THE SITUATION.

UNDER the above caption the Corinne Reporter of Nov. 3 considers the annual new move, recently inaugurated in this city, for effect in Washington and the East generally, but especially upon President Grant and Congress, in order to induce special legislation inimical to the people of this Territory. The inaugurators of this move are demagogues, and, as with most if not all of that class, their main object is power and plunder, of course at the ultimate expense of the people. Here are some extracts from the article in the Reporter—

The forces are now being gathered for another crusade against everything which years and experience have placed in the code of this Territory. The besom of innovation is to be boldly flourished in Congress' hall the coming winter, accompanied by the wail of the trampled and gnashing of teeth by the well-bled patriots, whose great American stomachs are too weak for anything short of toothsome government pap. * * * * *

The fact is that the government ring, which have "fathered" the present move, instead of seeking that justice, which they claim is not to be found among the Mormons, are, without the least discrimination, trying to make a wholesale sweep and inaugurate a new era, which will enable them to hold the ribbons, and drive as whim suggests. * * * * *

If that clique wishes to tickle the flanks of the U. S. cayuse of this Territory till it bucks, all is well. We only appeal to Corinne to WHOLLY STAND ALOOF.

It must be remembered that we are property holders who have staked all and adopted this for home. For years its citizens have been inveigled by the clique at Salt Lake to subserve their selfish ends. Nothing has been gained yet—much lost. * * * * *

The simple fact is that Corinne has nothing to gain and everything to lose by affiliating with Zion's carpet-baggers, and it is high time for her to stand aloof and to remain single to her own interests. Measures for the good of Northern Utah have been defeated by them as fast as inaugurated by Corinne. That not satiating them they have cried us down, claimed that the bottom had fallen out of this place, and in many cases kept capitalists from coming here. As a fair editor who simply aims at the truth, we deem it but justice to make such facts public—and in our little excavation we give our readers many similar facts which we have already panned out. At present all that is necessary is to religiously avoid any connection whatever with the clique, and if anything is done, let it be to frame a remonstrance, to thwart their selfish ends.

THE GIST OF IT.

"THEY have the power, and we want it." This is the gist, the sum and substance, of all the petitions sent from Utah to Washington every winter by the ring whose members are seeking special proscriptive legislation which shall take the power of local self-government out of the hands of the people and concentrate it in the hands of half a dozen strangers imported from other portions of the Union. This is the foundation for the lies and misrepresentations which are periodically palmed off upon President Grant and Congress in the hope of effecting this perversion of power. Those of the federal officers who get up and further these petitions do it for the reason that they wish to rob the people of this power and obtain as much as possible of it for themselves or their friends. Those schemers wish the people to be disfranchised, the legislature shorn of all its powers, and all local self-government in Utah abolished, swallowed up by the overwhelming federal authority. If we were living in Dahomey, this might not be wondered at, but it is not exactly the thing in the republic of the United States of America.

Of course these half dozen political adventurers understand the local situation and know the feelings, needs, and wishes of the 150,000 people of the Territory infinitely better than the 150,000 themselves do, and it is really kind of the half dozen to take so much trouble to serve the Territory and the country, and to force their invaluable services upon the Territory and the country so persistently and energetically. That is, it might be considered very kind of the half dozen, were it not patent that this reversion of power into their own hands, as sought by them, really means the dipping of those pure and patriotic hands ad libitum into the taxes paid by the 150,000, and the appropriation, by hook or by crook, of as much of the private property of the 150,000 as the half dozen may desire, besides having large and unquestioned control over the lives and liberties of the 150,000. That is what the half dozen are after, and the 150,000 people know it too well to be hoodwinked by the immaculate half dozen, or any other fellows of their peculiar genus.

ANOTHER EL DORADO.

THERE is room yet for mining adventurers in this western country, and no special lack of room for mining excitement. The San Juan region, between this chain of valleys and eastern Colorado, is one centre of attraction for mining adventurers, and another is in Lower California, thirty miles north-east of San Rafael, and eighty from San Diego, where, says a correspondent of the San Diego Union, extensive and rich placer gold mines have been recently discovered. The section where these diggings have been prospected is about twenty-five miles in extent, with fair climate, plenty of water and timber, snow in February and March, but never lying on the ground more than one day. The miners get two to eight dollars a day, washing in pans, some an ounce and a half a day, washing with a rocker. The gold is very pure, at least twenty carats fine. There are also abundant indications of quartz mines, loose quartz showing gold being found everywhere around.

If these reports are true Lower California would be a good place for prospectors and other adventurers, now in this vicinity, to direct their attention to and enrich with their presence, instead of loafing around at Salt Lake all winter. In Lower California there is no winter worth speaking of, and in the mountains and on the sea coast the summer is delightful also. It is a good place, there is no doubt, especially now that some of it is found to be a rich mining country.

POOR MONTANA.

THIS is the title of a jeremiad which the Helena Herald of Oct. 29 pours forth. Troubles seldom come alone, and notwithstanding her manifold natural resources, our northern neighbor just now is afflicted with not only dull times and over production, but by something which our contemporary portrays action. Thus commence the doleful strains—

Rich in all the native elements that conduce to the erection of a mighty empire—peopled by industrious, intelligent, hardy pioneers, who believe in personal independence; in the dignity of labor; and the right that nature gives to all mankind to dispose of their persons and property on condition that they act within the limits of law and to the injury of none; how unfortunate for our progress, that such a country and such a people should be governed by intellectual pigmies, whose crude ideas are nurtured by prejudice alone.

Very unfortunate indeed. There are some "pigmies" hereabouts, invested with a little brief authority, who appear to be only anxious to make that authority supreme and to exercise it in as offensive a manner as possible to the people.

But here is the gist of the complaint of our Montana friend—

Congress organized the Territory of Montana, empowered its legislature to provide for the organization of counties, and to control their government, extinguished the Indian title to its lands, sold them to our settlers, who bought and improved them in good faith, and to-day the county of Choteau is wiped out of existence, and the homes of our settlers are confiscated for the benefit of the President's poor Indian relatives.

To-day Federal officers are driving our settlers from their abodes of earthly bliss—from the scenes of sacred and happy associations, where self-denying father and paternal mother have toiled for the comfort, beauty and attractiveness of their mountain homes, and their grief-stricken little ones weep over the loss of happy surroundings, where they have been fed, clothed and sheltered during their dependent years of youth. Their lands have been turned over to the ignorant, barbarous, thieving, fighting, plundering red devils of the forest, who are thus brought in close proximity to our settlements, where, if they fail in hunting and fishing, they can satiate their savage appetites by a merciless foray upon our unprotected settlers.

But the Herald indulges in prophecy, prophecy of a threatening kind, and dark and bloody times are indicated by the following—"Such invasions will be resisted by our people in order to protect their lives and property, and the history of Montana will reek with innocent blood."

If such dismal forebodings prove true, we shall have to re-echo the monody of our sorrowful contemporary and also ejaculate, "Poor Montana!"

Correspondence.

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 2d, 1873.

Editor Deseret News:

The U. S. Supreme Court's decision in the case of Engelbrecht vs. Clinton, covers sufficient ground to put the jury question permanently at rest. Such a decision would naturally have such an effect in any State or Territory in the Union or upon the earth, Utah excepted, but here we have a missionary judge, fore-ordained, and anything coming against the interests of his mission must yield to it, law or no law; even in Utah there is no trouble about the juries who act in the rest of the districts. A little over two years ago Chief Justice McKean, a few inferior lawyers whom New York, Boston, Chicago and cities much below in rank and importance would not call lawyers at all, and a ring of unscrupulous adventurers having no interest in common with the people, and plunder for their object, carried things their own way here under a misled administration in Washington. To incur the displeasure of the dictatorial judge or his special friends was about as much as one's head or personal liberty was worth. Juries were believed to be packed and witnesses bribed. In any absolute monarchy we might have some show of justice, but here it had fled or become a mockery. Arrests were made without number, heavy bonds were required and the executioner's axe was ready for immense execution. Had this rule continued, Mr. Editor, the whole Territory to-day would have been a common penitentiary and the population its inmates, industry and thrift would have been known no more on this broad domain, the vulturous adventurers would have swallowed our hard earned substance. The Supreme Court of the United States arrested the mad career of the ring, and since then his Honor refuses to act at all, except in a few cases where all the say is left to him, until Congress shall by special legislation have legalised illegality and restored him to dictatorship, and, in the language of an illustrious Roman, "robbed us of our suffrage, and suffered us to be cast into dungeons." The summoning of jurymen for the present term of court, who had to travel and make new and disadvantageous arrangements to keep home going while attending to the numerous cases on the calendar, for the pleasure of going and coming, &c., to Salt Lake City to be discharged, was a nice little farce, but no benefit to the men or the treasury, but the abortive petition to Congress now going was designed to be strengthened thereby. An idiot might have known that the judge wanted no jury to try criminal cases. But to give the farce formality and effect to the uninformed, and get signers to said petition, it is essential that a challenge to the jury should be interposed, and a showing of legal objections come before the judge, &c. And now comes William Carey, U. S. attorney—like Cesar, "he came, he saw and conquered," and smiled with laurels on his brow. He says nothing, in fact he was quite right when he said the case needed no particular argument. Whatever may be fore ordained is sure to come, Mr. Carey.

A JURYMAN.

MONTANA NOTES.

Rev. S. J. Catlin's house, near Deer Lodge, was burned Oct. 17.

[illegible] dollars a week in Deer Lodge.

Fresh pork at Missoula three and a half cents a pound. Fat wild geese a dollar each.

The body of Abraham Whitsen was found on Dead Man's Bar, in Hellgate river, drowned Oct. 16.

The Virginia City and National Park Free Wagon Road is open to the Geyser Valley for carriages and teams.

William Whiting, a penitentiary prisoner, having become convinced of the sinfulness of his ways, was "baptized" by Rev. Hugh Duncan, Oct. 23.

Pat Dooley and a man named "Dutch Henry," held a small matinee at New Chicago lately, in which Dooley received a shot in the shoulder inflicting a slight wound.

Speaking of Trapper ore, Mr. Thomas Conner, in the Montanian, talks of the highest assay $15,000. Many of the Willow Creek mines will pay $300 to $1,000 per ton, with abundance of ore.

Messrs. Horton and Davidson, who left here in August last, with the view of locating at or near Salt Lake, have returned, not being pleased. Mr. Horton is now content to remain on his ranch, and risk Goliath county for his future home. A wise conclusion.—Avant Courier, Oct. 24.

From measurements made by General Rosser it is found that the average width of the Yellowstone is 1,200 feet—its rate about six miles an hour. It is 700 feet above the Missouri at Bismarck. It has about a fall of two feet to the mile which gives it its rapid current. The average depth is about three and a half feet.—Bismarck Tribune.

We learn that the coaches going from Helena to Corinne are crowded with passengers going to the States. It is stated that engagements for seats are now three weeks ahead. The passengers consist of the families of many of our citizens that go for the purpose of spending the winter and returning next summer. We do not hear of any wagons loaded with emigrants leaving the Territory.—Avant Courier, Oct. 24.

W. H. Hinesman and D. McLean, the robbers of Wells, Fargo & Co's. treasure box at Red Butte Station, in Beaverhead County, in 1871, and who were arrested in July last, after the diligent and patient work of years by employes of the express company who at last hunted them down to justice, were convicted last week at Bannack, and sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary. —Helena Gazette, Oct. 28.

We learn that on Saturday last, Deputy U. S. Marshall Dusold with a posse of soldiers took possession of the store and premises of the Healy Bros., at Sun river, Choteau county, and destroyed all the liquors found; and, we believe, put one of the brothers under arrest. Whether the officer transcended his authority in the orders which, of course, must have emanated from his superiors in the case, we are not advised; but our citizens are anxious to know by what authority an organized county of Montana is turned over to Indian agents and Deputy United States Marshals, and the property of citizens destroyed, and guards of soldiers placed around their premises. We are not fully advised of the matter yet, but will give it an airing at the proper time.—Helena Gazette, Oct. 28.

We learn that the Deputy United States Marshals, pursuant to instructions, have closed up all the saloons at Fort Benton and throughout the county of Choteau, that unfortunate county having been decided by the powers that be, to belong to the Indians; and that the whites have no rights there that the Indians, United States Marshals, or Indian agents have any right to respect. By the way, we learn that a young man who was recently indicted by the grand jury of Lewis and Clark county, on a charge of high-handed games among the Indians, as to swindling, bribery and open stealing, is one of the active agents of the Government now in Choteau county, and is using his power in a rigorous manner. Our next term of court, if justice is done, will probably turn the tables on this official—that is, if his bonds are not forfeited and justice is done. So mote it be.—Helena Gazette.

From every portion of Montana come advices of a light yield of grain this season. In nearly all localities the acreage is less, decreasing greatest in Missoula county, and falling off in every county in the Territory. We believe in Missoula the estimated product is not one-sixth that of last year; in Gallatin, Madison, Meagher and Jefferson not over one half to one-third; in this valley one-half and in Flint Creek two thirds. The surplusage last year and the consequent low prices shrunk the acreage and the decreased product per acre has left Montana with but a moderate supply of breadstuffs. This falling off in the yield is becoming unhappily apparent as harvests are threshed, and oats are going to be especially scarce. Farmers are sadly disappointed in the yield. As an instance of this Mr. Sorn Peterson a few days since threshed his crop, and where one thousand bushels were confidently expected the yield was only 390 bushels. The result of these facts cannot be otherwise than a marked advance in grain, and they will probably instigate speculative purchase. So, although farmers are disappointed in the yield it is probable there will soon be partial compensation in a more active market and better prices.—New North-West, Oct. 25th.

OUR COUNTRY CONTEMPORARIES.

The Corinne Reporter, Nov. 3—

Some of the boys hereabouts trap wild geese with fish hooks baited with soaked corn. That's goosing extraordinary, boys, and is hardly a fair way of capturing these noble birds. Take 'em on the wing.

Utah has furnished more homes to the oppressed of other countries than any other Territory; and notwithstanding the number already here and yet to arrive, she has plenty of room for millions more.

Mr. E. Pierce, who was over there yesterday, informs us that Brigham City is quiet and prosperous. The citizens are getting ready to go right to work in constructing their portion of the narrow gauge to Weber county.

We regret to learn that Mr. John Brannan, one of the most popular attaches of the C. L. depot at this place, fell from a freight car last night and was seriously hurt. The worst injury was a severely sprained ankle. He will be laid up several days in consequence.

The owners of the new hotel are very properly dividing their patronage among the people of the Territory. The spring mattresses for the beds were bought and made in Logan, Cache Valley. A number of them were down at the depot this morning, and their make and general appearance speak well for the manufacturer.

The Ogden Junction, Nov. 4—

The Union Pacific train last evening was three hours late on account of hot boxes, which caused the speed to be slackened.

New mines of great value have been discovered around Ogden. Some interesting particulars regarding them may be looked for as soon as more definite information can be obtained.

Measures are being taken by a number of gentlemen to bore for oil in this vicinity, as they are satisfied that it can be found in certain localities which have been examined, where there are strong indications of its existence.

Two companies of the U. S. A., one of infantry from Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis, another of artillery, from Governor's Island, New York, numbering in all two hundred and fifty men, rank and file, passed through Ogden on their way to Benecia Barracks, California. Three of the men were left behind, having missed the train bound for the east. They will be sent [illegible] evening.

The movement long contemplated to build up an iron manufacture in this city, thus contributing to the development of the material resources readily available in and around Ogden, has taken definite shape. Possessing every facility that can be desired for the successful execution of a project which will, when consummated, add to the importance of Ogden and to the enrichment of the Territory. There was, when the idea was conceived, but one drawback,—the want of capital. That want has now been supplied. A few weeks ago, Mr. I. E. Brown, of this city, whose long experience gave his opinions great weight among men engaged in manufactures, visited some of the eastern cities and explained to capitalists the great benefits which would accrue to those who embark in the enterprise which has now assumed a tangible and practical form. Acting upon Mr. Brown's suggestion, Messrs. Parks, of Milwaukee, and Tait, of Pittsburgh, who are connected with extensive manufacturing establishments, came to this city, and after careful examination were satisfied with the advantages Ogden enjoyed in every respect, and concluded to co-operate with Mr. Brown in giving an impetus to the movement of constructing first-class iron works. A company was organized, and thirty acres of ground purchased. The location of the buildings commencing at the corner of Wall and First streets, the site of the machine shop now occupied by Mr. I. E. Brown, between the U. N. and U. P. railroads.

At a meeting of the company held last night Mr. Isaac E. Brown, of Ogden, was elected chairman, and Lucius P. Sanger, of Salt Lake, secretary. It was resolved that the title of the company should be "The Ogden Iron Manufacturing Company." The following directors were elected:

Isaac E. Brown, James L. Horrocks, Ogden; L. P. Sanger, Salt Lake; Josiah Parks, S. Child, J. Meredith, J. R. Williams, Milwaukee, Wis.; Charles Park, Chicago; Wm. Tait, Pittsburgh. The officers of the company elected are, President, Josiah Parks; Vice-President, James L. Horrocks; Secretary, G. P. Brown; Treasurer, G. M. Scott; General Manager, I. E. Brown; Superintendent of Rolling Mill, J. Park; Superintendent of blasting furnace, E. J. Bird.

The capital stock of the company was determined at $250,000, with power to increase it to $500,000, to be divided into shares of $100 each. It was further resolved that a payment of 25 per cent shall be paid at the time of the delivery of the stock, and the balance to be paid according to the provisions to be made by the directors.

Messrs. Tait and Parks have gone East for the purpose of making preparations to supply the establishment with the required machinery, and Mr. Brown, General Manager, will proceed without delay to construct suitable buildings. The enterprise may fairly be considered as inaugurated.

PIOCHE NOTES.

From the Record of Nov. 1—

"Chicken thief Charley" was recently caught and pounded by a robbed miner, and made to promise he would "never do so no more."

Late yesterday evening our reporter was informed of a new discovery. It is said that a ledge of gold-bearing quartz has been found in Pioche.

From the Record of Nov. 2—

The rumors now afloat are of an exciting nature. One report is circulated to the effect that gold ore in large quantities has been found in the Newark; another, that at the 9th level of the Raymond & Ely, another rich body of ore has been found. A third says that in the Washington & Creole an immense strike has been made. Are they true?

WHY A PATENT SHOULD NOT BE ISSUED.

THIS more fully appears from the following allegation, which occurs in his "protest" in the "Flagstaff" case, and is urged as another reason why the patent should not issue to the applicants:

"And his affiant further says that the Incorporators of said corporation, the said Salt Lake Mining Company, the within named applicants for patent of the said Flagstaff lode, to wit: N. H. Groesbeck, N. Groesbeck, William Groesbeck, Joseph Schneider, John A. Groesbeck, Stephen Groe beck, J. Albert Groesbeck and Joseph S. Wing, are each and every of them Mormons, members of the Mormon Church, Territory of Utah; and each and every of them, as this affiant is informed, and believes to be true, practicing, and living in polygamy; each and every of them having more than one living wife; and as this affiant says that said named persons comprising said corporation are not law-abiding citizens of the United States.
