy result, doubtless, for the two places named; but it speaks poorly for the vigilance of the officers and executors of the law in that State; and that old settled communities like Virginia and Gold Hill should be compelled to have resource to such a desperate method of suppressing crime and disposing of criminals shows a condition of affairs much to be deplored. Utah, in these respects, is a long way ahead of any section of the country we have heard of yet, either East or West.
