IMPORTANT TO THE TRAVELING PUBLIC.

It is the duty of all persons before starting on a journey to ascertain by what route they can reach their destination with the least trouble, and if there are two or more roads leading to the same point, to decide which is the safest and pleasantest to travel.

We take pleasure in stating, that the CHICAGO & NORTH-WESTERN RAILWAY is the shortest, and several miles the shortest, route between Omaha and Chicago. Within the past two years the road bed has been put in admirable condition, and almost the entire line has been re-laid with steel rails.

The Depot in Chicago is central to all lines, and its trains arrive there thirty minutes in advance of all other lines, passengers can always be sure of making Eastern connections.

Close connections are made at Chicago with the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, Michigan Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, Kankakee Line and Pan Handle Routes, for all points EAST and SOUTH-EAST.

If you are going to Chicago, or East, you should, by all means, purchase your tickets at the Old Pioneer Route.

The Chicago and North-Western. You will find on all through trains Pullman Buffet Cars, and the best Smoking and Second Class Cars on any road in the United States.

Particular information with maps, time tables, etc., may be had at any of the Through Ticket Offices in the West, or upon request, or written application to J. W. Irons, Ticket Agent, Salt Lake City, A. H. Earl, Ticket Agent at Ogden, or to J. H. Moulton, Western Traveling Agent, Omaha, Neb., or to W. H. Stennett, General Passenger Agent, Chicago. d54

PRICE OF GOLD.

Corrected daily by Deseret National Bank. SALT LAKE CITY, August 12, 1878. Buying at $111; selling at $114.

EVENING NEWS.

Thursday, August 12, 1878.

Thermometer 80 degrees F in the shade at 1 p.m. to-day. Fine.

Recess.—The recess of the Assembly Rooms building of the 7th Ward is now finished.

Good.—West Temple Street, from the Townsend House, a distance of one block south, has been graded, and leveled up, by the supervisor, and is now one of the finest pieces of street in this city.

Elder Pratt's Lecture.—Professor Orson Pratt, last evening, delivered a lecture at the Deseret University, before the members of the Normal Institute, on "Gravitation and Centrifugal Force," a full report of which will appear in the News of Saturday next.

Live Fences.—The honey locust makes a splendid live fence, grows with moderate rapidity, though not nearly so fast as the black locust, and being very beautiful. It does not sucker or start forth at the roots as the black locust does.

Brother Geo. C. Lambert set a couple of rows of two year old plants a year ago last Spring, since which time the growth has been remarkable, giving promise of a good fence in two or three years. Live fences are superior for beauty to any other kind, and should be cultivated more than they are. But they require water, which a post and rail fence does not.

A General Complaint.—Housewives are complaining that this year's apricots, canned and preserved, do not keep as well as in former seasons, being so inclined to industrial habits that they will persist in working.

Probably the excessive heat and frequent "cleansing" of the atmosphere have something to do with it. If the fruit were put in a moderately cool place much of it that would otherwise spoil would likely be saved. After the process of canning, the cans should not be removed from one place to another for several weeks, as even a slight disturbance is apt to result in injury to the fruit, at first.

Theatre.—The charming sourette, Miss Jennie Lee, and the talented comedian, Mr. J. P. Barnett, make their first appearance this evening in the Theatre in the beautiful play of "May Blossom," written specially for Miss Lee, who appears as Misses "May Blossom," "Minnie Merton," and "Mordant," also as "George Thompson," "Augustus Wilberforce," "Little Pat," and "A Sikh Soldier." Mr. Barnett appears as "Christopher Burton," "Dan Flale," and "Pat Flale." Mr. Lindsey as "Sir Edgar Tudor," Mr. Wilton as "Major General Tavistock," Mr. Foster as "Mr. Devere," Mr. Thompson as "Lieut. Blossom," Mr. Bowring as "Howler," Miss Cogswell as "Mrs. Devere," Miss D. Clawson as "Miss Millington," Mrs. Douglas as "Mrs. Marchant." Performance commences at eight o'clock.

Normal Institute Sentiments.—The following were among those offered yesterday:—"Strive to be teachers, but not masters."—C. W.

"That man is wise who knows at all times when to speak."—J. H. D.

"The noblest mind the best contentment has."—"Great minds have great wills, others have only wishes."—W. O. H.

"The pride of man will bring him low, while his honor will uphold him."—X. O. W.

"The infant mind is a spotless page, and imprints made there grow deep with age."—B. F. C.

"What which we try to do, and cannot in doing, becomes easy to do; not because its nature is changed, but because our power to do is increased."—H. H.

"Look not mournfully into the past."—"The less a writer knows of a subject the more ink he uses in telling it."—M. M. C.

"Those who assume a character which does not belong to them; only make themselves ridiculous."—"Wisdom should be desired rather than riches."—B. W.

"Humility and love constitute the essence of religion."—"Love increases with good works."—B. H.

"What is a cable we weave a thread of it each day, and at last we cannot break it."—M. D.

"Let us teach that honesty is not only the best policy, but that it is necessary for the future happiness of the world."—"The more we know of the world, the more we realize that we have little influence when not enforced by example."—T. F. H.

"To be called proud is a misfortune, to be proud is a sin."—E. A. B.

"Reflection should precede writing, and follow reading."—W. C. F.

"We cultivate the youthful mind, that each may have a sunny future, that he will be held in honor."—J. C. C.

"In order that you may rule, learn to obey."—B. A. H.

"He that knows not when to be silent, knows not when to speak."—"Let us depend on our own strength, not on fortune."—W. A. B.

"Life, however short, is made still shorter by waste of time."—E. C.

"Education is the child of ignorance."—"He that studies books alone will know how things ought to be, and he that studies man will know how things are."—

Well, Well!—This morning another company of infantry, from Camp Douglas, left this City for Corinne. When and where is the force going to end?

A Change.—This morning was cooler, cloudier and blustery, and it really seems as if we have passed the summit of the temperature for this season.

Personal.—We had a call to-day from Mr. Ingram, now on a visit to this City from Long Island, from the native town of Dr. P. D. Benedict, by whom he was accompanied to our office.

The Educational Excursion.—We are requested to remind the excursionists that the train will leave the Utah Western depot at 7 o'clock to-morrow morning sharp. It would be advisable for all to be at the train at a quarter before seven.

The People's Concert.—The first of the series took place last evening, at the 13th Ward Assembly Rooms and was a success. Dayne's orchestra did well. Mme. Stevenson sang with her usual artistic skill and was loudly applauded.

Scientific.—The able lecture, of Professor Orson Pratt, on "Gravitation and Centrifugal Force," delivered last night, in the University building, was largely attended, numbers who were desirous of hearing it being unable to gain admittance, and was listened to with much attention.

Sudden Death.—About one o'clock yesterday afternoon Mr. David H. Kinsey, of the firm of Reed & Kinsey, departed this life. His demise was somewhat sudden, his illness scarcely extending over two days, the malady which carried him off being, we understand, cholera morbus.

Will Arrive this Evening.—We are informed that Marshal Maxwell, with John D. Lee in custody, will arrive in this City this evening.

Also that there is a probability of a change of venue when the second trial of the case comes on, when it will probably be conducted in the First District before Judge Emerson, or in the Third District, by request of defense and consent of the prosecution.

Additional Curiosities.—The Museum has been presented by Mr. John Hardy with some bottles of water, from Great Salt Lake, full of small living creatures, visible to the naked eye.

The Provo Manufacturing Company have presented to the same institution specimens of cloth made at the factory, which are very good.

A curiosity has been received from the Melville Iron Works, Alleghany Co., Pa., in the shape of a small sheet of iron the ten thousandth part of an inch thick.

Miraculous Escape.—The Cache Valley excursion party, which numbered about five hundred persons, returned last night, having enjoyed a very pleasant trip.

The only accident that occurred to mar the agreeableness of the occasion happened to a young man of Cache, who was acting in the capacity of brakeman on the Utah Northern. At a point north of Brigham City, while the train was traveling at a goodly speed, he undertook to walk over the tops of the cars. While thus engaged the breaking of a board caused him to stumble and he was precipitated, head downwards, between two of the cars. Fortunately for him a man named McIntyre was on the platform of one car and William Rogers on the other, and simultaneously with the striking of his head on the ground each of the two seized a leg and dragged him up by main force. Had they been a moment later nothing could have saved the young man from being crushed and mangled to death.

Homestead Patents.—The following has been made public: U. S. LAND OFFICE, SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, August 10, 1878.

Homestead patents have been received and are now ready for delivery to the following named person, at the Land Office in Salt Lake City, Utah:

Julia A. Wells, William P. Smith, David S. Colvins, John McDaniel, James Knight, Geo. McDaniel, John Penman, Jacob Hancock, H. H. Spaulding, William F. Fougner, Robert Daniel, Thomas W. Bryan, James Taylor, Jacob Foulz, Win W. Dixon, David Walker, Noah L. Shurtliff, Ben J. Johnson, Harvey G. Taylor, Thomas G. Miller, Samuel White, John Bennett, Samuel Rushfort, Carl Capston, Nathan T. G. Cham, Thomas Mackay, J. M. Northrup, Frederick Keeler, J. H. Northrup, Jeremiah Stokes, Richard Kitting, Wm. Turpin, Jr., John G. Turnbow, Jonathan House, Charles A. West, John W. H. W. Nells, P. L. Lanes, Henry Teramore, Absolem W. Smith, James Davies, Sam R. Bannison, Warren Hancock, Joe Barker, John Butcher, Emmer Hunter, William J. Bush, Joshua Adams, John Horton, W. W. Robinson, William Bagley, Thos. P. Fisher, James Hanson, Samuel Seveyer, L. H. Bousley, John Lander, Levi Emery, Chas. F. Dixon, John Simpson, Charles H. Dixon, James C. Brown, John Compton.

Teachers' Normal Institute.—Writing morning, 9 a.m.—Prof. J. R. Park distributed certificates of membership.

Prof. Karl G. Maeser lectured on the subject of Schoolrooms, their ventilation, furniture, and fixtures. He said that the teacher should use every means in his power to make a school room all that it should be, using every means to influence the school officers to provide the proper school apparatus to assist the teacher in his or her arduous task.

10 a.m.—E. F. East finished his lecture on Advanced Arithmetic by numerous examples and explanations.

10.45.—Miss Josephine Cole completed her lecture on Geography. She explained her method of representing the motions of the earth to her pupils, approved of map drawing, would give considerable attention to the geography of our country.
