WASHINGTON, 22.—The Precident and party left Wa-hinglon this af-noon for New York.—It is not defi-nitely known how long the Presi-dent will, remain in New York, but dent will remain in New York, but it is probable he will be there until after Decoration Day. The Past will publish to morrow a letter grow Secretary Chandler to ex-Congressman Dezendorf, of Yir ginia, in, reply to a communication received from the latter, calling at tention, to the levying of assess ments for collical purposes on em ployees of the Norfolk navy yard. The Secretary, after answering the charges concerning the alleged vio-lations of law, says: None of, your letters which you have made public indicates that you take a very strong. Indicates that you take a very strong interest in the reformation of the navy yaid at Norfolk, and your long familiarity with the yaid as a con-stant candidate for Congress, since stant candidate for Congress, since the war, seeking special support from the voters here employed, will undoubtedly enable you to make many more valuable sugges-tions for the suppression of abuses therein, which will gladly be receiv-ed and considered. That you should now for the first time call the atten-tion of the department and the pubtion of the department and the pub-lie to such abuses after you have ceased to expect any personal benefit from the management of the yard, is a most commendable peryard, formance of public duty by a private formance et public duty by a private citizen. The Attorney General has given his opinion to the Secretary of the Treasury, that under the provisions of the not approved March 3rd, 1883, no tax can be collected on the capi-tal and deposits of National Banks since the first cay of last January, and no tax on the capital and desince the first cay of last January, and no tax on the capital and de-posits of State banks since the first day of last December. The Attor-ney General says he is of the opin-ion that, duties, are not assessable and collectible on deposits and capi-tal stock of National Banking Asso-clations for the period between the date of the act, March 3rd, 1883, and January 1st, 1883, nor on deposits and capital of other banks and bank-ers for the period between the date of the same act and December 1st, 1882. 3882.
