

FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

"Pioneer Day" to-morrow.
Wanted—a spell of cold weather.
Summer complaint is very prevalent just now.
Two grand concerts at the Tabernacle to-morrow.
"The Silver King," at the Theatre to-morrow night.
Janauscheck will play "Leah the Sorcerer," at the Opera House, on August 1st.
John Robinson's big show will exhibit on Wednesday and Thursday on Washington Square.
Patrick Charles Edwards of the 11th Ward, died yesterday. He was an old British soldier, and embraced the Gospel in 1850, being then a carpenter in the service. He was a kind, honest, humble man, and his wife, home, and his children, and his peace.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Home Mission.—The Home Missions of this State will meet in the Social Hall on Wednesday, July 25th, 1934, at 7:30 p. m.
WILLIAM W. TAYLOR, Clerk of the State.
Excursion to Ogden.—The excursion train will leave the Utah Central depot Tuesday morning at 7:15. Tickets will be good to return the next day.
Pioneer Day.—To-morrow July 24th, will be the thirty-sixth anniversary of the entrance of the Pioneers into this valley. The occasion will be observed as a general holiday, and it should be. The News will not be issued again until Wednesday afternoon.

The Juvenile Thieves.—The four young boys charged with stealing shoes from Messrs. Johnson Bros. & Co. were tried before Justice Hyatt today, and found guilty. The sentence was that they pay the cost of proceedings, amounting to $2.55 each.
Personal.—Mr. Adam Magee, formerly of the Golden Era but now connected with the Pacific Life, is in town working for the interests of the latter California paper, which is highly devoted to sporting interests. He will visit many parts of the Territory.

B. B. B.—A meeting of the Board of Directors of Zion's Baptist Building Society will be held on Wednesday evening, July 25th, at 7 o'clock, at the U. C. R. office, Main St., to receive a report from the examining committee. A punctual attendance of the Directors is desired.

Another Burglary.—On Saturday night a thief entered the house of Mrs. Catherine Hyde, on First East Street and finding about $50 in the pockets of a boarder, walked away with it. The doors were open to admit fresh air, but they admitted something not so acceptable.

The Services.—The funeral services over the remains of Brother John B. Kelly were held in the Seventh Ward Meeting House yesterday morning. Quite a large number of relatives and friends assembled on the occasion. The opening prayer was offered by Elder H. C. Fowler, and the funeral discourse was delivered by President Angus M. Cannon. The benediction was pronounced by Bishop Hickenlooper.

Canal Break.—The Utah Journal gives the details of a serious wash-out which occurred on a canal near the Deseret Flouring Mill, adjacent to Logan, on Thursday last. A good deal of direct damage was done, but the greater loss will be consequential, arising from the necessity of the shutting off of the water from the Logan and Hyde Park Canals, pending the completion of repairs. It will also necessitate the shutting down of the Deseret and Central Mills, Affleck's Planing Mill, and also the old carding mill. The large irrigating ditch beginning at that point must also remain empty. Thus crops would, in the meantime, suffer, and the business of several industrial concerns be suspended.

Knocked Down and Robbed.—On Saturday night a man was passing along Second South street, going eastward. When he reached the Idaho corner he was knocked down, and lay upon the sidewalk insensible for a long time. The blow which rendered him unconscious must have been a heavy one. He died profusely, causing quite a pool at the spot where he fell. After being knocked down he was robbed of $25.00, all the money he had on his person.

He suspects some parties with whom he had a difficulty and who had threatened him. The same parties were aware of his having drawn $70 from a bank in this city on Saturday. They were a short distance ahead of him and appeared to turn the corner to go north a few seconds before he was struck.

A Word of Caution.—A man by the name of A. T. Wood is the head of a local insurance company called the Midland Fire Insurance Company of Salt Lake City, whose office is over Madden & Co.'s store, he being the president of the concern. As he is doing a good deal of business with the people, we deem it our duty, as public journalists, to draw the attention of the community to the necessity of investigating the character of all companies of this kind before investment. In reference to the president of this local company we publish the following clipping:

"A. T. Wood, the Denver agent of the wild cat company, was at one time an underground insurance broker in Detroit, where he was arrested by the commissioner, confessed his guilt, and fled to parts unknown. So says the Indicator, July, 1933, number, Coast Review.

The Coast Review is a monthly insurance journal published at San Francisco.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

FREDERICK ELDREDGE KICKED BY A HORSE.

Yesterday, a very serious accident occurred at the farm of Bro. Frederick B. Eldredge, of the 10th Ward. The place is situated a few miles west of Jordan River. The time for watering the land was yesterday, and Brother Eldredge took his son Frederick, aged fourteen years, with him to attend to it. After the watering was done the lad was leading the horse up to be hitched, preparatory to starting for home, when the animal, which is very gentle, but being tormented with horse flies, started kicking. Freddie was struck in the center of the forehead, directly above the nose, the cork of the shoe crushing in the skull.

The boy was brought home to the 10th Ward, and Dr. Benedict called to his aid. The doctor removed eight or ten pieces of bone from the surface of the brain. One fragment was so large that it had to be broken before it could be brought out of the aperture.

The lad bore the operation with great fortitude. He did not take chloroform, but, putting his hands down into pockets he braced himself, making remarks to the doctor during the progress of the ordeal. The brave little fellow also told his uncle to tell his mother that he was not very much hurt, being evidently thoughtful about the effect produced on her by the accident. The patient is feeling moderately comfortable, fully as well as could be expected.

Tabernacle Services.—Yesterday afternoon the congregation was first addressed by Elder Henry W. Nalbitt. He said he was proud of the rising generation, because of their great faith. They had been appointed by God to preach His Gospel and spread the truth. He then gave some of his experience before and since he embraced the Gospel, showing the good results of living in accordance with the principles of truth. He testified that what it had done for him it would do for every other person who pursued a consistent course.

Elder H. J. Grant, of the Quorum of the Twelve, was the next speaker. He drew attention to the fact that a leading light among Christian clergymen had admitted that in order to conform to his teachings to orthodox Christians, men of advanced thought would be compelled to resort to a species of sophistical ingenuity to sustain it. So far as the speaker was concerned, he would be sorry to have to recede from his honest convictions in favor of any system. He desired to sustain nothing but the pure, unadulterated truth. The greater portion of his discourse was devoted to showing the necessity of the proper training of children, upon which subject he advanced some very instructive thoughts.

The Late Helena L. Richards.—In another part of this issue will be found a notice of the death of Sister Helena L. Richards, wife of Brother Samuel W. Richards. Deceased was the daughter of John and Elizabeth Robinson, born April 27th, 1838, in Douglas, Iowa. In her youthful days she was active in aiding the cause of truth, which was then being introduced in that island by President John Taylor, and which was embraced by several members of the family.

In 1855 in company with her sister Jane and other friends, she gathered with the Saints in this country, and in 1856 became the wife of Elder S. W. Richards. She was the mother of twelve children, nine of whom are still living, and were with two grandchildren, gathered at her bedside during her last sickness of nearly three weeks. General physical debility from change of life, with organic heart disease was too much for her frail constitutional organization, dropsy ensued and soon put an end to all vitality. She had left this city less than three weeks before her death hoping to improve her health by being with her children in the country, but which proved to be only in time for them to testify their last care and kindness upon her. She rests in the faith of the Gospel of Christ, and hope of the resurrection of the just.

The Silver King.—Great preparations are in progress at the Theatre. Workmen were engaged all last night, have been to-day and will be to-night, erecting the novel scenery painted expressly by Mr. Yokito, for this place, and brought to this city, that the play may be presented in complete finish. About this place Lloyd's Weekly (London) said:

"The Silver King" is, indeed, a triumph of dramatic writing and construction. No one can deny that the story runs on old—very old—lines, but the development of nearly every act is a dramatic surprise. The dialogue is brilliant, full of point, terse, and often epigrammatic; and it is decidedly superior to that ordinarily belonging to dramas of the class.

We understand there will be no matinee on Wednesday afternoon, as announced in some of the posters. During the engagement "The Romance of a Poor Young Man," will be played by the company, when Mr. H. C. Traylor's splendid new scene, with its various combinations, will be introduced.

Burglary.—Some time between 1 and half-past 4 o'clock on Sunday morning, some person burglarized the lodging house of Mr. Greenwald, on Third South Street. Passing up stairs the thief entered a room in which J. Greenwald was sleeping, went through his pockets and carried off seven dollars. He next entered an apartment occupied by Messrs. Rymstrom and Samberger, both of whose watches were stolen, valued at $120 each, besides the gold chains attached. From the first named of the two gentlemen $50 was also stolen, and from the other, $25.

The thief, whoever he was, had no difficulty in gaining ingress to the premises, the doors having been left open in consequence of the hot weather.

Mental depression, weakness of the muscular system, general ill-health, benefited by using Brown's Iron Bitters.

Celebration Concerts.

Large numbers of people are beginning to arrive from various parts of the Territory to spend to-morrow in the metropolis of Utah. Nearly all of them have come for the purpose of attending the grand celebration concerts at the Tabernacle to-morrow morning and afternoon, which constitute the great popular attraction of to-morrow's Pioneer Day anniversary. The performances are ample and the performances promise to be all that could be desired. The huge building will probably be filled.

All on the Square.—Of course the proper place to celebrate Pioneer Day to-morrow, is Salt Lake City, where the Pioneers landed. Among the various attractions advertised for that day there is no doubt that those of the Athletic Association will, as they did on the 4th, call out one of the largest assemblages of people ever gathered in Salt Lake City. In the first place the first monster Gas Balloon ever seen here will ascend from the square for the first time with a lady in it. Then come the series of Bicycle races for prizes aggregating $100, the five mile Bicycle race for a $25 stop-watch, and to cap the climax, the matched game of base ball between the Eastern Drummers and the Merchants team of this city. The Drummers have drummed up a magnificent prize and have received that victory shall perch on their banner as usual. Whereas the stalwarts of the other team are perfectly confident that they can bat the drummers all over the field, and walk off with the laurels. Quicker Sacks.
