The crowds groaned in sympathy when they saw Dury driving back on foot, they gave him a cheer as he passed, and the honors of France were then transferred to Szisz who was a good second.

On entering the last lap, Nazario looked to be an easy winner, hating the exhaustion of the petrol.

Szisz was two miles behind Nazario from Lancia.

LOUIS LYNN IS OUT OF A JOB

Office of Walking Delegate for The Electrical Workers Said To Be Abolished.

It is reported and currently believed in labor circles that the office of walking delegate for the Electrical workers that was held by Louis Lynn has been abolished, and Louis is out of a salaried position. The other, and executive office that he holds does not bring him in anything. He is the brilliant individual who was arrested in the morning recently for beating up a drunken man on Commercial street, and on the afternoon of the same day appointed an "American" party special policeman to maintain order along the route of the automobile race.

Cheesman, J. R. Walker, C. A. Walker, C. R. Walker and Winifred S. Walker to restrain defendants from maintaining such a nuisance in the future. It alleged that the chimneys on the Walker building are so low that all the smoke and fumes are carried into the windows of the offices of plaintiff's building and that the tenants are sometimes compelled to keep the windows closed and are thus deprived of fresh air. It is asked that defendants be compelled to abate the nuisance and that they be restrained from maintaining the same in any such manner as heretofore.

COMMUTERS WAGE WAR.

Suburban Residents Institute Boycott Against New York Central.

New York, July 2.—A boycott of more than passing interest has been instituted by suburban residents against the New York Central railroad. Recently the railroad company announced an increase in commutation rates on the Harlem division with the result that the company was assailed with protests from the commuters of Mount Vernon, while Blains, Tuckahoe and other nearby towns. These protests falling of effect, meetings were held by the commuters and resolutions adopted to boycott the railroad until it shall restore the old rates, the commuters meantime riding to and from New York on the trolley cars. July 1 was the date set for the boycott to begin and many of the commuters have stuck to the agreement and are using the trolley cars.

Another move in the fight is to bombard the railroad company with an endless chain of letters. This action was decided upon by a Mount Vernon resident and will be inaugurated immediately. Another step contemplated is an appeal to the public utilities commission. At the offices of the New York Central Railroad company the officials said the raising of the commutation rate was regarded as a closed incident and would remain so as far as the officials are concerned.

Death was caused by a combined attack of diphtheria and scarlet fever, from which the boy suffered for nearly a week. The complication of diseases made the case a difficult one to handle. The boy passed away at the home of his parents last night.

John Cruickshank Farmer.—Chief Clerk John Cruickshank of the Short Line auditing department, returned today from an eastern trip, his summer vacation. Mr. Cruickshank has been playing horn on a combined tour in Egypt (southern Illinois), the home of his innocent childhood, where playing hooky from Sunday school and memorizing Webster's spelling in the little red schoolhouse were the more notable events in the history of his younger years. Mr. Cruickshank has been planting corn, setting scarecrows to drive the crows away, rising at 4:30 a. m. to milk 17 cows, and otherwise indulging in the idyllic performances of the agricultural life. He is back now at his desk, with calloused hands, trying to lumber up his fingers so he can grasp with facile grace the pen once more.

Sympathy That Went Wrong.

Not long ago a Los Angeles millionaire, whose kindly sympathy and generous impulses so predominate in his nature that he gets his greatest pleasure from helping others, learned of the death of the wife of his favorite barber, instantly his first thought was to extend his sympathy, and do it in a practical way. So he promptly wrote a letter of condolence to the afflicted husband and inclosed with it a check for $100, "to help meet the burden of expense brought by the sad bereavement."

A day or two later he received the check back, accompanied by a letter from the barber which ran about as follows: "Dear Sir: I have received your kind letter of condolence, accompanied by your check for $100. I assure you that I appreciate your sympathy, but I must return your generous gift. The fact is that the deceased was divorced from me several years ago. Since that time I have been paying her alimony at the rate of $20 a month. I feel therefore that I can hear the financial burden brought by this act of Providence."

"Gratefully yours, BARBER."

Champion Bashful Girl.

Exchanges have been talking of the Wewaka girl who is so bashful that she cannot see a sleeping car without blushing; of an Ada girl who faints at the sight of a locked lumber; the National girl who locks herself in her room when she wants to change her hair; of a combined girl who never thinks of retiring with a copy of the Christian Observer in her hand; the Shawnee girl who is so shy she will not wear undressed kid gloves. All of these pale into insignificance beside the Hugo girl who shies at the bare truth of naked facts and has eliminated from her vocabulary garden hose and dog pants, and always turns her head when she sees the salad dressing.
