As it was her nerves austained such a severe shock that she is now resting at the Kenyon recovering from the ordeal. She states that she was in China gathering material for a book that she writing, and was on her way to Pekin with an American gentleman and his wife, and an Englishman. Before they reached Tien Tsin a messenger from a Russian friend of Mrs. Gilmore over-took them and warned them not to pro-ceed farther. Mrs. Gilmore was the only one of the party who heeded the warning, she turning at once and going back to Japan. The others went on, and have not been heard of since. It is feared that they have suffered the same fate as scores of other hapless for-eigners in that country.

Mrs. Gilmore says that it was a most pitiful sight to see the escaped mis-sionaries in Japan ragged and half starved. She has no faith in the state-ment of the Eussian minister at Washment of the Russian minister at Washington that the Russian soldiers had no hand in the brutal atrocttics reported to have been committed. ## DISCOURSES AT THE TABERNACLE

Returned Missionaries Give Encouraging Reports of the Work.

PRES. CANNON'S REMARKS.

Responsibility of Warning the Nations Before Destruction Comes Upon Them.

The services in the Tabernacle yeserday afternoon were presided over by Counselor Joseph E. Taylor, They were opened by the choir and congregation, under the direction of Prof. Evan Stephens, singing the hymn commencing, "Our God, we raise to thee." The opening prayer was offered by Elder William B. Barton, and the services continued by singing 'Oh, My Father.'
Elder Ernest Schettler, recently returned from the missionary field, was the first one to address the congrega-He had labored in Germany, and while abroad preaching to that en-lightened nation, he had seen the hand of God made manifest many times, and afforded him great pleasure to bear stimony of it. The first few months testimony of it. The first few months of his mission he spent in the city of Frankfurt-on-the-Main, where he enmonths labor there he was sent to the city of Darnstadt, where he labored for fifteen months. He was next sent to the city of Mannheim, where the Sainti-have had a branch for over twenty years. It was the birplace of his father Elder Schettler said that he knew of a surety that God has spoken in these last days, and overy one who will hearken unto His word will obtain sal

Elder Ezra Stevenson, also a Elder Ezra Stevenson, also a re-cently returned missionary, was the next speaker. He said he always re-joiced in the privilege of bearing his testimony. He prosecuted his labors in New Zealand, in which country he has served two missions. The mission in New Zealand, he said, is of great im-portance, as the Maoris of that land are direct descendants of Abraham. The direct descendants of Abraham. The speaker had been much interested in a speaker had been inter interested in a work dealing upon the antecedents of the Polynesian races. While it was very interesting it did not follow the line of their descent to its true source. The speaker related an incident in which Elder Whanga was addressing a congregation of the Saints at Honolulu. which Edder Whanga was addressing a congregation of the Saints at Honolulu and in relating some of the traditions of his people the native Hawaiians raised their hands and cried, "Yes, yes, we know that, to," showing that there are many traditions in common between the Maoris and the Hawaiians. between the Maoris and the Hawaiians. Elder Stevenson said that the natives accept the Gospel readily, but not too readily, as they investigate the Gospel carefully before they embrace it. They are weak in many things, and some of them say that they know the Gospel is true, but that it is too good for the Maori. The native Saints there of the many that if the Elders were to often say that if the Elders were to leave the island they would drift back into their old ways. The speaker told them that while many of them would go back the majority of them would go back the majority of them would remain true, as they had received testi-monles for themselves of the Gospei and it would sustain them. There are 4,000 Saints in New Zealand, most of them Maoris. Missionary work, Con his return home the speaker went around through the Suez canal. He met many people, all of whom had heard of Utah and her people, but they invariably held erroneous opinthey invariably held erroneous opin-lons of them. With some explanation, however, he had succeeded in disabus-ing their minds of the false notions that had taken hold of them. The speaker concluded by testifying that he knew the Gospel was true and that it will lead into all truth. into all truth.

President George Q. Cannon was the oncluding speaker. He said that he ad listened with great interest to the had listened with great interest to the brethren who had just returned from missions, "It is very interesting," said he, "to listen to the testimonies of those who have labored in the world. All those who go into the world and work faithfully come back and bear the same testimony. It is remarkable what the Lord is doing in this day in gathering up the people in the various countries and bringing them to Zion. This is one of the peculiar features of the work of God in these last days. I do not know of anything that sustains Joseph Smith's claims as a Prophet more than this. Wherever the Eiders go and preach the Gospel it is followed by a desire on the part of the people to come to Zion. There is a reason for this. The Lord tells us that in the last days the people shall be gathered out preparatory to the calamities and disasters that shall befall the earth, and the coming of the Son of Man, This gath-ering of the people should be a warn-ing to the world as it is indeed a phenomenon in the midst of the earth." The speaker stated that he had felt impressed of late to call on the people to live closer to the Lord, for the con-ing of Christ is at hand. He will come "as a thief in the night," and the people should be prepared for His advent. It is the duty of the Saints to carry the Gospel to all parts of the earth, to warn the people, and tell them what God is doing in the earth. The people cannot escape it, the Elders must go out and warn the nations of the earth. It will not be confined to Great Britain, or Germany. We must gather representatives from all countries. er representatives from all countries to swell the numbers of those who will or representatives from all countries to swell the numbers of those who will be prepared for the coming of Christ. For He will come. The heavens cannot hold Him. Judgment will precede His appearance. And there will be great destruction, wars, pestilence, famines and all kinds of calamities. "Noah labored diligently to warn the nearly and we can imagine how he people, and we can imagine how he was received. How contumely was

So in this day the Latter-day Saints are hated by the world but their posi-tion is absolutely unassailable so far as the Bible is concerned. We accep King James' Bible, that is our Bible we believe in it more than any people on the earth. Take the doctrines that are in the world, what similarity is there between them and the Bible Scarcely any." "But the Gospel has been restored," continued the speaker The same union and the same locare also restored and men and we men are being brought together i union and love. We will gather th people out, not many perhaps, bu these valleys will be filled. As th dints grow in power jealousies will trise and the world will try to crush hem. The world should not hate them, for they have tried to do noth-ing but good to the children of men, "We should have had no war of the rebellion if Joseph Smith's words had een listened to. He would have aved the nation by the wisdom that God gave him. But the world killed him, it was not satisfied until it had destroyed. Men may be killed as they have been, but the work will continue until the Lord comes. The Latter-day saints should repent of their sins an strive to live pure liver, and ruise generation of men and women who will love virtue and purity more than their own lives. God will have a pure peo-ple. And He will carry them through triumphantly over all opposing obstacles. The world now is to discover that falsehood buttom of the miserable accusations that have been published against the Latter-day Saints. This work has come to stay, it will surely remain here. Murder and falsehood, are Satan's weapons, and the weapons of

The speaker concluded by saying that the Prophets in all ages were persecuted, and that the Saints had gone through exactly the same experiences as the rightoous ones who preceded

The choir sang the anthem, "Let the Mountains Shout for Joy." The congregation then joined in with the choir and sang the doxology. The benediction was pronounced by Elder Walter Romney.

SCOFIELD DISASTER FUND.

Executive Committee Agrees on a Plan of Final Distribution.

About $94,000 Now on Hand, and It is Estimated that 200 Persons Will Receive Aid.

The executive committee of the Scofield relief fund held a meeting in the office of Secretary of State Hammond Saturday afternoon and decided on a plan of final distribution. It was discovered that after deducting the first installment of about $18,000, which has already been paid out to the beneficiaries, there will be a balance on hand of about $94,000. This latter amount it was decided to distribute at as early a date as possible, probably within the present week. The names of those entitled to participate in the distribution numbers 200. The com-mittee will figure out the complete results, and on Saturday next will recommend to Governor Wells and the general committee certain apportion ments. It is expected that the latter nents. It is expected that the latter committee will at once order the food distribution. Quite a few of the general collection committees have not yet made final reports, and remittances of the funds collected. Treasurer Hamomad is desirous that hey do so at once, and requests that balances on hand be sent to the Deseret National banks.
