Last Night's Dispatches.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

California Senator Sworn in.

WASHINGTON, 9.—Sargent presented the credentials of John S. Hager, Senator from California, who was sworn. McCreery, at his own request, was excused from further service on the committee on Territories, and Senator Hager was appointed in his place.

The Bankruptcy Bill.

In the Senate, to-day, the bankruptcy bill was under consideration; several amendments were introduced, two of which were adopted; pending the consideration of one introduced by Merriman, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

Inter-State Commerce, etc.

Coburn offered a resolution declaring it the sense of the House that Congress should not adjourn until some measures had been enacted, providing for a reform in the present system of the currency, also on the subject of transportation, and for a more economical administration of the government; the rules were suspended and the resolution adopted without yeas and nays.

Smith, of Ohio, moved to suspend the rules to adopt a resolution declaring it within the constitutional power of Congress to so regulate inter-state commerce as to protect the people from unjust or oppressive taxes, obstructions, or other burdens, whether imposed by railroad companies or other common carriers, and declaring that the present condition of commerce requires a prompt and wise exercise of these powers; the rules were suspended, and the resolution adopted, 170 to 64.

Randall moved to suspend the rules to adopt a resolution declaring any increase in the currency by Congress ought to be in greenbacks; the House, by a vote of 69 yeas to 95 nays, refused to suspend the rules.

Smith, of N. C., introduced a bill to repeal the internal revenue taxes on whisky and tobacco.

Cotton introduced a bill to amend the law authorizing a railroad bridge to be built over the Mississippi River, at Clinton, Iowa; referred. Adjourned.

EASTERN.

Bill to Reduce Letter Postage, &c.

WASHINGTON, 9.—The bill of Dawes, introduced in the House this morning, and referred to the post office committee, fixes the rate of postage on all letters, including drop letters and postage cards, at two cents, and provides that no stamped envelopes shall be hereafter issued.

The United States steamer Gettysburg has been designated by the Secretary of the Navy to take the expedition to inspect the interoceanic canal routes across Darien and Nicaragua.

Senator Allison will, at the next meeting of the joint committee on the library, offer a resolution requesting that the Congressional library be kept open on Sundays.

The President has approved the act changing the time for holding certain district courts of the U. S., for the State of Iowa.

Printers on a Strike.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., 9.—The printers of the Courier Journal struck to-day, because of the refusal of the proprietors to discharge a foreman with whom the employers were perfectly satisfied.

Glycerine Factory Destroyed.

NEW YORK, 9.—Hamilton, the defaulting treasurer of Jersey city, is at Corpus Christi, Texas.

The glycerine factory of Michael Brady, at Fort Ticonderoga, was destroyed by an explosion to-day; two men, named McMahon and Keefe, were killed.

Striking Cap Makers.

The cap manufacturers to-night made a proposition to take back the workmen who have been on strike at reduced wages; the workmen refused.

Died from his Injuries.

TITUSVILLE, Pa., 9.—W. H. H. Kelley, of the Western Union Telegraph office here, died this morning of the effects of injuries received by being thrown from a sleigh last night.

Indians on the War Path.

OMAHA, 9.—The reports of Indian troubles on the Platte continue to come in. Several war parties of Arapahoes, Sioux and Utes are said to be out, and evidence is daily accumulating that the Indians are being ill-treated on their reservations and that they contemplate an uprising in the Spring, and are even now swarming the prairies prepared for war.

Agricultural College Investigation.

DESMOINES, Ia., 9.—At the Agricultural College investigation today, a letter was received from G. W. Jones and many others, stating that they would give valuable information if allowed access to the books of the college. The accountant's reports showed a deficit of over seven thousand dollars in 1868, and over six thousand dollars in 1868 in the amount paid over by Bassett to Ranken, which was not recorded on the books of the latter. Professor Jones, one of the deposed professors, testified that the college was drifting away from its original interests. The developments begin to assume a grave character, and others more startling are promised soon.

A Defaulter Attempts Suicide.

RICHMOND, Va., 9.—A heavy defalcation in the office of the Sinking Fund Commissioners has been traced to W. D. Coleman, clerk to the board of public works, and when an officer went to secure and arrest him, Coleman unsuccessfully attempted suicide by cutting his throat. Coleman was formerly editor of the Richmond Enquirer, and was held in high esteem; his life is considered in danger.

WESTERN.

Fastest Time on Record.

SAN FRANCISCO, 9.—The China Trans-Pacific Steamship Company's steamer Vasco di Gama arrived last night about midnight, eighteen days and twenty-three and a half hours from Yokohama, being the fastest time between these ports on record.

Japanese News.

The following is the summary of the news received by the Vasco De Gama:

"YOKOHAMA, Jan. 18, 1874.—"Until recently, the Japanese have found it expedient to conceal the actual condition of their finances, on account of both foreign and internal complications; it has now been determined to publish periodical statements of their resources, the first of which will be issued in about two months from this. It will appear that the amount in the national treasury is no less than twenty-five million dollars, including the last English loan, and that the surplus of the revenue of 1873 was nearly five millions.

"The Japanese Government is exultant over the decree of Portugal suppressing the coolie trade in Macao, an action which it traces to the course of Japan in the case of the Maria Lee.

"The small detachment of French troops stationed in Yokohama is about to be withdrawn; the English soldiers, some 400 in number, will remain, in defiance of the wishes of the Japanese Government.

"Sinaodegu Saburo, the virtual ruler of the Province of Satsuma, has been appointed a councilor of the highest board of the Government; he has no regular functions, but is to be called upon as adviser in cases of difficulty; his title is Naikaku Komon. This appointment is complained of by English residents, for the reason that Saburo has been accused, though falsely, of being the sole cause of Richardson's death many years ago.

"Prime minister Sanjio has recovered from his dangerous illness and resumed his duties.

"A second decree has been issued, this time a peremptory one, recalling all students now residing abroad at the expense of the government, except those who have given the very highest proofs of advancement.

"Sonoda Kokichi has sailed for England as commissioner to the London Exposition of 1874.

"The great temple of Tenshis Daijon, at Shiba, in Yedo, was destroyed by fire on the morning of Jan. 1; this was the most imposing structure of its kind in the capital, though not one of the most sacred. The huge bell, ten feet high, was so injured as to be worthless.

"The relations between the government of Japan and the foreign ministers, excepting the representative of the United States, are becoming more and more inharmonious; Japan still resists the pleas for opening the country, and requires a strict enforcement of the treaties as they stand until a revision shall have been agreed upon. Mr. Bingham acquiesces, but the other envoys are vehement in opposition. At the New Year's reception by the Mikado, Mr. Bingham was absent, by reason of illness; other members of the diplomatic corps presented an address, which has occasioned great irritation in high quarters. It directly urged the removal of all restrictions upon free intercourse and trade. When first received the question was seriously discussed whether it should not be returned as unacceptable, the decisive step was not, however, taken. The temper of the European ministers is shown by a remarkable example. A German in Kobe was fined by his consul for transgressing the treaty boundaries; the German minister instructed the consul to rescind the judgment, and notified the government to that effect; the Japanese have, therefore, informed Mr. Von Brandt that unless a just penalty be enforced, they will decline further communication with him, and make the necessary representations to the Prussian government. This means, of course, that they will ask for his recall. In a precisely similar case, the punishment of an American for going beyond treaty limits, outside of Hakodate, the U. S. minister has fully approved the consul's action. The demeanor of certain ministers has now become so aggressive that it will doubtless be necessary for a few of the moderate foreign envoys to cease to act with them as hitherto, in a united body.

"The following are the particulars of the attempt to kill Iwakura, on the night of the 14th inst. 'As Iwakura Udaijin was returning from the Mikado's temporary residence to his own dwelling, his carriage was stopped near the outer castle moat by a bamboo pole, stretched across the road. The sides of the vehicle were cut through by swords, and Iwakura hastily descending found himself attacked by several armed men from whom he received wounds in the loins and shoulders. He ran to the moat close at hand, and sprang into it, remaining hid for about an hour, after which he returned to the Mikado's house, to which foreign surgeons were summoned, who at once discovered that his injuries were in no degree dangerous; he will probably be able to resume his duties in a few weeks. This is the first attempt at the assassination of a high official since the murder of Hiroawa Sangi, early in 1872; no clue to the perpetrators has yet been discovered.'"
