A meeting of influential American sympathizers in the cause of Cuban Independence was held at the Astor House this afternoon. A committee was appointed to arrange for a grand mass meeting at an early day.

The officers of the German steamer King William, which sailed yesterday, and the Cambria, which sails to-day, received a large number of applications from emigrants who had come out by them, and who had been unable to procure employment, to work their passage back, some of them offering all the money they had left for the privilege. Such a thing has never occurred before, and the officers have taken as many as possible, though they have been able to employ only a very few of the numerous applicants.

Some of the officers at the Brooklyn navy yard profess ignorance with regard to the receipt of orders from Washington, but at the same time every man that could be obtained was at work on the war vessels Powhatan, Kansas, and Junia-ta. The Kansas received a supply of stores this afternoon, and it is thought she will sail to-night. The Junia-ta will be ready to sail to-morrow night.

A rumor has been circulated in Wall street, of a deficiency to the extent of six hundred thousand dollars having been discovered in the accounts of an officer of a western railroad. The New York Times to-morrow will publish the report. The defaulter is David Crawford, of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad. He is a partner in the firm of Clarke, Dodge & Co., which had some difficulty in connection with the New York Security Company some time ago.

The premises were conveyed under the penalty of forfeiture; the condition was sustained, the jury finding the defendants guilty of breach of condition, and the property in fee in the plaintiff.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., 13.—A large meeting of the Cuban residents of this city was held this evening, the president of the Philadelphia Junta, M. A. Montejó, presiding. He and others made addresses, laying great stress on the Virginus outrage. Gen. W. F. Small and Captain Powers, well known military men in this city, after making addresses, offered their services to the Cuban cause, saying that they would raise if necessary, ten thousand men. Great enthusiasm prevailed, a subscription list was opened and several hundred dollars subscribed, and watches and chains presented by those who thought their cash subscriptions were not heavy enough. One Cuban presented his horse and carriage.

NEW YORK, 14.—The Sun says it is said among the Spanish residents of this city that in addition to those whose execution is already reported, every soul found on board the Virginus at the time of her capture has been put to death. BOSTON, 14.—A special says the signs of a general brightening are unmistakable. The feeling was prevalent on street to-day that the backbone of the difficulty is broken, and that progress toward the old basis will hereafter be direct, though possibly a trifle slower than all may desire. Increased ease in money matters is admitted on all sides, by lenders and borrowers alike. Choice double names were taken to-day by careful capitalists at eight per cent., or only one per cent. above the common bank interest rate, and less select rates, pretty sure to be paid when due, but all of which the institutions were unable to discount, were negotiated on the street at from 9 to 9½, and with rare exceptions at higher figures. In trade circles there is more activity than of late, both in the wholesale and retail department of foreign and domestic merchandise.

SAN FRANCISCO, 14.—The anti-Chinese Convention adopted a set of resolutions in favor of the abrogation of the Chinese treaty, and against Chinese immigration and labor, and then adjourned. The attendance last night was very small and the proceedings dull.

NEW YORK, 14.—A Washington dispatch says news has been received there, that the rest of the crew and passengers on the Virginus have been shot, making a hundred and eleven in all, and that it is semi-officially stated that demands have been made by this government on that of Spain, of such a nature as it will be impossible for Spain to accept, and must result in a rupture between the two countries, and that these demands have been telegraphed to minister Sickles.

Walter Stuart, who says he has every reason to believe that his brother, Col. G. C. Stuart, is among the slaughtered passengers of the Virginus, offers to pay liberally for any information respecting his fate, and makes the following proposition to the Cuban patriots in this city: I will subscribe $50,000 to every hundred and fifty thousand dollars that they will raise, and one thousand men, well officered, able bodied, and all having seen service, and put them on board a suitable vessel, that the Cubans shall furnish, properly equipped and provisioned, at some point on our coast I may select. As a guarantee to perform what I propose, I will put up and forfeit $100,000 to be used for the benefit of the families who have lost their protectors by Spanish butchery.

WASHINGTON, 14.—It can be stated on official authority that while the present naval preparations do not mean war against Spain or Cuba, they are significant of the determination of this government to protect American interests at any hazard, and to prevent in future such massacres as those which followed the capture of the Virginus. As nothing effectual can be depended upon from Spain, notwithstanding its friendly feeling toward the U. S., it has been determined, hereafter, to meet all questions practically, as they arise, instead of depending on Spanish officials for the transmission of communications from our consuls, either by letter or by telegraph. Our naval officers will be instructed to enquire diligently and closely into the condition of the affairs of the island, and to promptly report the facts to the proper department. Our government is now waiting to hear what the Spanish government will do in response to our earnest protest against the outrage perpetrated against the victims of the Virginus.

The session of the Cabinet, to-day, continued over two hours, and was the most important which has taken place under President Grant's administration. The capture of the Virginus and the barbarities perpetrated by the Spanish authorities at Santiago de Cuba formed the subject of serious consideration, and definite action towards maintaining the dignity of the United States in the existing complications was taken. All the members of the Cabinet are exceedingly reticent as to the conclusion reached.

The Treasury department to-day, upon a requisition of the Secretary of the Navy, shipped $230,000 to Norfolk, the headquarters of the North Atlantic fleet, in order that there might be no delay in fitting out and supplying the vessels, now under orders to leave with the least possible delay for Cuba and other points in the West Indies. Rear-Admiral Scott, commanding the expedition, will sail from Norfolk on Monday in the Worcester, his flagship, for Havana. Specific instructions have been given him by the government, to report daily to the department by telegraph from Key West, and not upon the Havana cable, which is under the control of the Spanish authorities. It is only eight hours run from Havana to Key West. Should a rupture occur between the two governments it will be the policy of the United States to land a sufficient force on the Island of Cuba to establish the authority of the United States. It is mentioned by a prominent cabinet officer that ten thousand men would, in all probability, be in excess of the number of troops required to establish, beyond any chance of failure, the authority of the United States in Cuba. The President, while he will guard to the utmost extent the rights of American citizens and defend the policy which has been determined upon, will also make earnest recommendations to Congress in his forthcoming message.

Consul-General Hall experiences much difficulty in obtaining accurate information from the Spanish authorities at Havana. Minister Sickles was to have had a consultation with the Spanish Minister of Foreign Affairs at Madrid, yesterday p. m., but in consequence of the arrival in that city of news of further executions, after the murder of the first four prisoners, the Spanish officials, expressing intense regret and horror at the circumstance, suggested to Sickles a reasonable delay in holding the intended council, and accordingly a brief postponement was arranged.

Wall street markets were excited this afternoon with the wide and frequent fluctuations in the gold room. Various war rumors were afloat and, just before the close of the Stock Exchange, almost every banker and broker received telegrams that Commodore Vanderbilt was dead. The following are samples, all dated New York Hotel: "Father is dead; come soon and see Turnbull and the rest. Signed, W. H. V." "Father is dead, do something for me. Signed C. V. jr." "Father is dead, don't communicate it to the street. Signed W. H. V." "Father is dead, do the best you can for me. Signed C. V., jr." These telegrams had a marked effect on the market until the hoax was discovered, and the decline was partially recovered.

The man was shot six times, and then Chaves cut his throat. Chaves escaped, but the other was taken and tried by the people. The man confessed all, and was hung. Do not know the name of the man that was killed nor the one that was hung.

The Herald publishes what purports to be an interview between the Captain-General of Cuba and one Col. Jno. W. Young, wherein the former proposes that the latter organize an expedition in the U. S., composed of all the Cubans it was possible to enlist, to embark on board a slow steamer and then give such information as would lead to the sure capture of the expedition. For this service Young was to receive $20,000. The Herald says Young is now in jail in Chicago, awaiting trial for forging a P. O. money order. The alleged interview is said to have taken place in 1870, and the Captain-General is made to say that the members of the expedition captured would be shot.

[NOTE.—Young is in Illinois State prison at Joliet. REPORTER.]

The Brooklyn Union says that at a business meeting of the Plymouth church, the last of October, it will be remembered that Beecher made a remarkable speech on the occasion of Tilton's name being dropped from the church rolls, and that some of his statements were held to be so at variance with the opinions of the orthodox, that a considerable amount of trouble has resulted therefrom to examine into Beecher's authority for some of his assertions, and to learn wherein he gets the right to define Congregationalism as he did; and several of the Congregational churches of Brooklyn have appointed a committee to wait upon the Plymouth church, and have the subject discussed and the matter explained. These proceedings have been conducted with the utmost privacy, but there is no question that all the Congregational churches in the city are moving in the matter.

B., 14.—A fire broke out this evening at the Allen foundry, at Carlton, on the west side of the harbor, and continued to burn fiercely until the foundry and some twenty dwellings were entirely consumed, leaving some thirty families homeless.
