July 13, 1898. Friday, THE TEMPORARY SURRENDER OF CHURCH PROPERTY.

THE surrender of property to the United States Marshal, acting as Recelver in the suits instituted against the Church of Jesus Christ of Latterday Saints under the Edmunds-Tucker act, has caused much comment and some inquiries. Many people wonder why this has been permitted, and there the waves of which break upon is come misunderstanding of the facts and the situation. We do not know anybody who can-didly endorses the theory or the prac-tice of the confiscation of property be-longing to any ecclesiastical body in longing to any ecclesiastical body in America. It is looked upon through- gontemplated with feelings other than out the United States as a stretch of governmental authority, as harsh' When Brigham Young, with his handand unnecessary treatment of an unpopular people, and as cribable and unequalled loveli-a precedent dangerous to religious ness of this valley of the lake, bordera precedent dangerous to religious liberty. Even the most virulent anti-"Mormons" hesitate to approve of such high-handed proceedings. But the law, rushed through Congress in excitement, is on the statute book of the nation and it is the duty of the Attorney General to proceed under it. The court here appointed a Receiver and it became his duty to take possession of such property as the Church held at and after the passage of the law, March 3, 1887.

Previous to that date considerable real and personal property which the Church had held at different times had been disposed of and conveyed to purchasers, or to the Stake and Ward corporations organized under the general territorial statute. The law of Congress providing for the institution of sults for the forfeiture of Church reality here," above the value of $50,000, specially exempted from escheat, buildings used exclusively for the worship of God, and the grounds adjacent, also parsonages and burial grounds connected therewith; and the law of 1862 provided that property acquired by the Church before that date should not be interfered with, Further, the law did not provide for nor contemplate the forfeiture of any personal property of the Church. But it almed to dissolve the Church corporation and authorized the winding up of its property affairs conformably to law. This has been construed into the right to take possession of per sonal property as well as real estate, in which I pen these lines is not fa-miliar by name. But beyond the fact of the city's existence, and some of the circumstances connected with its lounding and its founders, which have become matters of history, I doubt if yery much of a general character is known. The idea that I do not mistake in this respect is the only thing which has caused a pang of regret dur-ing my visit to this gem of American cities. Nature has here lavisbed her choicest gifts whereby the eyes of her devoted followers shall be made to spark e with delight and to linger in loving devotion upon the magnifi-cent proportion and sublime effects of divine architecture. The neart thrills, the pulse quickens, as the settings of

The apostle, "whom Jesus loved," was in his life time rejected by some of the churches, as we can gather from the following passage, (3 John 9), "I wrote unto the church; but Diotrephes, who loveth to have the pre-eminence among them, receiveth us not, wherefore, if I come, I will remember his deeds which he does, prating against us withmallcious words; and not content therewith, the continent, into the briny waters of which the mountain torrents pour their burdens of meltad snow; this vast interior sea, with depths walled in by mountains of granite, and the

The Apostle James gives a sad picture of the corruption of the churches: "Ye lust and have not: ye kill;" "ye fight and war;" "ye ask and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it uson your that ye may consume it upon your lusts." "Ye adulterers and adulter-esses!" And so op." of astonishment. wonder and delight. And all this flood of corruption inundated the churches, while the Apos tles of our Lord were still living, breaking through all their efforts to ed by the grandeur of the mountains which bound the horizon on every side, save their new and tender plantations

The churches of Asia Minor show a deplorable condition at the time of the writing of the Apocalypse, A. D. 96. The church of Ephesus has "left her first love." The church of Pergamos harbored persons who held "the doct-rine of Balaam, who taught Balak to cast a stumbling block before the children of Israel, to eat things sac-rificed unto idols, and to commit fornication." The church of Thyaira suffered Jezebel to seduce God's servants to commit fornication and to PARIS, July 13 .- As was expected the nsult offered by Boulanger to Floouet in the chamber of deputies last vening, resulted in a duel.
