SAVE YOUR HAIR | TO LEARN HOW TO DO IT READ AND HEED WHAT FOLLOWS.

SAVE YOUR HAIR.—The laws of Health and Longevity demand it, the customs of social life require it. The matter is of great importance in every way.

BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR.—It is the surpassing crown of glory, and for the loss of it there is no compensation.

CULTIVATE YOUR HAIR.—For by no other means can it be saved and beautified.

LYON'S
KATHAIRON,
Discovered thirty-five years ago by Prof. Lyon, of Yale, is the most perfect preparation in the world for preserving and beautifying the hair.
Besides being the best hair dressing ever produced, Lyon's Kathairon will positively prevent grayness, and will restore new hair to bald heads, if the roots and follicles are not destroyed.
It actually performs these seeming miracles, of which the following is A FAIR SPECIMEN
I had been entirely bald for several years, constitutional, I suppose. I used a few bottles of Kathairon, and, to my great surprise, I have a thick growth of young hair.
COL. JOHN L. DORRANCE, U. S. A.
In every important respect the Kathairon is absolutely incomparable. It is unequaled.
1. To Cure Baldness.
2. To Restore Gray Hair.
3. To Remove Dandruff.
4. To Dress and Beautify the Hair.
BEAR IN MIND.—The Kathairon is no sticky paste of sulphur and sugar-of-lead, to paint and daub the hair and paralyze the brain. It is a pure and limpid vegetable lotion, intended to restore the hair by natural growth and reinvigoration. It is splendidly perfumed, and the most delightful toilet dressing known. No lady's or gentleman's toilet outfit is complete without Lyon's Kathairon.
SOLD EVERYWHERE.

Last Night's Dispatches.

FORTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 21.—Morrill, from the committee on finance, reported without amendment the House bill, passed by the House on the 16th instant, to facilitate the refunding the national debt. Placed on the calendar.

Chaffee introduced a joint resolution directing the cancellation of one and two dollar United States notes. Laid on the table to be called up by Chaffee hereafter.

At the conclusion of the morning business bills on the calendar were considered. The Senate bill to authorize the Secretary of the Interior to deposit the funds held by him as trustee for Indian tribes in the treasury of the United States, in lieu of investment, led to a long discussion. It authorizes the secretary to deposit in the United States treasury all sums received now or hereafter by him, as Secretary of the Interior and trustee of the various Indian tribes, on account of the redemption of United States bonds, or other securities belonging to the Union trust fund, and the United States shall pay interest semi-anually at the rate of 5 per cent. from the date of deposit.

Edmunds submitted an amendment that no existing treaty with the Indians may be abrogated thereby. Agreed to.

Pending the discussion, unfinished business coming up, under yesterday's resolution, and it being the patent bill, it was laid aside and the Indian trust fund bill was again considered.

Beck moved to make the rate of interest 4 per cent.

Allison proposed to make it 4½ per cent. After a long discussion, on motion of Windom, the bill was laid aside.

The naval appropriation bill was considered. Amendments increasing the House appropriations $86,000 were adopted. The bill was then laid aside until to-morrow, when Blaine will speak on it.

Blaine then said he would move an amendment, that the President appoint three naval officers from the active or retired list, as a board to consider and report to the next congress the number of officers of the line and staff and the amount needed for the navy with 75,000, and that hereafter promotions above the grade of ensign shall cease; that the same board shall report whether any of the present navy yards may be dispensed with or expenses be otherwise decreased without impairing the efficiency of the navy; also that after July, 1883, only so many naval academy graduates annually may be appointed midshipmen as are required to fill vacancies, to be determined by the academies' board on the basis of their standing in the graduating class. Ordered printed. Adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 21.—Immediately after the reading of the journal in the House of Representatives, Potter called up for action the resolution presented by him yesterday, directing the committee on investigation of the election frauds to inquire into the cipher dispatches, and appropriating $10,000 to defray the expenses of such inquiry.

Potter having yielded, however, for some preliminary matters, Stephens, from the committee on coinage, introduced a bill to authorize the coinage of goloid metric dollars of five and fractions of dollars. Referred.

The House then proceeded to the consideration of the cipher resolution.

Potter moved the previous question, which was seconded, and the main question was ordered, thus leaving one hour for discussion, which was thereupon opened by Potter, who said:

Mr. Speaker.—I offered this resolution because I was instructed to offer it. I do not propose to discuss it, except to say a few words in reply to an attack made on me by the gentleman from Michigan (Conger). I was not in the House at the time, and when the gentleman's attention was called to the fact, he stated that I had left the House to avoid hearing him. If the gentleman thought so he was mistaken. I think I listen to the sprightly and amiable utterances of the gentleman from Michigan with as much satisfaction as any gentleman in this House. The gentleman accused me because I had not permitted an investigation of these dispatches. Mr. Speaker, it is as open to the gentleman from Michigan, and has been ever since this session of Congress assembled, and to every member of the House as it is to myself to propose such an investigation. He did not propose it; no one on that side of the House proposed it, and for reasons which perhaps it is not difficult to divine, but at any rate for reasons satisfactory to themselves. No gentleman on this side of the House had proposed it, and the gentleman from Michigan said I had not permitted them to do so. Mr. Speaker I neither had power to prevent them nor had I sought to prevent them. The only wish I had expressed on the subject was that if such a resolution was introduced it might be referred to another committee than that of which I was a member; but I neither sought to influence anybody nor prevent anyone from action in respect to it. I simply refused to volunteer to introduce such a resolution myself, and for these reasons. At the last session of Congress I introduced a resolution for the committee to inquire into certain alleged and confessed wrongs in Florida and Louisiana, which had taken place under color of State law, and which were said to have been perpetrated under the influence of the federal visitors and under the protection of federal troops, and which wrongs the electoral commission had decided it was impossible for states to rectify or recall. Such a matter was a proper subject for congressional legislation; for if Congress could not correct a wrong which had taken place in the states themselves, it would at least adopt such legislation as would afford these states an opportunity to correct and recall the action taken under color of their law. It was therefore a proper subject for investigation, and when I introduced that resolution I declined to yield to the amendment which the gentleman from Maine (Hale) desired to offer, proposing an inquiry into certain cipher dispatches in Oregon, because I insisted that it was not in the province of Congress to inquire into the individual wrong of any citizen, which it could neither prevent nor punish, and at any rate this investigation ought not to be overslaughed by any such inquiry. I did not then suspect the existence of dispatches which have been since published, but an analogy between these dispatches and those which the gentleman from Maine sought to have inquired into is perfect and the House having sustained me in my views of the question, it was not for me now to set on foot myself an investigation of this kind nor to prevent a completion of the work which I had in hand by any such inquiry. Beyond that Mr. Speaker, there were private personal reasons why I did not think I ought to set on foot any such investigation. The House may recollect that when I introduced the resolution inquiry, a leading independent journal of the country declared that I did so in pursuance of a bargain between governor Tilden and myself, in which I was to have his support. There are gentlemen in this chamber now who know that when I was called upon on the evening previous to the introduction of that resolution to wait upon a joint committee in the democratic caucus I was absolutely ignorant that I had been selected for that work, and I had no more reason to suspect that I would be connected with it than any other gentleman in the House. The truth is, that not only did I have no bargain with Governor Tilden, but I had none with anybody else. I served on that committee simply because I was invited to serve by a joint committee of the democratic caucus and because in 1875, as a member of a committee of this House, I had visited Louisiana and had very profound convictions alike of the danger and wrong of the returning board's action. I served, therefore, on these accounts, on these alone, and I not only had no understanding or bargain with anybody on the face of the earth, but I sought for no promise or assistance, and had none, and yet, Mr. Speaker, that conjecture has gone all over the United States, and nine-tenths of the people who have any opinion on the subject believe that I am a member of a committee of investigation as a confidant and agent of Governor Tilden. Beyond that, although I had endeavored to conduct the investigation with absolute impartiality and fairness, so much so that I do not believe that anybody familiar with the record will rise to claim that such has not been the fact, and so, that during all that time I have observed the utmost reticence in respect of the objects and purposes of the committee, yet there has been no unworthy and partisan speech that has not been falsely put into my mouth, and no mean or outrageous suggestion in the conduct of that committee that has not been attributed to me. Under such circumstances for me to volunteer to advance an investigation of the cipher dispatches was to have it said that I was doing so in the interest and for the purpose of protecting and whitewashing those whom it might affect, and beyond that, sir, there are in my State some persons who believe that I or my friends have cause of grievance against Mr. Tilden and who, if I volunteered any movement of any kind, would ascribe my action to personal dislike and spite. If the gentlemen will look at the New York Tribune of Saturday week, they will see it declared that the probable cause of this resolution is the object of personally injuring Mr. Tilden. For these reasons, sir, I did not feel called upon to volunteer any action upon this subject. I have not volunteered it and I here introduce the resolution which because without any wish or request of mine. I have been instructed to do so and I do it for no other reason.

Hale followed in support of the resolution. He said now that the machine had been started and set in motion, let it run and make an investigation into both sides of the question.

Conger followed with a short speech, making sarcastic allusions to the cipher dispatches as scriptural telegrams signed by Moses and Aaron and the rest.

Cox, of New York, supported the resolution. Justice to Samuel J. Tilden demanded that the investigation should be made. Justice to the great democratic party demanded it. Justice to the American people who had elected him to the highest office in their gift demanded it. Let Tilden have an opportunity to confront his accusers and traducers, and show the world that at least one of the candidates at the late presidential election was not a miserable trickster, willing to bargain for the highest office in the gift of the people.

Hewitt (N. Y.) then spoke. He said: Whether the cipher dispatches published in the Tribune are genuine or not, I have no means of knowing. I never received one of them; I was never cognizant of their existence until they were published by the Tribune. Neither do I know whether the alleged translations are false; but this I do know, that not one of them containing reference to the use of money to influence the returning boards or the electoral votes was ever addressed to or received by any officer of the national democratic committee. I am aware that newspapers have credited one of those persons to whom telegrams were addressed with having been an officer of the democratic committee, but I say to this House, and to the country that this is an error. He never held any official connection with the committee. Is it to be supposed for a moment that if Samuel J. Tilden had decided to buy those votes, the purchase would have failed for the want of money? (Laughter on the republican side.) Is it not absolutely clear that when it reached the point where money—

Townsend, New York (interrupting)—Did not money go to Oregon?

Hewitt (without noticing Townsend's interruption)—Where money was required it failed, and is not the conclusion irresistible that when, in the last report, it was necessary to go to him for money, he indignantly stamped on the suggestion as one to which he could give neither approval nor assistance.

The hour allowed for discussion having closed, Garfield moved to re-consider the vote ordering the main question.

Atkins moved to lay that motion on the table, and it was ordered—yeas 123, nays 120.

The House then proceeded to vote on the resolution, and it was adopted without division.

Waddell, from the post office committee, reported the post route bill, and it was passed.

Thursday night was set apart for consideration of the bill for the classification of mail matter.

Robbins, from the committe on ways and means, reported a bill agreed upon by the committee to regulate the duties on sugar, and asked to have it made the special order for next Saturday.

Ward objected and the bill was ordered printed, and the House adjourned.

EASTERN.

A Singular Incident.

HARRISBURG, Pa., 21.—A rare incident in the history of this State occurred to-day. Owing to the inauguration being delayed until 1.20 p.m., the State was without a governor an hour and twenty minutes. Hartranft's term having expired at noon.

The Reno Court of Inquiry.

CHICAGO, 21.—In the Reno inquiry, to-day, some time was consumed in a debate between counsel as to whether the witness Girard had Indian children, and whether his testimony on that account was admissable. The latter issue was decided in the negative. The witness testified that Custer, on seeing Reno moving away from the timber, shouted, "Who the mischief ordered out that command."

Lieut. C. A. Varnum, quartermaster of the Seventh Cavalry, testified that on the 25th and 26th of June, 1877, he was second-lieutenant in command of a party of scouts under Custer. On the 26th he was detached from the main troops. Being away with the scouts he did not know what troops were assigned to Reno, but he had about 120 men. He described the maneuvers of the forces. The Indians were in greater numbers than he had ever before seen them. He recounted the advance and retreat of Reno much as Gilbert had done. He said the horses and men were greatly fatigued. The troops were badly demoralized on their retreat. Adjourned.

The Billiard Tournament.

NEW YORK, 21.—The second game of the billiard tournament was between Gallagher and Rudolphe. The latter won by 600 to 449. The winner's largest run was 159, the loser's 183.

Pursuing the Escaped Indians

FORT ROBINSON, 21.—Lieutenant Dodd, who left here for Pine Ridge agency on Saturday last, for the purpose of enlisting Sioux scouts, returned to-day with 17 braves, including Chiefs "Three Bears" and "No Flesh;" also a mountain howitzer from Camp Sheridan. The Indians will be armed and mounted here, and will leave to-morrow with 10 days' rations, Lieut. Dodd in command. The latest news from the field is that the Indians escaped in the night from Crow Ridge, their last position. The trail, which is being followed by Capt. Wessels, leads towards the Spotted Tail agency. Nothing has been heard from the command since Saturday, up to this hour.

Investigating.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., 21.—In the case of the Bervard County canvassing board, to-day, Hallen Lawyes testified that he went to Bervard County on account of a letter purporting to be written by N. A. Hull, the democratic candidate for Congress, for the purpose of obtaining a majority of 200, which was necessary to elect Hull. He had authority to draw for what money was needed to accomplish the purpose. The witness detailed how arrangements were perfected, and said the plan was agreed upon to burn the records of fraud after it was accomplished. The work of changing the returns was done, he said, by Deputy Lee, one of the defendants.

With a view to making the sale of Strings for all Instruments a SPECIALTY, I have been casting about for strings having the best reputation in this country and in Europe, and have now been rewarded, not only in discovering the "BEST STRINGS MADE IN THE WORLD," but also in securing the GENERAL AGENCY for their sale in this and adjoining Territories.
These strings will be known in this market as "Calder's Strings," and will be numbered 30, 31 and 32.
No. 30, are strings known, for many years, by this number, to the leading musicians of the Territory, as the best strings hitherto offered in this market. Price reduced to 25 cts. each.
No. 31, are new unbleached American strings, made from Selected Material only; which have been severely tested by the leading Violinists of the country, and by them pronounced unequaled for PURITY of TONE, STRENGTH and GREAT DURABILITY. Now offered here for the first time. Price 25 cts. each.
No. 32, "These strings have created a sensation in Europe." They are of Italian make, and were perfected in October 1877; since which time they have been thoroughly tested and used at the Conservatories and Opera Houses in Europe. Professors, Artists, Leaders and Members of the Opera Orchestras, in Naples, Padua, Rome, Verona, Venice, and Florence, Italy; Trieste, Austria; Dusseldorf, Prussia; Dresden, Saxony; Munich, Bavaria; and in in all the leading cities of Europe; certify that these strings are WONDERFUL for their SYMMETRY, DURABILITY, CLEARNESS of TONE, READY RESPONSE to the TOUCH, as well for TRUENESS in comparing the fifths, and SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS MADE." I have copies of the certificates. Notwithstanding the high cost price of these strings, I will retail them at 30 cts. each.
If I have other fine qualities of four length Italian Strings—No. 28, at 35 cts. for two strings, and No. 29, at 20 cts. each.
I purchase the above strings from the manufacturers, and can therefore guarantee their genuiness.
STEEL STRINGS. There are many eastern dealers selling an inferior article of steel strings because they are cheap. I get my supplies from the original manufacturers, and guarantee them genuine. Price, for violin, guitar or banjo, 30 cts. each.
If you cannot get my strings at the stores in your towns, send postage stamps for the amount, and I will mail them to you. Be sure to order by the number so that I may know the kind you want. A discount of 25 per cent will be made when a dozen is ordered. The trade supplied at regular prices.
