EVENING NEWS.

Tuesday, October 13, 1875.

The European Mission.—The following are from the Milwaukee Star, Sept. 13—

From correspondence in the Star we glean the following—

"Birmingham, Aug. 23.—Since last correspondence to you I have travelled ten days in England and Worcester counties, and held nine meetings. I met with Elder Thomas Jones, a man who who accompanied me to hold a camp meeting at Brimble Commons. We had an audience of some 200 people, and very good attention paid by the majority of them notwithstanding Mr. Williams again came with some more men from Bromyard, to try and break up our meeting. As they did not speak, he commenced, but I paid no attention, but kept speaking until some one interfered on our behalf and assisted in him; they drew around them most of the young boys, and we carried on our meeting, which was addressed by Elder Steed, myself, Elders Belliston and Phillips. Four persons have been baptized since our last meeting. We had another outdoor meeting at Acton, and a very good attendance, as the close of which a woman gave her name for baptism.
"We went from there to Malvern, and met with Elder Jacob Miller, who, in connection with Elder Steed and Job Welling are now visiting their old friends prior to their departure on a mission to Australia. Elder Miller went with us to the Maidens City of Hereford, where Elder Robert Johnson, the President of that Branch, had engaged the bellman to go to the tower and announce that three missionaries from America would preach in the evening, and we had a very nice, respectable audience, although the weather was not very propitious. A couple of young gentlemen detained us after the meeting, and asked several questions, which we answered, and turning to the passage of the Scripture to substantiate the same to their satisfaction, apparently, for they accompanied us nearly to our lodgings, asking questions on the way.
"We came back to Malvern, the native place of Elder Steed, and where he has quite a circle of friends and acquaintances. We had announced a camp meeting at Malvern Commons. The weather on Saturday and all night was very rainy. Sunday morning turned out fine, and we had a splendid congregation, the ground dried up so scores of people could sit on the nice green grass. We had a very good audience. One man who used to be in the Church, but had returned to his old home, and he gave his name for re-baptism, and after the close of our evening meeting quite a number of people gathered around us and asked a great many questions.
"On arriving at Brother Jones', near Powick, Sister Jones remarked, 'How lonely we are here without meetings.' I replied, 'We can get up a meeting very easily,' although it was then half-past 7 o'clock. Elder Belliston went and notified every house in the neighborhood, and by 8 o'clock we had a house full of agricultural laborers, and Elder Belliston and myself preached about thirty minutes each to them, and they seemed very much pleased and hoped we would come again. I returned to Birmingham and immediately started in company with Elder V. L. Halliday through the county of Northampton, and joined with Elder G. L.
Farrell for a week. We travelled from village to village and held six outdoor meetings, and we had a meeting with the Saints at Northampton, and in the evening held a meeting on the sea-coast, which was quite a place of resort on Sunday evenings, and we had a very attentive audience.
We spent two nights at Stanwick and preached each night. After the close of the last meeting, a Wesleyan reformer came up to us, and wished to propound some questions. He thought that we had much stress upon the subject of baptism.' We replied no more so than Jesus Christ himself did. 'He that believeth and is baptized, shall be saved.' Alas! he replied, 'I resist you, you must be baptized again.' He thought that the 3,000 people on the day of pentecost were not all baptized. I replied I should infer from the Scripture that they were—they were pricked in their hearts and exclaimed, 'Men and brethren what shall we do?' Peter told them what they must do in order to become adopted citizens of the kingdom of God.
'Repent and be baptized every one of you, in the name of Jesus Christ, for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit.' He then came to the rescue of our Wesleyan friend, and stated that 'Peter never could have baptized so many in one day.' We granted he could not alone, but we reminded him that there were twelve Apostles, also 'Seventy', and then another 'Seventy'; that were called to the ministry by Christ, all of whom had the authority to baptize, and no doubt the majority of these disciples were present on this occasion. We baptized one woman after the meeting; her husband went with us to the river side.
"My experience this summer convinces me that more good can be accomplished through holding outdoor meetings than by gathering together in dwelling houses.
"I enjoyed myself very much this last month; the weather has been very favorable on the whole, and we have held seven camp meetings, throughout the conference in the open air.
