A MAN

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y

By reason of its central position, close relation to principal lines East of Chicago and continuous lines at terminal points West, Northwest and Southwest—is the only true middle-link in that transcontinental system which invites and facilitates travel and traffic in either direction between the Atlantic and Pacific.

The Rock Island main line and branches include Chicago, Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Peoria, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Ottumwa, Oskaloosa, West Liberty, Iowa City, Des Moines, Indianola, Winterset, Atlantic, Knoxville, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Centre and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Gallatin, Trenton, St. Joseph, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri; Leavenworth and Atchison, in Kansas; Albert Lea, Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota; Watertown in Dakota, and hundreds of intermediate cities, towns and villages.

THE GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

Guarantees Speed, Comfort and Safety to those who travel over it. Its roadbed is thoroughly ballasted. Its track is of heavy steel. Its bridges are solid structures of stone and iron. Its rolling stock is perfect as human skill can make it. It has all the safety appliances that mechanical genius has invented and experience proved valuable. Its practical operation is conservative and methodical—its discipline strict and exacting. The luxury of its passenger accommodations is unequaled in the West—unsurpassed in the world.

FAST EXPRESS TRAINS between Chicago and the Missouri River consist of comfortable DAY COACHES, magnificent PULLMAN PALACE PARLOR and SLEEPING CARS, elegant DINING CARS providing excellent meals, and —between Chicago, St. Joseph, Atchison and Kansas City—restful RECLINING CHAIR CARS.

THE FAMOUS ALBERT LEA ROUTE

Is the direct, favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul. Over this route solid Fast Express Trains run daily to the summer resorts, picturesque localities and hunting and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. The rich wheat fields and grazing lands of interior Dakota are reached via Watertown.

A short desirable route, via Seneca and Kankakee, offers superior inducements to travelers between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Council Bluffs, St. Joseph, Atchison, Leavenworth, Kansas City, Minneapolis, St. Paul and intermediate points.

All classes of patrons, especially families, ladies and children, receive from officials and employes of Rock Island trains protection, respectful courtesy and kindly attention.

Now is the Time to Look to Your Horse's Feet.

"NO FOOT NO HORSE."

When the foot becomes injured or diseased the horse's usefulness is diminished or his services altogether lost. Poor nails used in shoeing often cause the ruin of many a horse.

The illustration below was taken from a horse shoe the result of a bad nail made by the Goddard and Shearing process, which caused the death of a valuable animal, and for which loss the owner received no remuneration.

THE PUTNAM NAIL

Is the only Hot Forged, Hammer-Pointed Horseshoe Nail in the World that is identical in manufacture with a hand-made nail, and cannot tear the hoof, or split or sliver in driving. When your horse is shod see that none others are used, and avoid all risk. For sale by all dealers in Horseshoe nails. Samples sent free by mail. Please mention this paper and address the

CRITICAL ANALYSIS.

UNIVERSITY OF DESERET,
Salt Lake City, June 8th, 1887.

By carefully examining DeLand's Chemical Baking Powder with the microscope and with chemical reagents, I find that it is free from Alum, Starch, Flour, Bone Ash, Ammonia and White Earth; and that it consists essentially of Cream of Tartar and Bi-carbonate of Soda.

The Baking Powder examined I purchased at Barnes & Davis, in this city.

EVENING NEWS.

Thursday, - September 15, 1887.

JETS OF GINGER.

The man who propels a wheelbarrow sees his work ahead of him all the time.

The oyster is like the man in one respect. He is of little use until you get him out of his bed.

It is the unscrupulous milk dealer who thinks three scruples of water make a dram of milk.

"Don't you dawnse, Fred?"

"No, dear boy; I am invited out for my facial expression."

Johnson was going along the street when he came across the sign "Fireworks."

"It's a blamed lie!" exclaimed Johnson; "fire doesn't work."

"Your counsel is rather long-winded," remarked a witness to the defendant.

"Yes," was the reply; "he used to be a barber."

There are 761 North American newspapers named "News." They are all to be congratulated, too, on having a name exactly descriptive of the modern newspaper's reason of being.

At a restaurant:

"Waiter, this salmon isn't fresh."

"How can that be, sir? It's just off the ice, sir."

"Then its your ice that isn't fresh, waiter."

Passenger—Conductor, where do we stop for lunch?

Conductor—Nowhere, sir; but if you like you can walk to the next station, and we'll be there by the time you're done.

Pat—Molke, th' tells me as yez have quit wurrukin' in the powder factory. Was it too dangerous?

Mike—Dangerous? Well, be goorry! I believe if I had wurruked tuere till now I'd a be'n dead a year ago.

"We all have our burdens to bear," said the minister. "There are many trials in this life."

"Yes, I suppose there are," replied the poor lawyer, ruefully; "but I don't seem to have much luck at getting mixed up in 'em."

Mabel—"Clara, is that Mr. Twiddlestone an Englishman?"

Clara—"No, dear. He was born in Boston."

Mabel—"Then where did he get that strong English accent?"

Clara—"He lived six months in New York."

"Do you think you will give this vacancy in the counting room to young Smith?"

"No. I'm a little doubtful about Smith."

"Why?"

"Because he always has so much luck when he goes fishing."

"Aw, waitah," said a dizzy-pated dude at an uptown hotel the other morning, "bwing me, aw, one boiled egg, aw."

"Hard or soft boiled, sir?"

"Aw, let me think," murmered the "chappie," as he pressed both hands to his head.

"Soft, I see," said the waiter. "All right, sir," and he hurried off without waiting to hear the result of the dude's cogitation.

THE FOUR-FOOTED GUIDE.

A REMARKABLE DOG WHICH CONDUCTS STRANGERS THROUGH WATKINS GLEN.

The guest at the Jefferson House in Watkins will be greeted on his arrival by a large, handsome, well-fed dog with a tony name, says the Elmira (N. Y.) Advertiser. This is Gibson, famed far and near as the only living guide to Watkins Glen. Gibson is a remarkable animal, with more sagacity even than the dog which the girl with the laughing eyes possessed in Glenville Murray's tale. For the past eight years Gibson has made daily trips to the glen, and has been petted and caressed by thousands of women and children, for Gibson is a gallant dog and a great admirer of the ladies, whom he is particularly proud to pilot through the glen, watching after their safety with great care. The dog is an aristocratic fellow, too, and only likes well-dressed people. He will growl at the approach of a man in poor clothes, and when escorting ladies he has been known to spring on a workman who passed, so zealous was he in his protection of the fair tourist; but ordinarily Gibson is one of the best-natured dogs in the world, and will allow women and children to pet him all day long, accepting their attention with quiet dignity. He never plays with the other dogs about the street, but holds himself apart from all canine companionship. A curious trait is that, although ever ready to guide a guest of the Jefferson House to the glen and through it, he will never go with a resident of the village. He seems to know tourists and pleasure seekers by instinct, and will come up to them and draw their attention by a rub of the nose or a touch of the paw. He seems to know the commercial traveler does not want to visit the glen, and he makes no attempt to cultivate their acquaintanceship. If a visitor says to the dog: "Gibson, I want to go to the glen," Gibson is at once by his side, and even his master cannot call him away when once a tourist is placed under his guidance. He will lead the way to the entrance of the glen as sedately as though he knew the responsibility of his duty, and will conduct him through unerringly, going a few steps in advance and stopping now and then as if to call attention to the beauties of the scenery. He will never desert any one whom he sets out to escort, and if the visitor from the Jefferson House decides to take a meal in the glen Gibson will wait until he is ready to return. He is more fond of ice cream than a school girl, and giving him some of this delicacy is the surest way to win his favor. When he rides he always sits upright on the seat of the carriage by the side of the person in whose company he has started out. In going through the glen, if a tourist gets on the wrong path, Gibson will at once drop a few steps behind and nothing can induce him to go ahead again until the way has been retraced and the right path regained, when he bounds ahead with every manifestation of pleasure. It is no unusual thing for him to catch the person he is with by the clothes and pull him the right way.

SAN JUAN CONFERENCE.

BLUFF, San Juan County, Utah, September 1, 1887.

The Quarterly Conference of the San Juan Stake, was held at Mancos, Colorado, August 27th and 28th.

The wards and branches were well represented, most of the Bishops and Presidents being present. The gist of the remarks made at Conference was on the principles of unity, faith, building up new settlements, redeeming the waste places and making permanent homes.

The Bishops reported their wards in good condition. All that was needed was more good Latter-day Saints to help control the elements, and make themselves good and comfortable homes.

The San Juan country has received through the misrepresentations of those who did not have sufficient faith to stick to the mission, but it is my candid opinion that the people of San Juan Stake have done as well (if not better financially) than the same number of people in any Stake of Zion. The protecting and fostering care of the Lord has been and is being wonderfully manifested in behalf of the Saints located in this part of His vineyard, and we do most truly and sincerely thank Him for it.

A FEARFUL BLACK EYE

The general and local authorities were sustained at the conference with a few exceptions. H. Taylor was sustained as First Counselor to Bishop Burnham and Mrs. Martha Hammond as Second Counselor to Jane M. Walton, Stake President of the Relief Societies. CHAS. E. WELTON, Stake Clerk.
