

GOOD WOMAN LAID TO REST.

Impressive Obsequies Over the Remains of Mrs. Melissa Coray Kimball.

WHAT SHE DID IN THIS LIFE.

Bishop Whitney Pays High Tribute to Her Faithfulness and Integrity
—Elder Morris Talks.

High tribute to the memory of a good woman was that which was paid to the late Mrs. Melissa Coray Kimball at the funeral services held in the Fifteenth ward meetinghouse yesterday afternoon. The obsequies were presided over by Bishop J. R. Morgan and the singing which was particularly appropriate to the occasion, was rendered by old-time members of the ward choir, some of whom were life associates of the deceased. The opening prayer was offered by Elder A. Milton Musser and the first speaker was Bishop Orson F. Whitney, who delivered an excellent address on the travels and good works of Mrs. Kimball. Bishop Whitney said in part:

The bulk of tea and coffee and everything else is trash.
Schilling's Best are both luxury and economy.
Moneyback.

In the neighborhood where the Burtons resided, churches, schoolhouses and private homes were closed against them, owing to the dense prejudice that prevailed against their faith, but the Burton family befriended them. Melissa's brother, Robert—now Bishop Robert T. Burton—then a lad of about 15, persuaded his father to entertain the two missionaries and provide a place in which they might expound their views. It was in the latter part of this year that Melissa Burton became a Latter-day Saint, and soon the entire family were numbered among the members of the Church.

In the year 1838 they all started for Missouri, to which state the Latter-day Saints were then migrating, but they had only reached Walnut Grove, Knox county, Illinois, when they learned of the terrible expulsion whereby 15,000 men, women and children were rendered homeless in Missouri and compelled to seek refuge in midwinter in the adjoining state of Illinois. They therefore remained at Walnut Grove, joining a branch of the Church that existed there, and afterwards settled at Nauvoo, which now became the chief gathering place of their people. Through all these vicissitudes this young girl passed, her faith unshaken, her integrity without a blemish, and when the time came for another exodus of the Saints, she plunged with them into the western wilderness, crossing the Mississippi river on the ice in the month of February, 1846. She was now the wife of William Coray. They proceeded to perform garrison service, and that so efficiently that Gov. Mason of California, at the expiration of their year's term of enlistment, urgently requested them to re-enlist, and many of them did so. Some of the discharged soldiers, working at Sutter's Mills in January, 1848, dug up the first gold of California, for which it was a non-Mormon, their foreman, James W. Marshall, who pronounced the metal gold, it was the picks and shovels of the "Mormon" Battalion. Says that brought that gold to the surface.

"Mrs. Coray and her husband came to Salt Lake valley in 1848, settling in this city, and occupying, I am told, the first house built here in the Fifteenth ward. This place was over after her home. We all knew Aunt Melissa—for she became my aunt by marrying, after the death of her first husband, my uncle, William H. Kimball—who is present with us today. We all knew her and loved her, and her honorable record is an open book before the people. God bless her memory. God bless her children and kindred, and may they emulate her many virtues, and may we all be worthy to meet her hereafter and rejoice in her sainted society. I ask it for Christ's sake. Amen."

ELDER NEPHI L. MORRIS.
Bishop Whitney was followed by Elder Nephi L. Morris, who dealt with the reward of the righteous and the reasonableness of a hope eternal. He said men were growing to the idea of the eternity of things both in a civil and a literary sense. The force of a belief in such a thing was nicely illustrated in the righteous life of the deceased, who manifested to her associates by her toll, patience and fortitude that she had lived for something beyond this mortal probation.

Sole were rendered by Mrs. Maggie Hull and Miss Jackson, and the benediction was pronounced by Elder J. Golden Kimball.

That the deceased was held in high esteem by a large circle of friends and relatives was evident from the immense throng which filled the house to its capacity. There was a profusion of beautiful floral emblems and the services throughout were deeply impressive.

The remains were followed to their last resting place by numerous carriages filled with sympathizing friends and on the way to the City cemetery the grave was attended by Bishop J. R. Morgan. The pallbearers were Lafayette Burton, Willard Burton, William S. Burton, N. V. Jones, Edgar Hill and Heber K. Burton.

REAL ESTATE MEN MEET.

Assembled at Commercial Club and Decide to Organize.
Ninety-two real estate men met last night, at the Commercial club, and decided to organize a real estate association. With this in view a committee of seven was appointed consisting of F. E. McGurkin, E. W. Wilson, W. G. Tuttle, Adolph Richter, J. W. Houston, James Thompson and J. H. Knowlton, to draft a constitution and by-laws and to report next Wednesday, when a permanent organization will be effected.

Judge Colburn advised raising a fund by subscription to defray the expenses through the state, as likely to result to the advantage of the city and state. Said he, "Look at Cripple Creek. Anybody can tell you where Cripple Creek is. Yet we have two mines in this state whose output is equal to the combined product of all ten of Cripple Creek's mines, yet very few people ever heard of Park." Mr. Richter held that real estate business and prices were favorable, but harmony among dealers would be a help. He believed in doing away with all sign boards. "If a man comes to our city," he said, "and sees every lot and house plastered with real estate signs, he wonders what is the matter that everybody wants to sell. Then it would help the dealers, in that it would stop buyers from going to the owners after getting a price from the agent."

Thompson advocated getting manufacturing interests in here to furnish employment for the people who will be brought in here by the railroads. George T. Odell called the attention of the meeting to the recent decision of the supreme court as to sliding and switches used by firms and railways. He believed that if the decision stood and should the petition of certain west side cities be granted, the tracks removed, warehouse facilities and properties would be greatly depreciated in value. He advocated a central point for warehouse switches.

The committee of seven met tonight at the club, to begin work. Interest was manifested in the proposed organization, and the real estate men are sanguine of its success.

GENERAL CHURCH NEWS

B. F. Grant, who has just returned from Vera Cruz, where he spent with Edgington to attend the Mutual Improvement convention at that place, reports having found the organization in excellent condition. The meetings were well attended and evidence of spiritual as well as material strength were seen on every hand. The organization is one of the most active in the state since it has been provided with a tract of moment it is always creditably successful, as it was on the occasion of the recent visit of Governor Wells, when more than $400 was raised for the benefit of the state house.

The campaign committee comprises two members from each precinct and is as follows:
First—J. O. Zipp, Mrs. Paramour.
Second—E. E. Randall, J. V. Whitmore.
Third—Oscar Evans, W. Coates.
Fourth—G. L. Larson, J. N. Schick.
Fifth—A. P. Christensen, John Jones.

TICKET NAMED BY SOCIALISTS.

Got Down to Business at Convention Held in This City
Last night.

ISAACS NOMINATED FOR MAYOR

President of Cigmakers' Union
Heads the List-Other Candidates and Platform.

SOCIALIST CITY TICKET.

For Mayor—M. A. Isaacs.
City Recorder—John South.
City Treasurer—William Service.
City Auditor—M. M. M. Johnson.
City Attorney—E. Randall.

When it comes to doing things the Socialists are there with the goods. This was demonstrated last night when the Socialists met in a hall and adopted a full city ticket in the field and adopted a platform, plain and specific in every detail. As forecasted in last night's "News" the nominating for mayor lay with the Socialists, and M. A. Isaacs, president of the cigmakers' union, and of the two the latter was successful, the gentleman winning on the first ballot by a vote of 36 to 16. The other candidates were nominated by acclamation and appear in the list given above.

The convention was made up of 52 delegates and was called to order by George Spiegel, 112 First, who was elected chairman, and George E. Poate secretary. The committee on platform and resolutions reported as follows:

THE PLATFORM.
Believing that the financial difficulties of Salt Lake City are due to gross favoritism in the assessment of real and personal property, through which the large property owners are enabled to evade the laws which they are so eager to invoke against the petty malefactor, we pledge ourselves to use all means at our command to tax the rich man as rigorously as the poor man's bed.

We would endeavor, however, to place the chief burden of taxation upon the most honest taxpayers. The more the investments which pay the widows and orphans, the more the labor may not be temporarily embarrassed by the discouragement of new and struggling enterprises of which the city is in a position to assume control.

FAVOR MERIT SYSTEM.
As a corollary to the public control of public service we demand a system of administration which will attract and develop the greatest ability and offer as a reward for meritorious conduct the most honorable positions. The merit system should be adopted in the police, fire, water and other departments, and promotions should be made according to length of service, praiseworthy conduct and natural fitness. Misbehavior or incompetency should be the only causes for dismissal.

EXTENSION OF WATER-WORKS.
We favor the gradual extension of the water system, except in an emergency, for the reason that steady employment is better for labor than a rush job, which causes large numbers of men to become simultaneously idle.

OPPOSE CONTRACT SYSTEM.
We favor the abolition of the contract system on all public works, and civil service regulations which will ensure the honest management of such works.

RICH MEN'S CLUBS.
We demand that the rich man's club shall be subject to the same regulations as the saloon, and we further demand the establishment of workingmen's clubhouses under municipal auspices as an alternative to the saloon.

LODGINGS FOR THE POOR.

We submit that cheap but clean and comfortable lodgings should be provided for the transient poor, and that side streets be provided by means of which the penniless may pay for their lodging without loss of self-respect.

FREE EDUCATION.

We demand the free education of all children up to the age of 18 years, and the furnishing, at public expense, of books and, when necessary, of food and clothing; also the appropriation of a fund to be used for the purpose of maintaining the schools in operation during the fall school year.

DEMANDS GALORE.

1. Pensions for public employees who have served ten years or longer and are retired because of old age or physical disability.
2. A municipal labor bureau for the free use of the public.
3. Free public baths.
4. A municipal canteen, to supply food to our citizens at the actual cost thereof.

5. The building of sidewalks and of street paving as rapidly as possible into districts lacking those improvements.
6. That in all public work done by or for the city preference be given to union workmen, and that union wages and hours of work prevail; provided, that in no case shall a day's work command more than eight hours or the wages be less than the prevailing union rates.

7. The purchase of supplies used by the city, whenever possible, from firms employing union workmen.
8. Submission to the people of all questions affecting the public welfare when 2 per cent of the voters shall petition for such submission.

9. The abolition of the poll-tax.
10. The establishment of a city hospital to be maintained out of the general fund.

11. Free legal advice to workmen where the recovery of wages is involved.
The platform was adopted without debate, after which John N. Schicks nominated M. A. Isaacs for mayor and another delegate nominated H. W. Lawrence. The ballot resulted as above. This was the only one during the evening.

CAMPAIN COMMITTEE.
The campaign committee comprises two members from each precinct and is as follows:
First—J. O. Zipp, Mrs. Paramour.
Second—E. E. Randall, J. V. Whitmore.
Third—Oscar Evans, W. Coates.
Fourth—G. L. Larson, J. N. Schick.
Fifth—A. P. Christensen, John Jones.

Hewlett Bros. Co.

Following the nominations Mr. Isaacs moved that a committee be appointed to draw up resolutions censuring the methods employed in raising money for the public schools. The matter was discussed some and then laid on the table.

Mr. Isaacs then made a short speech in which he thanked the convention for the honor conferred, and said that while he did not expect to win he was ready to put up a good, stiff fight. At 10:15 the convention adjourned.

LUKE FACES COURT AGAIN.

Four Jurors Are Secured to Try Defendant on Charge of De-facing Public Records.

GOOD PROGRESS IS BEING MADE

Thought a Verdict May be Had by Noon Tomorrow—Names of Those Trying the Case.

The first of the nine cases of the state vs. Francis G. Luke, charged with defacing and altering a public record, was called for trial in Judge Morse's court this morning and four jurors were secured at the morning session. The indictment which was returned against Luke by the grand jury and upon which he is standing trial, charges that, on April 29, 1902, defendant defaced and altered the records of Justice of the Peace Peter Lochrie's court by entering and doctoring a case therein without the knowledge and consent of Lochrie who was the lawful custodian of the said docket.

The jurors sworn and accepted this morning are Samuel H. Wadsworth, P. Kingsbury, George D. Nebeker and G. W. Rhodes. There are yet four jurors to be secured, but it is believed that they will be secured early this afternoon and the case will be completed by noon tomorrow. District Attorney Elnor and County Attorney Westervelt are representing the state and Attorney James S. Strang, Lippman, A. L. Hoppaugh and E. A. Walton are looking after the interests of the defendant.

Yesterday afternoon Luke entered two additional pleas to the nine indictments against him. The first is that he has already been acquitted of the offense charged in the indictments, by the judgment of the Third district court rendered on Sept. 1, 1903. The second plea is that he has once been in jeopardy for the offense charged, to-wit: On the first day of September, 1902, in the Third district court. The ruling referred to by Luke in his plea of acquittal was that of Judge Morse in which the defendant was acquitted of the charge of defacing the records, charging him with removing and secreting a public record, and because of the omission of the words "Salt Lake county," from the same.

COURT NOTES.

Judge Hall has granted William D. Leonard a divorce from Ella M. Leonard on the ground of desertion. They were married at Beatrice, Neb., on June 17, 1886.

Walker Brothers, bankers, have filed suit in the district court against Frederick Heath, to recover a total of $531.83 alleged to be due on two promissory notes and $100 as attorney's fees. The notes were executed on Oct. 23, 1902, and April 3, 1903.

Cruelty and failure to support are the grounds of divorce set forth in the complaint of Margaret Kempland, Plaintiff, vs. George Kempland, Defendant. The State of Utah, to the said defendant: You are hereby summoned to appear within twenty days after the service of this summons upon you, if served within the county in which this action is brought, or at any other place within the State of Utah, to defend the above entitled action; and in case of your failure to do so, judgment will be rendered against you according to the demand of the complaint, which, within ten days after service of this summons upon you, will be filed with the clerk of said court.
