A curious statistician has calculated that while so much gold is spent to enable men to carry deadly iron on their shoulders, the 1,300,000,000 in the Bank of France would only require 5,102 men to carry the whole sum away in useful gold pieces.

This is related of a father, who was one evening teaching his little boy to recite his Sunday School lesson. It was from the 14th chapter of Matthew, wherein is related a parable of a malicious individual who went about sowing tares. "What is a tare?" asked the anxious parent. "Tell me, my son, what a tare is?"

"You had 'em."

"Johnny, what do you mean?" asked the astonished parent, opening his eyes rather wide.

"Last week, when you didn't come home for three days," said Johnny, "I heard mother tell aunt Susan that you were on a tare."

Johnny was sent to bed.
