TO HAVE TOWN CLOCK.

Other Council Business—Schools Make Fine Showing—Close Next Week.

Murray, May 18.—At the session of the city council $25 was allowed Frank Blair for ground in opening East Murray street.

The proposition of erecting a tower and installing a town clock in the new city hall was then considered. Councilman Wood was appointed a committee of one and was instructed to ascertain the condition and cost of the old Salt Lake City bell. The city might acquire it intelligently in all estimates relating to the matter. Estimates from the Boyd Park jewelry store were read. For the sum of $1,450, this company will put in an eight-day clock, striking on an 800-pound bell, with three glass dials 3 feet 7 1/2 inches diameter, all set complete. The clock is guaranteed to be free from all original defects and to keep accurate time, and of pure bell metal. 78 parts new Lake Superior copper and 22 parts East India block tin, and not to run within a period of 10 years under ordinary usage. In case the city wishes to install the bell this company will furnish it for $85.

A committee selected to go over the specifications of the proposed fire station reported that the plans had been thoroughly inspected and explained satisfactorily by the company's agent and architects. The report was submitted and after $500 bonds were furnished the contract was let. The architects were instructed to provide for the extra necessary for the accommodation of the firemen.

The question of locating the fire station was referred to the improvement committee as was also the question of paying the streets.

J. A. Johnson, contractor for the tin work on the city hall directed a communication to the council in which he guaranteed to repair free of charge for six years all leakages that may occur from poor material or workmanship. C. A. Larson petitioned for a free pediculator license, which was granted. He has a large family and is physically unable to do hard work, and recently had his house and its contents totally destroyed by fire.

FINE SHOWING IN SCHOOL WORK

The school exhibit of manual training and art work displayed in the show windows of the Emporium company has been the attraction of the week and has received universal praise. The work certainly reflects credit upon the children, when it is considered that this is the first year for manual training in the schools of Murray.

Final examination on Thursday and Friday have kept serious faces upon both teachers and pupils. Schools will close on Friday next. Pupils will complete their work on Thursday. The teachers of the Arlington will give a reception to parents on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. All school work will be on exhibition in the various rooms.

On Friday evening, May 24, bids for text books will be opened and filed and the board has an additional thirty days to decide on the adoption.

The corps of teachers for next year is nearly complete and will be exceptionally strong.

The high school that has been under contemplation for the past two years will be completed next week. A teacher for ninth grade work has already been employed and the board of education appeals to the citizens of Murray for their support in the direction of establishing a high school in their home city. Should this effort prove a success, the second year's work will be offered in due time.

PNEUMONIA CLAIMS ANDREW THOMPSON.

Andrew Thompson, an old resident of Murray, about 54 years old, died yesterday of pneumonia at Caldwell's residence, where he recently moved from

CHILD DIES OF TUBERCULOSIS.

A 6-year-old child of Eli Taylor of South Cottonwood, died last evening at the Murray hospital of tuberculosis. An operation was attempted but inflammation had set in, and the child expired before it could be performed. Funeral will be held tomorrow from the South Cottonwood ward meetinghouse at 12:30 p. m.

SURPRISED HIS FRIENDS.

Milton W. Jones, a young business man here, without a word of warning to his friends or folks slipped quietly down to Nepal this week and brought back with him a bride. Milton believes in living a quiet life.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Signs of thrift and enterprise are seen at the J. S. Lindsay company of Taylorsville, which has just completed a new addition to its store of about the same dimensions as its old one. The company certainly has a model block for convenience and neatness, and with ample room to display its excellent line of goods the scene is an imposing one. The same thrifty condition exists in Mill Creek where Jas. R. Neilson has completed a new building which does him great credit.

Thursday evening a reception was tendered the primary workers of South Cottonwood who left the ward at the time the Murray wards were reorganized. They were presented with a beautiful present as a token of appreciation of their effective work. A dainty spread had been prepared and the occasion was most happily enjoyed.
