MAY BE COMPELLED TO RELAY TRACKS

City Council Refuses to Grant Street Railway Permission To Haul Freight.

MUST ALSO TEAR UP LINES.

Hobday Garbage Ordinance Still Up in The Air-Another Hanl Made On Street Fund.

From present indications the Utah Light & Railway company will have to relay its tracks on Fifth South street from Main to Fifth East and put them back to their former place. The city council last night refused to grant the company permission to haul freight over the Fifth South street line to the site for its new barns on Sixth East and Fifth South, and as it has already and Fith put its tracks on a nine-foot center in order to permit of the handling of freight, it will have to remove them and freight, it will have to remove them and place them back at a seven-foot center. It was stated by one member of the council that if the council did not act on the proposition last night the mayor would have ordered the tracks forn up today for the simple reason that they were laid without any permission whetever

FERNSTROM WANTS TO KNOW.

The matter came up on a report of the municipal laws committee refusing o grant the company permission to aul freigh over the Flifth South street ine. After the report was read Fern-strom wanted to know why the comstrom wanted to know why the com-mittee had not acted on the company's franchise which had been asked for sev-eral months ago. He was opposed to dodging the matter any longer and urged that the council tell the company whether or not it is going to grant the franchise. It was unfair, he argued, to let the company go shead and go to the expense of putting the tracks down, expecting to get a franchise and down, expecting to get a franchise, and then turn it down. He declared that the policy of the administration seemed to be to do nothing at all.

ALSO FAVOR ACTION.

Preece and Wells also favored some action on the franchise at once. The former said that the people on Fith South had been told that the company was going to run steam engines along the street to haul freight and he was sure that if they understood what was going to be done they would not oppose it. Wells insisted that it would do no harm to allow the tracks to remain even though the council did not let the mpany haul freight over them and thought it was very unjust to put company to the expense of relaying

REPORT ADOPTED.

Mulvey, Black and Crabtree insisted that the company had slipped in there and laid the tracks without permission from any one and that it should be compelled to remove them. The report of the committee was finally adopted by a vite of 12 to 3. GARBAGE ORDINANCE AGAIN.

The Hobday garbage ordinance was The Hobday garbage ordinance was again up for consideration and was passed after an amendment had been made by Wells. Hobday did not approve of the Wells amendment, so he changed his vote and gave notice of reconsideration at the next meeting. Hence the ordinance is still up in the air. It was aimed at a number of large mercantile establishments and newspaper offices which load up nearly a wagon a day each mostly with papers and stuff that could be destroyed in the furnace connected with the es-the furnace connected with the es-blishments. It restricted the amount garbage to be hauled free by the y to three barrels dally. Wells' amendment prohibited the acing of garbage cans on the side-blish or streets and compels garbage alks or streets and compels garbage in the residence district to be need in the yards within 25 feet of a street. This means that the garb-e men will have to go into the stores d yards and carry the garbage out d dump it in their wagons and also ans the employment of additional up on the wagons in the business trict. The amendment was adopted district. The amendment was adopted after considerable argument by a vote of 8 to 7. Ferry and Mulvey voting with the six minority members of the council in favor of the amendment. The ordinance was then passed by a similar vote, but Hobday changed his vote to yes and then gave notice of reconsideration.

PASS PURE FOOD LAW.

The new pure food ordinance, which makes the city ordinance on that subject comply with the state and national pure food laws, was also up again for consideration and passed under a suspension of the rules by a unanimous vote. Later Preece gave notice of reconsideration, so it will be up again at the next meeting.

MAKE ANOTHER HAUL.

Another haul was made on the street fund last night by the transfer of $7,-455.44 from that fund to the various pecial improvement funds to pay the city's portion of the expense of such improvements.

REPORT FURTHER SHORTAGE. The board of public works notified he council that there is a shortage mounting to $1,425.49 on several of the ower extensions due to extra excava-ons and asked that some way be und to pay the deficit. The matter as referred to the finance committee. vas referred to the find another transfer loubt be authorized.

Mayor Thompson sent in a communition urging that some action be tak-at once towards creating an inside wer district in the business part of a city and several ordinances were ecordingly introduced by O'Donnell in egard to the matter. They were re-erred to the engineering and sewerage ommittees for consideration.

CONTRACTS FOR WATER.

Mulvey introduced a resolution ap-roving the contracts with Francis Mc-lonald and several other Big Cotton-farmers whereby they transfer to the first second feet of the waters g Cottonwood creek in considera-for the city putting in eight outlets the new conduit so that the farm-nay secure water where they need whenever the city has it to spare. BARBERS WANT CLOSED SHOPS. A petition was received from T. Aubrey and a number of other barbers asking that the city ordinance be enforced in regard to closing barber shops on Sunday. They ask that windows of the shops be kept clear so that the police officers can see whether or not the barbers are doing business on Sundays. The municipal laws committee will look into the matter.

EMPLOY EXTRA HELP.

Health Commissioner Stewart was authorized to put en an extra garbage team in the business district owing to the increase in work. He was also authorized to keep two of his extra sanitary inspectors on for an additional 30 days.

Afflicted Lady Was Too Ill to Attend Husband's Funeral on Sunday.

Mrs. Vinnie Burbidge Campbell, wife of James M. Campbell, the well known real estate man who met death from injuries received while attempting to board a train at Bonneville, is lying very ill at her home, prostrated from the effects of the terrible accident resulting in her husband's death. She will probably be removed to her child-hood's home, the old Burbidge homestead on Second North between Apple and Second West streets, where she may receive the direct care of her mother in her suffering. Mrs. Campbell was too ill to attend the funeral of her husband, which occurred Sunday afternoon from the Seventeenth ward chapel. Bishop Franklin S. Tingey conducted the services, and beautiful musical numbers were furnished by the ward choir, a male quartet, composed of members of the ward, and a solo by Mrs. Lizzie Thomas Edward. The speakers at the services were Elder Robert Patrick, Patriarch Angus M. Cannon, President Nephi L. Morris of the Salt Lake stake, Elder John Henry Smith of the quorum of the the effects of the terrible accident re-Henry Smith of the quorum of that twelve, and Counselor Willey of the ward bishoptic, the remarks of all being highly sulogistic of the exemplary life led by the deceased, and his worth as a citizen, husband, father and man. AMUSEMENTS.

Theater-Ezra Kendall, the quaint American comedian, appears tonight and tomorrow matinee and evening at the theater in his new play, "Swell, Elegant Jones," which has been written expressly for him by Herbert Hall Winslow, author of "The Vinegar Buy-er," in which Mr. Kendall made such a success.

Orpheum—In the Orpheum stock company's presentation of "The Private Secretary" last evening David Miles as Rev. Robert Spaulding, the "secretary" made the most of the part and won one of the successes of the season. He looked, acted and was in season. He looked, acted and was in every way the right man in the right role and his "do-yewooo-know!" convulsed the house every time he uttered it. Joseph Green as Mr. Cattermole was another treat. More comedy of a broad type was furnished by Zelby Roach as Gibson, the tallor with social aspirations. Al Phillips and the other men of the company presented their roles cleverly.

men of the company presented their roles cleverly.

Miss Anita Hendrie as Miss Ashford, devoted to the occult, made a whole lot of her part and did it well. The "spook" scene in the dark drawing room had the house screaming. Miss Lucia Moore and Mabel Flornce as Edith Marsland and Eva Webster were delightfully "girlish."

and Eva Webster were delightfully "girlish."

"The Private Secretary" is one of William Gillett's earlier successful farcical comedies and it is considered one of his best. The Orpheum patrons last evening voted it one of the funniest things put on this season. "What Happened to Jones" was last week's bill and some persons thought they had had enough farce for awhile, but if any of the family went to see "The Secretary" last evening it's a certainty the remaining members will go before the week's run is out.

A long wait between the first and second act was caused by some unknown hitch behind the curtain. The prehestra was at its best. "The Private Secretary" holds the boards all this week. Next week's—and the closing—offering will be "Turned Up," Nat Goodwin's old success.

"In December 1905 I had a blood-red spot about as large as a nickel come on my left shin about three inches above the ankle and in about three inches above the ankle and in about two weeks the same kind of a spot came on the right shin. I did not know but it was polson from some black stockings but my wife said it could not be for she had washed them thoroughly twice. The spots spread until they were some two inches across. Then my shins and under my anklebenes commenced to bresk out in a fine rash which extended about halfway to my knees. The burning and itching were something terrible and later the rish began to exude a watery matter. Finally it went to my elbows and above and below them. I doctored with two doctors but it did no good. I kept my ankles bandaged for over a year. One day a friend of mine said he believed the Cuticura Remedies would help me. I sent for them and in three days after using the Cuticura Remedies there was a complete change. The skin cleared up smooth and the Itching stopped. I am still using the Cuticura Remedies for, once a week or so, some little spot will break out in a fine rash and commence to itch. writes Orson Pratt, "up a small stream on Reed's route, sending in advance of the wagons a small company of about a dozen with spades, axes, etc., to make the road passable, which required considerable labor. We traveled about six miles, and, crossing the ridge, began to descend another ravine. Traveled down about 2½ miles, which took about four hours' labor, and encamped for the night. There was pienty of grass and water; some antelope; small willows in abundance. After we had encamped Elljah Newman and myself walked down the ravine to examine the road. We found that Mr. Reed's company last season had spent soveral hours' labor in spading, etc., but findling it almost impracticable for wagons, they had turned up a ravine, at the mouth of which we had encamped, and taken a little more circuitous route over the hills."
