

FUNERAL OF GOV. STEUNENBERG

State Officers and Federal Officials Pay Respect to His Memory.

BORAH DELIVERED ORATION.

Services Held in Christian Church of Caldwell, Conducted by Presbyterian Minister and Adventist Elder.

Boise, Ida., Jan. 2.—The funeral of ex-Gov. Steunenberg was held today in Caldwell, his home town. There was a very large attendance. A special train carried some 200 persons from Boise. Among those present were the governor and two ex-governors, all the other state officers, the justices of the supreme court, the judge of the federal court, four of the district judges of the state, a former member of Congress, a former delegate to Congress and a great number of prominent private citizens.

The services were held in the Christian church, conducted by Rev. W. J. Boone, a Presbyterian clergyman, assisted by Elder Snyder from Walla Walla, of the Seventh Day Adventist faith, with which Mrs. Steunenberg affiliates. The church was beautifully decorated, there being many floral offerings. The service of the day was a brief oration by W. E. Borah, at the request of members of the family. Mr. Borah paid a touching tribute to his dead friend and continuing took occasion briefly to speak of the public services of the dead and the debt of obligation under which he placed the state. In this connection he delicately called attention to the fact that, through political influence, the only cause of the Steunenberg's work was set free, and the governor now lies in death at the hands of a man or men supposed to have been actuated by hate growing out of the selfishness of the dead in suppressing lawlessness in that section.

He said in part: "But let it not be forgotten in a day or a year that the demands of the law must be satisfied with impunity never. Wherever the offense is surely located, whomever it may affect and be fastened upon, there will be neither compromise nor cowardice. Idaho will not permit this humiliation to be ameliorated by time or wiped out by influence. The citizen who from this hour does not become the untiring searcher for the author of this crime carries already in heart the germs of treason. He is a part of us—the commonwealth disowns him. Idaho today offers to the nation the inspiring character of her great recognition, wherever fame gathers to scroll the names of those who have sacrificed all for the civic integrity of our institutions. But in the months of years to come we will give to our sister states the proof that his example was not in vain—justice will bring to bar the cowardly assassin, and Idaho will in part pay to the memory of her dead her immeasurable debt of gratitude. No man wending his way to his home and loved ones, peering through darkness and storms to the lighted windows, where cheer and welcome await his coming, will dare forget that Idaho's standing and mankind's safety is yet in question, and will be until the law shall have written the merciless sentence for those who bring us to this unspeakable horror. Neither suspicion nor rumor nor passion shall have sway, but justice nevertheless will be done. The manhood of Idaho is behind it."

EVIDENCE AGAINST HOGAN.
Boise, Ida., Jan. 2.—Under date of Caldwell at 9 p. m., the Statesman's representative sends the following: "Capt. Swain has just made the following sensational statement to the representative of the Statesman: 'You may announce to the world that we have conclusive evidence, that the bomb used in the assassination of Gov. Steunenberg was manufactured in room No. 6 of the Saratoga hotel (the room occupied by Hogan), and that the details of the plans were probably formulated there.' It was further stated by the captain that the evidence ac-culminated against Hogan is overwhelming. He did not feel justified in making much of it public, but he was willing to state that one feature of it was the finding of Hogan's shoes that he wore on the night of the murder. He would not say where those shoes were found, but stated that they were wet when discovered. The shoes had mud in the soles and these muds were found to fit perfectly into tracks which have all along been believed to have been made by the assassin while escaping from the scene.

"Capt. Swain said he did not expect to have any additional news tonight, but would be up bright and early in the morning with some important work to be attended to. He gave your correspondent to understand that the evidence at hand justified several additional arrests; in a few hours guilt would be positively fixed on somebody; Hogan was undoubtedly guilty of manufacturing the bomb, at least. Vessels in his room, it develops, show a sediment of plaster of paris, this being one of the evidences of the kind of work he was doing there."

According to a Herald Boise special John C. Rice of Caldwell has identified Thomas Hogan as a man whom he met very frequently during November between his home and the downtown district. In fact, for a time he met him every morning as he came down town. Hogan was usually dressed in a suit, Mr. Rice's home and on beyond Steunenberg's residence. All the members of Mr. Rice's family saw him at different times. On one occasion Hogan was observed with a pair of field glasses. These he leveled upon the domestic employed at the Rice home, and she complained about it.

Hogan's baggage was all examined today. One portion was a trunk found yesterday in the baggage room at the depot. He had never moved it to the hotel, though it was less than a block, and the fact of its existence was not discovered until a search was made. It is learned that Hogan had access to the trunk. He visited the baggage room on the day the murder occurred.

The trunk, a large one, was filled with clothing. Some of this was "dod" and other portions had been worn well. Some of the clothing had plainly been used in minding work.

An interesting portion of the contents of the trunk was a pair of nippers, the kind used in cutting fuse and setting caps in gun powder. They were well covered with whitish material such as would be accumulated in working with powder and smeared of giant powder. There was also part of a kit of burglar's tools, including an elaborate and extensive instrument used in determining the combination of safes. The finding of the fuse cutter is regarded as being of great significance, particularly as it carries the small powder.

In a large grip some white powder was found, supposed to be a high explosive. The smaller grip contained a Colt's automatic pistol, some cartridges for same, a pair of brass knuckles, an electric flashlight, a pair of field glasses, a fishing reel with the line removed (the line may have been that used in pulling the trigger of the bomb), and times of white powder, which was shown to be explosive by placing a minute particle of it on iron and striking it with a hammer.

HOGAN COMMITTED.
Boise, Ida., Jan. 2.—At Caldwell today the man calling himself Thomas Hogan, accused of the murder of ex-Gov. Steunenberg, was brought into court and formally committed to the custody of the sheriff. He stated he thought he could get counsel in two days and be prepared for his preliminary hearing. There are two other suspects in jail there and two more will arrive from Council tomorrow. Those in jail are Larry Heron and an Englishman, whose name is "Babe" at Council are F. Campbell and Harold Warren. The latter two were in Nampa last Friday when Hogan was there and he registered there at a local hotel, using the name William Warren for the younger. The two now in jail are the other two men suspected from the start. Hogan carried some business cards reading "Thomas Hogan, Silverton, Colo. Agent Mutual Life Insurance Company."

ARTHUR BALFOUR'S ELECTION ADDRESS

He Would Adapt England's Fiscal Policy to Changing Conditions.

IS UNION PARTY'S PROGRAM.

Chamberlain Says so Long as Unionist Party is in Power (Can Afford to Let Redmond Bluster.

London, Jan. 2.—Arthur J. Balfour, the former premier, issued his election address tonight. In it he says that the country knows the members of the present government chiefly as critics, and that their criticism has been sometimes singularly unscrupulous and perverse, as in the case of Chinese labor and other matters. After referring to the adherence of the new ministry to home rule for Ireland and to the disestablishment of the church in Wales, the address says:

"One thing the Liberals regard as immutable, however the conditions of international trade may have changed, is the fiscal policy of the country. I take the more extensive view, and hold that the time has arrived to adapt England's fiscal policy to the changing conditions of a changing world. Should you return the Unionist party to power it is to the reform of the fiscal system that its attention ought first to be directed."

With this brief reference to fiscal reform Mr. Balfour quits the subject. He then proceeds to express his want of confidence in Sir Edward Grey as foreign secretary because, whatever his capacity to direct the foreign office, there must be two conditions in his favor—first, a strong army and navy, without which in times of stress diplomacy must degenerate either into bluff or to appeals to mercy, and, second, the support of a united cabinet. Mr. Balfour says it is doubtful if these conditions can be fulfilled, and continues:

"In imperial matters the gift which divides Sir Robert William Perkins (the Liberal member for East Lindsey, Lincolnshire) from John Redmond (leader of the Irish Nationalist party) is immeasurable. No formula can conceal it and no compromise can bridge it."

The former premier concludes with an appeal for support on the personal ground of his 20 years of faithful service.

Joseph Chamberlain has lunged into the campaign with all his old-time ardor. In the face of considerable opposition he delivered two vigorous speeches at Birmingham today and is scheduled to speak in a number of the larger towns during the coming week. Mr. Balfour contents himself with a quiet fight, and is confining himself to his own constituency of East Manchester. His attitude on the fiscal problem, as indicated by his election address, is of a non-committal character, in strong contrast with that of Mr. Chamberlain, who does not hesitate to advance his views at every opportunity.

In the course of his two speeches at Birmingham Mr. Chamberlain asserted that he would "tomorrow put a duty on luxuries and foreign manufactures," but that he would not tax raw materials. With reference to home rule he told his constituents that, were it adopted, "you will have in Ireland a sort of jumping off place for every enemy of the country who desires to take the jump."

Mr. Chamberlain further said that he did not regard John Redmond as dangerous, adding, "So long as the Unionist government is in power we can afford to allow him to bluster as much as he likes."

According to well-informed gossip in Dublin, no great changes are expected in the Irish representation in parliament. Rumor says that Sir Anthony Patrick McDonnell, the permanent under secretary of the lord lieutenant of Ireland, is busy at Dublin castle shaping schemes for the administration of Ireland, but it is said that the cabinet has already decided that no Irish bills will be presented in parliament during 1904.

BURNED DYNAMITE FOUND.
Railroad Men Connect It With Operations of North Yakima Bandits.

Seattle, Jan. 2.—Louis Hanson, a section foreman employed by the Columbia and Puget Sound railroad, found a cache of dynamite under a log on the company's right of way near Black River Junction. The explosive is of a new make and the brand is not sold anywhere in the northwest. There were seven sticks in all.

Northern Pacific tracks parallel those of the Columbia and Puget Sound between Seattle and Black River. This is a small station where all trains make an operation, and is not far from Stevensdale, where an attempt was made by bandits to stop the Northern Coast Limited to days ago.

Railroad men connect the finding of the dynamite with the operation of the North Yakima bandits and the attempt to rob the overland train near Ravensdale. Black River is reached by two electric lines and two steam lines, making it easy for bandits to have picked up their explosive and concealed themselves on a Northern Pacific train as it stopped for orders.

COLORADO'S FIRST SNOW.
Denver, Colo., Jan. 2.—A snowstorm, in many places the first of the season, began in southern and western Colorado this afternoon. Several inches of snow have fallen. The storm is traveling northward and tonight all indications are that Denver will receive a visitation after several months of ideal weather.

In the southern part of the state and at points in the mountains the temperatures have fallen to zero and below. Reports from New Mexico and as far south as the Texas line show that a general storm has prevailed for more than 24 hours, accompanied by severe cold weather. Cattle and sheep are suffering intensely.

BEATEN BY BANDITS.
Butte, Mont., Jan. 2.—Two masked men early this morning held up the Hub saloon on Main street, snatching a half-dozen persons who were in the resort at the time into a winchman, where they were held at the points of two six-shooters, while one bandit attempted to force bartender Fred Kuntz to open the safe.

The Kuntz pleaded that he was not in possession of the combination, and, after beating him over the head with the gun, the robbers left, after rifling his pockets of their victims, securing about $25.

BLACKBURN DEFEATED FOR THE U. S. SENATORSHIP

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 2.—Judge Thomas H. Paynter of the Kentucky court of appeals was nominated on the first ballot taken in joint caucus tonight to select a Democratic candidate for United States senator to succeed J. C. S. Blackburn. The nomination carries with it the certainty of election, as the Democrats have more than two-thirds of the combined membership of both branches of the legislature. The vote was as follows: Thomas H. Paynter, 59; Senator J. C. S. Blackburn, 34; W. C. B. Haldeman, 10; Congressman David H. Smith, 1. Necessary to nominate, 32.

Thomas H. Paynter was born in Lewis county, Kentucky, Dec. 19, 1851. He has served three terms in Congress, from 1888 to 1895 and is now a member of the Kentucky court of appeals, serving his second term.

LABOR CONTRACTS.
Important Decision by N. Y. Supreme Court on Constitutional Rights.

New York, Jan. 3.—In the appellate division of the supreme court yesterday a decision was rendered in the case of Harry Marcus, convicted on a charge of coercing Hyman Scheinbaum to enter into a written agreement with the H. Marcus shirt company not to become a member of any labor organization as a condition of securing employment with that concern. The judgment of conviction is reversed and the defendant ordered discharged.

The court holds that the section of the penal code which forbids the making of contracts of the kind described, declaring such act a misdemeanor, is unconstitutional. "It is the duty of the state and the nation, last, inability or unwillingness to perform that duty may not be assigned as a justification for a law making the exercise of one's constitutional rights a crime."

FOREMAN OF JURY INDICTED.
Helena, Mont., Jan. 2.—It developed today that the United States grand jury which adjourned last Saturday indicted among others a misdeemeanor, is Helena, former United States marshal for Montana, for illegally fencing public lands in Teton county. A feature of the case is the fact that Mr. Woodman was the foreman of the grand jury up to the time an indictment was returned against him, when he retired in order, as he said, to hamper the jury. He gave $100 bail to plead to-morrow.

COLLISION ON SHERMAN HILL.
Cheyenne, Wyo., Jan. 2.—Failure of the air in a westbound freight train caused a collision this morning with an eastbound freight at Dale Creek, near Sherman hill. No one was seriously hurt. Conductor Harry McMillan and Engineer Heenan were in charge of the westbound train, and Conductor James Mason in charge of the eastbound when the accident occurred. The train was stopped at the station, and traffic was not delayed.

Word from Lincoln, Neb., states that William McMillan, formerly of Cheyenne, fell under the cars there this morning. One leg was cut off and the other badly mangled.
