

H. M. MCARTNEY WITH UTAH FUEL.

Former Assistant Chief Engineer
Of Salt Lake Route Gets a Good Thing.

PACIFIC COAST SALES AGENT

Succeeds P. H. Brooks in San Francisco—Heavy Business Under The New Rate.

H. M. McCartney, formerly assistant chief engineer of the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake road, has been appointed Pacific coast sales agent for the Utah Fuel company succeeding P. H. Brooks, resigned. His headquarters will be in San Francisco.

Since the reduction in the rate on commercial coal to California on the part of the Southern Pacific which is effective today the Utah Fuel company will ship in heavy consignments to San Francisco for domestic and steamship purposes and the position of Pacific coast sales agent will accordingly be a decidedly important one. Mr. McCartney will undoubtedly receive numerous consultations from his friends here and elsewhere upon the situation. When he returned from the Salt Lake route he stated to the "News" that it was his intention, if possible, to get out of railroad work and settle down to some occupation that would not necessitate him having to rough it in construction camps as he has been doing almost continuously for the past 15 years.

O. S. L. PROMOTIONS.

General Move Up in Office of Auditor
McNitt Today.

T. P. Shepherd, general bookkeeper under General Auditor McNitt of the Oregon Short Line, has been promoted to a similar position in the local treasurer's office. Mr. Shepherd's position has been filled in the auditing department by the advancement of T. H. Juddick, formerly in charge of freight statistics, this latter having been filled by promoting J. L. Clemmons.

RED LINE QUARTERS.

Offices Selected—J. W. Trewella Resigns
From Rock Island Today.

Rent O. Keyes, agent for the Red Line, West Short Line, Jersey Central and Lake Shore Dispatch, has at last secured a location in this city and has leased quarters in room 8 Eagle Block, west second south.

With the opening up of headquarters comes the announcement that J. W. Trewella, traveling freight agent for the Rock Island-Frisco system, has resigned his position to take that of contracting freight agent under Mr. Keyes and henceforth will solicit business under the Red Line banner. "Johnny," as he is familiarly known throughout Utah and Idaho, is a ruster and so is Kent Keyes for that matter. The combination is calculated to stir up things generally in the hunt for business on Railroad Row.

NOT ON THE MENU.

Humorous Misunderstanding Occurs in The Rock Island Office.

There was a humorous incident in the local office of the Rock Island a couple of days ago, that is now being told on Railroad Row. The joke is on George Bibbe, the popular young traveling passenger agent. It appears that a young man entered the office and approaching the counter commenced to select some railroad food. "Thinking that he was a prospective ticket purchaser and not a prospective customer," continued the agent, "if I wanted to eat I would go to a restaurant." When the smoke cleared away it was forthcoming that the young man thought Mr. Bibbe had asked him whether he was going to eat the food.

SHEEP SHIPMENTS.

Big Rush on of Livestock to the Eastern Market.

Sheep shipments are at last beginning to move to the eastern market. The rush is such that they form one of the Oregon Short Line is reported as being some 500 cars behind with their orders. In this connection the Rock Island is taking care of patrons to the extent that 200 cars have been tracked in the yards at Colorado Springs ready for business. As soon as shipments are booked the local agency wires to the Springs with the result that the Rio Grande or the Midland sends the empties through in short order.

Electric Welder.

Local mechanics are much interested in the electric machine on exhibition at the steel fair, which welds the ends of steel rails so that they form one continuous rail. It was feared this lack of allowance for expansion and contraction would result in a disarrangement of rail seat and consequent loosening of spikes and possible rattling. But Manager Campbell of the Utah Light and Railway company, says that such fear has not been realized. But the rest of the audience is such as to make its general introduction slow for the present. It does away with the use of Fish plate entirely.

Met in the Narrows.

A freight train standing on a siding at Jordan Narrows was run into yesterday afternoon by another. An engine and caboose were pretty well used up, but no one was hurt.

ANOTHER INVASION.

Special Trains of Old Fellows Due to Come Through Salt Lake.

Two weeks from date when the Knights Templars will be returning from the coast to their homes Salt Lake will be in the throes of a double-barreled invasion. The Templars going east will be here in force, while the Old Fellows en route to attend the session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge in San Francisco, Sept. 15-24, will also be in Salt Lake westbound.

The Old Fellows of Utah will also converge here to welcome John B. Goodwin of Atlanta, Ga., grand sire 1, O. O. F., and John E. Cochran, general attorney for the Lake Erie & Western, another prominent Old F. Fellow, who arrives here on the morning of the 14th. On this occasion the Oregon Short Line and the Rio Grande will run special trains at half fare passenger rate from all points in Utah, tickets good from the 13th to the 15th.

In connection with the trans-continental trip to attend the Sovereign Grand Lodge session on the coast, a very handsome souvenir from the "Deseret Press" has been issued which contains numerous half-tones of characteristic western scenes.

Large Export Order.

New York, Sept. 1.—Probably the largest single order for railroad equipment for export ever placed with American manufacturers has just been closed. It comprises 640 freight cars and 25 passenger, sleeping and baggage cars for the Argentine government railroads.

The American manufacturers secured the order in the face of strong competition on the part of British, German and Belgian manufacturers.

SPICE AND RAIL.

General Agent Shattuck of the Baltimore & Ohio in Denver, is in the city today.

Senator W. A. Clark, president of the San Pedro, is expected to arrive in this city from Butte on his way east tomorrow morning.

DAN MALONEY, HUMORIST.

Rock Island-Frisco General Agent Tells
Some New Good Stories.

Dan Maloney, general agent for the Rock Island at Plattsburg, who has been staying in Salt Lake for a couple of days on his way home from the coast with his wife and two daughters, is a typical Irishman. He has been keeping the boys on Railroad Row screaming with laughter since his arrival in this city and seems to have an inexhaustible supply of new stories. He does not in the least mind telling them on himself or his fellow countrymen either, as the following samples will indicate.

Dan is the proud possessor of a glass eye and he tells with great glee an incident which happened to him some time ago in Chicago, where he was sharing a room in a hotel with former Commercial Agent Jones of the Rock Island at Cincinnati. Before going to bed Dan always takes out his eye and deposits it in a glass of water by his bedside. During the night Jones got up and substituted an empty tumbler for the full one. When morning came Dan was getting ready to go to work, but he was horror-stricken to find that the glass was empty. With a yell he grabbed a slipper and rushed across the room to where the unconscious Jones was snoring peacefully. "You great big mutt, you can't see an empty glass in sight without having to swallow my eye. Aint two eyes in your head enough without one in your stomach?" Jones awoke, deeply annoyed, but sized up the situation. "Why, I guess that you swallowed it yourself. I heard you rooting around in the night for a drink."

So earnestly did Jones plead that Maloney really thought he had swallowed his own glass eye. In fact he could feel it resting at the pit of his stomach so distinctly that he wrote to his home friend over in "Rock to come." "Come at once," he said, "wages are good and work fine. Sell all your have and come on the next haul. I have a fine job. I am getting a half dollar a day for pulling down a Protestant church when he hum I would be pleased to do the job for nothing."

The other story is of an Irishman who had been told by his friend in America that one could pick up five-dollar gold pieces on Broadway. In due season Pat arrived and the first place he made a break for was Broadway. He walked along with his eyes on the ground and sure enough near Union Square he spied a bright $5 gold piece lying on the pavement. He made a dive for it and secured the thing. Further along he came across a blind man playing a fiddle. Going up to him he dropped the money into his tin cup with the remark, "Yez had better take a-ke this because, poor divil, yez can't see."

Amusements

Mr. Kyrle Bell and his company arrived from the east this morning and appear at the Theater tonight. Mr. Bell, in "Raffles," the Amateur Crackman," assisted by splendid typical Lieber & Co. support, including E. M. Holland as Capt. Bedford, the detective, is an attraction that is certain to prove fascinating to nearly every element in the community. During the 50 nights' run at the Princess and Savoy Theaters, New York, last season (and, by the way, it was the only drama to remain in the metropolitan that long last year), society set its stamp of approval on the play and members of the Metropolitan Detective bureau and police force were at every performance. Weber and Fields contributed their share to the fame of the attraction by burlesquing it, and editorial writers and reporters frequently used the character of the gentleman thief to "point a moral and adorn a tale."

Charge of Embezzlement.

The complaint alleges that on March 25, 1904, Saunders came into the possession of $62.37, which belonged to the Prudential Insurance company of America, of which he was the agent, and it is charged that he appropriated said funds to his own use. The complaint is sworn to by F. A. Mangum, the Utah agent of the company, who says that there are several other cases of a similar character against the defendant.

A year ago at this time, the weather was hot and stifling, which condition continued through the first 10 days of the month. The sun crosses the equator on the 21st inst., when days and nights are equal all over the world.

There was a slight fall of rain last night which cooled the atmosphere, so that by morning the air was good for sleeping. Yesterday was a day of perfect weather, when days and nights are equal all over the world.

Adjutant General Burton and other prominent national guard officers consider the prospects for a local fight against the Spanish army, and there is every reason why there should be one. The main object and purpose of such an association is to stir up as strong an interest as possible in target practice and marksmanship, and to secure accurate vision and quick and ready judgment, as well as an interest generally in building up of a strong national guard.

On a recent Sunday, Organist A. H. Peabody of St. Mark's cathedral, officiated at St. Stephen's Episcopal church in Boston. While playing he suddenly noticed the presence of J. Walcott Thompson of this city in the congregation, which made him miss a bar and the organist's fingers flew.

Mr. Peabody got away from the organ as soon as he could and instituted a sharp search for his fellow citizen from Salt Lake, but the latter had slipped away. He had not noticed who was playing the organ, consequently did not stop to shake hands and extend any highball courtesies.

A UTAH ACTRESS ALMOST DROWNED

Thrilling Experience of Miss
Blanche Kendall Thomas at Manhattan Beach.

CAUGHT WHEN TIDE WAS IN.

Strong Bather to Her Rescue and She Was Carried Ashore in Safety
—Family Not Notified.

(Special to the "News.")

New York, Sept. 1.—Up to the time she came to New York, Blanche Kendall, the leading lady of the Eden Holden company, was of the impression that all water is alike, but she discovered that there is great difference between swimming and being on exhibition in different places, when she went into the ocean at Manhattan beach for her first course in the Atlantic yesterday.

Miss Kendall comes from Salt Lake City, and there the stretch of water that corresponded to the ocean, is the Great Salt Lake. It is not necessary to know how to swim there, inasmuch as the waters of that lake will take care of one all right. Miss Kendall never learned to swim during her visits to Salt Lake beach, she simply floated. As soon as her engagements would permit, she came to New York, and she went to the beach for a dip. Tide was in and she waded into the water until it was up to her waist and then lay down on the waves to float. The next thing she knew she was bounding along on the bottom. In her struggles she got into deep water and there appeared to be urgent need for getting a new leading lady for the Eden Holden company. Fortunately a strong leather noticed her plight and pulled her ashore, just as she was almost exhausted. Now she is taking swimming lessons.

Miss Kendall is Blanche Kendall Thomas, the daughter of H. C. Thomas, the well known business man. The latter part of the family name was dropped for professional reasons and the former retained. The first information Mr. Thomas had of the thrilling experience of his daughter was that which he received from the "News" when the dispatch was handed to him. He was considerably shocked, but was thankful to know that the young lady was not drowned.

New Denver Mint Opened.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 1.—The new United States mint in this city was opened today with a president's salute of 21 guns and raising of the American flag over the building by George E. Roberts, director of the mint, of Washington.

The mint will not begin coining until July 1, 1905, as no appropriation has been made by Congress as yet to cover the cost of coining.

Frank M. Dwyer, has been appointed superintendent of the mint. The first deposit received at the new mint was made by E. E. Burlingame & Co. of this city. It was a brick weighing 766.34 ounces, and is valued at $1,500.
