FIFTY-FIFTH YEAR.

GEN. LINEVITCH MAY CAPITULATE

If the Japanese Succeed in Throwing Strong Force Across the Line of Retreat.

RUSSIAN WAR OFFICE AT SEA.

Curtain is Kept Down, but it is the Prey of the Most Dire Forebodings.

REARGUARD ACTION CONTINUOUS

Japanese Believed to be Making a Turning Movement and Will Fall On Devoted Army.

St. Petersburg, March 18, 2:10 p. m.—Telegraphic communication with the retreating Russian army has been cut for over 24 hours, but the authorities hope it is only temporary, declaring that they have no information that the Japanese have reached the army in Gen. Linevitch's rear.

Nevertheless, with the curtain down, the war office officially is the prey of the most dire forebodings. The last word from the front was contained in a telegram from one of the Associated Press Russian correspondents, the only correspondent with the retreating army, who presaged an attack from the rear. The telegram, although dated Chang Tsu Fu (40 miles north of the pass), at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, was sent from Kalyan, 20 miles north of the pass, and only reached St. Petersburg this morning. It was brief, saying simply that the army was retreating in good order and destroying the railroad as it went, but was constantly pressed by the Japanese, the rearguard action being continuous.

There were ominous words in the concluding sentences, as follows: "We believe the Japanese are making a wide turning movement north and that they are ready to fall upon us when we get out of the ring-like group of mountains, which surround the Tsia pass gorge."

In the long retreat to Harbin the Japanese only have the advantage of the Mandarin road as far as Kalyan, whence it turns eastward to Klyn while the Russian line runs north to Harbin. According to the general staff, however, a good wagon road runs parallel to the railroad. But for an army of 30,000 men, encumbered with equipment, with an active enemy relentlessly pursuing and operating on its flanks and the constant threat of the enemy closing the line of retreat, it is admitted that the single railway and wagon road afford poor prospects of Gen. Linevitch being able to bring off the remnants of the army confided to his care without the loss of a considerable number of men. If the Japanese actually succeeded in throwing a strong force across the line of retreat, it is recognized that the army might be forced to capitulate.

In the meantime, the mobilization of a new army has already begun in several provinces, although the order has not yet been published. A division of the imperial guards at St. Petersburg reviewed today. The newspapers generally endorse the Russian selection of Gen. Linevitch as commander-in-chief on the ground that Kuropatkin's lack of success made his supersession imperative.

At the same time it is recognized that Kuropatkin's failure also rests on other shoulders and pity is expressed at his sad fate.

RUSSIAN REARGUARD FIGHTING.

Hinkov, Manchuria, March 18.—It is reported that the Russian rearguard is fighting a heavy action in the vicinity of Kalyan about 20 miles north of the pass.

VALUABLE FIND IN THE HEART OF AN OAK TREE

New York, March 18.—A deed transferring 12 acres of land within the bounds of New York City, a mortgage and a will, both dated Dec. 12, 1780, and other business papers running down to 1823, together with a silver watch, a ring, a pocket watch, a pair of diamond earrings, a pearl brooch, all incased in a short tin box, have been found in the heart of an old oak tree by woodmen cutting timber north of Lincoln park. The property was placed in the hands of an attorney to await a claimant. It is believed that the box was there by a thief years ago as no one of the persons named in the papers is remembered in the neighborhood.

The will is that of Matthew Weatherly and transferred to his sons, Parker and Andrew, $12,000 in money and personal property and 12 acres of land on the island of Manhattan bordering on the Hudson river, but which cannot be readily located on the present city lines from the description in the deed.

The interior of the tree was perfectly dry, and with the exception of a slight coating of mildew, the papers are perfectly preserved. Squirrels had made the cavity their home, but the woodmen had reached it by cutting down to a depth of several feet with axes and shovels.

Washington, March 18.—President Roosevelt had a conference today with Senators Cullum and Hopkins and Speaker Cannon of Illinois, at which it was determined to appoint C. C. was decided to appoint Solomon H. Bessha, now United States district attorney for the Northern district of Illinois, as United States judge for that district, and Keneaw M. Landis as additional United States judge for the same district. This agreement ends the spirited contest which has been in progress for two or three weeks. The nominations will be sent to the senate to-day.

SECY. OF STATE HAY.

Has a Fit of Weakness and Nearly Collapses.

New York, March 18.—Secy. of State Hay, who was boarding the steamship Cretio to sail for Europe today, was seized upon the gang plank and nearly collapsed. As he was going aboard with his daughter, Mrs. James H. Wadsworth, Jr., and Henry Adams, a friend, the secretary was seen to turn pale, stagger, gasp as if for breath, and he would have fallen had not his friend supported him. He was taken to a pile of freight where he sat down until attendants brought a wheel chair, on which he was taken aboard the Cretio.

The Cretio left her dock with the secretary still on board, and it is not believed that his sickness was of a serious character.

Were Used for Instruction in National Academy of Design.

One fireman was burned under debris from a falling wall, but was rescued and removed to a hospital. He will recover.

While an exact estimate of the damage could not be made today, it is said there will be at least $50,000, and may reach double that amount.

It is believed that the fire resulted from defective insulation of electric light wires.

It is expected that the track will be blocked for several hours. The landslide on the Valley line occurred late yesterday, and since then no trains have been able to get through. The company expects that the line will be open some time today.

The Santa Fe reports its line open and all trains moving, but greatly delayed owing to soft track and the danger from constantly recurring landslides. It will be several days at least before conditions become anything like normal. The weather throughout southern California continues fair since yesterday morning.

ASK FOR TROOPS.

Vistula Railroad Directors Want Bridges Guarded

Warsaw, March 18.—The directors of the Vistula railroad have asked for troops to guard the bridges between Siedlice and Malin, because of the receipt of letters threatening their destruction. There has been a revival of strike agitation in the Lodz district. A party of strike leaders tried to force workmen at the mills at Pabianice to leave their work, but the men refused. A fight followed, an agitator was killed and others were wounded.

KUROPATKIN WAS A VICTIM.

Viceroy Alexieff and Grand Ducal Party Continually Interfered In the Campaign.

HE NEVER HAD A FREE HAND.

No News of Situation in Manchuria or The Whereabouts of Rojstevsky's Squadron.

London, March 18.—No further news regarding the situation in Manchuria or the whereabouts of Vice Admiral Rojstevsky's squadron has reached London.

The greatest sympathy is expressed by the British press for Gen. Kuropatkin and there is strong criticism for the manner of his dismissal without a word of thanks for past services.

Gen. Kuropatkin is held to have been to a large extent a victim throughout the campaign of the interference of the viceroy Alexieff and the grand ducal party, and never had a free hand or proper support in men and measures. Little or nothing is expected from the appointment of Gen. Linevitch, whose task is admitted to be almost superhuman.

All the St. Petersburg correspondents of London newspapers are pessimistic. The Daily Mail's correspondent thinks the central fact of the situation is that since the blessing of the Neva Jan. 19 the emperor has been a prisoner at Tsarsko-Selo and never once has ventured to the front.

"In the moment of the greatest national emergency, needing the greatest sympathy between the government and the people, the ruler remains secluded behind triple bars and bayonets, as remote and absolutely aloof from the people as if he were in another planet."

The Post's and other correspondents make gloomy predictions that the internal trouble will prevent the continuance of the war. The Telegraph's correspondent says:

"If the command to mobilize is obeyed the war will be prosecuted indefinitely, despite the failure to float foreign loans; but all symptoms point unmistakably to the spirit of resistance growing among the people. They are unflinching themselves for military service by chopping off fingers in such wholesale manner that Grand Duke Vladimir has turned his attention to the matter. In a word, I am positive, I am convinced that an unsurmountable obstacle to the continuation of the war is being found in the dogged determination of the Russian people to prefer the risks of open disobedience at home to certain death in Manchuria or Riboud. The consummation will mark the simultaneous victory of the Japanese abroad and liberalism in Russia."

It is reported that steamers are chartering in London for Russian cargo, which will be used to run supplies into Manchuria, now that Vladivostok is closed to the Japanese navy. Japan is said to be placing enormous orders in Australia for horses, which are shipped as rapidly as steamers are available.

The Post's correspondent at Shanghai reports that the Chinese decree appointing Chaoshin viceroy of Manchuria. After he has conferred with the Japanese minister he will proceed to Mukden from the east.

THE SHARRATT MURDER.

Mrs. Green Committed for Trial In July.

Newport, Or., March 17.—The preliminary trial of Mrs. Green, charged with killing E. J. Sharratt at Littleton, Ore., has been postponed to July, resulting in her being committed to await trial in July. Dr. Thomas Parker of Toledo was also arrested, charged with being an accessory after the fact. Dr. Parker was the physician who conducted the autopsy at the coroner's inquest. Evidence introduced tended to show that for a money consideration he had attempted to cover the crime by reporting to the coroner's jury that Sharratt came to his death from abscess of the brain, and not from a bullet wound. This the jury failed to believe or be influenced by in returning a verdict of death from a bullet wound. When the body was brought to Newport it was examined by Dr. E. M. Carter, who found that the bullet had been removed from the second joint cervical vertebra. Parker was admitted to bail in $500 bonds.

The husband of Mrs. Green was held for trial at his examination several days ago.

CHARGE OF CRIMINAL LIBEL

H. B. Hyde's Picture Flanked by J. James and "Sonny" Smith.

Denver, March 17.—Charges of criminal libel against George J. Kindel, arising from the alleged publication and circulation by the defendant of a pamphlet in which the picture of Henry B. Hyde, founder of the Equitable Life Assurance society, appeared between the pictures of Jesse James and "Sonny" Smith, under the title "Kindel's Famous Gallery of Dead Characters," are embodied in three informations filed in the criminal court here today by Dist. Atty. George Stidger. A copy of the Southern Pacific to the north. It is expected that the track will be blocked for several hours. The landslide on the Valley line occurred late yesterday, and since then no trains have been able to get through. The company expects that the line will be open some time today.

SAMOAN CLAIMS SETTLEMENT.

German Foreign Office Has Become Somewhat Sore Over the Matter.

CAN'T UNDERSTAND THE DELAY.

Has Been Out of All Proportions to Amount—Thinks Indifference Has Been Shown.

Berlin, March 18.—The settlement of the Samoan claims has become a rather touching point with the foreign office as it is not understood why so small a sum as $120,000 should cause the United States and Great Britain to hesitate in its payment. The delay of years has, it is pointed out, been out of proportion to the amount of claims and as the damages are owing, according to the arbitrator, to a lot of indigent persons, the impression here is that Great Britain and the United States have shown delay amounting to indifference. It is admitted, unofficially, however, that the claims are worth, he looked upon here as a sort of bartering of the United States and Great Britain as a result of negotiations that were begun March 1 that she is about to make a joint offer.

The Senate Adjourns. Washington, March 18.—At 3:30 p. m. the senate adjourned sine die.

BLESSING OF THE NEVA.

Report of Court-Martial on the Gun "Accident" Ready.

St. Petersburg, March 18, 1:30 p. m.—Court martial of the officers and men of the battery that fired the salute at the blessing of the waters of the Neva on Jan. 19, scattering bullets all around the imperial party, was concluded yesterday and the verdict will be announced today. During the trial the accused men testified that the guns had not been inspected since the practice of two days before; that no count of cartridges had been made; that the guns were loaded in the absence of the proper officers, and that no responsible officer attended to the training of the guns, and all pleaded guilty to charges of neglect of duty.

No testimony, however, tending to show the existence of a plot against the emperor was brought out.

THE ARREST OF BAKER BARNES.

Brings Out Fact That He Had Only Technically Violated the Law

AIMED AT PENSION SHARKS.

Something of How the Law Was Passed and How Mr. Barnes Became Involved in It.

In Friday's impression of the "News" there appeared an item concerning the indictment and arrest of R. W. Barnes at Kayville, Utah, on the charge of violating the pension laws. The charge was that Mr. Barnes accepted fees for obtaining a pension in excess of the amount allowed by law. General astonishment and surprise were everywhere manifested yesterday and today at the arrest, as Mr. Barnes is a well known banker of Kayville and enjoys the highest reputation among his townsmen.

Investigation into the charge against him reveals a rigid law, which he has apparently technically violated, and the existence of which is almost unknown. It was enacted to cure a condition that became rampant soon after the passing of the pension laws for Civil war veterans, and it was intended to shut off the operations of "pension sharks" who thronged Washington and were diverting much of the pension money from its rightful owners. They dealt mostly in the sale of land and other property to old and aged veterans who were unacquainted with the ways of obtaining a pension.

To make the law entirely effective it was hedged about with qualifying clauses that it would be hard to evade by any process. Among its provisions is one that the limit of a legal fee for obtaining a pension is $25 and it makes it a misdemeanor to accept more. A special clause provides that any agent, attorney or other person interested in securing a pension is guilty of a misdemeanor if he asks for or receives by any process accepts more than this amount. Even a present made by the pensioner makes the agent guilty if he accepts it. Another clause provides that all questions of law relating to the statutes, or reasonableness of the fee charged shall be immaterial, and shall not release the agent from guilt.

In the case of Mr. Barnes he accepted a fee of more than $25 for services extending over two years, not particularly as an agent, but as a friend and the fee was meant to cover expenses incurred in the long fight with the pension law. Mr. Barnes is an aged lady living in Kayville.

The complaint originates with the federal authorities, and it is said that the stipulation of the pension is an unwilling party to it.

From the story as told to the "News" today, it appears that several years ago, Mrs. Layton, who is a neighbor of Mr. Barnes, was visited by a pension agent, and he promised to do what he could, although he was not in the pension-getting business and had no particular idea of making any fee for him. When the papers were presented it developed that another claimant had appeared with a petition declaring herself to be a widow of Mr. Layton, a soldier who died in the Civil War. This matter brought on a dispute which extended over two years, necessitating the looking up of many records, and the making of a pension certificate. Mrs. Barnes, who was financially in straits, was being financed by Mr. Barnes. Recently a pension of $12 a month was secured, and a back pension of about $350.

When the first payment came Mrs. Layton took to Mr. Barnes a sum, just how large is not stated, to pay the expenses and as his compensation in the pension matter. Mrs. Barnes, who was a pension agent of the government, and in a conversation stated that she had a pension, and that she had recently secured it through the efforts of Mr. Barnes, who had taken down to him a certain sum, in payment for his work.

The agent then, with his knowledge of the pension law, and the papers which resulted in the indictment.

The friends of Mr. Barnes feel that his apparent violation of the law is technical and that which any fee might have unwittingly fallen into without the least having fraudulent intentions.

MAKING IT HOT FOR CHIN.

Mayor of Chinatown Arrested Again This Morning—After Him Hard.

Once again the mayor of Chinatown, Chin Quon Chan, is ruling his friends in Plum alley under the grace of the United States commissioner, and in consideration for proper bonds on file in the government offices. The much departed Chinaman with his frequently arrested family, was only released a few days ago from a charge of the same nature as the one now lodged against him. However, the peculiar color of his recent arrest, and the fact that he is still given the United States authorities ground upon which to work and their investigations led to his arrest this morning. He was taken from his Plum alley residence together with his wife and children, and was given a preliminary arraignment at 10 o'clock before United States Commissioner Baldwin.

Saturday, March 18, before the date for his trial. Chin was released on bonds of $1,000 for himself, and $500 for his wife, the government taking its chances with the two little Chinese babies.

HONOR RETIRING OFFICERS

Relief Society Officers of the Eighteenth Ward Pleasantly Remembered.

The sixty-third anniversary of the organization of the Relief societies of the church was celebrated in a very interesting way in the Eighteenth ward last night. The ward hall had been beautifully decorated upstairs and down with the national colors, white and green festooning, and with plants and flowers, and invitations issued to a large number to attend the event, which was announced to be in honor of the retiring officers of the Relief society of the ward. These were Mrs. Ellen B. Barton, president; Mrs. Rachel B. Patrick, and Mary Schettler, counselors; Hannah Wright, secretary; and M. Twiss Young, treasurer, who had served faithfully for many years.

The testimonial in their honor was arranged and managed by the newly elected officers, consisting of Mary S. Clive, president; Jane Barlow and Catherine Rogers, counselors; Florence A. Schettler, secretary; and Marion B. Whitney, treasurer. An informal program was carried out, Bishop Whitney presiding. At the close of the evening the retiring officers were presented with the following tributes: Mrs. Barton, a handsome leather chair; Mrs. Patrick and Mrs. Schettler, each with a dozen silver spoons, and Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Young with a handsomely bound copy of Mrs. L. E. Richards' book, "A Pleasant Feature of the Evening." A pleasant feature of the evening was the reading by Mrs. Minnie James of the minutes of the first meeting of the Relief society, held in Nauvoo March 17, 1842, when the great movement was organized by the Prophet Joseph Smith.

At the conclusion of the program the company retired to the rooms on the floor below, where refreshments were served.

MRS. ANN A. CANNON DEAD.

Wife of President Angus M. Cannon Passed Away This Morning.

The many friends of Mrs. Ann Amanda Cannon, wife of President Angus M. Cannon, will be pained at the news that she passed from mortality at 10:30 a. m. today. She had been ailing more or less for a period of three and a half years, her nervous system having been shattered by a long life of toil and cares. On Tuesday of this week Mrs. Cannon was feeling sufficiently well to enjoy a short drive, but after that time she became gradually weaker, and at the hour stated, while she was surrounded by her husband and family, the cord of life was cut in twain and she passed peacefully away.

Mrs. Cannon was a native of Centerville, Newcastle county, Delaware, where she was born August 10th of June, 1828. Her parents were Titus and Ann McMenemy Mousley. She was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in October, 1855, and with her parents came to Utah in 1857. The following year, on the 18th of July, she was wedded to Angus M. Cannon, and eight sons and two daughters were the issue of their marriage. Named in their order these are: William H. Cannon, Ellis, Angus M. Cannon, Jr., Bishop Lewis M. Cannon, David M. Cannon, Dr. Charles M. Cannon, Eugene M. Cannon, Mary M. Cannon, and Jesse F. Cannon. In 1881 Mrs. Cannon accompanied her husband to St. George, whither they went to help build up the "Mormon" settlements on the Utah desert. Returning to Salt Lake in 1887, she has resided here ever since, her home being in the Fifteenth and afterwards in the Fourteenth ward.

The nature of Mrs. Cannon was entirely domestic. She was devotedly attached to her husband and children, and their welfare and happiness was the greatest desire of her life. She was a most kind and charitable disposition, and her departure from this life will be mourned by a host of friends.

Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made, as the family are awaiting word from the youngest son, Quincey, who is on his way home from a three and a half years' mission in Germany.

Goodwin, who was convicted in Boxelder county, and sentenced on May 24, 1904, to one year for the crime of forgery; and Roger Milward, of Tooele county, who was convicted in Tooele county of felony, and sentenced July 13, 1903, to five years in prison.

Moses Greenleaf, who has heretofore made several applications for pardon or parole, was finally successful, and today the board granted his application for parole. He was convicted of perjury in Morgan county.

The application for pardon of John Orr was denied, as was also the application of Joseph Davis, serving seven years for perjury. The applications of Merrill M. Cain, convicted of voluntary manslaughter, Moses Clifford, convicted of voluntary manslaughter, and Elmer B. Woodward were continued for one month. Charles A. Larsen was granted a rehearing on his application for parole.

CAR MEN'S EXCURSION.

"KNOCKERS" TO JUBILATE.
